The Charlevoix County Service Organization which sends the Courier to all Charlevoix servicemen and [illegible] with presents gift [illegible] to all departing draftees from the entire county, is in need of funds, Ralph S. Hamilton, chairman of the organization, has announced.

Since the CSO was re-organized at the outset of the Korean War, it has prepared gift packages of cigarettes, gum, postcards, candy and magazines for 162 draftees who have left for the service from this county. Candy for the parcels has been given by Cornelius Geiken but the other items are purchased by the organization. In addition, it has financed Courier subscriptions to all local servicemen, enlistees and draftees alike.

Servicemen will continue to leave from this county in the coming months and tho Courier account will soon bo due so funds are badly needed at this time if the CSO is to continue its work.

At the present time the CSO has a balance of $2.40 on hand. It is estimated that $100 will be needed for the Courier account and another $100 to keep the organization going.

Since the last report was made May 1, 1051, $115.86 has been spent for send-off parcels and $170 for the Courier for a total of $285.86. Contributions plus cash on hand at that time gave the organization a balance of $288.26.

Contributors to the fund since the last report was mede include: Mr. and Mrs. Earl Johnson, Marvin Sugden, Mrs. Anna Eccleston, Mrs. Albert Cook, Berl Beaudoin, Robert Bridge, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Conley, Erwin Belfy, Sr., Mrs. Bertha Wagner, Barnard Grange, V.F.W., V.F.W. Auxiliary, Mrs. Oscar Smith, Steve Rabb, Mrs. A. F. Novotny, Miss Caroline Geiken, William J. Schwab, Ralph S. Hamilton and the Boyne City Servicemen's Club.

It will be noted that the Boyne City Servicemen's Club contributed to the fund and East Jorden is expected to in the neer future.

If Charlevoix's service men and women are to continue to receive the Courier and if departing servicemen are to receive small gifts, contributions must be made to the fund.

All contributions may be left at the Charlevoix County State Bank in the name of the CSO Fund.

Barnard Grange Receives Third Place In Contest

The Barnard Grange was awarded third place in the state Community Service contest sponsored during the past year.

Albert Smith, Master of the local group, was presented with a plaque and a $50 Government bond as the prize. Placing third in the state contest automatically places the Barnard Grange projects in the National contest. The Barnard Grange was among 103 who entered the state contest.

Attending the recent state Grange conference at Mt. Pleasant were Mr. and Mrs. John Fratrick, delegates to the convention, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Stutzman, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wiesler, Mr. and Mrs. Smith, Clyde Warner, Charles Dhaseller, Mrs. Glenn Cummings and Mrs. Will Ager.

Handicapped To Be Interviewed Here

Postmaster Gives Warning On Early Overseas Mailing

Christmas parcels to servicemen and women overseas should be mailed at the earliest possible date is the warning issued this week by postmaster Peter H. Timmer.

This warning is aimed primarily to persons planning to send two-pound Christmas parcels via airmail.

In a recent communication the Secretary of Defense advised that urgently needed combat and medical supplies now require all available equipment so there is little space remaining for airmail gift parcels. These Christmas meils cannot be assured airlift overseas even though they were mailed between the dates specified, Oct. 15-Nov. 15.

The postoffice will continue to provide air transportation to ports of embarkation, New York, San Francisco, Seattle and New Orleans, where the meil is turned over to military authorities who are responsible for overseas transportation and delivery to the addressee. If Air transportation is not available at these ports, all such matter will be given fast surface transportation at once rather than wait for air transportation.

With November here, overseas mailing should be given immediate attention.

Annnal Football Banquet Will Be Held November 8

Billy Pierce, former Tiger pitcher now with the Chicago White Sox, has accepted an invitation to speak at the annual football banquet honoring the Charlevoix Rayders and their coaches Saturday evening.

The Varsity squad, their coaches, Del Terrill, S. E. Coleman and Leonard Burns and the Senior cheerleaders will be guests at the event sponsored by the Masonic lodge at the Masonic Temple at 6:30 Saturday.

Mr. Pierce will speak on Sports after Coach Terrill introduces his players. Mr. Coleman will be master of ceremonies. E. H. Barker is Worshipful Master of the Masonic lodge, sponsors of the event.

The program has been arranged by a committee composed of James Hiller, Herbert Scofield and Glenn Rose.

William Gibson Struck By Car

The condition of William Gibson, 71, who was injured Sunday night when he was struck by a car while crossing the street was [illegible] by his family Wednesday to be good.

Mr. Gibson was struck by a car driven by Lawrence Zipp, 27, of Bay Shore as he was crossing US 31 near the intersection of Scott's Bridge st. and Hurlbut ave. at 7:15 p.m. Sunday. Mr. Zipp who was driving north at the time and failed to see Mr. Gibson who was crossing the street at an angle.

Races For Governor, Senate Are In Doubt

Charlevoix county, casting the biggest vote in its history, joined with the nation in the general election Tuesday to give the United States its first Republican president and vice-president in 20 years.

The vote in the county for the office of president with 24 out of 25 precincts reporting gave Eisenhower 3737 and Stevenson 1699.

Although 24 of 25 precincts in the county gave Alger 3514 votes for governor and only 1916 to Gov. Williams, the results of the contest remained in doubt in the state totals with the lead changing often.

The seme was true of the Senatorial race between Potter and Moody. Charlevoix county gevo the lormer 3660 votes while Moody pollod 1660. For the short term Potter polled 3585 and Moody 1608.

In the other offices and the amendments Charlevoix county followed the trend set by the state.

The count late Wednesday with 24 out of 25 precincts reporting were as follows: Representative in Congress from the 11th district: Knox 3487; Brown 1788; Lieut. Gov. Reid 3116; Connolly 1762; Secretary of State, Cleary 3565; McAllister 1708; attorney general, Millard, 3580; Damm, 1657; state treasurer, Brake 3570; Johnson 1683; auditor general Martin 3506; Baker 1656; State senator from 29th district, Frank Andrews 3655; Richard L. Kendziorski 1591; State representative from the Charlevoix district, Louis Anderson, re-elected without opposition.

On the amendments Charlevoix county followed the lead of the state. The county votes with all but one precinct reporting showed Proposal No. 1: Yes 3810; No 911; Proposal No. 2, Yes 782; No 4095; Proposal No. 3, Yes 3946; No 854.

With 21 of 25 precincts reporting for the Justices of the Supreme Court Adams polled 1773 votes in this county while King with 1100 here took the lead in the state race. Eden had 308.

In the city of Charlevoix 1321 votes were cast. Of that number 1062 were straight Republican ballots for the state offices and 1038 for the national offices. The Democrats polled 170 straight tickets in the state and 256 in the national contest.

Boyne City's four wards were the last to be reported. At noon Wednesday 21 precincts were in and late in the afternoon Boyne City's first, third and fourth wards were reported. The second ward was the last counted.

In tho county olllces Floyd A. Supp was re-elected probate judge and Norman D. Ance, court commissioner on the non-partisan tickets. Both were unopposed.

County officers re-elected without opposition were: county clerk, Fenton R. Bulow; sheriff, Floyd W. Ikens; register of deeds, Rex Davis; treasurer, Lillis M. Flanders; prosecutor, C. M. Bice; county surveyor, Mary C. Feindt; coroners James Stackus and L. E. Grate.

Leaders Needed For Charlevoix Scout Programs

A plea for leaders in the Boy Scout and Girl Scout programs here has been issued by the councils of the respective organizations.

With countless boys and girls waiting to participate in the programs a Scout Master, and Cub Master as well as leaders for both Boy Scout and Girl Scouts are needed if a successful program is to be carried on.

Hayes Township Home Is Complete Loss From Fire

Fire believed caused from a down-draft from a chimney completely destroyed the four-room frame home of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Duplessis in Hayes township three miles northeast of here early Thursday.

The second floor of the house was ablaze when Mrs. Duplessis discovered the fire while readying her children, Eileen, 10 and David, 9, for school.

The children ran to the nearby Thomas Maxwell home to summon aid and to call the fire department. Mr. Duplessis had already left for work.

When the fire department arrived the house was nearly burned to the ground and the men devoted their efforts to keeping the fire from spreading to the nearby tinder-dry woods.

Except for a few pieces of living-room furniture which Mrs. Duplessis was able to drag from the house, all other furnishings personal belongings and clothing were lost.

Fire chief Jerome Whitley estimated the loss at $1500 to $2000. There was no insurance.

The family was preparing to move to Traverse City, where Mr. Duplessis is employed at the state hospital, and had taken several hundred jars of fruit and vegetables to their new home near that city.

Emergency aid was given by the Goldman Meyer fund and the Charlevoix county chapter of the American Red Cross.

Michigan Mirror
INTERPRETING THE NEWS

by Gene Alleman

MICHIGAN is still catching its breath today after the excitement of Tuesday's election.

Now comes a period when the crestfallen experts explain why their predictions were wrong, why the vote went the way it did. Other experts, who were more fortunate on their sooth-saying, will devote equal time and energy to explaining their success.

The public will be looking back on Tuesday's nationwide drama . . . but the winners in the great poll are looking ahead to January.

The public has been overfed on political speechmaking with the drums being thumped late into Monday night. John Q. and his Missus are glad to give their eardrums a rest for a while.

The politicos are equally happy for a period of rostrum silence. The defeated ones are licking their wounds and are in no mood for public speaking. The victorious ones have a lot of planning to do before taking over their elective offices next year.

EVEN NEWSPAPERMEN want a change of pace.

It's good to give newsprint-and-ink emphasis to the prospects for deer season instead of the Gallup poll. It's refreshing to concentrate on the Wolverines and the Spartans instead of the Dems and the GOPs.

So this column today is a breather, a compendium of miscellaneous Michiganiana absolutely guaranteed not to have any vital bearing upon the destiny of our nation.

Keeweenaw County, Michigan's northernmost area, had a total of only 70 sales tax returns filed for August this year. Wayne County, down in the opposite corner of the state, had 38,145.

Lowest number of returns filed by a Lower Peninsula County was the 123 out of Kalkaska.

All told, 117,339 retailers paid sales tax in August for a total of $19,295 million.

THE "FRANKENMUTH Plan" is spreading farther and farther from the town that chicken dinners made famous.

The plan sets up a game sanctuary in every section of Frankenmuth Township.

Farmers voluntarily post certain suitable areas of their farms and game and bird are not driven that part of their own property.

Local conservation clubs police sure is relieved on a local basis and game andbird are not driven far out of the area.

Local conervation clubs police the plan with pressure of public opinion the only penalty. "In the past five years there hasn't been a single violation," says Clyde Elrich, a veterans sportman, conservationist and originator of the plan.

HAVE YOU CHECKED your bank balance lately, Dad? Michigan retailers predict that the Christmas shopping season will start earlier than ever this year.

"We have to tart our promotions in self defense," says an upstate merchant. "The big mail-orders houses get their holiday catalogues out earlier every year and we have to protect our local business."

Remember not so many years ago when FDR moved up Thanksgiving so the Yuletime shopping season could be a week longer?

ODDS 'N ENDS

By Fran Martin

NEXT TUESDAY marks the thirty-fourth anniversary of the end of World War I . . . Armistice Day . . . There'll be the traditional minute of Silence at 11 a.m. . . . And the children will recite those familiar lines . . . "In Flander's Field the poppies grow, between the crosses, row on row" . . . But poppies don't always grow between those white crosses that are becoming all too familiar . . . So when you observe that minute of silence say a special prayer that soon these wars that create those rows of crosses will end . . . We'd like our young men to make their own mark in this world . . . and not on a battlefield . . .

BY THE TIME you read this the election will be over . . . And we don't care who knowa it . . . we're glad . . . At this moment the election, for our money, is a toss-up . . . But we hope who ever wins it will do the best he knows how to make this a better country in which to live . . . And that's a big order . . . And who ever the victor is . . . you're stuck with him for years whether you like him or not . . . So put your shoulder to the wheel and work . . . Maybe things won't be as black as they seem now . . .

THE KIDS had a wonderful day for their parade to the movie last Thursday . . . And from all reports they had a grand time . . But, tell us, how come the church bells were ringing at midnight Friday . . . Goblins or guys . . . which one, we wonder . . .

HAVE YOU noticed the city street department isn't going to be caught short when snow comes . . . Their trucks have all the 'gear' on so that plows can be attached at the drop of the first flake that looks as tho' it's going to stay.

A call from the Elmer Ostrums Sunday with the news that they had a hollyhock blooming in their yard . . ." Who can believe it's November with reports like that.

HAVE YOU noticed the first symptoms of that annual autumn ailment . . . Temperatures are rising, a good part of the population has that apprehensive look so typical of the 'disease' . . . As the days wear on they become more restless .. And to those who haven't guessed, the above are the first signs of 'deer hunting fever' . . . With only nine days 'til the season opens, hunters are casting a look toward the sky looking for snow clouds and doing a bit of cussing at the weather for staying so warm while packing supplies and readying guns for the annual trek to favorite hunting grounds to stalk the elusive deer . . . Come next week-end Charlevoix will be almost a ghost town 'till the hunters return later this month . . . Tn the hunters . . . good shootin' but make sure it's a deer and not someone's dear . . . you're shooting at . . .

WE'VE always thought skunks weren't too smart but we heard about one last week that decided to go to school . . . At least that's what the workers at the school addition figure . . . When they went to work one morning recently they found a little black and white animal in the tunnel around the addition to the grade school . . . He was a stubborn little thing and decided to stay for the day . . . He crawled into a tile and the workmen, not trusting him, stuffed bags in the end to keep him there and when they left at night removed them in the hopes that he'd leave . . . We haven't heard any more so we think he must have . . . And now he'll probably grow up to be an illiterate skunk . . . Very discouraging when he tried to go to school . . .

WITH THE phone company switching to the dial system next month we got to wondering who has the oldest phone number in town . . . that is, had the same number for the greatest number of years . . . In an old copy of the Courier dated May 15, 1918, we found that Brown Motors number at that time was 80 and the Northern Auto's number was 80, the same as now . . . And in a July 31, 1919, issue of the old Charlevoix Sentinel the Charlevoix Lumber Company's phone was listed as 22 . . . If anyone's had a phone number for longer that that why not tell us about it . . . It might be fun to see who has the oldest number ... . 'cause who has it won't have it for long with the new four digit numbers taking over come Dec. 4 . . . Give us a buzz and tell us about it, huh? . . .

FOUR CUTE little tricks at the Charlevoix high school are busy these days going through their paces in preparation for the basketball season . . . Who are they? . . . The new junior cheerleaders who were selected recently . . . You'll see a lot of them so we'd like to introduce them to you now . . . Joyce Cunningham, Darlene Mason, Faye Meggison and Mona Davenport . . .

IT'S ALWAYS the man of the house who provides the wild game for the family and with that thought in mind Jack Lucas, husband of the former Marjorie Wood of this city, left his Clintonville, Conn., home one afternoon recently on a hunting trip . . . Several hours later he returned empty-handed and very dejected only to find a lucious fat partridge on the dinner table . . . He couldn't believe his eyes and demanded an explanation, which he soon received . . . It seems a short while after he left Mrs. Lucas heard a crash and rushed to the bedroom window to find both the inside and the storm windows broken and a partridge lying on the ground outside . . . She killed the bird and prepared it for dinner as a surprise for her husband . . . Wonder if he sits in the backyard with his gun in his lap waiting for another one to come along . . .

YOU'VE ALL heard amazing stories of dogs and how they can find their way home if lost . . . Here's a story about a dog you know that will bear that out . . Seems Sam King and a party of friends were going bird hunting near Clare and left here very early enroute there with three hunting dogs, including the King's English setter, Lassie, in the trunk of the car . . . They stopped briefly at Roscommon and let the dogs out for a romp . . . Whoever put the dogs in the trunk thought Lassie hadn't gotten out and didn't notice the dog was missing until they arrived at Clare . . . They searched enroute home for the dog but finally gave her up as lost for good . . . Came Monday, however, and a phone call from Pete Kanoff, who lives in the Kings' former home at Ironton, asking about Lassie and if she was missing . . . Seems she had arrived late Sunday, tired and foot-sore, and was staying right there . . . She had traveled the miles between Roscommon and Ironton in less than a day . . . She didn't make it all the way home but she was on familiar ground and she was staying . . . Quite a feat for a pooch who had made the trip in the trunk of a car . . .

• Mr. and Mrs. Dallas Henry left Sunday on the first lap of their trip to Florida for the winter. They plan to spend some time with relatives in Indiana and go east to Breckenridge, Md., to visit their daughter, Jon, who is stationed there with the WAVES before continuing their trip south.

Somebody's Loss Is Your Big Gain

When we received a big shipment of Imported cashmere sweaters and cricket cloth skirts dyed to match in September, we were flabbergasted!

What to do with a whole new shipment of this beautiful merchandise when our fall sale was in full swing. These were ordered last November for July selling and they were later than late in September. But they had been made especially for Polly Kay. What to do?

We telephoned the Importer and he agreed to take the loss.

Consequently, we now offer these unusual skirts and sweaters at prices lower than at any store in the country.

$19.95 skirts are $13.34 and matching Cashmere sweaters are 20% off, all new fall colors.

Here's an idea for your Christmas shopping.

Announce Betrothal Of Nancy Kipke

Mr. and Mrs. Ray L. Kipke announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Nancy Rae, to Staff Sgt. Donald J. Bambach, U.S.A.F. stationed at Bergstrom Airforce Base, Austin, Tex.

Staff Sgt. Bambach is the son of Mrs. Winifred Bambach of this city.

The couple plan to be married at Austin, Tex., on Nov. 14.

Mrs. R. Morrow Leaves To Join Husband In France

Another serviceman's wife has left Charlevoix to join him overseas. This time she is Mrs. Robert Morrow, who left last week-end enroute to Chateauroux, France, to join her husband, Staff Sgt. Morrow who is stationed there with the army. She received her sailing orders recently to report at New York Nov. 5 for the trip aboard. Her destination is approximately 150 miles south of Paris.

Mrs. Morrow, the former Peggy Wells, has been anxiously awaiting her sailing orders and when the word came was prepared to leave almost at once. Besides her personal clothing, she must take all household linens, cooking utensils, dishes and silver. She expects to be overseas for two years.

S/Sgt. Morrow, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Morrow, is a veteran of six years army service and has been overseas since last spring.

Mrs. Morrow is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Wells with whom she has lived since her husband went overseas. They have been married 2½ years.

Shower Given For Mrs. Simeon Perron

Mrs. Simeon Perron was the honored guest at a stork shower given Friday evening by the Charlevoix members of the county Road Club Auxiliary.

Nine guests gathered at the home of Mrs. Archie Balch for a social evening and refreshments. Mrs. Perron was presented with a gift from the group.

Ebenezer P.T.A. will meet next Monday evening, Nov. 10 in the Ellsworth Christian Reformed church.

Will Hold Annual Harvest Supper And Sale Friday Night

Ellsworth — The combined ladies aids of the Atwood and Ellsworth Christian Reformed churches are sponsoring their annual supper and sale Friday night, Nov. 7 in the Ellsworth Community hall. Serving of the supper will start at 5:30 and continue until 7:45.

A short program will be given following the supper before the sale starts.

You can feel free to bring the entire family, the children will be entertained down stairs during the sale and candy and gum will be sold if they so desire it.

A free will offering will be your contribution for a pleasant evening spent for a good cause.

Sophomore Class Of Banks School Will Give Fashion Show

Ellsworth — The Maid of Cottons glamorous pattern wardrobe will be presented in an all cotton fashion show by the Banks Township High school sophomore class at 8 p.m. Tuesday, Nov. 11 in the Ellsworth school, with Mrs. George Brown, class advisor in charge.

Called "Fireworks in Cotton," the show will demonstrate how a wide range of stylish outfits can be made at home with currently available patterns.

These costumes are all duplicates of those taken by Pat Mullarkey, 1952 Maid of Cotton, on her 65,000 mile international tour and are sent here on loan from the National Cotton Council of America. They include all types of cotton materials.

Costumes will be modeled by students of the sophomore class with Mary McElroy as commentator.

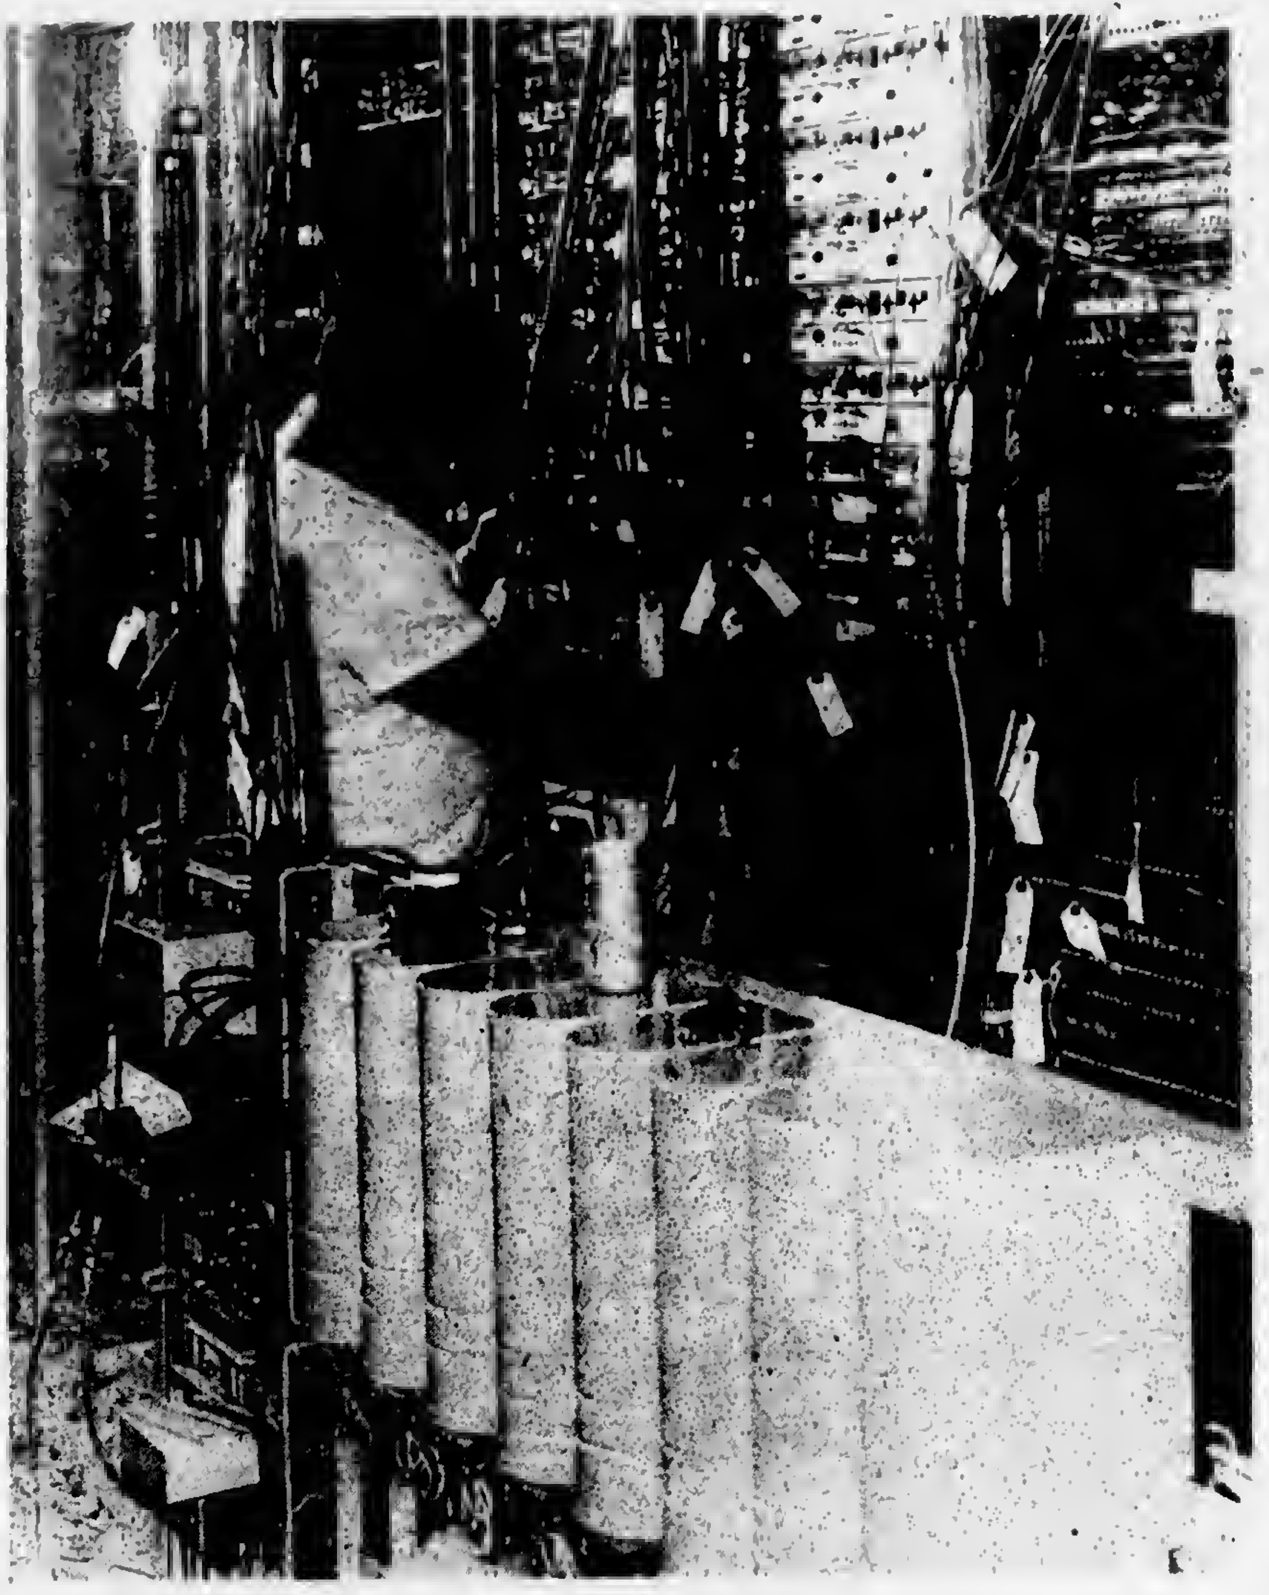
Making Ready For Dial Telephones Here



Robert Bergmann, installer for the Western Electric Company, sorts out a group of cables in the new Michigan Bell central office on State Street. These cables are used to inter-connect all Charlevoix telephones through the dial switching equipment being installed in the building. Now about 75 per cent complete, the job of installing and connecting the intricate switching facilities will require a total of about 3,500 man hours.

Barring a setback in present work schedules Charlevoix's new dial telephone system will be ready to be placed in service early in December, according to C. L. Johnson, manager here for the Michigan Bell Telephone company.

A definite cutover date will be announced as soon as possible, Johnson said. The job of installing the intricate dial switching apparatus in the new central office on State Street is about 75 per cent complete and will be ready for initial testing by the company in two or three weeks.

Built at a cost of about $33,000, the new dial system will allow users here to dial directly through to all telephone users in Boyne City, East Jordan, and Petoskey without charge.

At the time the new system is cut into service, all Charlevoix telephone numbers will be changed. The new numbers will carry a five-diget number. Thus a typical telephone number in Charlevoix will appear as Liberty 7-0001 after the changeover to dial.

In announcing that all local numbers will be changed, Johnson cautioned all business firms to bear fact in mind when ordering advertising media or other printed matter for future use.

The new numbering plan is part of Michigan Bell's ultimate program which will eventually permit customers to dial their own long-distance calls to points all over the country.

Johnson pointed out that on local calls, users will not have to dial prefix LI. They will merely dial the last five digits of the listed number they wish to call. Customers in Boyne City, East Jordan, and Petoskey, however, must dial the first two letters of the prefix Liberty, followed by the five digits of the listed number to reach Charlevoix numbers.

A new directory listing the new numbers for all local users will be issued prior to the changeover to dial operation. All Boyne City, East Jordan, and Petoskey customers will be provided with a special directory reflecting the new Charlevoix numbers also.

Win Boosts Ironmen To Second For Now

The Charlevoix Rayders were handed their second defeat of the 1952 season Friday by an inspired Mancelona squad who came through with a 12-6 win over the local eleven.

The victory put the Ironmen in second place in the Northern Michigan Class C conference behind the league leading East Jordan Red Devils.

The game, which concluded Charlevoix's 1952 loop schedule, dropped the Rayders to third place.

Coach Del Terrill's squad [illegible] the season against Cheboygan here Friday.

Charlevoix's place in the final standings of the loop will be determined at Gaylord Friday when Mancelona will meet the Gaylord Blue Devils. If Mancelona wins the Ironmen will have undisputed possession of second place and the Rayders will remain in third. If Gaylord wins Charlevoix and the Blue Devils will share second place and Mancelona will go back into third place.

At this time East Jordan is assured of another conference title, barring an upset by Harbor Springs Friday afternoon.

A scoreless first quarter opened the game between Charlevoix and the Ironmen at Mancelona Friday night

In the second period, however, the Ironmen put the ball in scoring position early in the quarter following a 60 yard march. Right halfback Harold Patrick carried the ball over from the 15 yard line for the first touchdown of the ball game to put Mancelona in the lead. The kick for extra point was blocked and the score was 6-0.

Cherlevoix, with six minutes of the quarter gone, put on e susteined drive end moved the ball to Mencelone's ten where halfback Joe McDermott carried it over to tie the score. The kick for the extre point wes not good and the halftime score remeined at 6-6.

Neither team threatened in the third period and Mancelona never moved past their own 40 yard line during the entire quarter.

Mancelona opened the last period with a concerted drive which started on their own 20. A series of line plays and a 25 yard pass from quarterback Johnny Holstad to Harold Patrick moved the hall to the one yard line where Holstad took it over on a quarterback sneak. Again the kick for the extra point was blocked.

As the period wore on the Rayders tried to come back but Mancelona's defensive line held and the game ended 12-6.

Mancelona made 10 first downs in the game, nine on rushing and one on passing while the Rayders racked up eight, seven on rushing and one on passing. The Ironmen's percentago for completed passes was three out of seven. Charlevoix completed only two on nine tries.

Starting for the Rayders were Dean Davenport and Jack Denemy, ends; Stan Whitley and Bill Mosier, tackles; Everett Pease and Fred Jolliffe, Guards and Larry Burns, center, in the line. In the backfield were Bill Bennett, Jim Lewis, Paul Johnson and Joe McDermott.

Other players were backs Bob Jolliffe, Ray Sanford and Jerry Albright and linemen Gordon Mol, Don Smith, Sunny Mason and Tom Erber.

Last Week With Class "C" Teams

In the Northern Michigan Class C league Friday East Jordan proved its right to the league leadership by defeating Gaylord 16-6 for another league championship.

At Mancelona the Ironmen handed Charlevoix their second defeat of the season by winning 12-6. Boyne City won over Harbor Springs 31-19. Pellston did not play.

East Jorden 16, Geylord 6

At Gaylord the Jordanites were in command of the game all the way after quarterback Keith Evans scored on a one-yard plunge on the first series of plays after getting the ball. Fullback Gordon Danforth went through the line for the extra point. The second period was scoreless and the half ended 7-0 with East Jordan in the lead.

Evans added a second touchdown on a quarterback sneak from the one to open the third period. Danforth again ran the extra point.

On the next play fullback Gene Fleming went 80 yards to score Gaylord's only touchdown after taking a hand off from halfback Frank Karwoski who had received the East Jordan kick-off. Karwoski threw a key block on the 30 and end [illegible] another at midfield to clear the way.

Boyne City 31, Harbor Springs 19

At Harbor Springs the Boyne City Ramblers marred the homecoming activities by defeating the Rams 31-19.

Fullback Don Arner scored four of his team's touchdowns with quarterback Denny Pratt adding one for the win for Boyne

Arner opened the scoring with a touchdown from the 30 in the first period with Shorty Smith kicking the extra point. He scor-

Rayders Will Play Class B Cheboygan Here This Friday

The Northern Michigan Class C Conference will conclude its 1952 football season this week with East Jordan entertaining Harbor Springs, Pellston playing at Boyne City, and Mancelona will play at Gaylord in loop play. Charlevoix, who has completed its loop schedule, will host the Class B Cheboygan eleven.

The Pellston-Boyne City meeting and the Gaylord-Mancelona game will be played at 8 p.m. Friday. The other games will be played at 3 p.m. the same day.

East Jordan, hosting sixth place Harbor Springs, should have little trouble with the Rams who have but one win to their credit. East Jordan has retained its first place standing with four wins, one tie with Mancelona and no losses.

At Boyne City the Ramblers will be hosting last place Pellston in a game which should give the Boyne eleven another win and a hold on fifth place. Unless the unexpected happens, Pellston will no doubt remain in the league cellar. The team has yet to win a game.

Both Gaylord and Mancelona have plenty at stake in their meeting this week. By winning Gaylord can end the season in a second place tie with Charlevoix. If Mancelona wins they will take over second place in the loop thus dropping Gaylord to fourth place.

In the past two weeks Mancelona has come up in the league by playing East Jordan to a 6-6 tie and defeating the Rayders 12-6. If they can stay up for another week they may take the Blue Devils. The game will be a toss-up with the most aggressive team coming out on top.

Charlevoix will host the Cheboygan Chiefs in their only non-loop game of the season.

ed again from the 11 in the second period to make the half-time score 13-0

Harbor Springs' first tally came in the third period when a clipping penalty on the Ramblers moved the ball from the 16 to the one yard line. Halfback Leon Sterly went over for six points.

Arner added his third TD in the same period when he went over from the 12 after taking a 20 yard pass from Pratt. Harbor took to the air for its next score with quarterback Tom Clark passing 20 yards to end Ston Pifer who went over from the 25. Clark passed to Pifer for the extra point and the period ended 19-13

Rams center Ed Stolt opened the last period with a touchdown from the nine on a center sneak

Pratt scored from the two yard line after a 52 yard march and with seconds to go Arner scored again from the 19 to wrap up the game.

The game moved Boyne City into undisputed possession of fifth place.

Laminated Rafter Pen Barn Nears Completion

Forming laminated rafters for the new pen type barn being built on the Loyal Barber farm near Deer Lake. Layers of Elm boards, 1x4 inches, boards are wedged into the special blocks to form the arc and then nailed together to complete the construction. Building the rafters are (l to r) Clarence McGeorge, John Holowasko and Charles Reidel.

The laminated rafter barn on the farm of Loyal Barber near Deer Lake is rapidly nearing completion, Ed Rebman, county agent, reported today. This barn is constructed as a pen type dairy barn set up. Straw will be placed overhead of the cows to make it easier for bedding, hay will be placed in a separate shed and as far as possible will be self-fed. Grass and corn silage are placed in trench silos and will be fed out doors.

Economy, good appearance, and ease of construction have made the laminated rafter type of construction popular in Michigan. It takes its name from the fact that each rafter is built-up — 'laminated" — of several layers of 1x4 inch material (usually five or six) bent in a form to the radius desired.

For farm buildings, this type of construction offers you several specific advantages: It is resistant to wind, little skilled labor is required, the material can be cut from native timber, and the finished structure has unobstructed floor and storage space.

Although appearance is not a true factor in the efficiency of a building, almost everyone is interested in it. The curve of the laminated rafter building adds to the good appearance of your farmstead.

No heavy timbers are used in such buildings, making it possible to cut the material for your rafters from smaller trees. Furthermore, practically any native timber can be used — including elm, oak, maple, pine, jack pine, or hemlock. Even popple may be satisfactory but it tends to deteriorate rapidly if it becomes wet. Hardwood lumber should be used before it becomes thoroughly seasoned to facilitate bending into the forms, and nailing.

It's desirable to have at least half of the rafter material cut in 16-foot lengths. This allows spacing the points in adjacent rafter laminations at least 3 feet apart. The remaining pieces can be in 8, 10, 12, or 14-foot lengths.

Laminated rafters are made in a form laid out on the mow floor, or on a special platform on the ground. After the form is made, the desired number of laminations are placed in it, wedged to the outer blocks, and then nailed sufficiently to hold them in shape. Since this does not require skilled labor, only one good carpenter is needed to guide construction. The rest of the crew need know only how to saw a board and drive a nail.

The laminated rafter type of roof is self-supporting. No cross-ties, purlins, or purlin post are needed. It gives more storage space in the barn, and no posts to interfere in implement sheds, apple storages, or poultry houses.

Nevertheless, there is one disadvantage to this type of construction. It does not lend itself to a drive on the mow floor. However, barn drive floors are rapidly becoming unpopular because of their high cost in relation to the use received, and the considerable waste of space resulting.

If a mow drive is used, the rafters on each side of the opening must be trussed to compensate for the rafters which have been cut. This practice is not recommended if one is using home-made rafters.

To aid farmers in the construction of laminated rafters, Rebman suggests following the bulletin entitled "Laminated Rafters for Farm Buildings". This has the complete steps in making these low cost rafters out of material from the farmer's own woodlot. This bulletin may be obtained at the county agents office.

Swine Producers In County Should Feature Feeders

Most swine producers in Charlevoix county should focus their interests on the production of feeder pigs, according to Ed Rebman, county agricultural agent.

A few feeder pigs for home use, a few for sale to the neighbors and others for export to southern Michigan should provide a desirable swine enterprise, Rebman suggests. The production of feeder pigs provides a market, through swine, for larger quantities of hay and pasture crops than is provided when hogs are fattened for market, he points out. The early spring pigs, sold as feeders, nearly always sell at higher prices than do the later farrowed pigs, Rebman reminds.

Farmers should examine their litter of pigs now. Mark the gilts that have grown best up to the present time, but be sure they are from large litters. Be sure the gilt has at least ten well developed udder sections. Select the gilt with enough age and maturity so that she may be bred in November for a March litter. The pigs are then ready for sale by late April or early May.

Most farmers now have electricity, so that early litters are not a great problem where heat lamps or a farrowing crate is used. After weaning the first litter the gilt may be re-bred for an early fall litter or she may be fattened and marketed by early June when pork prices are usually good.

Farmers farrowed fewer litters of pigs this spring and expect smaller numbers farrowed this fall. Couple this with an above one of the record corn crops near-average small grain crop, plusly ready for harvest, and we have indications of a good year for swine producers in 1953. Good pasture, parasite control, sanitation and balanced rations also contribute to a profitable swine program.

Northern Apple, Potato Show Is On At Petoskey

Northern Michigan farmers are having a chance this week to see and take part in the reorganized northern Michigan potato, apple and seed show, Ed Rebman, county agricultural agent said today. The event will be held Tuesday, through Friday at the 4-H clubhouse, Emmet county fairgrounds, Petoskey.

Seed cleaning will be demonstrated Wednesday for the seed cleaning trade and Thursday for farmers. Equipment is being set up by the Michigan State college agricultural engineering department under direction of Robert L. Maddex.

Tablestock growers and other interested persons can see grading of 1,000 pound lots of field run potatoes produced by certified seed growers, invites Henry C. Moore, MSC specialist in charge of seed potato certifying. The potatoes, sealed in bags at harvest by County agricultural agents, will be graded for type, injuries and blemishes. Then they will be sorted by size and packaged for use. Those from 1¼ to 2½ inches will be selected for seed sales and the bigger ones headed to table use, according to Moore. There is a big demand for small potatoes, he notes, while the housewife will pay more for the big seed-stock than for other U. S. No. 1 grade.

Varieties to be covered in demonstrations include those most marketable and best adapted to Lower Peninsula growth, according to Moore. These include Russet Rural, Sebago, Katahdin, Pontiac, Chippewa and Irish Cobbler and the new ones like Kennebec, Ontario, Cherokee and Sequoia. Chipping, boiling, frying and baking qualities will be tested.

The show will close Friday noon with a banquet and Friday afternoon with an auction of entries. The banquet speaker will be President Charles Anspach of Central Michigan college at Mt. Pleasant.

Barnard Grange To Meet

The Barnard Grange will meet Saturday night with a potluck supper at 7:00 p.m. This was postponed from Friday night.

Unburned leaves are worth many dollars and cents as soil conditioners, reminds a Michigan State College landscape specialist.

Give Rules for Avoiding Fatal Hunting Wounds

Lansing — With thousands of hunters once again afield, problems in the safe use of weapons become all important.

Conservation department statistics indicate that 25 hunters will die and about 180 will suffer from gunshot wounds during the season.

And with generally more liberal seasons this year, numbers of hunters marked for death or injury may actually exceed those estimates.

In case of accident, hunters are required by law first to give assistance to the injured, then to report to the nearest state police post or sheriff's office.

And the hunter who injures or kills another should realize that for five years after the accident occurs he will be forbidden by Michigan law to purchase a hunting license of any kind.

But accidents probably could be wiped out entirely if hunters would follow a few common sense rules. The Ten Commandments for Shooting Safety are:

1. Treat every gun with the respect due a loaded gun.
2. Carry only empty guns, taken down or with the action open, into your automobile, camp or home.
3. Always be sure the barrel and action are clear of obstructions.
4. Always carry your gun so that you can control the direction of the muzzle even if you stumble.
5. Be sure of your target before you fire.
6. Never point a gun at anything you do not wish to shoot.
7. Never leave your gun unattended unless you unload it first.
8. Never climb a tree or fence with a loaded gun.
9. Never shoot at a flat, hard surface or the surface of water.
10. Do not mix gunpowder and alcohol.

$400,000 Budgeted For Game Habitat

Except for those who may make it a point to study budgets few of the hundreds of thousands of hunters in the field in Michigan this fall are likely to realize that in the current fiscal year the conservation department game division is spending approximately $400,000 on its game habitat improvement program.

There are two phases of the program. Both are Pittman-Robertson projects, which means federal return of excise tax money on sporting arms and ammunition supply three-fourths of the bill, leaving $100,000 to come from the state's game and fish protection fund.

One phase applies to state game and recreation areas. It involves more than $300,000 of the total. The program includes such things as flooding projects, the planting of a total of 1,000 acres with seedling trees, 1,600 acres of herbaceous planting in small patches, fertilizer, seds and plants and the use of and moving of equipment.

The second phase applies to private lands, a continuation and expansion of the so-called pheasant habitat improvement program which began in 1948 with an expenditure of less than $10,000. This year the same program is getting $85,000.

For Top Production - Use
Farm Bureau M.V.P. Poultry
Concentrate

M. V. P. Poultry Concentrate carries extra vitamins 'A' and 'D' and Riboflavin for 'pick-up' where chicks, hens, or turkeys need a better feed plus blended antibiotics B12 and B complex vitamins.

When changing to M.V.P. mashes it is better to make the change slowly in case of laying flocks. Here's how: — Use 75% of old formula and 25% of M.V.P. mash when starting the changeover. Next use 50% of each formula. Then 25% of old formula and 75% of M.V.P. mash. Then go on to 100% 'M.V.P.' mash of your choice and your hens will get all a feed can give them in quality, health, and production. Feed Grit and oyster shell — have plenty of waterers and feed hoppers available keep litter dry — protect against drafts — eliminate parasites. Don't crowd your hens — give 4 sq. ft. per. hen. Watch use of sulfa drugs from Vitamin 'D' depletion angle.

It Costs To Feed Lice

Now is the time to rid livestock and poultry of lice — use the highly recommended "Methoxchlor 50" or the old standby "Cooper's Dry Kill".

Community Choir Is Preparing For Vesper Concert

The Charlevoix Community Choir will hold weekly rehearsal periods every Tuesday evening while preparing for the Christmas Vesper Concert in mid-December, C. A. Odmark, director, has announced.

The choir held its organizational meeting and first rehearsal last Thursday with 25 new and old members gathering at the high school building.

New members will be welcomed at any time. They are asked to contact Mr. Odmark for the date of the next rehearsal which is being changed because of Open House at school.

Locally Owned Parakeets Take Honors At Show

Five parakeets entered in the Grand Rapids Bird Show recently brought honors to their owners, Mr. and Mrs. James Driggett, by placing in their various classes.

Two young male birds in the yellow cinnamon wing mauve class came out with top honors. A gray-wing blue male placed second; a chartruese gray wing female placed third and a blue cobalt male placed fourth.

It is the first time the couple had entered birds in a show. Also in the competition with Michigan birds were those from several other states.

Mr. and Mrs. Driggett have raised parakeets for the past two years. They now have approximate 100 older birds and 25 babies at the aviary at their home at 602 Norwood road. The birds which they raise to market as pets can be sold at the age of six weeks.

The birds make excellent pets and have been known to talk as early as 14 weeks, Mr. Driggett said.

Wildfowl Whoozit?

One of the strangest wildfowling dramas that has ever been enacted in the Charlevoix area occured this week on the beach off Park Avenue.

Early one morning little eight year old Tom Oleksy, accompanied by his friend, Mike Belfy, went down to the water's edge and saw a large flock of what appeared to be oversized ducks assembled on the gravel.

The lads armed themselves with stones and let fly a volley, knocking down one of the large fowl. They took the bird home and Mr. Frank Oleksy examined it and became curious as to its identity.

Several experienced wildfowlers attempted to place it in their store of past experiences but succeeded only in deciding that it must be a member of the goose family.

Gordon Neff skinned out the pelt of the bird and is preparing to send it to the State authorities for identification. It is a dead ringer for a small goose, but is entirely black, with white eye, white and pink bill, and a white bar on the black wing. The legs were mottled green and red. Anyone ready to hazard a guess?

Women's Fellowship Observes 70th Date Of Church Founding

The Women's Fellowship of the First Congregational church observed the seventieth anniversary of the local church at the regular meeting of the organization Wednesday afternoon.

All members came dressed in gowns reminiscent of the 1880 era and participated in a program which portrayed the highlights of the church history.

Mrs. Allen Campbell opened the meeting by reading the early history of the church. The Margaret Parker circle presented a skit entitled "Hiring the First Minister"; the Mary Burns circle re-enacted the first Sunday school class; The Purchase of the Weather Vane was the story told in a skit by the Mary Brewster circle and the Pilgrim circle presented "The meeting of the first ladies association."

The presentation of the church's first Communion Service by the Chicago Club was also recognized.

Mrs. E. B. Bowman led the devotions and Mrs. E. D. Hawley presented several vocal selections.

At the tea which followed the entertaining program, Mrs. Kit Carson, president of the Fellowship, and Mrs. A. L. Livingston presided at the refreshment table. Co-chairmen for the program were Mrs. Livingston and Mrs. Campbell.

Cpl. Patrick R. Martin, who is stationed at Fort Campbell, Ky., spent the week-end with relatives here. His wife, the former Sue LaBlance, who had been here for two months, returned with him.

Dickens Study Club Gives Program For Shakespeare Club

The Dickens Study Club entertained the members of the Shakespeare Club and their respective husbands at an evening program at the Charlevoix Rod and Gun club Monday evening.

Wilbur T. Bull, head of the education division of the Michigan Conservation Department, spoke on conservation and showed slides and films of the various phases of conservation.

At the close of the program, refreshments were served by a committee headed by Mrs. Arthur Ranger.

As a service the Girl Scouts of Troop 9 are raking leaves for the older people in the community who have no one to do the job for them.

Ambled over to Bob's Restaurant Tuesday for lunch and noticed a new sign "Left Ham Sandwich, 40¢ . . . Right Ham Sandwich, 30¢."

"Why the sign, Bob?" I asked. "Don't tell me you believe hogs scratch more with their right leg than with their left—so's the left ham is more tender?"

"No," he says. "I don't take any stock in it. But, some people have ordered those 'left' sandwiches. When I explain to them that there's nothing to that fable, that the sign is just a business-getter, and I've only one price, they enjoy a regular, old fashioned, plain ham sandwich all the more!"

From where I sit, stories like "right" hams being tougher than "left" ones are with us because some people get ideas into their head and hang onto them for dear life. It's like those who think an adult like myself hasn't the right to a glass of beer with my supper. I say let's keep our opinions free from being "sandwiched-in" by misinformation.

Trout Get Clipped In Experiment Here

An experiment with lake trout which will be concluded in Lake Superior several years from now was started at the local fish cultural station here recently under the direction of Dr. Paul Eschmeyer of the U. S. Great Lakes Fishery Investigation.

The initial project called for the clipping of two fins from 158,000 lake trout which had been reared at the local station. The work was carried on under the direction of Dr. Eschmeyer by eleven local workers.

Purpose of the experiment, according to Dr. Eschmeyer, is to determine the contribution of hatchery fish to the catch of fish in the Great Lakes; to determine the proper time to plant the hatchery-reared fish; the rate of growth, their migration habits and the percentage of survival once they are planted.

The lake trout being used in the experiment are part of the 276,362 hatched last February at the State-owned hatchery at Oden and reared at the local station, more familiarly known as the fish hatchery located on Lake Michigan at Palmer st. The station is operated under the Wildlife Service of the Department of the Interior.

The lake trout for the experiment now average 4½ inches in length and have had the anal and one ventral fin clipped. The anal fin is on the back near the

Designate Next Week To Check For Diabetes

Next week has been designated as Diabetes Week, Dr. A. F. Litzenberger, district health department director and local chairman of the Diabetes Week activities has announced.

Every local organization as well as every local resident is being asked to co-operate in an effort to find undetected cases of diabetes.

The medical profession alone cannot possibly find every case of unknown diabetes, Dr. Litzenberger declared. It is only through the co-operation of civic and business leaders and private citizens in all capacities that any Diabetes Week can be successful.

As their part in the local drive, all local physicians and the Charlevoix Hospital will examine urine specimens free during the week of Nov. 16-22. Specimens may also be brought to the District Health Department office in the city hall building if it is not possible to take them to the physicians' offices or the hospital.

Diabetes is a dangerous disease which can occur at any time to any individual, Dr. Litzenberger continued. Although it is a 'silent' disease in the sense that it may reveal no alarming symptoms, it is still potentially serious, ranking eighth among the causes of death by disease in the United States."

It is pointed out, however, that once it is detected, diabetes can be controlled, usually without interruption in the patient's normal life, happiness or career.

Community Choir To Rehearse On Friday

Fire Department Has Three Calls Over The Weekend

The Charlevoix fire department had its busiest week-end in some time with three fire calls, Fire chief Jerome Whitley reports.

The first call was at 5:15 p.m. Friday to 101½ West Lincoln ave. where the interior of a small house on the back of the property purchased recently by Edward Hansen was gutted by fire caused by an over-heated oil burner. Mr. Hansen had been working at the house which was not occupied and left the stove lighted until he returned, he said. Mrs. Robert Miller who lives across the street discovered the fire and reported it. Damage was estimated at more than $1,000.

At 12:30 a.m. Saturday a fire at the Charles Ager house on State st. occupied by Mrs. Clara Denemy did extensive damage to a downstairs bedroom. The blaze was caused by an overheated stove pipe.

Saturday afternoon the fire department answered a call to the Dewey Bruce home on Sherman st. where fumes from paint brushes started a fire in the basement. The damage was slight.

Scoter Off The Track

"Whoozit?" Turns Out To Be Visitor From Faraway Places

By Rev. Harold E. Kohn

That strange waterfowl, killed last week on the Park Avenue beach by two stone-throwing Charlevoix youngsters, was a white-winged scoter. And it's a small wonder that several local wildfowlers could not identify it. It is very rarely seen on or near Lake Michigan. (Gordon Neff who skinned the bird and sent it to the Michigan Conservation Department, was told by those officials that they had never seen a white-winged scoter before. They had to trace its identity through a bird book!)

The specimen taken by young Tom Oleksy and Mike Belfy was an adult male, whose characteristic coloring is black plumage, except for a white speculum in the wings and a dark grayish-brown zone on the sides of the body. The bird also has a white patch below the eye, a pinkish-orange bill and red-orange feet and legs. Adult female white-winged scoters look much like the males, but are lighter in color, being predominantly grayish-brown and having a whitish base on the normally dark bill.

Only occasionally found on the Great Lakes, this specie of scoter summers from Labrador and North Dakota northward. There it breeds and cares for its young. Its winter home is on the Atlantic from the Gulf of St. Lawrence to South Carolina and on the Pacific from the Pribilof and Aleutian Islands to Lower California. Once in a while the white-wing may be seen in the autumn in the valley of the Connecticut and Hudson Rivers and on inland lakes or large ponds.

Although not a close relative of that awkward-appearing and noisy native of shallow ponds and reedy bogs, the American coot, the white-wing is called "sea-coot" by gunners along the Atlantic coast where this dark member of the duck family is known as highly palatable table fare, when properly cooked. It is lucky for New England sportsmen that

Our Wildfowl Whoozit of last week, according to Warren Shapton, Budget Director of the Division of Game in Lansing, occasioned quite a stir in the department.

He informed Gordon Neff that the skin was identified as that of a White-winged Scoter, whose range is normally Alaska and the Pacific Coast. So rare, in fact, is the bird in these parts that the Conservation men have asked Gordon Neff if they might keep the skin for mounting. It seems that Gordon once enjoyed taxidermy as a hobby and the pelt was so expertly prepared that it could be used as he sent it.

Deer Hunting Gets Underway This Saturday

Michigan's annual 16-day deer hunting season gets underway at 6 a.m. Saturday and conservation department game men expect close to half a million hunters afield before the season end Nov. 30.

Many of Charlevoix's hunters have already set up camp in their favorite hunting grounds and others are planning to hunt in the immediate area, returning home at night.

Hunters may harvest 250,000 deer from the present one million-size herd, which would be the biggest kill ever registered during this century, but still below which game men say is necessary for best herd and range improvement.

Last year, about average during the last 10 years, 369,000 hunters took 104,000 bucks.

Herd health is poor in some areas of the state, notably the northern lower peninsula, where overbrowsing has killed much range and lack of food has stunted the animals. Fawn production rates and checks of deer killed illegally and by autos during the year show upper peninsula deer more healthy than those of the northern lower peninsula and southern lower peninsula deer most healthy of all.

The special three-day "any deer" portion at the end of the northern lower peninsula season was constructed to check malnutrition in that area. Most of the increase in hunter numbers and kill is expected in that area during those three days.

Weather factors again will play an important role in the annual drama; blizzards could cut seriously into hunter success. Many road crews, however have pledged special snow clearing efforts in event of heavy storms during the season.

Mrs. D. McAllister Dies Following A Long Illness

Mrs. Dan McAllister, 56, resident of Marion township for 12 years, died unexpectedly at her home Tuesday. She had been in ill health for some time.

Funeral services will be held at the See Funeral Home at 2 p.m. Friday with the Rev. L. L. Lewis officiating. Burial will be in Brookside cemetery.

The former Grace Gemmill was born at Gaylord June 5, 1896, and was married to Mr. McAllister in 1913. They resided at Gaylord until coming to Marion township in 1940. She was a member of the Baptist church in Gaylord.

Besides her husband she is survived by one son, Lloyd G., at home; three daughters, Mrs. Lottie Mason and Mrs. Claribel Mason of Grand Haven and Mrs. Grace Muncke of Saginaw; 12 grandchildren and two sisters, Mrs. Mary Reed of Gulliver and Mrs. Martha Anderson of Detroit.

County Children Will Hold Music Festival Nov. 20

The second annual Charlevoix county Music Festival will be held at the Boyne City high school gymnasium at 8 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 20, Mrs. Catherina C. Bergeon, county superintendent of schools, announced this week.

Dr. Olaf Steg, head of the music department at Central Michigan College, will direct more than 200 school children from the county's rural schools in a program of songs including seasonal numbers, songs from other countries and American folk songs. The children are now being trained for the festival by their respective teachers.

Ray Koss, head of the piano department at Central Michigan, will also be featured on the program. Dr. Steg will also sing several of his folklore songs.

Junior Red Cross Drive Is Underway

The annual Junior Red Cross Drive opened in Charlevoix county last week and will be concluded this week-end, Mrs. N. A. Barden of Boyne City, Junior Red Cross chairman, announced.

Team Of Coaches To Play Against Globetrotters

Northern Michigan coaches will form a team to play the Harlem Globetrotters at the Petoskey gymnasium next Tuesday night, Bob Woodruff of Petoskey said Wednesday.

Game time has been set at 8:15 p.m.

Meeting the Globetrotters of motion picture fame will be such well known coaches as Mike Hoban, back at his coaching duties in Cheboygan after a year with the Marine Corps in Korea, Ed Kotlarczyk of Indian River, Ed Kujawski of Boyne Falls, Del Terrill of Charlevoix, Tom Weede of Boyne City, Ace Zagraphos, Mike Corgan, Jim Little, Chuck Depreker of St. Francis school and Lew Brown all of Petoskey.

Proceeds from the game will go to the recreation fund to send boys to Camp Ocqueoc, Mr. Woodruff said.

County Unable To Fill Quota For Next Month

For the first time since the Korean War started in June, 1950, Charlevoix county will be unable to fill its draft quota next month, Mrs. Cornelia Barber, clerk of the draft board said this week.

The quota for the month of December has been set at ten men. The draft board has no registrants 20 years or over who can be called. Until 19-year-olds can be called, or until registrants reach their twentieth birthday the county will be unable to fill its quota.

Eleven draft registrants including William H. Allison, Robert G. Sarasin and William H. Hair of Charlevoix will leave today (Thursday) for pre-induction physicals in Detroit.

Five Charlevoix county men will leave Monday, Nov. 17, for Detroit for induction into the armed services to fill the November draft call. They include Donald H. Graham, Frederick H. Lanze and Albert G. Chanda of East Jordan; Peter L. DeWitt and John E. McGeorge of Boyne City.

Hit 90 Per Cent Figure As Chest Drive Nears End

The Charlevoix Community Chest campaign seeking $4,600 as its 1952 goal reached the 90 percent mark this week as the drive nears its close, William I. Supernaw, campaign chairman said Wednesday.

To date a total of $4,146.51 had been contributed Wednesday morning. In the last days of the drive which is expected to end this week all workers plan to make a concerted drive by contacting all persons who have not contributed in an effort to push the total closer to the $4,600 goal.

"There is still time to contribute to the Community Chest," Mr. Supernaw said Wednesday. "If you have not done so, contact me or send your check to Lawrence Fendt, treasurer, or Mrs. James Coleman, secretary of the organization."

Mrs. Herbert Campbell, Community Chest president has called a meeting at the city hall at 8 p.m. tonight (Thursday). All directors, campaign chairman and captains are asked to attend.

Enrollment To Begin Next Week For Continuing Education Program

Registration for the Continuing Education program, formerly called Adult Education program, will begin next week, Supt. R. G. Bennett announced this week.

The classes have been held for several years and have become very popular with increased enrollments each year. Prospective enrollees have asked that classes, which usually begin in January, start at an earlier date this year in order that some classes can be extended over a longer period of time.

Most classes will be held Thursday evening but this may be changed to avoid conflicts.

A variety of courses will be offered and it is so arranged that practically any course may be given if there are enough enrollees for it.

Suggested courses and the related subjects which will be offered include Art, Commercial, Car Driving, High school courses, Recreation, Shop, Homemaking and Community Forum.

Students may enroll from 7:30 to 9 p.m. Thursday, Oct. 20, at high school room 100 or at the elementary school business office from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday of next week.

Instructors will be announced when enrollment is completed.

Mission Holding Services

The Greensky Hill Indian Mission is now holding regular Sunday service at 2:30 p.m. with Rev. Lloyd Schloop as pastor. The public is warmly invited to attend.

Santa Clause To Make His First Charlevoix Visit On November 22

Telegrams are being exchanged almost daily by Santa Claus at the North Pole and Howard Stephens, newly-elected chairman of the Charlevoix Retail Merchants association as final arrangements are being made by the association for Santa's first visit to Charlevoix Saturday, November 22.

Through the efforts of the Retail Merchants association, Santa Claus will visit the city every Saturday from now until Christmas, giving tickets to all youngsters eight years old and younger. The event will be climaxed on Saturday, Dec. 20, when Santa will bring with him a grand gift for some lucky youngster.

The Retail Merchants association will also assist Santa Claus by installing a special mailbox in East Park where children may deposit their letters addressed to Santa Claus at the North Pole. When he visits the city each Saturday, Santa personally will open the mail box and take the letters back to the North Pole with him. Each letter will be acknowledged by one of his helpers.

Tentative plans have also been made by the Association for another Christmas event of interest to grown-ups and teenagers alike. It is a window-shopping night scheduled for Dec. 6 when stores will give gifts if the window shoppers can match the numbers displayed in the store windows. Details of this event will be announced at a later date.

For the present, Charlevoix's young fry are asked by the association to make plans right now for Santa's first visit, Saturday, Nov. 22 in East Park.

Committee chairmen named to assist with the events are, Harold Dutcher, Santa's visits; Clarence Habeck, Santa's mailbox, Mrs. George Haggard, Window Shopper's Night.

Raydars, Coaches Are Honored At Annual Banquet

Billy Pierce, popular young White Sox pitcher whose home is in Highland Park, was guest speaker at the annual football banquet Saturday evening sponsored by the Masonic lodge.

More than 125 guests including the members of the Varsity football squad and their coaches were present for the event.

Mr. Pierce spoke informally and then conducted a question and answer program with fans asking countless questions about baseball and baseball personalities. He answered all questions and in doing so related many of his own experiences which were not without a touch of humor.

L. H. Barker, worshipful master of the Charlevoix Masonic lodge welcomed the guests and introduced [illegible] S. E. Coleman [illegible] introduced Mr. and Mrs. Pierce, Reserve Coach [illegible] Mr. and Mrs. [illegible] and [illegible] Coach and Mrs. D. [illegible] Terrill and Mrs. Coleman. The Rev. Lloyd Schloop gave the invocation.

Coach Terrill spoke briefly and introduced the 1952 Varsity squad, the team manager, Ron Geer, and the Senior cheerleaders, Patsy Ratigan, Cynthia Smith, Ann Lagerman and Gail Krahnke.

Mobile X-Ray Unit To Visit Here Saturday

The mobile x-ray unit brought here earlier this month by the Michigan Department of Health will be returned here this week-end, Dr. A. F. Litzenberger, district health department director, said this week.

Because the unit broke down the last day it was here, many people who had registered for free chest examinations were disappointed. For this reason every effort was made to return it to Charlevoix so these and others who were unable to get chest x-rays at that time could be accommodated.

The unit will return here Saturday morning and will be open from 1 to 5 p.m. Saturday afternoon at the high school, where it was located before.

Those persons who registered before are advised that they need not do so again. Others may register at the high school gym before visiting the unit for a free chest x-ray.

Everyone is urged to visit the unit for a free x-ray Saturday afternoon because it was returned here for the convenience of all local residents.

Harold Dutcher Buys E. Johnson Share Of Market

Harold Dutcher, who has operated the Dutcher and Johnson market here for the past seven years with Earl Johnson, has purchased Mr. Johnson's share of the partnership, it was announced this week.

The store will now be known as Dutcher's Super Market.

Mrs. Dutcher has joined her husband in the business.

Mr. Johnson has not announced his plans at this time. He and his family plan to leave for Florida in the near future for the winter months.

Mr. Dutcher [illegible] April, 19[illegible]

ODDS 'N ENDS

By Fran Martin

WHEN WE WERE kids we used to go ice-boating . . . The only way we can describe the thrill one receives from it is flying on the ground . . . you barely touch the ice and it's wonderful . . . the closest thing to flying without leaving the ground . . . and there's one fellow in town who's going to be flying low this winter if the ice boat he's in the process of building operates as beautifully as it looks . . . (if that makes sense to you) . . . He's Elmer Gibson who has worked on it since February and hopes to have it ready for the first freeze . . . We don't know much about this particular type of ice boat but it sure looks like a pasterpiece to us . . . We'll be looking forward to aeeing it in action . . .

IN THE RECENT election, Florida went Republican for the first time, according to reports . . . But did you know that a former Charlevoix resident who now resides at Jacksonville Beach was one of the leaders in the Republican movement in that area? . . None other than Franklin Left . . Articles in two recent newspapers mentioned him and showed pictures of his charming wife with Gov. F. G. Payne of Maine who spoke in behalf of the Republican party at Jacksonville . . . In a second picture Gov. Payne was holding the Left's young son, Timothy Carl . . . the picture bore the caption: "Even at this young and tender age it isn't too early to begin one's political career."

THE UNSEASONABLE weather we've been having here . . . you know, not too hot but not too cold either . . . has brought some interesting things to light . . . Last week Mrs. Eva Smith picked a lovely yellow rose, one of the more delicate varieties, and brought it to us . . . A treat these days . . . A few days before Mrs. Everett Stenman brought in some beautiful red rosebuds and some garden snapdragons and carnations raised by her father, Edward Olach . . . Mrs. George Clark in Marion township called to tell us she still had pansies and marigolds in bloom and had also seen a butterfly and several caterpillars during the week . . . Mra. Frank Oleksy asked if it was unusual to pick broccilli from the garden on Nov. 8 for she had had enough for two meals for her family . . . We don't know what all this means but we're hoping for some good weather in the next few weeks . . . Winter is long enough without wishing for it so early . . . After the November storms in '50 and '51, one can only hope for a little more good weather . .

IN ANSWER to our inquiry about old telephone numbers Mrs. George Glados called to tell us that Mr. Glados remembered the Argo Mill number 7, Western Union 9, the two drug store numbers 24 and 33, were here when he came to town in 1907. The drug stores, of course, had other owners then but through the years the numbers were the same . . . E. J. Hiller of the Charlevoix Lumber Co. said the company had the number 22 when he came here in 1907 . . . In fact, he had a call from them to his home in southern Michigan which was quite an event in those days . . . We checked with the telephone company office here but Mrs. Charles Martini, chief operator, said the numbers were not on file in that office . . . We must try the business office . . .

WE HAVE two orchids this week . . . The first is for the Charlevoix Rayders and their coaches for giving us a good season of super football . . . Their performance against Cheboygan was something to see . . . And their other games were alright too . . . And the second is for the Masonic lodge for the fine banquet honoring the Rayders and for bringing White Sox pitcher Billy Pierce, to Charlevoix as the speaker at the banquet . . . We're a long way from the baseball centers and we don't often have an opportunity to meet major league players . . . But if they are all like Pierce, then we're all for them . . . Everyone liked him at once and he did a splendid jib of answering dozens of questions regarding baseball and baseball personalities . . . Now that everyone's had that personal touch, we're sure they will be more interested in the great national sport . . . We know we will be . . . And his charming and lovely wife did her bit too . . . For instance, when leaving the dinner one Varsity player was heard to say . . . "What's wrong with me? I didn't want his autograph . . . I meant to ask for his wife's" . . . But all kidding aside it was an occasion to be long remembered by everyone . . . PS—and don't forget the scrumptious turkey dinner either.

MRS BERT CAREY found two old newspapers, a 1918 Courier and a 1910 Sentinel, in her attic recently and has loaned them to us . . . We've had a wonderful time reading them . . . There were many familiar names . . . Among them Leslie Shapton who had written his parents, the Ed Shaptons, of his safe arrival in France during World War I . . . Our own American Legion post is named for him, for you see, he was one of several Charlevoix boys who didn't come back . . .

Other names in the paper were Capt John T Loshat, Pvt R. D Mercano, Eugene Macey, Lieut V. H. Hamilton, Rev. R. C. Parsell who served the medical department and Joseph Powers who was also killed in action . . . And there were ads for Liberty Bonds . . . And the late R. F. Sloan had donated a calf to be raffled off with the proceeds to go to the Red Cross for yarn . . . And the ads . . . you could buy a suit for $25 at F. E. Cartier's or at $16.50 or $18.50 at the J. L. Crane store . . . And cars, they were even more rediculous . . . Ford touring cars at $525, Runabout $500, Chassis $475, Coupelet $750, Sedan $875 and truck $621. . . And at the Palace theatre were Theda Bara in 'Salome', William S. Hart, Pauline Frederick, Charles Ray, Charlie Chaplin and at the Majestic Tom Moore, Billie Burke and Constance Talmadge to name a few . . . More fun . . .

AND WITH the papers were two old pictures . . . One of a Mr. Bryan feeding the first copy of the Courier into the press and another of a man who was evidently the editor sitting at his desk decked out in a neat striped suit and a derby hat . . . We don't know who the men are but we'd like to, so if you do, let us know . . .

INTERPRETING THE NEWS

by Gene Alleman

ONE THING about Michigan elections, with these nip-and-tuck gubernatorial races that hold the final decision way past the normal vote-counting period, folks in this state can get full conversational mileage out of elections. While other states relax and recuperate, Michigan is still waiting to find out who's going to sit in the governor's chair.

The power of the press, so long sneered at by political opponents, demonstrated itself in an almost-overlooked facet of the election: The resounding support of Amendment No. 1, the anti-narcotics measure.

With very little campaigning or advertising and a bare minimum of radio mentions the amendment was brought to the public's attention almost entirely through newspaper stories. That the public read . . . and remembered . . . is evidenced in the vote.

MICHIGAN FARM earnings will net about the same in '53 as they have in the last two years. So says the Michigan State College department of agricultural economics. Farm prices will be slightly higher; so will agricultural production; so will farm expenses.

On the other hand, the United States Department of Agriculture says: Farm output will be the same as '52; prices will be slightly down; Net farm income will be down 5% from this year.

The Washington prediction was made before the election. So maybe it ought to be taken with a political grain of salt.

LOOK FOR proposed legislation to make Michigan election officials (a) have adequate voting supplies for all possible voters and (b) report results as soon as possible after polls close. There are laws now . . . but no penalties!

Michigan dairymen are keeping a wary eye on the northward spread of "frozen dessert". Already doing land-office business in Texas, Oklahoma, Illinois and Missouri, where it may legally be sold, the new product is made of vegetable oil substitutes for expensive butterfat and taste much like ice cream.

AMERICAN Colleges and Universities . . . and Michigan's, too, naturally, are expecting that their enrollment will more than double between now and 1965. Birth rates are doubling. Michigan college heads got a head start by conferring with both gubernatorial candidates long before the election.

Lake Michigan dropped 7.5 inches in October say the U. S. Engineering Department. It was only the second time in the past 13 months that the lake has gone down but it's still two inches higher than a year ago. August was the worst month for high water and Autumn winds can wreak a lot of damage to shore properties.

MAPLE SYRUP has appeared on many Michigan markets during the past two weeks. The pancake dowser' is selling at 85c a [illegible] in Lansing.

There still will be chicken for your Sunday dinner although the egg hatch in Michigan dropped in September. August was 600,000; September 460,000. Michigan Department of Agriculture spokesmen say its seasonal, though, and the hatch was still a September record and 7% above September of '52.

"I'M A stranger in town myself." If a Detroiter should say that to you, he probably isn't fooling. Sixty per cent of Detroit's inhabitants came to the city as adults.

The largest group (14%) came from the South; 11% came from outstate Michigan. Thirty per cent lived on farms before coming to the Motor City.

Ninety-eight per cent have religious preferences, 56% Protestant and 37% Roman Catholic. But only half belong to a church. A team of 30 graduate students and professors of the University of Michigan made the survey of which this information was only a small part of the total statistics obtained.

FRONT-AND-BACK license plates have the endorsement of State Police Commissioner Joseph A. Childs. The Michigan Municipal League has asked the Legislature to restore the front plate, eliminated as an economy measure but decried by most law enforcement officers.

Garden Club Is Told About Trip Through South

Mrs. Clarence Wood entertained the members of the Garden Club at her home Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. Ross Alexander presented a lesson entitled "Trails for Millions", a real story of a trip she and other members of her family took to San Antonio, Tex., and other points of interest.

She mentioned particularly the Lincoln Memorial and the George Rogers' Clark Memorial at Vincennes, Ind.; the Audubon Museum at Henderson, Ky., the Japanese Gardens, the San Jose Mission and the Alamo at San Antonio and the Belling Grath Gardens outside Mobile, Ala. She emphasized the fact that it is not necessary to visit the latter only when the azealas were in bloom for when she was there many other flowers were in bloom including the delphinium and African violets.

Plans were completed for Men's Night Nov. 18 when the members and their respective husbands will meet at the home of Mrs. Albert Edwards for a potluck supper at 6:30 p.m.

Inland Yachting Magazine Gives Praise To Harbor

Charlevoix's harbor received very favorable mention in the October issue of Lakeland Yachting, America's freshwater boating magazine.

In the story, Rough Passage, written by Sam Lucas, he tells of the cruise of Aquilla III from the shipyards at Conneaut, Ohio, to White Lake near Muskegon, with a stopover at Charlevoix during the bad storm last July.

In part he wrote: "We were [illegible] two days at Charlevoix [illegible] couldn't be a [illegible] place in which [illegible] [illegible] Howard who is [illegible] the [illegible] gave [illegible] and also return [illegible] on our needs."

High School Band To Present First Concert On Nov. 20

The Charlevoix high school band has put aside its football march books and turned to more serious music in preparation for the first concert of the 1952 season, C. A. Omark, director, has announced.

The concert will be held at the high school auditorium at 8 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 20.

Appearing for the first time will be those members of the Junior band who advance to the Senior band to replace the 25 members lost by graduation and other causes. This year's band boasts a membership of 61 students with almost complete instrumentation.

Another feature of the concert will be the appearance of John Korkon who will play the solo line of Leroy Anderson's popular "Trumpeters Lullaby". This tune is the latest of a series of fine numbers produced by the man who wrote "Sleigh-ride" and "Syncopated Clock". Other program numbers will be equally light and varied and guaranteed for easy listening.

The concert starts at 8 p.m. and will be completed by 9:15 Mr. Odmark said.

Arlie Smith, 55 Dies Sunday At Home In Bellaire

Funeral services for Arlie Smith, 55, who died unexpectedly at his home in Bellaire Sunday, were held at Bellaire Wednesday afternoon. Burial was in a Bellaire cemetery.

A native of Bellaire, Mr. Smith had been employed as pastry cook at the Parkside here for three years and was planning to leave for Florida this week where he was to be employed for the winter.

He is survived by his wife, Flo, two daughters and two sons; three sisters, Mrs. Arthur Knowles of Central Lake, Mrs. Marion Clark of Detroit and Mrs. P. R. Ross of Charlevoix and two brothers, Jess and Edgar of this city.

Harvest Supper Starts Fund For Uniform Jackets

The Band Parents Association realized approximately $425 from the Harvest supper sponsored by the organization recently

Proceeds from the supper will be used to open a fund to purchase new jackets for the Charlevoix high school band.

Mrs. Walker Miles was general chairman of the event and would like to thank all those who assisted in making the supper a success. Special mention should be given to the kitchen and dining room committees, the Methodist and Congregational churches who loaned equipment and the teachers and children of the first five grades who made table decorations.

Meat for the supper was furnished by Edwards Food Market, Dutcher and Johnson, Food Port, Neff Brothers, Campbell and Supernaw, Staley's Grocery and Russell's Grocery.

Ice Cream was donated by the Lighthouse Dairy Bar, [illegible] and [illegible], Central Dairy [illegible] Williams.

Is Given Party On 12th Birthday

Mary Margaret Schuchard celebrated her twelfth birthday anniversary Saturday at a party given by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bergmann.

The guests enjoyed games with prizes going to Melinda Knight, Ann Ratigan and Mary Berg. Later refreshments were served at a table centered with a lighted birthday cake.

Others present were Nancy Juilleret, Sandy Cunningham, Patsy Raab, Esther Boss, Wanda Russell, Lois Bergmann, Ellen Miller, Barbara Jarvis, Susan Duarr, Madelyn Rabach, and Sharon Swanson.

Dr. C. Robert Dean Named Director Of Detroit Institute

Dr. C. Robert Dean, Wayne University College of Medicine graduate, has been named the first medical director of the Rehabilitation Institute of Metropolitan Detroit, Inc.

The appointment was announced last week by Carl E. Schneider, president of the Board of Trustees of the Institute which operates under the Department of Health with a $250,000 grant from the United Foundation.

Dr. Dean is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Carlton Dean, now of Lansing. He lived here for ten years with his family when his father was director of the Michigan Department of Health No. 3.

St. Mary's Men To Run A Gas Station

Living largely on mussels, clams, scallops and other shellfish, the white-winged scoter has considerable diving ability, often plunging to depths of forty feet to obtain it meals. If the sea waters are too rough for swimming and diving the scoter will fly inland to rivers and lakes where it will make a meal of fresh-water shellfish.

Dairy Farmers to Receive Better Position in 1953

Charlevoix County's 255 dairy farms will enjoy a more favorable position in 1953, in relation to other Michigan agriculture, than they have in recent years.

The present favorable milk-feed price relation will continue through 1953, expect Dale E. Butz, extension specialist, and C. Raymond Hoglund, MSC research specialist, in agricultural economics. Less favorable hog and beef prices have checked the downward trend in dairy cow numbers.

A few more cows and higher production will mean more milk in 1953. Fewer but larger dairy feeding and management have resulted in increased milk production per cow each year. Drawbacks to keeping more cows are shortage of labor and being tied down by twice-a-day milking.

Feeding grain fairly liberally to high-producers will be profitable. The 1952 hay crop is ample and of higher quality than in 1951. Dairymen can lower costs by feeding good quality roughage. Many successful dairymen have cut expensive protein supplements and grain and fed good roughage.

Labor will continue scarce and labor-saving equipment will be good business if farmers beware of gadgets that do not pay. Labor and equipment will be more efficient with 20 or more cows. Milking more cows in 1953 will pay if labor, feed and barn space are available.

Veal production will probably be less profitable with veal prices taking a downward trend. It will be profitable to veal calves if farmers must sell fluid milk at surplus prices or in a poor market.

Demand will be strong for fluid milk and ice cream and less of the supply will go into butter. The evaporated and condensed milk market will be stronger. Butter consumption—nine pounds per capita in 1952—probably will be less. The spread between margarine and butter prices has continued to widen. The non-fat dry milk solid market is expanding with new consumer packages.

Christian Science Society Will Hold A Special Service

As is customary in all Christian Science churches, a special Thanksgiving service will be held on Thanksgiving Day by the Christian Science Society in Charlevoix.

Following the usual order of service there will be a brief period in which members of the congregation may express their gratitude for healings and other help which they have received during the past year.

The Golden Text from Psalms (96:1) is appropriate for the occasion and reads: "O sing unto the Lord a new song: sing unto the Lord, all the earth."

The Bible citations include Proverbs (3:27): "Withhold not good from them to whom it is due, when it is in the power of thine hand to do it."

Among the citations from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, will be the following: "The rich in spirit help the poor in one grand brotherhood, all having the same Principle, or Father; and blessed is that man who seeth his brother's need and supplieth it, seeking his own in another's good."

Mr. and Mrs. P. R. Ross who had been visiting at Brandon, Wis., with their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Ross, returned home Tuesday evening. They were called home by the unexpected death of Mrs. Ross's brother, Arlie Smith of Bellaire.

For the Convenience of my Patients — Since I have moved to California, all accounts may now be paid to Northern Service Bureau, Petoskey.

State Agencies To Furnish Emergency Message Services

All state police posts and the conservation department will combine forces again this year to provide an emergency message service for Michigan's hunter army.

As in the past, hunters may register at either state police posts or department headquarters buildings so families can contact them in event of an emergency at home.

Hunters should tell their families where they register before leaving home and also where they expect to hunt. Messages are limited to family deaths or serious illnesses.

Messages of hunters involved in accidents or lost will be delivered to their homes by the two above named agencies.

Many Wounded Birds Return To Be Active

What happens to those game birds that escape hunters' bags though crippled by gunfire?

Undoubtedly many die of wounds or are killed by other enemies, but some also heal and return to the active list.

Such a bird was a pheasant shot recently in Macomb county by Mrs. Danuta Byds, Mt. Clemens. A wing bone and drumstick were mailed to the conservation department and both showed healed bone fractures, indicating the bird probably was crippled last year.

Often, ducks live-trapped for banding show healed wounds and fractures when X-rayed.

Population Study Of Caterpillar Eggs Started In State

A population study of forest tent caterpillar eggs in Chippewa and Mackinac counties and the north tip of the lower peninsula got underway October 27 the conservation department reports.

[illegible]

Later the eggs will be hatched in laboratories to determine the percentage of parasitism that has developed. Parasites attach to caterpillar eggs and probably are the most effective caterpillar killer.

The information is being collected in cooperation with the University of Michigan, Michigan State College, and the US Forest Service.

Trout Clipped In Experiment Here

tail and the ventral fins are on other side near the tail. The left ventral fin has been clipped from 50 percent of the fish and the alternate fin from the remaining number so they can be identified as 'planted' fish when they are caught several years from now. Half of the fish will be planted this fall after being taken to the Lake Superior area in aereated tanks and the others will be kept at the new federal experimental lake trout hatchery at Pendill Creek until spring when they will be planted.

The new hatchery is located on Whitefish Bay in Lake Superior 15 miles from Brimley and is the second federally-owned hatchery in the state. The other one is located here. The new hatchery is in charge of a former Charlevoix resident, Harold Newman.

The fish to be planted this fall and next spring will reach legal size about 1958, and will be caught for the next few years. Dr. Eschmeyer said. At that time all comercial fisherman will be asked to report any catch of 'marked' fish and department man will be at all major fishing ports on Lake Superior to inspect commercial catches for the planted fish. In this way the fishery investigation committee hopes to complete the experiment.

In the local station which is supervised by George Roff, the fish are reared in tanks in which the temperature of the water is comparable to that of Lake Michigan.

While the clipping was being done, a minor test was being carried on by the workers to determine which of two methods brought about the best quality clipping because if the fins are not clipped back to a certain point they will regenerate. To do this the fish were given an anesthetic by placing them in a basin which contained a solution of water and ether. On alternate days the clipping was done without an anesthetic.

An experiment similar to the one to be carried out in Lake Superior for the first time was conducted in Lake Michigan in 1914-15-16, Mr. Roff said. At that time experienced workers were brought in to do the clipping which is done by special bone clippers. This year, Dr. Eschmeyer said, local workers were employed and did a creditable job.

Employed on the project were Mrs. Leo Putman, Mrs. Jerome Whitley, Mrs. Peter R. Winnick, Mrs. Walter Harvey, Mrs. Willis Keiser, Mrs. Harold Towsley, Mrs. Dan Peters, Mrs. George M. Smith, Mrs. Alfred Allison, Mrs. Russell Curtis and Mrs. Paul Kullander.

Mrs. Grant Hastings

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Van Stedum and baby of Grand Rapids were week-end visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Van Stedum.

Mrs. Neil Vander Stelt and children of Muskegon came this past week-end for a three wek's stay in the home of her father, 'Tod' White. Mr. Vander Stelt will join her this week and enjoy deer hunting.

A/2c William Best, Mrs. Best and children of Mt. Clemens returned Tuesday to their home after a week-end visit in the Merion Best home.

"Bud" Chellis was honor guest at a birthday party Saturday night in his home. Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Chellis Sr. and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Standenmeyer were guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Tony Shooks and Tate Postmus of Grand Rapids were guests from Thursday until Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Kate Shooks and visited other relatives while here.

H. J. Timmer and daughter, Kathryn and Victor Oosterbaan left Tuesday morning for Grand Rapids expecting to return Saturday. Victor expects to leave next Monday to join the U. S. Navy.

Mrs. Herbert Peebles and Mrs. Rollie Baumbach were in Torch Lake Saturday night to attend the fiftieth wedding anniversary celebration for Mr. and Mrs. Norman Arnold, old friends of Mrs. Baumbach.

Mr. and Mrs Robert Kelsey and son, Ron, of Traverse City were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Best.

Mesdames Charles Edson, W. L. Chellis, Peter Wieland and Dick Wielard expected to attend the annual conference of the Women's Farm Bureau group held in East Lansing Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Brall of Detroit drove up Saturday and remained overnight as guests of Mrs. Lena Yettaw.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Drenth of East Jordan and John Drenth of Ellsworth drove to Grand Rapids Friday to attend the 40th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. John Van Straten, former residents of our vicinity. John Drenth returned Saturday to Ellsworth with the Van Straten's who were guests until Tuesday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Cooper.

Deer hunters are so busy getting ready for the opening of hunting Saturday that all other news pales into insignificance!

George Koster, Harm and Ralph Sitzema leave this Wednesday for Beaver Island for hunting and "Bud" Postmus will join them later.

Rev. H. Fikse and Mrs. Fikse of the Atwood Reformed church are in Canada where Rev. Fikse is working for a short time with the Holland immigrants.

Rev. E. Boeve was guest speaker in the Barnard Reformed church this past Sunday evening. Next Sunday, Nov. 16, he will fill a classical appointment in Lucas and Rev. Goodyke of the Atwood Christian church will be the speaker in the local church.

Mrs. Earl Hansma of Grand Rapids came this past week-end for a few days stay in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tony Kuiper. Mrs. Kuiper is a surgical patient in Charlevoix Hospital.

Mrs. Claude Fairman is a surgical patient in Charlevoix hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Petrie of near East Jordan and Eddie Petter of Ellsworth were week-end visitors in Alma.

Mrs. Nick Tornga received word last Thursday of the death of her father, Jacob Meyer of Conrad, Montana. Funeral services were held there last Saturday.

Banks P.T.A. Ways and Means committee served dinner to the employees of the local canning factory Tuesday of this week. Last week the ladies aid of the Atwood Reformed church served dinner there last Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Rayner and daughter, Nancy, of Belding visited during the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. James Elzinga.

Mrs. Rollie Baumbach and Mrs. Herbert Peebles and daughters, Sharon and Ruth Ann, were Sunday guests of Mrs. Bessie Coleman and family near Kewadin.

Mr. and Mrs. Adrian Hoogerhyde of Grand Rapids came Sunday noon and remained overnight as guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Klobster. Mr. and Mrs. James Sitsma of Muskegon, week-end visitors in Charlevoix, also visited in the Klooster home.

Senior Play Well Received

Good crowds both nights enjoyed the commendable presentation of the Senior play "The Ghost Chaser" last Wednesday and Thursday nights and the class added a good sum for their Senior trip expenses.

Ken Van Dellen played special piano numbers Wednesday night between acts and Mr. Stecker of East Jordan, our music instructor, played several selections Thursday night. Did you discover that Jim Elzinga was "The Shadow?"

Ellsworth — Mrs. Del Clow received word recently of the death of a former resident of this area, Mrs. Bertha Harris Moore, who died Oct. 25 at her home in Benton Harbor. Older residents will recall the William Harris family who were pioneer residents in the Norwood area, where Miss. Bertha is thought to be the first white child born in that vicinity.

Her brother, E. R. Harris, was prominent in Ellsworth history and built the Harris home, owned by Mr. and Mrs. William Petter at the present time.

Remember that the father, William Harris, a State Legislature member, was the one who introduced the bill to make the apple blossom Michigan's State flower?

Warns Motorists To Be Alert For Wacky Walkers

"Be Alert For Wacky Walkers." Police Chief Clarence Heise today announced that Charlevoix is cooperating on the fall Pedestrian Protection program sponsored by the State Safety commission, the Michigan Association of Chiefs of Police, the Michigan Sheriffs' association, the Automobile Club of Michigan and many other organizations interested in safety.

According to Chief Heise the official slogan for the safety campaign will "Be Alert For Wacky Kalkers." This points out that in at least half of the pedestrian accidents the pedestrian was more at fault than the motorist.

"By calling to the attention of motorists the amusing antics of Wacky Walkers which are dangerous it is hoped that fewer pedestrians will be hit," the Chief said.

In the fall of the year it gets dark earlier and more pedestrians are harder to see as people walk and drive to work and back. The special hazard is that the man on foot is hard to see and he doesn't know it.

In conclusion Chief Heise said, "The privilege of owning a driver's license is a serious thing. It carries with it the special responsibility of watching out for pedestrians. Any motorist who runs down a man on foot raises the question as to whether the motorist was a safe enough driver to have been given a driver's license."

THE OLE FISHIN' HOLE

By John Cook

Yes sir, it's the same every season. Winter drags along and the boys sit by the fire evenings and read tackle catalogues. They devour articles in the hunting magazines on catching the big ones long before the ice breaks up. Then with the fishing fever raging they just barely last until the opener, when high water, cold and rain invariably make it poor going in the streams.

Of course the fever hangs on for a while, and mebbe things do two, but along comes hot weather and low water on most creeks, and the fish go out of action.

Along about the end of the summer the majority of anglers have become so disgusted with the whole proposition that they won't even talk about it. They're just grouching along with no enthusiasm until they begin to notice an occasional maple turning scarlet, and all of a sudden there's a frenzy of oiling guns, dusting off of shell vests, and Sunday afternoon drives along the back lanes looking for pats.

Fishing? Who ever heard of it? Aha, but wait. Here and there you see an old die-hard slipping down the path to the lake in the gray dawn, and brother, does he have fun! Those old mossbacks that were lying in a sulk all summer suddenly discover that winter is slipping up on them, and they start cruising with a chip on their fin for anything that moves.

Looks from here as though some of the boys are missing a good bet when they stuff their tackle in the closet at the end of every summer. But, so help me, next spring they'll be raging around itching for opening day, and their prospects of a real catch will be a lot less than they are right now.

Heard a lot of beefs from the troops using spinning tackle this summer. Not that the gear doesn't work fine, but man, how those heavy little spinning lures do hang up and get lost! Well, mebbe there's an answer in something I tried this summer.

I'd heard of weighted spinning flies before, but had a suspicion that the fur and feathers might make them tough to cast. In spite of my doubts I tinkered one up one night, tried it over on the Jordan next morning, and discovered that the blamed thing cast like a bullet. Seems the feathers slick along the sides when wet and offer no air resistance. But they ride nice in the current, and when properly made haven't a tendency to snag on everything.

To weight the fly I just used a number 6 long-shanked hook and clamped some split shot on for a body. Just coat the shot with varnish and wrap it solid with winding silk Tie them up in traditional patterns, and believe me, when you lose one on a snag it doesn't cost you sixty-five cents. I took a nice brown that morning, so trout seem to like them. Be a good project for cold winter nights, tying up a collection for spring.

Trapping Season On Muskrat, Raccoon, Mink Opens Nov. 15

Muskrat, mink and raccoon trapping seasons open November 15 in the northern lower peninsula, the conservation department notes.

These seasons all opened November 1 in the upper peninsula, but will remain closed in the southern lower peninsula until December 1.

Also, badger and skunk seasons opened statewide November 1, as did mink hunting.

Trappers this year are faced with an abundance of furbearers to trap, but with generally poor pelt prices.

Charlevoix Finished Third In Conference

The Charlevoix Rayders concluded their 1952 football season Friday by upsetting Cheboygan 19-13 in one of the hardest fought games of the current season.

The win had no bearing on league standings and Charlevoix, with four conference wins and two losses finished in third behind first place East Jordan and second place Mancelona.

Definitely the underdogs when they entered the game against Cheboygan here last week, the Rayders scored first and from then on battled on an even basis with the visiting Class B squad which had overrun other Class C teams all season.

The first period was marked by fumbles on the part of both teams and an exchange of punts. Cheboygan picked up two first downs in quick succession midway in the period and were on their way to score when the Rayders recovered a Cheboygan fumble on the 33. Five first downs by the Rayders in the next series of play moved the ball to the Cheboygan 10 as the quarter ended.

As the second period opened the Cheboygan line held and Charlevoix lost the ball on the 13 after failing to score.

The Chiefs moved the ball out to the 30 and were forced to kick when the Charlevoix line held. The Chiefs were offside on the play, however, and Charlevoix took the down and gained possession of the ball. In the next series of plays the Rayders moved the ball into scoring position but a 15 yard penalty set them back on the 32.

On the next play, quarterback Bill Bennett passed to left end Jack Denemy who then lateraled to fullback Jim Lewis who went over to score the first touchdown of the game. Don Smith's kick was blocked and the Rayders' led 0-0.

The lead was short-lived, however, as Cheboygan's speedy halfback Tom McGinn took a lateral from G. Meyers and went around right end to score. D. Woiderski ran the extra point and the Chiefs moved into the lead.

An exchange of fumbles and a punt by Cheboygan gave the Rayders the ball as the half ended.

Cheboygan received the half-

East Jordan First, Mancelona Second In Final Standings

The Northern Michigan Class C league concluded its 1952 season Friday with East Jordan capturing its second consecutive conference title after defeating Harbor Springs 26-0.

The only mark on the East Jordan record this year was a 6-6 tie with Mancelona.

Mancelona annexed second place in the loop after defeating Gaylord in a close battle which ended in a 7-6 win for the Ironmen.

The Charlevoix Rayders who went outside the league last week to upset Cheboygan by a 19-13 score ended the season in third place.

Gaylord sank to fourth place while Boyne City upset by the Pellston Hornets by a 14-7 score took over fifth place. Pellston's win over Boyne City moved them out of the no-win column into a last place tie with Harbor Springs.

East Jordan 26, Harbor Springs 0

The only obstacle in the way of a second loop title for East Jordan offered little resistance Friday as the Jordanites won easily over a Harbor Springs eleven who never threatened throughout the afternoon.

The Rams held the Red Devils scoreless in the first quarter but in the second period the Jordanites bounced back to score twice. The first touchdown was scored by quarterback Keith Evans from the one foot line after a sustained drive put his team in scoring position. Halfback Sammy Milstein scored the extra point on a dive play.

As the quarter drew to a close left halfback Bob Danforth went off tackle to score from the eight. The run for extra point was stopped and the half ended 13-0.

On the second play of the third period right halfback Ray Gee went off tackle for a 53 yard run and the third TD of the game. Milstein ran the extra point over.

Gee scored again in the last period, this time from the 11. The run for extra point failed and the game ended 26-0.

Mancelona 7, Gaylord 6

At Gaylord neither team got inside the opponent's 20 yard line in the first half of the Mancelona-Blue Devil game.

Mancelona, however, took advantage of a break to score its first touchdown when quarterback Johnny Holstad intercepted a pass on Gaylord's 16 to score. Bill Dalton kicked the extra point and Mancelona led 7-0.

Halfback Tom Sanders scored Gaylord's only touchdown in the last period when he went over from the eight. The scoring play followed a drive which started on their own 30. Bud Jones' kick for the extra point was blocked and the game ended 7-6.

Hard running fullback Gene Fleming was hurt early in the second half and saw little action in the last two periods.

Pellston 14, Boyne City 7

Boyne City, playing without fullback Don Arner, who was out of the line-up with a leg muscle injury, was downed by the Pellston Hornets who had threatened at various times this season.

Pellston scored first on a 25-yard pass from halfback Wayne Spray to end Marshall Hampton on the 35. Hampton went on to score his team's third touchdown of the season. Ron Wilson passed to end Harold Drier for the extra point.

The second and third periods were scoreless but early in the last quarter halfback Denny Pratt scored from the six inch line following a 40 yard drive. Shorty Smith kicked the extra point and the score was tied 7-7.

Halfback Glenn Aurrand added the winning touchdown in the last period when he went over from the three after the team had moved the ball 63 yards. Aurrand went around end to score the extra point.

Many In Conference Finish High School Football Play

Friday not only marked the end of the 1952 football season in the Northern Michigan Class C Conference but also ended the high school football careers of many players who will graduate next June.

For the Charlevoix Rayders it marked the final game for some 15 players.

Several are gridmen who have started every game this season while others are players who have been out for football for four years and only occasionally got into a game. The latter, however, are to be commended for their persistence and tenacity in coming out for practice night after night when they knew there was little chance of taking over from more talented players. As Coach Del Terrill said of them, "These boys set a fine example of sportsmanship in continuing to come out week after week. Without them, we wouldn't have a team".

The lists of players who will be lost after this season include such familiar names as backs, Paul Jornson, Jim Lewis, Ray Sanford, Fred Jolliffe, Stuart Warlker and Don Vratanina, who saw only limited action after suffering a fractured collar bone early in the season and linemen Stan Whitley, Bill Mosier, Dean Davenport, Jack Denemy, Carl Foster, Jack Cross, Sunny Mason, Wilfred Browe and Johnny LaBlance.

Outside of Charlevoix, Mancelona and East Jordan probably suffer most by graduation.

time kick-off, picked up a first down and punted when they failed to make a second. The Reyders returned the punt to midfield and on a series of plays, including a long run by Bennett, moved the ball to the Cheboygan eight. Agein the Chiefs held and the Rayders lost the ball on downs.

Charlevoix's line got tough and Cheboygan failed to pick up a first down and got off a short punt which the Rayders' returned to their own 27. A series of runs by Lewis, halfback Paul Johnson and Bennett moved the ball to the one where Bennett passed into the end zone to right end Dean Davenport for the Rayders' second tally. Smith's kick was stopped and Charlevoix went ahead 12-7.

Cheboygan took the kick-off and despite a call-back on a touchdown run by McGinn because of a holding penalty by the Chiefs, moved the ball to the Charlevoix five as the quarter ended.

On the second play of the last period, McGinn went over for the second Cheboygan tally. Wolderski's run for the extra point was stopped and the Chiefs went ahead 13-12.

The Rayders returned the kick-off to the Cheboygan 40 and moved tha ball to midfield where Cheboygan recovared a Rayder fumbla. On the next play the Chiefs fumbled and the Rayders recovered on their own 45.

The Rayders failed to make headway but a 15 yard penalty gave them a first down. The Charlevoix eleven failed to capitalize on the break and the visitors took over on the 35. Another long walk-off because of a clipping penalty set them back to the 20 and they kicked out of danger.

A series of runs from their own 40 set up the next scoring opportunity with the ball on the 10. On three downs Charlevoix moved the ball to the six-inch line where Johnson took it over for the winning touchdown. Lewis ran the extra point and the Rayders went ahead 19-13 with less than a minute to go.

Cheboygan took the kick-off as the game ended 19-13.

In the game for the Reyders were Joe McDermott, Bennett, Lewis, Johnson, Ray Sanford, Jerry Albright, and Bob Jolliffe in the backfield. In the line were Davenport, Denemy, Sten Whitley, Bill Mosier, Everett Pease, Larry Burns, Carl Foster, Sunny Mason and Tom Erber.

The entire team played heads up ball all the way and put on an outstanding performance to stop Coach Mike Hoban's Chiefs.

cobson losses such veterans as halfback Harold Patrick, center Ken Councillor, tackle, Bernie Conway, ends Vernon DeWent, Andy Patrick and Larry Hamblin, all first stringers and backs Pat Sweeney and Lawrence Seaman, center Yousef Jabara and end Pete Brown from the substitute list.

East Jorden will lose ten men, eight of whom have been in Coach Geyle Saxton's starting line up this season. On the list are backs Gordon Danforth, Sammy Milstein and Warren Frank, ends Leon Bertlett, Floyd Detloff and Mike Davis, tackle Bill Rogers, tackle and end Dick Freeman, guards Jim Shepard and Jerry Evans. Evans and Davis are the pair who were not regular starters.

Coach Dick Boles of Harbor Springs will lose seven men. Among them will be Frank Granstra, all-conference end in 1951, center Ed Stolt, guards Herman Ross and Al Chingwa, and tackles Louis Johnson, Elmer Ballou and Marty King.

Five veterans will be missing from the Boyne City roster next season when Coach Tom Weede calls practice sessions. All are players who have played regularly all season. The list includes fullback Don Arner, who held a berth on the all-conference squad last year, quarterback Denny Pratt, end Ron West, tackle Merle Karlskin and guard Shorty Smith, who has also done the team's kicking.

At Gaylord Coach Arthur Tex Teireira will lose Gene Fleming, fast halfback, who has been the team's mainstay all season, ends Larry Northey and Larry Allen, quarterback Bud Jones, guard Jerry Campbell, and tackles Tom Buell and Bob Keppler.

Pellston, which started from scratch in rebuilding their football team, will lose only three regulars according to Coach Ray Brown. They are halfback Wayne Spray, end Marshall Hampton and center Sabastian ToTocha. Second string guard Ralph O'Neill and tackle Lee Archer will also graduate this year.

Fishing Licenses Go On Sale Dec. 1

Fishing licenses for 1953 will go on sale December 1 this year for the first time, thus making the annual license valid for 13 months, the conservation department reports.

The change was made by legislative act earlier this year, and is designed to lessen the pressure of business on license dealers during the busy year-end season.

Multiflora Rose Getting Foot-hold In County

Carlton Smith of Charlevoix, former director of the Charlevoix Soil Conservation District, looking at one of his multiflora rose plants that is doing very well on his farm.

Charlevoix county farmers have planted a large number of multiflora rose through the assistance of the Charlevoix Soil Conservation district, Ed Rebman, county agricultural agent and secretary of the district stated today. The first planting of the multiflora rose in this county was made in 1949. At that time three of the district directors, George Klooster of East Jordan, Clayton Healey of East Jordan and Carlton Smith of Charlevoix, planted a few of the multiflora roses to see how they would do.

Those that were planted by George Klooster were destroyed by livestock while still young. Clayton Healey's planting froze down the first year or two but now is making some very good growth. Those planted by Carlton Smith have done the best as many of them are now three and four feet tall.

The second planting of the multiflora rose was made in 1951. At that time, Henry Howard of East Jordan, Carlton Smith of Charlevoix, Floyd McCracken of Charlevoix and Perry Looze of East Jordan planted some of these trees. The last planting was made last spring at which time the Charlevoix Soil Conservation district brought in about 24,000 of these multiflora roses and distributed them to 33 different farmers throughout the county. The farmers who received the most of these plants were Walter and Harold Goebel of East Jordan and Carlton Smith of Charlevoix.

Multiflora rose is an Asiatic plant that has been used in this country for a long time as an ornamental. It is much used by rose growers as a hardy rootstalk on which to bud other ornamental varieties of roses. Its new use for soil conservation and erosion control has resulted from more than 10 years of trials by farmers working with the Soil Conservation Service.

On the best soils, multiflora rose reaches a maximum height of 10 feet and about the same width. Its growth is somewhat umbrella-like; canes shoot up 4 to 6 feet or more, then begin to droop, with the slender ends of the side canes hanging almost to the ground.

When fully developed, multiflora rose provides an excellent living fence for pastures where horses, cattle, sheep, and goats are grazed. It will also hold hogs that have been ringed. Once a living fence has been established, there is no need for posts or wire except at gates.

You will find this plant suitable for contour fences between cropland and permanent pasture and between cropland fields used for rotational grazing. Living fences aid in better land use by keeping livestock from large gullies, eroding stream banks, farm ponds areas, woodlands, and other areas best suited for wildlife land. They help to prevent trespassing along property boundries.

Any additional information regarding multiflora rose can be had from Bill Grimm, farm planner, or Ed Rebman, county agricultural agent.

Area Dairy Farmers Can Save By Feeding Quality Roughages

Charlevoix area dairy farmers can save thousands of dollars each year by feeding cows more high-quality roughage and less grain and concentrates. They can do this and maintain milk production, reports Ed Rebman, county agricultural agent.

Michigan's dairy herd could produce more milk on several million dollars a year less feed, according to Michigan State College studies. The Michigan Agricultural Experiment station sets up tests, in co-operation with the U. S. Department of Agriculture on six south central Michigan farms for a 300-day lactation period.

A group of cows that averaged 2,191 pounds of grain-concentrate and 7,838 pounds of roughage per cow produced the most milk, an average of 12,500 pounds per cow. A second group ate 3,109 pounds of grain-concentrate and 6,828 pounds of roughage per cow and produced an average 11,592 pounds of milk per cow. The high-concentrate group, which ate 4,426 pounds per cow, with only 6,650 pounds of roughage, produced an average per cow of 11,727, slightly higher than the medium group.

Pasture was about the same for all these tests groups, reports the county agricultural agent. The concentrate was about 90 percent farm grain and 10 percent purchased supplements. Four farms fed mainly grass-legume mixtures put up early as grass silage and two farms fed mainly corn silage. Feed costs for the medium-concentrate group were 17 percent higher, reports Rebman, and 39 percent higher for the heavy concentrate group.

Bounty Payments Lower Than 1951

The conservation department reports a bounty payment on wolves, bobcats and coyotes of $12,625 for September, the lowest September total in the last three years.

Bounty payments in September, 1951, totaled $15,000, and in 1950 the total was $16,00.

This year, one wolf, 181 bobcats and 656 coyotes were bountied. In September, 1951, seven wolves, 170 bobcats and 804 coyotes were bountied.

U. S. Air Force Is Taking Enlistments On A Quota Basis

Due to the past volume of U.S. Air Force enlistments, the Air Force is taking men on a quota basis, M-Sgt. Gordon R. Wiitanen of the Petoskey Recruiting office has announced.

Under the new set-up a limited number of men will be taken on a 'first come-first serve' basis

Young men planning to join the Air Force are urged to contact Sgt. Whitanen at 303 Howard St. in Petoskey.

Cost of Making Insecticide Cut By U-M Research

Farmers and gardeners may benefit from a University of Michigan development which makes it possible to manufacture a powerful commercial insecticide (Lindane) more cheaply.

The U-M scientists found that the insecticide can be made much faster by use of penetrating gamma rays of radioactive cobalt-60 instead of the ultraviolet rays now being used.

Chemically known as Hexachlorocyclohexane, and several times more powerful than DDT, the compound is produced by exposing a solution of chlorine and benzene to ultraviolet rays. The solution must be continuously agitated in order for the rays to penetrate the whole volume.

By exposing the solution to gamma rays, the same results are produced without agitation and more economically, since the gamma rays penetrate the whole volume instantly, according to Joseph J. Martin, professor of chemical and metallurgical engineering.

Sponsored by the U. S. Government, the research was performed in the University's Fission Products Laboratory.

Expert Gives Tips On Selling Milk Under General Laws

The fluid milk market of southen Michigan cities is expanding into the northern Michigan counties. Charlevoix county dairymen who can meet the market sanitation requirements for products, equipment, animals and barns can gain a greater income from sale of whole milk, Ed Rebman, county agricultural agent, said today.

Some tips on laws and requirements to sell milk for bottling are offered by D. L. Murray, extension dairyman at Michigan State College. He advises dairymen to check the particular market in which they plan to sell as local ordinances may require additional quality standards. General laws are:

(1) A milk house is required for cooling, handling and storing milk. It must have a two-compartment wash tank for washing the equipment, a metal rack for storing utensils, a water heater, and a self-closing door between a connected milk house and stable.

(2) Barns must have impervious floors such as cement, reasonable amount of light and ventilation and reasonably tight walls and ceilings, kept clean and sanitary. Hogs or chickens are not permitted in the dairy stable.

(3) Milk will not contain less than three per cent butterfat and, not over 100,000 bacteria as determined by plate or microscopic count. It must retain blue color for not less than four hours when subjected to methylene blue test. Quality tests must be run each month by a dairy plant or some qualified agency.

State To Operate Checking Stations For Hunting Data

Lansing — Conservation department employes will operate a network of eight primary and six secondary checking stations at strategic road points in the northern lower peninsula to collect hunting and deer informatio during the coming firearm deer season.

Also, department personnel will use 17 equipment stations in the region as reporting stations for hunters, though biologists will not be on hand at these points to age deer.

Location of primary check points is at present only tentative; final approval on their locations must come from state departments of highway and police because of safety aspects involved.

But temporarily at least, the department plans stations at Muskegon on US-31, south of Brohman on M-37, south of Morley on US-131, south of Remus nn M-66, south of Mt. Pleasant on US-27, at Sanford on US-10 and south of Standish on US-23. And as usual, game specialists will check deer and hunters on the Straits docks at Mackinaw City.

Secondary stations will be located at the five district headquarters buildings in Baldwin, Traverse City, Gaylord, Mio and Gladwin and at sub-district headquarters in Roscommon.

Information sought by the department includes hunter numbers, age and general physical condition of deer killed and hunter success.

Cite Dairy Barn Ventilation Needs

The ventilation system in a dairy barn should provide fresh air at a suitable temperature without drafts. It should also remove excess moisture and undesirable odors, states Ed Rebman, county agricultural agent.

The amount of fresh air needed in a dairy barn depends on the size of the barn and the number of animals housed. A minimum of 60 cubic feet of air for each 1,000 pounds of animal is desirable, Rebman suggests. Generally a low cost fan and thermostat will provide suitable air movement. The fresh air inlets are quite important to the operation of the ventilating system. They should be spaced rather evenly at least on the long sides of the barn. Fresh air inlets can be homemade and need not be expensive, he explains.

Operating temperatures in the barn of approximately 45 degrees provides suitable moisture perspiration, he notes. For example, a Holstein cow producing 30 pounds of milk daily will add 18½ pounds, or more than two gallons, of water to the air in a 24 hour period. A Jersey cow producing 20 pounds of milk daily will exhale 15 pounds of water in a 24 hour period. This moisture, if not properly removed, can affect the life of both the barn and equipment, he cautions. It can have an effect also on the health of the cattle, particularly the young stock. A small electric fan will provide positive ventilation at a reasonable cost.

Extension Bulletin 301—"Ventilation for the Modern Dairy Barn" — gives detailed information on selecting and installing the ventilating equipment, Rebman advises. The bulletin is available from his office at Boyne City.

HALF MILLION DUCKS

Nearly half a million ducks and coots were ovserved in Saginaw Bay, Lake St Clair and the Lake Erie-Detroit River area during the conservation department's mid-season aerial census of waterfowl just completed.

The census showed waterfowl more numerous than during any previous aerial count-estimate, and backs up pre-season estimates of a bumper crop.

On the waters studied — the hgeavy concentration areas of Michigan 452,500 ducks were seen, 40,600 coots and less than 100 geese. The goose count was surprisingly low; generally 500-1,000 are tallied. However, about 10,000 geese are reported in southwestern Michigan, normal for this time of year.

The previous high census came in 1948, when 333,000 ducks were observed on the same waters. Department aerial censuses have been made since 1947, and each year are carried out at the peak of migrations.

Mr. Farmer:

It takes a large volume of livestock to attract a large number of livestock buyers.

The Traverse City Livestock Commission sells more livestock than any sale in Northern Michigan.

The bigger buyers attend the Traverse City Livestock Auction, therefore you are assured the full market value when you consign your livestock to the Traverse City Livestock Commission. Don't hesitate to spend a little extra money for trucking to the Traverse City Livestock Commission. It will be repaid many times.

Two Sentenced At Special Term Of Court Here

Two men were sentenced by Judge Charles L. Brown at a special term of circuit court here Monday.

James Van Dusen, 20, of Charlevoix and Grand Rapids, who had earlier pleaded guilty to a morals charge involving a 15 year old Flint girl, was placed on probation for five years and ordered not to return to this county during the probation period; ordered to spend four months in the Charlevoix county jail; to take psychiatric treatments at his own expense; to pay $1,000 to the mother of the girl within 30 days and also to pay a $25 fine and $975 court costs. If the $2,000 is not paid within 30 days he is to spend an additional six months in jail.

In handing down the sentence, Judge Brown warned Van Dusen that he would be sentenced to 10 to 20 years if he violates his probation.

William Blissett, 21, was the second man sentenced after he had pleaded guilty to a manslaughter charge in the death of Dorothy Walsh, 17, of Highland Park who died Aug. 30 from injuries received in an auto accident while riding in the Blissett car. He was placed on probation for two years, ordered to spend 30 days in the county jail, and to pay a $25 fine and $100 court costs. His driver's license was also revoked for two years.

Appoint County Man To VFW Committee

Following a recommendation of the Veterans of Foreign Wars of Michigan, the Michigan Veterans Trust Fund Board of Trustees have appointed Mr. Elmer Hammontree of Boyne City to the Trust Fund committee of Charlevoix County.

Conrad Thibault To Present Program On Community Concert Series Nov. 19

Conrad Thibault, noted American Baritone, who will appear in Petoskey on Wednesday, Nov. 19 under the auspices of the Northern Michigan Community Concerts association, is a high favorite among concert artists. Massachusettes born, he is descended from a distinguished French family. From his earliest years his fine voice and musical instincts were recognized, and he was in constant demand as soloist in church choirs and at school festivities. Untrained, save for this routine experience as choir singer, he won a scholarship to the Curtis Institute of Music is Philadelphia, which was later renewed for five years. There he became a pupil of the world-famous baritone and teacher, Emilio de Gorgorza, who, until his recent death, remained Thibault's friend, guide and only vocal instructor.

After graduation, the young singer went to New York and attracted the attention of many radio producers. Radio audiences all over the country soon became familiar with the Thibault voice and personality on many top-ranking radio shows.

When television came Thibault moved right into this picture thanks to his pleasant personality and good looks. He was one of the first concert stars to have his own TV Show. He calls it "Music Hall".

Thibault's concert career has taken him throughout this country and Canada, winning him new friends everywhere with his voice personality and appealing programs. He has recorded both albums and two single discs for Decca Records, all of which have been extremely popular with record collectors.

Admittance to this and all remaining programs in the 1952-53 series will be by membership in the northern Michigan Community Concert Association.

Remaining programs in the series are the Telschiks, a two-piano team on February 23 and the Denver Symphony on April 10.

Several Answer Plea For Girl Scout Leaders

A number of Charlevoix women have heeded the call for new leaders for local Girl Scout troops, Mrs. Charles Duerr, of the Girl Scout Council said this week.

Mrs. Joseph Arvilla and Phyllis Davis have taken over Troop 6 of Intermediate scouts; Troop 9 Intermediates are now under the leadership of Mrs. O. V. Cunningham and Mrs. Larry Tuomela; Mrs. Carlton Ikens and Mrs. Fay Davis have Brownie troop 11.

A new Brownie troop to be known as troop 12 is being organized and will have as its leaders Mrs. Frank Trochio and Barbara Crick.

The Girl Scout Council is also in need of a piano for the Girl Scout Room in the City Hall. They will accept a piano as a loan, or a gift, or if the price is right, will purchase one for the Scout room. Calls may be made to Mrs. Duerr at 443.

Kiwanis Starts Fund For Youth Center Building

Action taken Wednesday night by the Board of Directors of the Charlevoix Kiwanis Club resulted in the establishment of a building fund, to be known as the Youth Center building fund, Frank Bird, president of the club has announced.

Purpose of the project is to set aside sums each year to build a youth center for the young people of the city.

Eight hundred dollars of the proceeds from the recent White Elephant sale was placed in a savings account at the Charlevoix State Savings Bank as a nucleus for the fund. Any organization or individual may contribute to it at any time.

The board also voted to contribute $25.00 to the Community Chest Drive.

A WARNING

The hunters greatest danger is his own gun or the guns of members of his own party, is the warning issued this week by the conservation department.

All 10 victims in fatal small game hunting accidents last year shot themselves or were shot by members of their own party.

Of the 13 deer-hunting fatalities, eight either killed themselves or were killed by the guns in the hands of their own party members.

Robert Bridge, Capt. J. Roen On European Trip

Robert Bridge and Capt. John Roen, a former resident now of Sturgeon Bay, Wis., left last weekend on the first leg of a month's trip abroad.

Mr. Bridge left here for Chicago where he was joined by Capt. Roen for the trip to New York. They left that city via air Saturday for Paris, France, where they will visit briefly before going to Frankfort to visit the former's son, Cpl. Eugene Bridge, who is stationed there with the army.

They will then go to Capt. Roen's native land, Norway, where they will spend several weeks at Oslo, Bergen and other Norwegian cities.

Dr. F. W. Youngs Leave To Reside In California

Dr. and Mrs F. W Young and sons, Tommy and Jimmy, left Sunday for San Clemente, Calif., where they will make their home and where Dr. Young plans to join his brother, Arthur H. Young, in the Builders' Hardware.

Dr. Young, a 1932 graduate of the University of Michigan, came here in the fall of 1933 from Detroit where he had been associated with his father in the practice of dentistry for one year. He has practiced here since then except for the war years when he served as a captain in the army from 1943-46. He served in the Atlantic and Pacific theatres for one and a half years.

Another dentist is expected to take over Dr. Young's practice in the near future. A formal announcement regarding his successor will be made shortly.

Former Resident Dies At Traverse

Miss Lela Stevens, 61, a former resident of the Phelps district, died Sunday at Traverse City where she had lived for the past 28 years.

Funeral services were held at the See Funeral Home Tuesday with burial in Brookside cemetery.

She is survived by a sister, Mrs. Reed Gennett of Bellaire and a brother, Charles Stevens of Benton Harbor.

Bill Bennett Is Chosen On First Eleven

Seven members of the Charlevoix Rayders received mention as the coaches choices for the Northern Michigan Class C All-Conference teams named this week.

One player was named to the first squad, four to the second and two received honorable mention.

The Northern Michigan Class C champions, East Jordan, had four berths on the first squad while Boyne City had three, and Harbor Springs and Gaylord two each. Mancelona and Pellston failed to place players on the first team.

Rayder quarterback Bill Bennett was one of four backfield men named to the coaches mythical eleven: End Dean Davenport, tackle Stan Whitley, guard Fred Jolliffe and back Paul Johnson were awarded places on the second team and back Jim Lewis and center Larry Burns won honorable mention.

The players are selected by a point system and only a few points separated players named to all teams.

Named with Bennett to the All-Conference backfield were Keith Evans of East Jordan, Gene Fleming of Gaylord and Don Arner of Boyne City.

Linemen named to the All-Conference team were: ends Frank Granstra of Harbor Springs, who won the honor for the second year, and Floyd Detloff of East Jordan; tackles, Tom Buell of Gaylord and Dick Free-

Rayders Open Practice For Cage Season

Football gear has been replaced by basketball equipment as 65 aspirants for regular berths with the Charlevoix Rayders reported for practice last Wednesday, Coach Del Terrill reports.

Practice sessions for the first ten days or two weeks will be devoted entirely to fundamentals and to skills and tests, Coach Terrill added. All players were excused from practice Monday to go hunting but from now on they will be expected to settle down to long, hard hours of practice as the team prepares for its first game at Boyne City Dec. 5, only three weeks from now, he continued.

Only a few familiar names from last year's squad will be found among the 65 candidates for the team. They include Bobo Bennett, Dean Davenport, Carl Foster, Jim Lewis, Bill Mosier and Jack Denemy plus those players who were members of the Reserve team last season. Some of the returning players played regularly and others saw only limited action during the regular season and the tournament games.

The Rayders will play a 14 game schedule this season. After their game at Boyne City they will meet East Jordan Dec. 12 and Mancelona Dec. 19 in home games before the holidays.

The first of two non-league games with Petoskey usually played before the Christmas recess will be played at Petoskey Jan. 3 this season.

Other games on the Charlevoix schedule include: Pellston there Jan. 9; Harbor Springs here Jan. 16; Gaylord there Jan. 23; Boyne City here Jan. 27; East Jordan there Jan. 30; Mancelona there Feb. 10; Pellston here Feb. 13; Petoskey here Feb. 17; Harbor Springs there Feb. 20; Gaylord here Feb. 27.

Charlevoix Area Turkey Crop Headed For Holiday Markets

The turkey harvest in the Charlevoix area will reach its peak this week as growers send approximately 75 per cent of their 1952 crop of the traditional holiday birds to the Thanksgiving market, a survey made recently revealed.

The broad-breasted bronze variety continues to be the favorite bird among northern Michigan growers although one grower, Hiram Brock, has a flock of the smaller Beltville Whites.

By this week-end approximately 21,000 of the area's 28,500 turkeys will be ready for the Thanksgiving trade at prices much lower than in recent years. Another 5,000 of the holiday birds will be sold on the Christmas market and 2,500 hens and toms will be kept by their owners for breeding purposes.

Figures also showed that the number of turkeys raised here this year is slightly higher than the 1951 figure, although it is not in keeping with the 13 per cent increase for the state.

In the past 12 years, turkeys have become one of the county's chief crops. Since the first flocks were raised in the early 1940's many growers have gone into the business. However, the majority of the growers still in the business have been in it for a number of years and plan to remain in it. During the mid-'40's when growers could ask, and get, almost any price for their birds, many persons went into the business. When prices started to level off and the margin of profit came down, these growers sold out.

One of the problems which faced turkey growers here this year was finding a market for their birds. The Charlevoix Co-operative processing plant which had processed turkeys and sold them to the Land O'-Lakes Co. for four years did

Local Hunters Take To Woods For Deer Hunt

Several hundred of Charlevoix's nimrods took to the woods last Saturday for the opening of the annual deer hunting season.

Despite unseasonable weather and lack of snow for tracking, many kills have been reported, particularly among those who hunted in the immediate area. Others who camped out or went to hunting grounds in the upper peninsula have not been heard from.

Bob Jolliffe, high school sophomore, was the first to report to the Courier office with the news that he had shot a six-point buck on the old Dica farm in Norwood township at 7:05 a.m.

Three other school sudents and one of the faculty had filled their licenses before returning to school Monday. They were Bruce Bergmann who was hunting east of here with his uncles: Everett Pease and Tom Fessenden, all students, and Robert Kinerva, commercial teacher.

Mrs. William Seese, who got a buck at 8 a.m. Sunday, has been the only woman to report a catch thus far.

Floyd Baker, former Hayes township resident now living in Lincoln Park, was the only hunter to get a bear. He shot a 150-pound bruin Sunday morning while hunting in the

L. E. Block, 83 Dies In Chicago Hospital Nov. 11

L. E. Block, 83, one of the founders of the Inland Steel Co. and a summer resident here for about 40 years, died Nov. 11 at St. Luke's Hospital in Chicago.

Funeral services were held Friday at the Sinai Congregation Synagogue.

Mr. Block was board chairman of the Inland Steel Co. for more than 30 years and had been associated with the company since 1896.

As a summer resident here he was keenly interested in the community. During the 1951 fund drive for the new Charlevoix Hospital, he contributed funds for the room which interested him most, the cardiographic and metabolism room.

He is survived by his wife, Cora; two sons, Joseph and Leigh and two daughters, Mrs. Oscar Serlin and Mrs. Daniel Saidenberg.

Bobby Sutton Saves Cousin From Drowning

Ten year old Bobby Sutton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sutton Sr., is credited with saving his ten months old cousin from drowning in Round Lake at 2:30 Saturday afternoon.

The cousin was Bonnie Lou Sutton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Burton E. Sutton of Fremont, who fell into the lake in her stroller from the Mason st. dock where her cousin, Bobby, had taken her.

The baby was thrown from the stroller as it went into the lake and Bobby jumped into the icy water after her. He held her above water until two 11 year old boys, Kenneth Case and Eugene Holm, pulled her onto the dock.

Mrs. Dorothy Case, mother of Kenneth, who had parked her car in back of Neff Brothers store and was walking up the hill to Bridge st., heard the children's cries and called Robert Neff who ran to the dock and pulled Bobby from the water.

Mr. Neff and Joe Smith who had seen the accident from the Bellinger Boat Yard and who had rushed to the dock in his car took the children home.

Later Saturday Bonnie Lou was taken to the Charlevoix Hospital where she was treated until Monday afternoon.

Bobby suffered no ill effects from his experience and returned to school Monday.

Dr. E. C. Beck Is Well Received At Open House

Dr. E. C. Beck of Central Michigan College in Mt. Pleasant and president of the M.E.A., as guest speaker at the Charlevoix public school Open House last week spoke on the subject, Children in Today's Schools.

In his talk, which was well received by parents and friends, Dr. Beck emphasized the needs of the children in the schools of today. He listed the four greatest needs today as being more classroom space for increased enrollments which are growing more each year; the need for more elementary teachers; the necessity of a changing school curriculum to keep up with the changing times and the need of a stronger co-operative attitude between the parents and the school.

Supt. R. G. Bennett presided at the brief discussion period which followed. The discussion was devoted to the needs mentioned in Dr. Beck's speech and how to fullfill them.

Mrs. Helen Richards, of the program committee, introduced Dr. Beck. C. A. Odmark directed the Girl's choir in several numbers.

A social hour and refreshments followed in the cafeteria.

County May Fill Part Of Quota In December Draft

Charlevoix county's draft quota for January has been set for three men, the draft board has been notified.

The county is unable to fill the call for ten men next month but will send as many men for induction as are available, Mrs. Cornelia Barber, draft board clerk, said this week. There may be two or three men who have reached their twentieth birthday anniversary who may be available, she added. They will leave for induction Dec. 8.

Complete Plans For Santa Claus' First Visit Here Saturday

The Christmas spirit will invade Charlevoix this week-end as Santa Claus arrives from the North Pole for his first visit of the season at 2 p.m. Saturday.

Santa, on a brief swing through the country aboard his plane, the Santa Special, is being brought to Charlevoix by the Retail Merchants association.

After arriving at the airport Saturday afternoon he will make his entrance into the city aboard the fire truck and will stop at East Park to visit with the kiddies before hurrying on to his next appointment.

While here he will distribute candy to all the youngsters who come to see him along with tickets to all children eight years old and younger. The children will be asked to keep the tickets until Dec. 20 when a wonderful big gift will be given to some boy or girl.

Santa will also open the special mailbox which will be placed in East Park this week for the convenience of children who want to write to him. He will take the letters home to his workshop where one of his helpers will answer them. Children are asked to put their full names and addresses on their Christmas letters.

Santa will visit Charlevoix every Saturday from now until Christmas, distributing tickets to the small fry and collecting their letters from the Christmas mailbox.

Charles Bleha served as chairman of the mailbox committee and Clarence Rabach will assist Santa with the letters posted in the mailbox. Both are members of the Retail Merchants association which is sponsoring Santa's weekly visit and arranging the Dec. 6 Windowshoppers night for the adults of the area.

Union Service Will Observe Thanksgiving

Thanksgiving in Charlevoix will be observed at a Union Thanksgiving Service at the First Congregational church at 8 p.m. Wednesday.

The special Thanksgiving observance will be held under the sponsorship of the Charlevoix Ministerial Association with its members participating in the service.

The Rev. L. L. Lewis, who is leaving early next month to assume a pastorate at Boon, will deliver the Thanksgiving sermon.

The call to worship, following an organ prelude, will be given by the Rev. Gunnar Kars; a prayer will be offered by the Rev. Lloyd Schloop; the litany will be given by the Rev. Harold E. Kohn; an offertory prayer will be given by the Rev. George L. Majors and the benediction will be presented by the Rev. Joe Bekkering.

Several hymns of Thanksgiving will be sung and a special number will be offered by the Community Church of God.

Persons of all denominations are invited to attend the Union Service.

Mrs. Frank Coatta Died Last Night

Mrs. Fern Coatta, wife of Frank Coatta, died early Wednesday evening at the Charlevoix hospital. Funeral arrangements have not been completed.

City Asks Bids On Caretaker's Cottage

The Charlevoix City Council, at a regular meeting Monday night, voted to sell the building at the Trailer Park known as the caretaker's cottage. The clerk was authorized to advertise for sealed bids which will be accepted until 8 p.m. Dec. 1. Information regarding the building may be obtained from the office of the city Clerk.

Bills totaling $10,064.58 were examined and ordered paid.

High School Band Concert To Be Tonight

The Charlevoix high school band, directed by C. A. Odmark, will present its first concert of the current school year at the high school auditorium at 8 p.m. tonight (Thursday).

Mr. Odmark will direct the 61-piece band in a variety program which will include many familiar selections as well as Leroy Anderson's popular new number, Trumpeters Lullaby. John Kroken, local musician, will be the soloist.

Other selections will include: march, Commanding Officer, Frangkiser; Overture, Evangeline, Buchtel; Missouri Waltz, Logan; march, Brasses Triumphant, Holmes; Mexican Overture, Isaacs; Hymn of Freedom, Talmadge; novelty, Hot Trombone, Fillmore; Syncopated Clock, Anderson; Cool Water,

Community Chest Fund Drive Hits Quota Of $4,600

The 1952 Community Chest Drive has gone over the top for the first time since 1949, William I. Supernaw, fund chairman, announced Wednesday.

The final contributions which pushed the drive to the $4,600 mark were received Wednesday morning, Mrs. James Coleman, Chest secretary said. Contributions totaling more than $1,200 from Charlevoix's summer residents aided greatly in meeting the quota, she added.

The funds contributed to the Community Chest will be distributed this week to the following agencies: Boy Scouts, $900, Girl Scouts, $550; school nurse $350; Emergency fund, which includes Santa Claus Anonymous and a special fund for the purchase of glasses, crutches and other emergencies, $450; Salvation Army, $300; United Health and Welfare which includes some 28 state and national agencies, $1,110; campaign expenses, $140.

ODDS 'N ENDS

By Fran Martin

WE RECENTLY received an announcement from the Bob Vrataninas in Regensberg, Germany, telling us of the arrival of Bobby Jr . . . And with it was the following note which we'd like to share with you . . . Germany has much of beauty for the stranger to view and its ancient cities and the customs of the people are fascinating but it will never be able to take the place of home in the U.S. . . . It's funny how very much one appreciates our country merely by being in a foreign one.

IT'S COMING to town . . . after what seems a century or so of waiting, and we'll be right in the front row . . . What are we talking about? . . . The circus . . what else . . . Of course, it's a movie called the 'Greatest Show on Earth' but they tell us it's got everything but the circus smells and that we can do without . . . All kidding aside, you see more than you would in the best seat in the tent . . . So if you're kid at heart and always wanted to see a real big circus here's your chance . . And don't say we didn't tell you . . .

ONE FOR THE what-will-they-think-of-next department . . . . . Time was when holiday time rolled around, mother or grandmother purchased all the yummies for a fruit cake, candied citron, lemon and orange peel, raisins, currants, and nuts to name just a few things . . . Everyone had a chore, cutting the peels in small pieces, cracking nuts, etc. . . . In fact, the baking of fruit cakes for the holidays was quite an event . . . Now what happens . . . it all comes in a box . . . so help me . . . Not only that, they not only give you the metal box to bake it in but the paper liner as well . . . all you have to do it add an egg and milk . . . Darndest thing you ever saw . . . But we still think the old way was a lot more fun . . .

BACK TO THE 'old telephone number' query we started a few weeks ago . . . Fred Cartier tells us that when he came here in 1901 many of the present numbers were in use, including the lumber company plus the Chicago Club, the Charlevoix Courior, the Charlevoix County State Bank plus others named earlier . . . Joe Howard tells us that the number at the Municipal dock has been 15 for even a longer time . . . He said he'd lived here for 46 years and sailed in here for 12 years before that and the number was in use then . . . Of course the dock was known as Wilbur's Dock at that time . . . Now what we'd like to know is this . . . Perhaps it will come out in some of the history of the phone company . . . But when did the first telephone exchange come into Charlevoix . . . We've been told it was located over what is now the bakery and was managed by a Dr. Crouter . . .

DON'T LET this weather we've been having fool you . . . Christmas will be here exactly five weeks from today . . . We know it's hard to get into the spirit when the weather at this time (Sunday) looks more like early spring than late fall . . . But you'd better get started on that shopping and Christmas card list or you're gonna be sorry . . .

HOW CAN one mention Christmas and tell of garden flowers in bloom in practically the same breath? . . It isn't easy but we're doing it . . . Mrs. Emma Sutton who always boasts a big flower garden has been picking some for the house right up 'til the middle of the month . . . Another thing that amazes us are the number of bugs in the air this time of year . . . After this fall we're giving up as far as weather is concerned . . . There's no explaining it . . .

ANOTHER 'can you believe it' to add to our long list of unusual things due to the unseasonable weather . . : Fresh strawberries picked Nov. 15 . . . Honest, for Marvin Mathews brought them into the office for everyone to see . . . and taste . . . We can't vouch for the latter 'cause we didn't get any but all the rest of the crew tell us they were grand . . . And if we get a little more rain maybe he'll bring some more . . .

NEXT Thursday is Thanksgiving . . . a time for the gathering of family and for turkey and the trimmins . . . But time too to stop and think of all we have to be thankful for . . . And believe me, you've got plenty . . . If you don't think so look about you . . We won't bother to list all the things you can be thankful for because if you can't think of them by yourself you don't deserve them . . . But we're sure you will find something, your home, your family, your country . . . Oh, so many little things that add up to big things . . . So this Thanksgiving be extra grateful . . . There are others who have nothing . . .

Charlevoix IN UNIFORM

Earldean Stephens, who was discharged from the Army earlier this month, spent the week-end with his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Stephens.

A veteran of 37 months duty in the Army, he served briefly in Korea and more recently has been stationed at Camp Cook, Calif. He was a private first class at the time of his discharge.

He will make his home in Tecumseh where his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Stephens, former local residents, now live.

Gerald Left, Frank Lagerman and Bruce Barber, have been promoted to Airmen third class after completing basic training at Lackland AFB, San Antonio, Tex. They enlisted in the Airforce in August.

They will now be assigned to various schools for specialized training.

You'll find DIAL SERVICE

Fast and Dependable

* Numbers Fit Long-Range Pattern

Your new telephone numbers—the prefix LI for LIberty and five numerals—fit into an over-all nation-wide numbering pattern making it possible for more and more customers to dial direct to telephones in other communities.

You will be able to dial direct to Petoskey, Boyne City and East Jordan starting December 4 . . . and to additional communities in the years ahead.

YOU'LL find community dial telephone service —coming to Charlevoix December 4—fast, up-to-date, dependable.

Your new dial system is tailor-made. Its heart is complex switching equipment at 302 State Street.

It takes months to plan, build and install a new telephone system to keep pace with the needs of a growing community. Michigan Bell's long-range expansion and improvement program is meeting these needs. An earlier step widened your toll-free calling area to include Petoskey, Boyne City and East Jordan.

And since World War II, the number of telephones in these four neighboring communities has doubled. With so many more telephones, your own telephone increases in value because you can call more people and more can call you.

Dial service helps speed the handling of many more calls. And just as it takes careful advance planning to change your service to dial, in the same way individual arrangements are made months ahead for the changes affecting telephone people. Some regular employees will retire; the others were given an opportunity to continue their telephone careers in other localities such as Petoskey where operators are handling an increasing number of long distance, assistance, information and time-of-day calls.

Your local dial system, including equipment necessary to connect your telephone with any other telephone, cost $336,500.

Money for expansion and improvement like this has to come from people willing to invest in the telephone business. To attract their money, the telephone business must pay a fair return for the use of their money. So . . .

It's good for you and your town to have Michigan Bell make a fair profit.

Nancy Rae Kipke Becomes Bride Of D. J. Bambach In Double Ring Service

In a candlelight ceremony solemnized at the Hyde Park Christian church in Austin, Tex., Friday evening, Nancy Rae Kipke became the bride of Staff Sgt. Donald J. Bambach, U. S. Air Force.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray L. Kipke and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Winnifred Bambach.

The Rev. Archie K. Stevenson read the double ring service in the presence of their attendants and a few friends. The church organist played a program of traditional wedding music.

For her wedding the bride selected an afternoon dress of soft pink faille, navy accessories and a corsage of pink and white carnations.

Bonnie Jean Cunningham of this city, as her only attendant, wore a navy blue crepe dress, gray accessories and a corsage of yellow pompons.

Staff Sgt. Leo K. Alexander of Yakima, Wash. stationed at Gray Air Force Base, Killeen, Tex., assisted the bridegroom as best man.

Immediately following the ceremony a small reception was held at the couple's apartment at 4210 B Avenue D in Austin. Shirley Cunningham of Lansing presided at the refreshment table.

After a brief wedding trip the couple will make their home in Austin.

The bride is a 1949 graduate of the Charlevoix high school and a 1952 graduate of the Sparrow Hospital School of Nursing in Lansing.

The bridegroom, a 1948 graduate of the local high school, is a veteran of 4½ years in the U. S. Air Force. He is now stationed at Bergstrom Air Force Base, Austin, Tex.

Local Talent To Participate In Amateur Program

Several Charlevoix amateur performers will participate in the Charlevoix county Amateur program sponsored by the Senior Class of the Boyne City high school at 8 p.m. Friday evening. The event, one of many in a state-wide program, will be held at the high school auditorium. Winners will participate in a district contest after the holidays.

Local talent planning to appear on the show will be a waltz clog by Judy Ikens, Sharon Abfalter and Bonnie Heckman; a waltz clog by Marilyn and Jeanette Novak; a song and dance by Nancy Novak and a military tap by Vicki Miller.

Mrs. Carlton Ikens will accompany the dancers on the piano.

James P. Maloneys To Observe Golden Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. James P. Maloney, former Charlevoix residents now living in Forest Park, Ill., will hold open house at their home at 1016 Beloit Ave. Sunday in celebration of their Golden Wedding anniversary Tuesday, Nov. 25. On that day the couple will renew their marriage vows at St. Bernadine's Catholic church in Forest Park.

The couple was married at Charlevoix Nov. 25, 1902. Mrs. Maloney, the former Elizabeth Barrett, was born here.

Mr. Maloney was born on Beaver Island, where his parents had migrated from Ireland. A former school teacher there, he was an accountant and auditor at the Henry C. Lytton Co. for more than 20 years and was employed by the Curtis Candy Co. until he retired in 1947. They have lived at their present home for 31 years.

They have three daughters, Mrs. George J. Madool, Mrs. John H. Stephens and Mrs. J. J. Smith at Lombard, Ill.; a son John of Chicago and six grandchildren.

Did you know that Hungarian career girls all have to wear the same style uniform to work? . . . So there won't be any vulgar display of vanity or something.

To date, the three Soviet best-sellers are a Russian dictionary, a cookbook and a Moscow telephone directory.

I could do without the dictionary and the telephone book . . but it would be interesting to me to know how the Russians make pumpkin pie. Or how anyone does for that matter!

Mine looks like a baby blimp in the oven but as soon as it is placed out to wonder at and admire, it phoofs and sizzles out like a flat tire.

Can't for the confused life of me figure out where all that gorgeous glop can go to. A perfect example, if there ever was one . . . of actually seeing no more pumpkin pie.

I think it's mean to say a turkey is dumb. The only time we pay any atention to the poor dear is when he has an awful lot on his mind.

Like now . . . his concern is whether a buck, here or there is going to take the joy out of living, more or less. That's enough to make any little bird worry.

After all, he's only one of this year's crop of 59 million gobblers and it's no fun being a statistic and being continually told there is safety in numbers . . . or that misery loves company. When it's probably his goose that'll be cooked.

And I wouldn't be a turkey's friend if I didn't mention that this year we are celebrating the 100th anniversary of the weiner. Hot diggety-dog!

Rev. L. L. Lewis To Take New Pulpit

The Rev. L. L. Lewis, pastor of the First Baptist church here for the past 3½ years has accepted a call extended by the Boon Baptist church, he announced this week.

He and Mrs Lewis plan to leave here Dec. 1 for their new pastorate which is located 12 miles west of Cadillac.

The Rev. Mr. Lewis came here in June 1949 from Lincoln in southern Michigan.

The local pulpit will be filled by supply ministers for the present.

Turkey Crop Heads For Holiday Market

not open this year and growers had to seek outlets elsewhere.

Fred Willis, manager of the Co-operative, said the changing market made it impractical for the plant to open this season. When the business was started in 1947, the demand was for feather or New York dressed birds. Today, however, the demand is for eviscerated or oven-ready birds. The price of the new equipment which would have been needed for this type of dressing would have been prohibitive for the number of birds which would go through the plant, Mr. Willis continued.

Arlo Wickersham, with a flock of 6,000 turkeys which he trucked to Hemlock continues to be the biggest grower in the area.

Hume Brock who lives near East Jordan has the second largest flock. He has 4,500 birds including 1,000 of the smaller Beltsville Whites. He plans to sell 1,400 birds on the Thanksgiving market, keep 300 for breeding stock and market the remaining birds for the Christmas holidays.

John Brock, who also lives near East Jordan and Harry Brock of the Atwood district had 2,000 birds each which they sold live weight in Detroit. John Brock selected 250 hens and toms from his flock for breeding purposes.

Elden Jones, with a flock of 1,800, sold approximately 1,000 of his birds on the early fall market and sent the remaining 800 to Hemlock this month.

Rudy Korth disposed of 800 of his flock of 1,200 birds in Detroit early this month and plans to sell the remaining 400 at the same market for the Christmas trade. Aaron Brock who also had 1,200 turkeys, will sell to a Detroit market for Thanksgiving.

Rowley Williams, with a flock of 1,150 birds, sold 150 locally during the summer and is trucking the remaining 1,000 to a St. Louis firm.

John L. Ross with 1,100 birds will keep 200 for breeders and sell the others at the Hemlock plant.

Ole Nielsen, Addison Chew and Sanford Matchett each have flocks of 1,000 birds. Nielsen will sell his birds live weight in Detroit this week. Chew will keep 350 birds for breeding purposes and sell the others in Detroit before Thanksgiving. Matchett plans to keep a breeding flock of 300 birds and sell the remaining birds locally for both the Thanksgiving and Christmas trade.

John Barkdoll, a newcomer to the business, has a flock of 900 birds which he plans to sell on the Thanksgiving market after selecting a breeding flock of 300 birds.

Albert Carlson, who increased his flock to 850 birds, plans to send about 70 turkeys to Hemlock and dress out the remainder of the flock for the Thanksgiving and Christmas market in Detroit.

Mrs Charles Withers with 800 turkeys, plans to keep a breeding flock of 170 toms and hens and market the others at Christmas time.

Jalmar Rombach with 700 birds will keep 125 as breeders and sell the others before Christmas.

Two new growers, Archie Balch and Kenneth Ager, who had a flock of 500 birds, sold them earlier this month in Detroit.

Richard Potter with 400 birds plans to keep half of the flock as breeders and sell the remainder at Christmas time. Eldon Potter with a flock of 300 turkeys also plans to keep a breeding flock of 140 birds and sell to the Christmas market.

Will Start Dialing Soon

Spike Goss, veteran Michigan Bell Telephone Company employee here, installs a dial on the telephone of Mr. Eva Smith, 213 W. Hurlbut, in preparation for the changeover of the local telephone system to dial operation on Dec. 4.

Inauguration of Charlevoix's new $337,000 dial telephone system will take place at 1 p.m. on December 4, according to C. L. Johnson, manager here for the Michigan Bell Telephone Company.

Taking part in a brief, informal ceremony marking the event will be local civic and business leaders and Michigan Bell officials.

At the same time the new system is placed in service Michigan Bell will make its dial Time Service available here and at Petoskey, Boyne City and Walloon Lake.

The new service will be provided by tying all telephones in the four communities into the company's Time Service headquarters in Detroit where the time of day is automatically broadcast over a special network at 10-second intervals on a 24-hour basis.

To obtain the time of day, customers in Charlevoix and Boyne City will dial 1PE-112. At Walloon Lake, the code will be 6-112, and at Petoskey 112.

When dial service is inaugurated all local telephone numbers will be changed. The new numbers will bear the name Liberty, followed by five numerals. Thus, a typical Charlevoix telephone number will appear as Libert 7-0001 after the change.

A special telephone directory will be mailed to each local user prior to the cutover, Johnson said. The directory will also be mailed to Boyne City, East Jordan, and Petoskey users since these communities are in the Charlevoix extended area plan.

"Dust Of Destiny" Movie To Be Shown On Friday Evening

The movie, Dust of Destiny, will be shown at the Community Church of God at 8 p.m. Friday evening, the Rev. George L. Majors, pastor of the church has announced.

The picture is a scientific film portraying the wonders of this universe, magnifying God as the Creator, Rev. Majors said in explaining the theme of the film.

The picture will be shown during the assembly hour at the Charlevoix public schools Thursday morning.

The public is invited.

Voice of Our Readers . . .

From a mother of four children comes this call for help.

Why Santa Claus before we have Thanksgiving? One at a time please. Questions, questions. Isn't it bad enough for the month of December to be full of why's and whens about Santa, must we now struggle thru half of November with these same questions too?

If the merchants in town wish to advertise I say fine, but please give us a breather between one holiday and another.

I'm sure I speak for quite a few people in Charlevoix who read the headlines about Santa Claus coming in November.

Must we commercialize on Christmas too? Let's let it still be for the youngsters and enjoy Christmas with them, not spoil it by hoping we can sell more than the other man and spoil a perfect childish dream of good old St. Nick. Maybe this letter won't change things but do believe a number of people feel the same as I.

Thanking You Sincerely,
Billie Smith

Mrs. William Parsons

Give Bridal Shower For Betty Warner

Mrs. William Jolliffe, Mrs. Charles Weisler and Mrs. William Parsons were co-hostesses at a bridal shower for Betty Warner at the Norwood Town hall Saturday evening, Nov. 15. An evening of games was enjoyed by the forty guests after which Miss Warner was pleasantly surprised by the appearance of a lighted birthday cake for her with "Happy Birthday" sung by the group.

The bride-to-be received many lovely gifts. Guests from away were Mrs. Archie Murphy, Mrs. Charles Murphy, Mrs. R. V. Liscum and daughter, Sandena, all of East Jordan, Mrs. James Jolliffe of Grand Rapids and Mrs. Harold Totten of Charlevoix.

PERSONAL MENTION

Mr. and Mrs. William Jolliffe and Bill Jolliffe Jr. of Grand Rapids were week-end guests of the William Jolliffe family.

Congratulations to Bob Jolliffe on the nice six point buck he shot early Saturday morning.

The Rev. George Garner of Lincoln Park is visiting the Clarence Way family a few days while hunting deer. He was guest minister at the Assembly of God church in Charlevoix Sunday.

Mrs. Theodore LaCroix and children of East Jordan were supper guests at the Clarence Way home Sunday evening.

Angela Schroeder of Charlevoix was a supper guest of Ivan Parsons Friday evening.

The Barnard 4-H club members and friends enjoyed a party at the Grange Hall last Friday evening.

We're sorry to hear of the serious illness and hospitalization of Mrs. Milton Richardson and hope she will have a very speedy recovery.

Erwin Lords Given A Surprise Party

Children of Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Lord dropped in last Friday evening at their Atwood home to help them celebrate their forty-fifth wedding anniversary. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. William Jolliffe Sr. and son, Bob, and Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Lord of Norwood, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Derenzy and two children and Mr. and Mrs. Glen Lord of East Jordan, Eben Yettaw and his mother, Mrs. Henry Yettaw and Sam Alward of Ellsworth.

The evening was spent playing Pedro and visiting, after which refreshments were served. A beautiful three-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom made by Mrs. William Jolliffe and Mrs. Stanley Lord featured the refreshment table.

Mr. and Mrs. Lord were presented with a lovely anniversary gift from the group.

Mrs. Clayton Smith Is Given Shower

Mrs. Al Balch, Mrs. William Ager, Mrs. Kenneth Ager and Mrs. Archie Balch were hostesses at a shower given in honor of Mrs. Clayton Smith on Friday evening. She received many lovely gifts and a bountiful lunch was served by the hostesses.

PERSONAL MENTION

We hear of several successful deer hunters in our locality.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Smith visited their daughter and family in Alden on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Heldt and daughter of Detroit spent a few days last week with Mrs. Heldt's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Matchett.

Mrs. Hattie Stanford of Lake City visited Mrs. Bertha Roberts and family last week.

Mr. and Mrs. George Anderson of Lansing are the parents of a baby girl born last Wednesday. Mrs. Anderson will be remembered as Lucile Warner.

An evening get-together was enjoyed at the Methodist church last Wednesday evening. The occasion being the homecoming of Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Lee. The couple were presented with many nice gifts. Games and potluck lunch were also enjoyed. They expect to make their home in Mason, Michigan.

The community was shocked at the sudden passing of Mrs. McAllister on Tuesday. She will be missed by her many friends and neighbors. The family have the deepest sympathy of all in Barnard in their bereavement.

Experts Give Ideas For Fixing Turkey To Enjoy Leftovers

Avoid a turkey hangover at your house this Thanksgiving time. Don't bring in the turkey meal after meal in its original roasted form . . . try some interesting variations on the traditional theme.

Dr. Pauline Paul of the Michigan State College foods and nutition department offers three ways to use left-over turkey. She suggests freezing it for later use, making a turkey loaf or heating turkey slices and covering with an interesting sauce.

To freeze turkey Dr. Paul urges you to bone the bird and have the meat ready to serve when you remove it from the freezer.

Turkey loaf will make a "company dinner." Chopped turkey, cooked noodles or spaghetti, chopped stuffed olives, chopped celery, a little grated onion, salt and pepper mixed together and moistened with turkey gravy or white sauce will do it. Turn the mixture into a loaf pan and bake with a layer of buttered crumbs on top.

Turkey slices can be heated on top of the stove in a double boiler. Or do them in the oven, but take care to avoid drying out the slices, Dr. Paul stresses. Slices placed in the oven may be covered loosely or kept moist with a sauce. Left-over turkey gravy or stock or a little milk would give variety to warmed turkey slices the day after Thanksgiving. For deviled turkey, cover sauce with a highly seasoned tomato sauce. Or Dr. Paul suggests a sweet-sour sauce or a barbecue sauce.

Game meats as a rule require more attention when cooking . . but the result will be worthwhile. Young wild game will be tender and require less care, say Michigan State College home economists, while older wild animals will take additional time.

Food Values Of Skimmed Milk For Calves, Hogs Summarized

Northern Michigan dairymen, considering the whole fluid milk market instead of selling cream only, often wonder about value of the skim milk for calf feed as compared to commercial calf meals. It is a question of which way they can get the most gain, notes Ed. Rebman, county agricultural agent.

Skim milk is high-quality protein food, for animals as well as humans, but its value is no more than commercial feed in its place. Dairymen should also consider what to do with skim milk all year long. Calves and hogs will drink the milk, beyond a certain age . . . five months for calves . . . skim milk is not as valuable however. Animals will grow just as big on meals. Cost is the main point.

Rebman outlines two plans for feeding calves up to six months. In both, calves receive a pound of whole milk daily for each 10 pounds of calf weight until the third or fourth week; then eight to 10 pounds of milk are fed daily, depending on calf size. The two plans are as follows:

Plan one — Shift gradually from whole to skim milk in the fourth week and continue skim milk up to six months. Also feed cereal grain . . . corn or oats . . . up to about 200 pounds for the five months.

Plan two — Continue whole milk to fifth or sixth week but reduce amount and wean from milk entirely in seventh week. Start feeding calf meal in the third week and give calf free access to calf meal at weaning in seventh week. About 400 pounds of calf meal will take the calf to six months age.

The main difference in these plans is the value of 200 pounds of grain plus skim milk fed up to six months compared to 400 pounds of calf meal but no milk after six weeks.

Rebman reports trails are under way with less whole milk being fed.

Fertilizer Should Be Ordered Early

Fertilizer is one of the best buys for most farms, urges Michigan State College extension specialists in farm management. Current estimates are for 12 percent more nitrogen, 10 percent more phosphates and 19 percent more potash in 1953 than 1952. Farmers are using enough more fertilizer to offset the increases and supplies will continue tight, particularly for nitrogen. Fertilizer prices will rise some but probably less than 5 percent. The specialists advise ordering fertilizer early.

Urge Hunters Watch For "Posted" Land

Lansing — The conservation department urges hunters to keep a sharpe eye out during deer season for state land "posted" against hunting.

In the past, law violators have been apprehended who placed "no hunting" signs on sections of state land in order to keep other hunters out.

Hunters are asked to report to conservation officers if such land is found.

Grange To Install Officers Friday

The Barnard grange will have installation of officers this Friday night. Mr. and Mrs. John Fratrick will be the installing officers.

A potluck lunch will follow the meeting. All members are urged to be present.

Drains Need The Best Attention For Good Value

Both open ditch and tile drains need periodic attention to be of value to farmers, urges Ernest H. Kidder, Michigan State College agricultural engineer. Open ditches into which tile empties need special attention. Ditch junctions also bear close watching.

Unstable soil, steep bank sides or heavy loads of soil carried by slow-moving drain waters will cause ditches to fill in. If a ditch is properly constructed, it will have at least a foot drop from the bottom side of the outlet tile to the bottom of the ditch. When accumulated soil reaches the bottom side of the outlet tile, it's high time to clean ditches.

Ditches cannot function properly or handle drainage in wet years if clogged with brush and weeds, reminds the agricultural engineer. Farmers with some spare fall and winter time may find it pays to chop out brush and weeds or use chemical sprays. Ditches can be built with sloping sides that can be mowed.

New tile should be checked several months after installation; they should be checked the following spring also. If holes appear over the line, a tile may be broken and need replacing quickly to prevent soil entering the line. Upper ends of tile lines should be sealed with board or concrete. Kidder does not recommend leading drainage directly into an open tile end as a rule . . if it is done, there should be a sediment trap at the entry, and the trap should be cleaned at least once a year, oftener if needed. Tile should be kept away from damaging tree roots. Tile systems need a good outlet, proper design, durable tile, proper installation and proper soil management.

Two Buck Deer Die With Horns Locked

Ontonagon — Two 12-point buck deer locked horns in a woodlot near here recently, but after an apparently long struggle both died, the conservation department reports.

Richard Koskio, who lives about six miles east of here, found the two, with horns still locked, in a woodlot near his home. He reported them to conservation officer Archie MacDonald. Weights of the animals were estimated at 200-250 pounds each.

Changes In Deer Laws Should Benefit County Says MSC Forestry Expert

Recent changes in deer hunting laws in Michigan should benefit Charlevoix county's forests as well as its deer herd Lester E. Bell, extension specialist in forestry at Michigan State College told Ed Rebman, county agricultural agent.

It will be legal to take any deer on the last three days of the open season in the area north of M-20, a licensed hunter who has not killed a buck between November 15 and 27 may shoot one buck, doe, or fawn.

This new law is designed to temporarily reduce the deer herd, but in the long run should lead to a better and stronger herd.

High concentrations of deer in many areas have been detrimental to good forest practice. Bell is in full sympathy with maintaining a large deer herd in the state and knows the value of such a resource. He believes the only real road to success in the long run is to manage both our deer herd and our forests so that both will succeed.

Deer are dependent upon the forest for food (browse and mast) and for cover. Our civilization dependent upon our forests for a source of lumber, raw wood and cellulose products.

During the summer, deer roam the forests of the state, browsing on many different species of trees and shrubs, eating a little damage to the forest during this period. In the winter months, however, the picture changes. Heavy snows cover up their normal food supply and make it difficult for deer to travel in the uplands. The deer are driven in large numbers into wintering areas known as "deer yards" and usually in cedar swamps.

In the yards, deer feed on most any browse available. They prefer white cedar, red maple and dogwood. In many "deer yard" areas where white cedar is the predominant species, there are no young trees left. The only trees are large mature trees that have been browsed up as high as the deer can reach and no longer furnish winter food. Some people have suggested that this presents no problem; since the old cedar trees are mature we should cut them down and allow new trees to grow in their place. They point out that cedar is a profilic "seeder" and that the lush new growth will furnish ample food. Some even suggest that we plant new stands of cedar just for deer food, foresters report.

All this sounds fine but it just doesn't work, stresses the M.S.C. forester. Cedar will reproduce fairly well if the reproduction is not browsed. We can plant seedlings and grow a stand if the young trees are not molested: but here is where the shoe pinches. The deer will not leave the young growth alone. When it reaches above the snow line, the deer browse it off. They even paw back snow and eat the small seedling, stem and all.

The only satisfactory method of reproducing a crop of winter food in the deer yarding areas of Michigan is to reduce the deer herd long enough to allow regeneration. The new supply of winter browse will let us gradually increase our carrying capacity to maintain an even larger deer herd than today. Sportsmen and foresters both face this situation, Bell insists, and may have to "forego our cake today for more of it in the future."

Suggests Control For Fowl Pox In Flocks

Don't let your poultry be "soreheads."

Poultrymen can control fall and winter inroads of "fowl pox" into their chicken and turkey flocks, advises Henrik J. Stafseth, head of the Michigan State College bacteriology department. Vaccinations will check the infectious disease, known also as "chicken pox" and "sorehead."

The disease causes scabs on unfeathered parts of fowl's heads and cankers in their mouths. Any chickens or turkeys with these symptoms should be put in separate pens, the MSC bacteriologist cautions.

Vaccinations will help the healthy birds but will not stop the disease once a bird contacts it, notes Stafseth.

Poultrymen can use fowl pox vaccine on 8-to-20-weeks old birds that are not laying, says the bacteriologist. On laying pullets and hens, he advises using pigeon pox vaccine now for temporary protection. If they are to be kept another laying season, they should be protected later with fowl pox vaccine, he points out. Pigeon pox vaccine gives immunity for three to six months.

Chicken growers can protect their hens for life by using fowl pox vaccine at molting time. Neither the pigeon nor chicken pox vaccines produces permanent protection in turkeys, Stafseth cautions. To avoid trouble, poultrymen can use fowl pox vaccine on chickens when they are 8-to-16 weeks old, the MSC specialist suggests. He warns against the vaccination of unhealthy birds, using vaccines in cold rainy weather or when mosquitoes are bad, or use of old vaccine.

Advice to Folks Over 35

New Formula, Medically Proven Helps Give You New Pep and Vim

Amazing ENTER-TRITION Quickly Builds Body To Resist Colds, Nagging Aches of Winter.

At last! New hope for thousand of folks over 35 who feel "old," deathly tired, rundown nervous, no appetite. Try "pepping up" with New ENTER-TRITION Spheroids. Contains over 20 energy-building vitamins and minerals now recommended by doctors for men and women going "down-hill" after middle-age.

Watch the results a few days after using ENER-TRITION. The bright new feeling of strength and energy as your body builds new vitality. Now red blood will flow into your veins. Color will return to your face. Your food will taste better. You will feel like a new different person.

"I have never seen anything to match this new ENER-TRITION," a Registered Nurse of 28 years professional experience stated recently. "A patient of mine was terribly sick, pale and weak. Nervous and underweight, she had no appetite and slept badly. She suffered misery from a painful aching in her back and shoulders. Her bad cold kept getting worse. I read about ENER-TRITION and bought a package for her. Believe me, she began to improve almost overnight. She is up and about now, doing her house work like she had never been sick."

BEER
AMERICA'S BEVERAGE OF MODERATION

The American Way

The holiday season in Michigan is cherished by us all. It is a friendly time . . . a time when we like to relax in "The American Way" . . . with a glass of Michigan brewed beer.

For beer belongs . . . to pleasant living, to good fellowship, to sensible moderation. And our right to enjoy it, this too, belongs . . . to our own American heritage of personal freedom. Beer Belongs . . . Enjoy It

The Wm. Kooyers To Observe Their 50th Wedding Anniversary

Ellsworth — Mr. and Mrs. William Kooyer will observe their fiftieth wedding anniversary next week. Thanksgiving Day they will be honored at a family reunion and dinner in the Ellsworth Christian Reformed church parlors. On Friday they will greet their relatives and friends at open house from 1-5 in the afternoon and 7-10 in the evening, at their home west of Ellsworth.

William Kooyer and Kate Tanis were married Nov. 27, 1902 in the home of her parents in Reeman and lived in Muskegon six years before coming to Ellsworth to the farm home where they now reside.

Both are members of the local Christian Reformed church and Mr. Kooyer has been active in community affairs, having served 19 years as a member of the local school board and also served eight years as treasurer of Banks Township. He also served as a director on the Farmers Exchange for a number of years.

The Kooyers have one daughter, Mrs. Richard Doctor of Muskegon, and three sons, Andrew and John of Ellsworth and George of Rudyard. They also have 14 grandchildren.

Special Evangelism Services Will Be Held On November 28

Ellsworth — The local Pilgrim Holiness church will be host at a special Evangelism conference Friday, Nov. 28. This is one of three conferences to be held in Michigan, the others being in Grand Rapids and First Church of Flint.

Special speakers will be Rev. L. W. Sturk, General Superintendent of all the Pilgrim Holiness churches and Rev. S. M. Stikeleather, General Secretary of the Pilgrim Holiness churches.

Some of the older local residents would be interested to note that Rev. Sturk served the local church from 1919-1924, this being his first pastorate, so they will be happy to renew acquaintances.

The public is invited to attend both the afternoon session at 2:30 and the evening session at 7:30.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Going . . . Going . . . Almost Gone

Granny Robinson put on quite a show the other night at the annual White Elephant auction held at the Women's Club.

Towards the end of the evening, she had the ladies battling for anything she put up. "What am I bid for this woman's lovely black coat here—good as new? Who'll say ten dollars?" she asked.

Granny held the coat up, and commenced describing the coat's lining, sleeves, buttons — really "selling hard." Then, suddenly, she took a close look and blurted out "Land sakes, no more bidding please—this is my own coat!"

From where I sit, what almost happened to Granny was good for a laugh, but sometimes when people "get carried away" with their own talk it's not so funny. I prefer a glass of temperate beer while listening to my favorite radio program—you may like soda pop—or cider. I suggest we hold on to our personal opinions — and believe in them—but take a good close look at them before we try to "sell" them to our neighbor!

Family, Friends Honor Oscar Teboes On Their Golden Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Teboe, residents of this community for 40 years, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary Sunday.

The event was marked by an anniversary party at the Rock Elm Grange hall Sunday afternoon which was attended by members of the couple's family, neighbors and friends.

Mrs. Teboe chose a navy blue crepe dress, matching accessories and a corsage of yellow pompons for the occasion.

A brief program preceded the social hour and refreshments.

John Clark introduced Mr. and Mrs. Teboe to the 150 guests assembled for the occasion and spoke briefly on their fifty years together. The Rev. G. B. Garner of Lincoln Park and Ted LaCroix sang two numbers, Silver Threads Among the Gold and School Days. Mrs. Ora A. Holley of East Jordan, accompanied by Mrs. LaCroix, sang the selections, You Get More Like Your Father Every Day and When Your Hair Has Turned to Silver. The Rev. Garner closed the entertainment with a prayer.

A three-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bridal couple centered the refreshment table which was decorated with lighted gold tapers and a basket of yellow, bronze and white chrysanthemums, a gift from the couple's son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Teboe of Traverse City. The cake, made by Mrs. Cora Russell of East Jordan was contributed by their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Henderson of East Jordan.

The couple received many lovely gifts in honor of the occasion.

Among the guests were seven of the couple's ten children and their families. They were Mrs. Lottie Bronersky of Clawson, Mrs. Ollie Smith of Ellsworth, Mrs. Anna Smith of Eastport, Mrs. Hazel O'Dell of Bellaire, Mrs. Henderson of East Jordan, Ralph of Traverse City. They were accompanied by their respective families. Unable to atend were three other children, Mrs. Ruby Pollard of Pendleton, Ore., Herbert of Pernitate, Ore., and Walter of Willow Run. The couple also has 32 grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. Teboe were married at Muncie, Ind., Nov. 16, 1902, and lived there briefly before going to Gladwin where they made their home for seven years before coming to Charlevoix county in 1912.

Mrs. Teboe, the former Pearl Remington, was born at Montpilier, Ind. Mr. Teboe was born at Coldwater. Both are 70 years old.

County Children Will Hold Music Festival Tonight

More than 200 children from the rural schools in Charlevoix county will present their second annual folk music festival at the Boyne City high school auditorium at 8 p.m. tonight (Thursday).

Dr. Olaf Steg, under whose direction the children have learned the seasonal, as well as folk songs of America and other countries, will direct the children in the presentation.

Dr. Steg, singer of American folk songs, and Ray Koos, head of the piano department of Central Michigan College, will also appear on the program.

Boyne City Bows To Petoskey, 45-6 In Closing Game

Boyne City, closing its 1952 football season at home Friday night, bowed to the Petoskey Northmen by a 45-6 score.

Playing without fullback Don Arner who was out with a knee injury, and Denny Pratt, Ron West and Tom Whale from the Varsity squad, a plucky group of players numbering 17 in all gave the Northmen a good game despite the lop-sided score.

Boyne City's only tally came in the third period when regular guard Shorty Smith, who had been shifted to the end position for the game, took a 16-yard pass on the 12 yard line to score. Quarterback Mert Erber had thrown the pass from the 28.

Scoring for Petoskey were Ken Clark and Dave Conklin in the first period; Dave Sikarskie in the second and fourth; Jim Bigelow and Allen Yentz in the third and Tom Griffen in the fourth. Jim Donnelly kicked three extra points.

Make Plans For Window-Shoppers Night December 6

Plans are being formulated this week for a special Window-shoppers Night scheduled for Saturday, Dec. 6.

A committee headed by Mrs. George Haggard is working out the details for the event which will offer gifts to window-shoppers.

On that night, numbers corresponding to similar numbers on the Dec. 4 copies of the Charlevoix Courier can be found in shop windows. For instance, if your copy of the Courier carries the number 1234 and you find a matching number in the window of a shop participating in the event, you will receive a gift valued up to $5.00 from that merchant.

The event is being held under the sponsorship of the Charlevoix Retail Merchants association.

Santa Claus To Pay Second Visit Saturday

Santa Claus will return to Charlevoix at 2 p.m. Saturday for another visit with the youngsters of the community, Howard Stephens, chairman of the Charlevoix Retail Merchants association, has announced.

Approximately 220 youngsters were on hand to greet Santa last week despite the rain and the poor visibility which almost grounded his plane at the last minute. He made it, however, and went directly to the high school gym because of the rain.

Happy over the reception he received last Saturday, ha has assured the Retail Merchants association that he will return this week-end with candy for all the children and tickets for all the young fry, eight years or younger. One of the tickets will hold the name of soma youngster who will be awarded a grand gift on Dec. 20.

The children are asked to sign their name to the tickets and place them along with their letters, in the mail-box in East Park, or return them to Santa Claus when he returns this week. He will collect tickets and letters from the mail box on Saturday.

If the weather is good, Santa Claus will come directly to East Park but in case of bad weather, he will visit the youngsters at the gymnasium.

Community Chest Mails Checks To Member Agencies

Checks to the agencies which participated in the annual Community Chest fund-raising campaign here were placed in the mail this week by Lawrence Feindt, treasurer of the organization following the final meeting of the Chest Board at the City hall Thursday evening.

This marked the first time since 1949 the Community Chest has reached its goal and thus, has been able to pay 100 percent of the requests made by the participating organizations.

Agencies for which funds were raised include the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Community Nurse, Recreation program, United Health and Welfare, Salvation Army plus an emergency fund retained by the Chest for emergencies.

At the meeting Thursday, William I. Supernaw, fund chairman, thanked the captains, workers and contributors for their efforts in putting the campaign over the top.

Mrs. James Coleman, board secretary, speaking in behalf of herself and the community, expressed her gratitude to the summer residents who so generously contributed more than $1,200 to the local fund, thus making is possible to reach the goal of $4,600 for the first time in three years.

Mrs. Herbert Campbell, Community Chest chairman, scheduled the next meeting of the board for April.

Hunting Will Start Friday For 'Any Deer'

Bucks, does, even fawns will be legal targets this week-end as Michigan's first large-scale "any deer" season opens Friday for three days.

With fingers crossed, hunters and technicians alike are hoping for the best while half-way expecting the worst.

The "any deer" season means just what the name implies. During the last three days of the hunting season, Friday, Saturday and Sunday inclusively, hunters can take any deer in the north half of the lower peninsula.

It's a drastic measure designed to make a bad condition better, tho conservation department states.

The bad condition is the fact that there are too many deer in large areas, even whole counties, in the lower peninsula deer range.

The consequence has been that many thousands of deer, an estimated 40,000 in one recent winter, have starved.

The condition isn't something that has come about overnight. It has been building up over a period of 25 years or more. In brief what has happened is this:

The herd never was large until woodsmen chopped down most of Michigan's trees. Deer don't

Class C Basketball Teams Prepare For Start Of Schedules

Three of the seven teams in the Northern Michigan Class C league will open their 1952-53 basketball schedules with non-loop games to be played within the week.

Gaylord traveled to Cheboygan for a pre-season meeting Tuesday night, Pellston will play at Rogers City tonight (Wednesday) and next Tuesday, Dec. 2, will find East Jordan traveling to Alpena to meet the Alpena Catholic Central squad.

At Gaylord, Coach Sherm Martin has 11 returning lettermen around whom he plans to build this year's team. Among the players are center Tom Buell, forwards Larry Northey, Bud Jones, Bob Szalang, Bob Giften and George Middleditch and guards Frank Karwoski, Dick Riddle, Jerry Hinkle, Bill Gocha and Gerry Campbell.

At Pellston, Sam McClutchey has assumed the coaching duties following the departure of Bernie Wilson, who left the school earlier this fall to take a position at a Traverse City junior high school.

Pellston lost its entire starting line-up by graduation last year and will be building its new team from among several lettermen who saw limited action last season. Among them will be center Ron Wilson; Fred Ball, Les Croum, Lee Archer, Ray Andrews, and Harold Drier. Others who are being given consideration are John Schauffler, Herb Searles, Marshall Hampton and Bill Albright, a transfer from Leslie. Other players will be named from among the 25 other candidates for the team

To add to the difficulties of preparing a team for its first game, the Pellston gymnasium,

TB Christmas Seals For 1952 On Sale Here

A double-barred cross and a glowing candle in an old fashioned brass candle-holder are on the 1952 tuberculosis Christmas Seals which were delivered to homes in Charlevoix county last week.

These Christmas Seals are paper bullets against tuberculosis. The dollars raised through the sale of the seals keep up the year-round efforts of the Michigan Tuberculosis Association, as well as national TB programs.

One of the programs sponsored by the sale of Christmas seals is the mobile x-ray unit which visited Charlevoix county recently and took more than 2,100 x-rays of residents 15 years and older.

Past dollars led to discovery and promotion of ways to find, treat and rehabilitate victims of the disease. They led to raising the general level of good health, both in the county and the state. They saved lives. They prevented sickness. But TB is far from licked. Sanatoriums are full. Only a small percent of adults have yearly chest x-rays, leaving many other cases unknown and unsuspected. Rehabilitation programs for patients face a struggle to reach full value. Some health teaching programs are in infant stages, and, without the spread of information, the advance grinds to a standstill. This is just a sketch of the battle ahead.

There is no known knock-out blow in prospect. But arrival of the seals with candle-lit cross will give Charlevoix area families an opening to help Charlevoix county score against tuberculosis next year.

Guy Joseph John Dies Unexpectedly At Parents' Home

Guy Joseph John, five-months old son of Mr. and Mrs. Guy J. John died unexpectedly at his home early Monday.

Funeral services were held at St. Mary's church Tuesday morning with the Rev. John Gryzbowski officiating. Burial was in St. Mary's cemetery.

Besides his parents he is survived by his paternal grandfather, Peter John of Charlevoix and his maternal grandmother, Mrs. Anna Thomas of Alpena.

Varsity Squad Is Named As Opener Nears

Now that Coach Del Terrill has selected his Varsity squad from among the 65 candidates out for basketball the team has settled down to regular practice sessions in preparation for their opening game with Boyne City Dec. 5.

Among the first 15 named to the Varsity team are seven lettermen, from last year's Northern Michigan Class C championship team. They include Bill Bennett and Dean Davenport who played regularly with the squad and Jack Denemy, Carl Fosler, Jim Lewis and Bill Mosier who saw limited action with the team.

Bennett, Davenport, and Denemy are forwards and the other three guards.

Making up the remainder of the team are six juniors and three sophomores up from last year's reserve squad.

They include Dave Glassford and Mark White, centers; Gordon Mol, center and forward; Don Smith, forward and Bill Golden and Tom Fessenden, guards.

The sophomores who were selected were Duane Walker and Gene Towsley, forwards, and Tom LaBlance, guard.

The next ten days will be given over to concentrated practices on fundamentals and basic plays prior to tha opening of the 1952-53 season.

The Little Rayders, who will also open their season Dec. 5 against the Rambler Reserves, are busy under the tutelage of Coach Terrill preparing for their season. This team will be composed of freshment and sophomores selected from the remainder of the 65 candidates for the squad. This group serves as a feeder group for the Varsity squad.

ODDS 'N ENDS

By Fran Mertin

DESPITE THE rain last Saturday, Santa Claus came to town and we hear his visit was highly successful . . . All the youngsters who braved the weather were given candy and tickets for a grand gift to be given to some lucky youngster . . . come Christmas . . . And isn't the mailbox in East Park, for the kiddies tickets after they have been signed and also for their letters, just about the cutest thing ever . . . Don't forget, kids, Santa will be back again this week . . .

WITH CHRISTMAS only four weeks away it's hard to get into the spirit of the season, for a lot of reasons. First, no snow and second, the holiday's always here before we realize it . . . And as long as we've mentioned Christmas . . . don't forget to get that Christmas card off to those overseas servicemen . . . And why not send a note with it . . . He will appreciate it that much more . . . and if you have a snapshot he might like, send that too.

ANOTHER story that you probably won't believe but it's true . . . while hunting down near Grayling last week, the Pat Morans and the Frank Oleksys found a bed of arbutus in bloom . . . And in November yet . . .

MANY OF OUR young people who are attending schools of higher learning will be home over the Thanksgiving week-end and it will be good to see them . . We've missed them . . . What with the gang away at school or in the service, there just haven't been many young faces around . . . And to all those who didn't make it home . . . we'll see you around later, we hope, and think of you and mention your name even if you can't be here.

FOR 30 YEARS Lou Shapton, a former resident now living in Traverse City has gone hunting and for 30 years he came home without filling his license . . . Once, some 15 or 20 years ago, he brought home a bear but that was all . . . Mr. Shapton was not easily discouraged and this year his patience payed off . . . Hunting only 30 minutes from home he got his buck early the first day . . . Everyone was so excited about it that they forgot to find out its size but that was unimportant . . . Mr. Shapton has finally bagged his buck . . .

AND SPEAKING of game, we were the lucky recipient of two partridges brought to us over the week-end by Dr. Claire Cartier, who came from Grand Rapids to pick up his parents, the F. E. Cartiers, for a visit with them . . . They're the first we've had and Mmmm . . . were they good . . .

THIS WEATHER we've been having certainly hasn't been good deer hunting weather . . . We sometimes think the deer are smarter than the hunters . . . when it rains they stay put and the hunters just wastes his time looking for them . . .

ONE HEARS of deer being stolen once they're shot now and then but it never seems to happen to anyone you know . . . However, this year it did, for only last week a buck was taken from Fred Bergmann's yard on Lewis st. . . . We think everyone will agree that it's a pretty small thing to do . . .

IN LAST WEEKS Courier you read a story on the golden wedding anniversary of the J. P. Maloneys, now living in Forest Park, Ill . . . Among those who received an invitation to the celebration Sunday were the Joe Howards . . . Seems Capt. Howard and Mr. Maloney once sailed together more than 50 years ago on the old steamer, Charlevoix, of the Northern Michigan Transit Co. . . . Joey was telling us a story about Mr. Maloney we thought you'd enjoy as we did . . Seems the navigation lanes weren't marked as well in those days as they are now and ships were always running aground . . . One time when the old Charlevoix was entering the harbor at Mackinac Island, the boat went on the rocks right at meal time . . . As Joey tells the story, Mr. Maloney, who was sitting across the table from him, grabbed a catsup bottle, shook the catsup out and wrote a note to put in it . . . just in case the ship went down and all were lost at sea . . . However, aid soon came and the ship was floated off the rocks and he did not need to throw the bottle overboard . . .

A TELEPHONE call from Mrs. Grace Geneit the other day brought us not only further information on the early telephones but a picture of the 1902 switchboard . . . And it's a honey, believe us . . . She also said the first telephone office was opened here about 1895 and was operated under the direction of Dr. George W. Crouter who operated it on a commission basis . . . Mrs. Ruegeegger of Boyne City, the former Matie Lamoreaux and her sister, Edith, were among some of the early bookkeepers and operators in the office . . . Mrs. Geneit said she was the first operator to be paid while receiving training and earned all of $10 per month . . . The older operator received much more . . . $20 per month . . .

AT THAT TIME she said the only telephone at Horton's Bay was in the Conrad Snyder store, at Ironton in Joe Mashier's store at Norwood in Valentine's store and the switchboards for Boyne City, East Jordan and Ellsworth were at Herron's Hardware, Dr. Warren's Drug store and Ernie Harris' store respectively . . . The first rural lines were installed in 1903 . . . Maintenance men now ride around in specially-built cars but in those days, she relates, the 'trouble-shooter,' as he was called toured the country-side in a buck board wagon drawn by a black horse . . . Can you imagine Spike Goss making his rounds in an outfit like that today . . .

MRS. HARVEY CAMPBELL called to tell us about some of the old numbers . . . Among them is the Central Drug store's present number which was held by the Chapel's when the first phones were installed . . . And they'll continue to have it for the last four digits on their new number are 2424 . . . Another old one is the railroad depot . . . 30 . . In fact, many of the smaller numbers are the older ones . . . No. 1 now held by the county treasurer once belonged to Iddings Hardware store . . .

AS MANY of you know the Courier goes to many of our servicemen overseas . . . Because it takes some weeks for the copies to reach overseas dstinations, we'd like to take this opportunity to send our servicemen our holiday greetings . . . To those of you in Korea, Japan, Germany, France, England, Alaska, the islands around the world and the ships enroute to far-off places every good wish from all of us back home . . . We talk about you more than you'll ever know and this holiday season you'll be especially close to us . . . No matter where you are our thoughts will be with you and our prayers will be for your safe and speedy return . . . May God keep you safe is our Christmas wish for you and may 1953 bring you home among those who love you.

YOU'LL FIND IT'S EASY TO DIAL

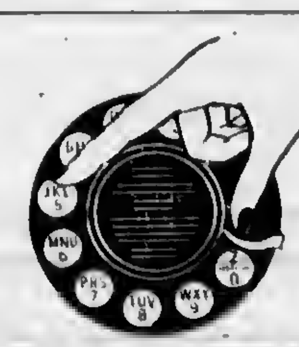
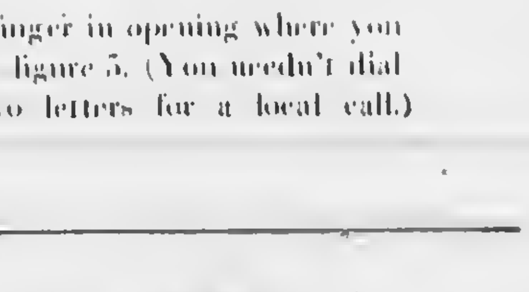
The steps below show how easy it will be for you to use your new dial telephone system starting at 1:00 p.m. Thursday, Dec. 4.

SUPPOSE YOU WANT TO CALL LIberty 5-6348

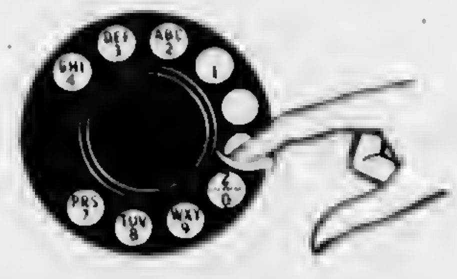
1 Lift receiver and wait until you hear a humming sound. That's the "dial tone"—the equipment's way of saying "Number, please?"



2 Place finger in opening where you see the figure 5. (You needn't dial the two letters for a local call.)



3 Pull dial around until finger hits the stop. Remove finger and let dial spin back freely.



4 Do the same with the figures 6, 3, 4 and 8. You will then hear either the ringing signal or the busy signal. (If you dial the letter O when you want the figure 0, you'll get the wrong number.)

When you want to call an out-of-town number, just look in your telephone directory. It tells how to call any place you wish.

You will get a new directory soon. But don't use it until the new numbers go into effect at 1:00 p.m. Thursday, Dec. 4. After that please destroy your old directory.

The actual changeover to dial service will require but a few seconds. Yet it will climax the work of many months. We know you are going to like this fast, modern, dependable dial service.

Lila Whitman Weds Robert C. Fiedler In Double Ring Ceremony In Flint

The West Court Street Church of God in Flint was the scene Saturday evening of the wedding of Lila Whitman and Robert C. Fiedler.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo H. Whitman of Flint and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Fiedler of Charlevoix.

The Rev. Herbert Thompson read the double ring service in the presence of 300 guests. Organist was Mrs. Thompson and Pvt. Dean Fiedler of Fort Leonard Wood was soloist.

For her wedding the bride selected a gown of white satin styled with lace yoke and sleeves. A wide panel of lace trimmed the back of the skirt which ended in a cathedral length train. A lace tiara held her fingertip veil and she carried a bouquet of white roses.

Shirley Whitman, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and another sister, Phyllis, Joyce Fiedler, sister of the bridegroom and Margaret Davies were bridesmaids. They wore similar gowns of velvet with the honor maid in deep rose and the others in turquoise. They carried bouquets of red roses and white bebe mums.

Connie Whitman and Connie Fiedler, as flower girls, wore pink satin gowns. Melvin McArthur was ring bearer.

Pvt. Fiedler assisted his brother as best man and ushers were Chester Fiedler of Horton's Bay and Mark Fiedler of Highland Park, brothers of the bridegroom, and DeWayne Stone.

A reception followed at the Masonic Temple.

After a wedding trip to northern Michigan, the couple will reside at 2801 S. Dort Highway, Flint. For traveling the bride wore a navy wool knit suit and red accessories.

Among those attending the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Fiedler and daughter, Joyce, of Charlevoix; James Fiedler, U. S. Navy, stationed at Philadelphia, Pa., and Pvt. Dean Fiedler of Fort Leonard Wood, Mo.

Legion Auxiliary Hears Report From Its Gift Committee

The American Legion Auxiliary met Monday evening at the home of Mrs. W. E. Goss for their lary met recently at the home of Mrs. W. E. Goss for their regular meeting.

Mrs. Goss, Mrs. Leo Allard and Mrs. Harry Powers reported on the gifts they had purchased for Percy Jones Hospital in Battle Creek. Each year the Auxiliary purchases gifts and gift wrapping which are sent to a shop at the hospital where patients may select the gifts, free of charge, for their families at Christmas time. The Charlevoix Auxiliary sent 20 gifts this year. Mrs. Stanley Moore packed and sent the gifts.

At the business session plans were made for Thanksgiving remembrances and $5.00 was donated to the Charlevoix Service Organization.

Nine members and one guest, Mrs. John Johnson of Petoskey, were present for the meeting and the refreshments and social hour which followed.

Part Of County December Draft Quota Is Filled

Five Charlevoix county draft registrants will be called for induction into the armed services Dec. 8, Mrs. Cornelia Barber, clerk of the draft board has announced.

Included on the list are the names of three Charlevoix men: Donald F. Hardy, Timothy L. Shores and Richard D. Niswander.

The others are Joseph L. Deschermeier of Bay Shore and Ray S. Welsh of East Jordan.

The five men named above are the only men available to fill the county's December draft quota of ten men.

On Dec. 1 another five men will leave for pre-induction physicals in Detroit.

They are Floyd A. Johnecheck, Leonard B. Brooks and Raymond M. Washburn of Boyne City and William B. Walker and James I. Nichols of East Jordan.

Three men will be called for induction in January, Mrs. Barber added.

Hunting "Any Deer" To Start Friday

have giraffes' long necks and they can't get enough to eat when trees grow tall. In the first decades following the lumbering era when second growth trees were small, deer multiplied rapidly. But the new trees grow taller and the deer range shrank as intensive resort development materialized.

And the herd was in trouble as soon as the food supply started downhill.

Areas in the northern half of the lower peninsula where losses of deer from starvation have been heaviest are familiar hunting grounds to many local hunters. They includo Oscoda, Crewford, Roscommon and perts of north through Montmorency surrounding counties, running county into the southern edges of Presquo Islo and Cheboygan courties end including the Pigeon River country in Oscode county end farther west, teking in tho northern part of Neweygo county, ell of Leke county end running northward into Wexford erd Maniste counties.

Michigan's deer are available asset. They represent a good many million pounds of edible meat-on-the-hoof, they attraet close to a half million deer hunters annually, who spend a good many millions of dollars in thier pursuit.

What threatens the herd is a threat also to Michigan's economy.

Because of heavy starvation losses in recent seasons the legislators during the last regular session gave the conservation department limited authority to liberalize regulations to permit taking "any deer" in a section of a state where the problem is most acute.

Retiring After 34 Years

Mrs. Mabel Martini, chief operator fcr the Michigan Bell Telephone Company prepares her last schedulo of "tricks" for the local operating force. Dial telephore service will be inaugurated here December 4.

The Michigan Bell Telephone Company's change to dial service here is set for December 4. In the meantime, the new dials on the local telephones are just waiting for their first whirls and the local telephone operators are busy with plans of their own.

All 17 operators are involved. The time for the change that has been planned during the last few years is creeping closer. There will be no more "Centrals" in Charlevoix.

Local residents will be pleased to learn that the regular operators will be provided for either by transfer to Petoskey or payment of termination allowance. The latter is a long-established policy of Michigan Bell and the amount is based on the length of service.

C. L. Johnson, Manager here for the company, emphasized that personnel planning by the company begins almost as soon as the technical engineering planning for a change-over to dial service in a given community.

"While the coming of dial service to Charlevoix is a progressive step for the exchange, the company is always concerned lest it work a hardship on its employees."

Mrs. Mabel Martini, chief operator here since 1944, is retiring on a service pension with a service record of over 34 years in the telephone business. A native of Charlevoix, she started out as a telephone operator here in 1913, then went to Chicago where she worked in the Lakeview central office of the Illinois Bell Telephone Company for 10 years. She came back to Charlevoix in 1924 but did not continue her operating career until 1929. She has been here ever since.

She plans to stay home and catch up on "So many, many things that I have been putting off". Next year, she and her husband hope to go to California, pick up a trailer, and follow the sun to some of its winter resorts. Then, of course, they have a wonderful place to spend their summers, their home here in Charlevoix.

One other telephone operator will retire at the same time, Miss Hilda M. Cooper. She is native-born and has worked all 35 of her telephone years here.

The evening chief operator, Mrs. Violet Fisher, has chosen termination payment. She came here in 1947 from East Tawas and is now looking forward to active participation in local girl scout activities.

Also to receive termination are operators Mrs. Dorothy Southwood, Mrs. Ida Rose, Mrs. Luella Bartlett, Mrs. Ruth White, Mrs. Betty Woodward and Mrs. Dorothy Belfy, Mrs. Helen Cunningham, and Mrs. Alma Halverson.

Four of the operating force will continue their employment at Petoskey. They are Mrs. Freda Pemberton, Mrs. Margaret L. Poole, Mrs. Kathleen Brady and Miss Arlene Drost. They may be hendling some of the Charlevoix long-distancee calls, since Petoskey will be the toll center for this exchange, after the change to dial service.

Miss Margaret K. Poole has worked as a temporary employe with the understanding that employment would terminate at the time of the inauguration of dial service. Another member of the local telephone operating forces for many years, Mrs. Addie Glossinger, has been ill for some time and will probably retire under the employee retirement pension plan.

Card of Thanks

I wish to take this way of thanking my meny neighbors, reletives end friends for the kindness shown me end my family during my stay in the Charlevoix Hospital. which is being enlarged, is not ready for play and all Hornet games must be played away from home until mid-December. One end of the gym is now being used for shooting practice but scrimmages are held in neighboring gyms. On Friday the team used the Alanson gym.

The third team to open its season early is East Jorden whero Coach Gayle Saxtoo, with orly two regulars returning, is searching for new meterial. Keith Evans who plays guard or center end Jim Shepard, a guard will form the nucleus for the squed, along with lettermen Stovo Hayden, a center, Dick Freeman and Sammy Milstein, forwards and Clint Clark end Bobby Darforth, guerds.

Mancelona, whose season does not open until Dec. 12 when they play Pellston, has already run into difficulties with their two returning regulars on the injury list. Dick Derrer, who fractured his lower left leg in football practice, is still on crutches and Johnny Holstad, who fractured his right ankle following the close of the football season, has his ankle in a cast. Both will be lost to the squad until after the holidays.

Coach Bill Sunstrom, who has taken over the basketball coaching duties from Mat Jacobson dean of Northern Michigan coaches, will have to select his starting line-up from among the 25 candidates, who include lettermen Harold Patrick, whose activities will be limited because of a finger fracture and Yousef Jabara, guards; Earl LaDere, center; Doug Wickstrom, a forward and Jim Whiteford and Vernon DeWent, both seniors, who saw little action last season.

At Boyno City, Coach Meurice Dixon is preporing for the Ramblers' opening game with Cherlevoix. Ho has one regular, Don Arner, end sevoral other lettermen including Ron West, Denny Pratt, Shorty Smith, Bob Fairchild, Roger Pouquetto and Dave Hosmer. He hes 21 other candidates for tho team.

Coach Dick Boles at Harbor Springs has two returning regulars, Frank Granstra, a forward, and Al Chingwa, a guard, along with two lettermen, Stan Pifer, a forward, and Chuck Taylor, a guard. Others who saw limited action last season are Marty King, Ed Stolt, All Smith and Herman Ross, guards, and Mike DeWitt, Jim Herrick, Wally Granstra and Tom Clark, forwards, who are among the 26 candidates.

The first conference games will be played Dec. 5 with Charlevoix playing at Boyne City; Gaylord at Harbor Springs and Pellston at East Jordan.

Tells Best Places To Keep Fertilizer

The root cellar, dairy barn, poultry house or other place on the farm where there may be moisture is no place to store your valuable fall fertilizer purchases, warns Ed Rebman, county agricultural agent.

Well-cured fertilizer can be stored without damage or caking in the fall—unlike some newly-made fertilizer bought in the spring, the county agricultural agent notes. Keep it off damp floors by raising it on a platform. Two-by-fours on edge, with boards on top separated by up to a half foot for air passage, makes Michigan State College agricultural engineers. Caking can be caused by weight of sacks if they are piled more than 10 sacks high. Keep out all moisture—including snow—and see that there is ventilation and fertilizer will be ready to apply when needed.

Michigan Mirror

INTERPRETING THE NEWS

by Gene Alleman

IN THE MIDST of every deer season, there is a group of Michiganders who decry the annual migration into the northland.

While they have a valid criticism of the needless human deaths that occur from carelessness or accident, they seem to devote most of their denunciation to the "cruelty" of killing poor dumb animals.

Now rises George A. Petrides of the department of fisheries and wild life at Michigan State college.

"Wild game is a crop," he contends; "it should be harvested."

In fact, he makes a strong case for the humanitarian aspects of hunting. "Every Spring the breeding pheasants, quail, grouse, turkeys, ducks, geese, rabbits, squirrels and deer begin to raise families" he points out. "These young animals grow up during the warm months when food and weather are kind."

BY THE TIME Autumn comes, the original Spring population of wild game has increased manyfold.

"But what is to happen to these animals? Are they to live happily through the Winter and in turn all raise more families in the Spring? In order to protect the species, only the hardiest are chosen to live to Spring. The surplus animals are lost to starvation, freezing, predators or disease."

This is a wasteful process, charges Petrides. "Thousands of animals die every year," he points out, "and death by starvation or freezing is a cruel death."

There is nothing cruel about hunting, he contends. "As grains and fruits, timber and beef are harvested as gifts of nature, so the harvest of game is given us. Man lives by nature's laws; he lives or he dies according to whether he wisely uses the gifts, the resources, given him.

"The wise use of the game crop definitely includes the understanding that it should be harvested. As a renewable resource under proper management, the wildlife of America can always be with us and our children and their offspring."

JUST HOW VALUABLE a resource Michigan game is is illustrated by some figures compiled by Charles Shick of MSC's department of conservation.

The value of Michigan's fur crop last year was greater than $2 million. Rye crops that year were worth $1.38 million.

Seventy-six hundred tons of wild meat went on Michigan tables in '51. Its value was more than $10 million (sugarbeets in '51 totalled $7 million) and it would provide food for a whole year for over 21,000 families of four persons each.

The cash value of fur and meat taken from Michigan woods last year was $12 million, enough to purchase a thousand average-sized homes at today's prices.

Hunting provides another great economic factor in Michigan life . . . the money spent by hunters and their parties.

There were 700,000 small game hunters, 400,000 deer hunters and 20,000 trappers. To that can be added the great army of tourists, picnickers, naturalists and photographers who simply enjoy seeing wild birds and animals.

MICHIGAN FARMS can be mighty dangerous.

In the first eight months of this year, 35 people were killed in farm accidents. There were 603 serious mishaps and 14 persons were permanently disabled by them.

A hundred eighty-two were using unsafe methods; 39 didn't use safety devices which were available; 191 were hurrying so they grew careless and 33 were too tired to take proper care.

Farm homes aren't the havens we dream of them as. A hundred fifty-eight serious accidents occurred in rural; 270 at farm work.

WHILE HOUSTON and New Orleans have been waging a Deep South battle for the honor of being America's second largest port, Michigan just quietly ups and walks away with the title for the third straight month.

It was Detroit that brought the honor to our state. It handled dollar volume of imports and exports second only to New York City.

During the first six months of this year, imports entering this country through the Motor City port were 1,438% greater than in 1933. Export trade in that same period increased 1,132%.

It's probably no accident that the 21 largest cities in the United States are located on navigable waters.

MORE MICHIGANDERS vacation in Florida than in any other state, except their own. It's been estimated that over 200,000 from Michigan visited Florida last year.

MICHIGAN'S Isle Royal is the only national park which cannot be reached by automobile. The National Parks Services of the U. S. Department of Interior has just announced that 96.5% of all visitors to national parks travel there by auto.

Isle Royale's 2,370 visitors in 1951 came by boat or plane. That number is the smallest of any national park; even Alaska's Mt. McKinley had 8,634. Then comes Big Bend in Texas with 82,956 and after that all parks number visitors in six figures.

YOU COULD drive the distance around the world four times and more without getting off a Michigan road or backtracking as much as a city block. Michigan has a total of 106,896 miles of roads and streets.

Of this, 92,756 is rural; 14,137 urban and 80,892 miles are surfaced.

The average Michigan farmer drives six miles to his favorite shopping center.

THE OLE FISHIN' HOLE

By John Cook

There is a growing sect of trout fishermen in Michigan who have taken what is a fairly new approach to the problem of how to catch large trout.

Certainly there will be a protest from the ranks of the fly-rod purists, but from a practical standpoint their anguish is unfounded.

In the first place, it has long been en established fact emong fisheries experts that elmost 85% of the diet of larger trout over 12 inches in length consists of other fish and crayfish. After a trout develops into tho cannibalistic stago ho rarely offers sport for the flyrod oxpert.

In the carefully restricted club waters of England the wardens at times resort to spearing and netting to remove such undesirable large trout from the waters of the club.

In the second place, the new angling method is actually a very sporty proposition. It involves the use of extremely light and delicate bait-casting gear. The members of this novel fraternity prefer using long, sensitive, light action rods, usually of six feet or over. The reel is one of the narrow-spool light running type, filled with braided silk or nylon not to exceed six pounds test.

With these outfits they find they can cast midget ¼ oz. plugs designed for spinning or any of the standard small spinning gear, but they have decided that tho pinpoint accuracy required in stream fishirg cannot bo obtained with spinning methods.

True enough, it takes a good deal of steady practice to be able to handle a light lure on a casting outfit, but these lads feel that any sport worth bothering about should be worth the effort of learning. Besides, they get a lot of enjoyment out of accuracy casting in some enclosed area during the winter months. In some communities they have been able to use the school gym for the purpose, casting small sand-filled leather sacks to avoid injury to the floor.

That regular casting lures work on trout has been affirmed by sports writer Byron Dalrymple in a recent Field and Stream article. And elmost every year tho Manistee nationel contest-winning rainbows to the plug tossing brotherhood.

In spite of these trends, however, there are hosts of fly fishermen who will loyally stick by their traditional tackle and wait for the comparatively rare instances when the pig boys go on the feed on surface flies.

Round Lake Lodge To Be The Host For District I.O.O.F. Meet

The Round Lake lodge No. 293 I.O.O.F. of Charlevoix will be host to the Northern Michigan I.O.O.F. district Association meeting on Saturday, Dec. 6, Sims Baker, head of the local lodge has announced.

I.O.O.F. members from 19 lodges in four counties including Cheboygan, Emmet, Antrim and Charlevoix, will gather at the high school auditorium for afternoon and evening meetings on that date.

Floyd Hallpeter of Indian River, Association president, will preside at the business sessions. The name of the Grand Officer who is expected at the meeting will be announced later.

New Industry Will Move To Boyne City

The Courter Electrical Products Co. of Grand Rapids has announced plans to move to Boyne City.

The transfer will begin in about 30 days although a complete transfer will not be made for several months, company officials said.

The new industry, which is an electronic research firm and manufactures electronic tachometer signal amplifiers and other such equipment, was brought to northern Michigan through the efforts of the Boyne City Industrial Development Corp.

Offset Costs Of '53 Crops By Big Yield

Above average crop production not only will be good business in 1953 but the farmer who makes a go of it will be the one who has high crop yields to offset higher expenses, advise Michigan State College economists.

Production must be consistent with good farm practices and practices must help boost the crop yield, they point out. Needed drainage should be put in. If land needs lime, it is a must. Then the farmer can afford to buy more fertilizer and good seed and do the job right . . . and get paid for it.

Government estimates are for feed grains to be at a six-year low ebb by next October and that may mean higher 1953 feeding season feed prices. Crop prices are expected to reach about support level between January and May and to react to new crop prospects from June through August. Farmers needing cash can be sure of the support price for corn, small grain, beans and seed for hay, pasture and cover-crops with a government loan. Insurance against selling below support prices can be obtained in a government purchase agreement.

Applications for all loans or purchase agreements on all crops except corn must be obtained by January 31, 1953, and by May 31, 1953 for corn.

Corn production, where it fits, should be in farm plans for 1953, with stress on both acreage and yields. Farm crops specialists advise planting after legumes or using nitrogen side dressing, increasing planting rate, planting on time, using proper methods and the right seed.

The 1953 wheat prices will be supported at 90 percent of parity, probably close to $2.20 per bushel, and the supply is expected to be the third largest in history. The July, 1953, carry-over is expected to be twice that of 1952. Wheat is in the ground manuring this winter and top dressing in the spring with nitrogen will pay well. The cash price promises to be quite different than the government loan price and below the 1952 cash price. Planning ahead for storage will help in obtaining a loan or purchase agreement as protection.

Price prospects for beans and sugar beets next year are higher but potato prices are expected to be off by next fall. Price trends offer some farmers, especially those on good land, an opportunity to emphasize crop production and then carry the livestock they can handle without extra help.

Should Paint Farm Equipment In Winter

Winter days are a good time to get some paint back on farm equipment, suggests Ed Rebman, county agricultural agent. It will make it last longer, give better service and add to its value when you want to trade for new machinery, he points out.

If a farmer is not certain of the color or kind of paint to use, he should see his implement dealer, is the advice from Michigan State College agricultural engineers.

Rust and grease should be thoroughly cleaned away first.

HOW YOU CAN LOOK AND FEEL YOUNGER THAN YOUR YEARS

New ENER-TRITION Quickly Restores Vim To "Old" Folks At Middle Age

Why drag on through life feeling old before your time? Thousands are peppy at 70. Try "pepping up" with ENER-TRITION Spheriods. This medically-proven formula goes right to work quickly to wake up your sluggish organs and give you new strength and energy.

Notice the difference a few days after using ENER-TRITION. The bright new feeling of pep as your body builds new vigor. New red blood will charge into your veins. Color will return to your face. You will eat like a schoolboy. You will sleep and work better.

A well-known minister has related his happy experience with New ENER-TRITION. He said that he felt so rundown that his work among his congregation came to be a heavy burden. After "trying about everything under the sun" he said he found the new strength he had long sought in New ENER-TRITION. He expressed his deep gratitude for what ENER-TRITION did for him.

Don't hesitate one moment. Put ENER-TRITION Spheriod Tablets to the test today. Sold on a rockbound guarantee by your druggist.

Christmas Tree Checking Spots Are Established

The Michigan Department of Agriculture has established inspection stations at several places on the highways leading from the Christmas tree producing areas of the state. State inspectors at the stations will check on Christmas trees and boughs being transported to determine if they are accompanied by a bill of sale as required by state law. Other inspectors will free lance in the tree and bough-cutting area and in metropolitan centers to see if the provisions of the state law are complied with State laws require that Christmas trees be accompanied by a bill of sale signed by the property owner from whom the trees originated. The bill of sale is proof that the trees have been legally acquired by the person who has them in his possession.

The bill of sale forms are furnished by the Michigan Department of Agriculture free of charge They are available at the offices of the County Agricultural Agents, County Sheriff, the State Police barracks, and Conservation headquarters in all counties of the state. Land owners who desire to transport Christmas trees or evergreen boughs taken from their own property may carry the property deed or a tax receipt in lieu of a legal bill of sale.

The provisions of the Christmas tree law do not apply to the transportation of trees with roots attached. Such trees are classed as nursery stock and an inspection certificate is required when such trees are transported. Anyone desiring to move rooted trees or shrubs from one property to another should apply to the Department of Agriculture for inspection before the trees or shrubs are moved. Requests for further information and bill of sale forms may be obtained from C. A. Boyer, Chief, Bureau of Plant Industry, Michigan Department of Agriculture.

Expert Suggests Doing Christmas Planning Early

Make your good resolutions of years past stick this time. Start RIGHT NOW making your plans for Christmas, urges Dorothy Greey of the Michigan State College home management department.

As a prescription against ending up on Christmas Day nervous and frazzled, Miss Greey makes some concrete suggestions.

Hold a conference with yourself very soon. Write down the persons on your Christmas-gift list and possible suggestions for each one. Estimate costs. Make sure you know color preferences and sizes. Miss Greey tells of one family in which mothers each year exchange detailed lists including size and color data for all family members. That eliminates the after-christmas-return blues.

Shop on week days and avoid crowds. Spend a day downtown just looking and doing some comparative shopping. Don't try to do it all at once. And don't be worried about having to get home to prepare dinner. Have something ready to pop into the oven.

Miss Greey suggests early shopping for Christmas cards, too. Then you can address a few each day.

Following these suggestions will mean you will have more time to enjoy the Christmas season.

Spraying Cuts Loss From Lice In Herds

Methoxychlor spray is the best means of fighting lice that cut milk production and cause other losses in dairy herds, advises Donald L. Murray, Michigan State college extension dairyman. If dairymen fear for cattle sprayed in cold weather, he suggests clipping the animals and then dusting on methoxychlor powder.

TO SOMETHING NEW IN FUEL OIL

Wake up to new, Anti-Rust Sinclair Fuel Oil — the oil that contains the amazing chemical ingredient RD-119, developed by Sinclair Research.

RD-119 assures you a purer, cleaner fuel oil than ever because it stops rust in the pipe lines, tank cars and trucks which carry the oil from the refinery to your home. In your burner, RD-119 protects against rust and corrosion that clog strainers and burner nozzle—protects against the excessive wear on burner parts caused by abrasive rust particles.

Yet new, Anti-Rust Sinclair Fuel Oil costs no more than ordinary fuel oil. Phone us today.

A. voted Tuesday night of last week, at their regular meeting, to purchase 40 Film strips for use in the grade rooms, help on the purchase of a trophy case and to purchase a program clock for the school. The school equipment committee also reported the purchasing of an electric mixer for the Home Economics department kitchen equipment for the hot lunch, a map set, an American Flag and a barometer for the school; also scientific equipment for the science department and a molding cutter for the shop.

Miss Armstrong led in group singing with Mrs. Hans DeYoung as accompanist, and Jack McPherson offered prayer.

During the program, Mr. Stecker, music instructor, presented the children in Mrs. Farrells room who sang several numbers, showing Mr. Stecker's excellent training. Mr. Stecker also played a special piano solo, which we enjoyed very much.

Mr. Seifried showed two films, "Story of Rip Van Winkle", a revealing film on inflation dangers, and a film on "Muscular Dystrophy" from the county committee.

Mrs. Jeanette Bolser, chairman of the program committee announced the program numbers and Mr. Smith, school superintendent, conducted the business meeting in the absence of the officers.

During the business session It was decided to change the Christmas program from the regular P.T.A. to Tuesday night, Dec. 23.

Mrs. Ferrells room received the money in the "kitty" for the largest percent of parents present at the meeting.

Plans for a special Homecoming observance were announced.

Lunch was served by Mrs. Petter Wieland, Mrs. Don Campbell, Mrs. Claud Dawson, Mrs. Ed Denny and Mrs. Thale Yettaw.

Mr. Farmer:

It takes a large volume of livestock to attract a large number of livestock buyers.

The Traverse City Livestock Commission sells more livestock than any sale in Northern Michigan.

The bigger buyers attend the Traverse City Livestock Auction, therefore you are assured the full market value when you consign your livestock to the Traverse City Livestock Commission. Don't hesitate to spend a little extra money for trucking to the Traverse City Livestock Commission. It will be repaid many times.

South Arm 4-H Will Study Deer Problems

Under the direction of Archie Graham about 20 boys and girls in the South Arm community will make a close study of Michigan deer problems. The group held its first meeting Monday evening, November 10 at the Grange hall and a program for the winter was outlined by K. C. Festerling, district 4-H club agent.

Through the winter the club will study the habits of the deer herds and the various acts of legislature controlling it. They will study the habits of the deer and will closely follow the findings of the conservation department concerning the control and management of Michigan deer herd.

For their next meeting the group plans to discuss the deer herd with relation to its value as an attraction of northern Michigan particularily during deer hunting season. Members will study how the deer hunter spends his money in the area.

If snow becomes deep and the herd yard up the group will visit such a yard in February at which time they will observe the condition of the yard and deer. A second trip will be made to the same yard in April to make a survey of the degree of over-browsing and make a count of the deer dead from starvation. Each member of the club will be required to prepare an exhibit of winter deer food according to its palatability.

Local conservation offiers will aid the young people in their study.

Award Contract For Transporting St. James Mail

The Beaver Island Transit Co. has been awarded the contract to carry the mail between the mainland and St. James, Beaver Island, located 35 miles northwest of here in Lake Michigan, Postmaster Peter H. Timmer has been notified by the U. S. Postoffice department.

All bids for the contract, which runs from Nov. 24, 1952 until June 30, 1955, had to be filed with the Postoffice department in Washington, D. C., by Nov. 13. It is not known how many bids were received for the contract.

The contract was formerly held by the same company, then known as the Beaver Island Transit Corp. whose bid for $3,893 was accepted in June, 1951. The company asked to be relieved of its contract because of the increased cost of operation.

The company's new bid was for $5,255.

The contract calls for six trips weekly from May 1 through Nov. 30 and three trips weekly during April and December. The motorship, North Shore, which carries the mail for the company also transports passengers, freight and motor vehicles over the 35 mile route.

The mail contract for the winter months is held by the McPhillips Flying service, operated from the local airport by Joseph McPhillips.

Congregational Church Women To Present A Play

The story of the ship, Morning Star VI, which carries missionaries to the South Sea Islands will be told in the play, "When They Saw the Star", to be presented at the Dec. 2 meeting of the Women's Fellowship of the First Congregational church.

The Morning Star VI, a 63-ft. Diesel-powered schooner, is a gift from the more than 9,000 boys and girls of Congregational Sunday schools throughout America to the Micronesia Mission of the American board, which ministers to 30,000 South Sea island peoples.

The play tells the story of the Star which has become a symbol of faith and what it means to the Christians of the isolated atolls and islands in the South Pacific area.

Appearing in the cast are Mrs. Versal Seymour portraying the role of the Little Girl; Mrs. H. E. Paddock, the grandfather; Mrs. Henry Ingalls, the Rev. Bingham; Mrs. Lawrence Korth, Mrs. Bingham; Mrs. Robert Miles, a native teacher; Janet Livingston, Capt. Moore; Mrs. Charles Bellinger and Mrs. Karl Erber, survivors and Mrs. George Smith and Mrs. Franklin Curtis, runners.

Mrs. Kit Carson is president of the Women's Fellowship.

County Children Present Annual Music Festival

Two hundred grade school pupils from Charlevoix county's rural schools participated in the second annual Music Festival at the Boyne City high school Thursday night.

Olaf W. Steg of the Division of Field Services, Central Michigan College of Education, directed the kindergarten through the third grade pupils in a group of small children's songs and the fourth through the eighth grade students in a group of seasonal and folk songs including Mexican and American numbers.

Schools participating in the festival were Melrose, Chandler, Horton's Bay, North Bay, Murray, Bay Shore, Ironton, Norwood and Marion Center.

Mrs. Orthella DeNise of Boyne Falls was the accompanist.

Ray Koos, instructor in piano at Central Michigan College, presented several piano selections to conclude the program.

Mrs. Catherina C. Bergeon, county superintendent of schools assisted with the presentation.

Senior Class To Present Annual Play, 'Girl Shy'

Rehearsals for the annual Senior play, "Girl Shy," are being held regularly as the Senior Class of the Charlevoix high school prepares for its presentation at the high school auditorium December 10.

The three-act comedy, featuring a cast of 11, is under the direction of Donna Cavanaugh of the high school faculty.

The play, written by Katherine Kavanaugh, tells the story of a handsome woman-hater, Tom Arsdale, played by Raymond Sanford, and the girl who decides that no man should dislike women that much, Barbara Sanford portrayed by Debby Bergeon.

Others in the cast who assist in bringing the play to an exciting climax are Dean Davenport, Janet Krulik, Nancy Bodley, Betty McBride, Wilfred Browe, William Mosier, Robert Richards, Amy Kipke and Junior Roberts.

Adult Education Classes To Begin In Early January

Classes in continuing our adult education will begin about Jan. 7 or 8, Supt. Roy G. Bennett announced Tuesday.

Enrollments thus far have reached 78 but if some classes are to be conducted, more students are necessary, he said.

At the presnet time classes in art, bookkeeping, typing, shorthand and car driving are assured but increased enrollments are needed for square-dancing, community forum, mathmetics and history.

Enrollments will be accepted until the time classes start but Mr. Bennet has asked that persons wishing to take the courses enroll as soon as possible so the classes can be planned.

High School Band Presents Concert

The Charlevoix high school band, directed by C. A. Odmark, presented its first formal concert of the present school year Thursday evening.

The light, entertaining program presented by the group was enjoyed by parents and friends of the band.

A feature of the program was presentation of Leroy Anderson's Trumpeters' Lullaby, with John Krokon playing the trumpet solo part.

St. Mary's Church Sponsoring Drive To Collect Clothes

St. Mary's church of Charlevoix has joined with Catholic churches in the 29-county diocese of Grand Rapids in again sponsoring a Thanksgiving Clothing collection, Rev. Fr. John Gryzbowski, pastor of St. Mary's church, has announced.

Under the auspices of the War Relief Services of the National Catholic Welfare council, this drive got underway earlier this week and will run through Nov. 30.

Anyone with wearable, warm clothing may drop it off at St. Mary's school, Charlevoix's collection depot.

All clothing collected will be carefully boxed to be sent to the poorly clad victims of war in Korea, the Far East and Europe. Millions of men, women and children of different races and creeds are being clothed each year through the generosity of Americans who contribute to the annual Thanksgiving Clothing collection.

Anyone may contribute to the drive. If you have a contribution call any member of St. Mary's parish and he will arrange for a pick-up of your contribution.

Garden Club Holds Potluck Supper And Sees Film On Glads

Thirty-five members of the Charlevoix Garden Club and their husbands enjoyed a potluck supper and meeting at the home of Mrs. Albert Edwards last Tuesday evening.

The technicolor movie, "The Glad Way", portraying the life of the gladioli was shown during the evening.

Local gardeners are reminded that it is not too late to remove gladioli bulbs from the ground. They should be dried for a few days, dusted with DDT and stored in a cool temperature.

The next meeting of the Club will be held at the home of Mrs. Arthur Ranger, Lewis st.

Cmdr. E. K. Shanahan Speaks On 'Defense'

Cmdr. Edward K. Shanahan, U.S.N. (Ret.), spoke on the subject of "Defense" at a luncheon meeting of the Pe-to-se-ga chapter of the D.A.R. at the home of Mrs. E. C. Smith in Petoskey Friday.

Attending the meeting from Charlevoix were Mrs. Lysle Shanahan of Los Angeles, Calif., who is visiting here, and Miss F. L. Edson.

Lake trout are ravenous feeders and prey upon all other fishes, although the chubs, herring and whitefish probably constitute their major diet.

Five Brothers Members Of Local V.F.W. Post

The Charlevoix Post No. 1153, Veterans of Foreign Wars, became one of the few veterans groups in the state to boast the membership of five brothers recently when four Elzinga brothers joined a fifth brother as members of the local post.

The membership of the Charlevoix post No. 1153, Veterans of Foreign Wars, was increased by four recently when a quartet of brothers joined a fifth as members of the veterans organization. Rex Davis, commander of the post has announced.

The four who signed up recently were Charles, Harrison, Gergit and Lawrence Elzinga who joined their brother, Martin, as members of the veterans group reserved for servicemen who have seen overseas duty with the armed forces.

Their combined years of service add up to 13 years and two months served in Europe, Hawaii, China and Korea and extend from World War II through the present Korean conflict.

From March, 1944 until September, 1052, their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Elzinga, always had at least one son in the service.

When the family gets together there is always plenty of discussion on which is the best service, for three of them served in the army, one in the air force and a fifth in the Marine Corps.

The tour of duty for the Elzinga family started in March, 1944, when Martin, then 35 and

Bus Drivers To Be Briefed On Various Rules

The fourth annual School Bus Driver Training Program for Charlevoix and Emmet counties will be held next week beginning Dec. 8. Mrs. Catherina C. Bergeon, county superintendent of schools, announced Wednesday.

Purpose of the school is to review and discuss rules and regulations of school bus driving; rules of the road; safety procedures; control of pupil behavior on the bus; care and maintenance of buses; bus driver relation to school and public and other subjects regarding pupil transportation.

George Schutt, field services specialist of Central Michigan College, will be the instructor for the three-day school. He has considerable experience and training in school transportation and is expected to conduct an interesting program.

The three-day training program will open with a joint meeting of Charlevoix and Emmet county bus drivers at the new Lincoln school in Petoskey at 7:30 p.m. Monday.

The other two meetings for Charlevoix county drivers will be held at the East Jordan bus garage at 10 a.m. Tuesday and at the library basement in Boyne City at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday. A bus trip will be a part of the Tuesday meeting.

Charlevoix school bus drivers who are planning to attend are Martin Elzinga, Averill Howard, Albert Thorp, Peter Kanoff, Joe Smith, Bradford Foster and Earl Crandall, who has succeeded L. L. Lewis.

School board members and superintendents are invited to attend the sessions.

Kiddies---Don't Miss Santa's Visit Saturday

The little folks of Charlevoix and the surrounding area will receive another visit from Santa Claus Saturday as he arrives in town at 2 p.m. for a brief visit under the sponsorship of the Charlevoix Retail Merchants association.

His first stop will be at the special North Pole mail boxes in East Park where he will collect the letters and tickets posted there by the youngsters.

He will again distribute candy to all children and tickets to all those eight years and younger who come to see him. The children will then sign their tickets and leave them in the mail box in the park. On Dec. 20, some youngster will receive a beautiful gift from Santa Claus.

At that time he will hear one petition which is to be filed.

Anyone interested and having any questions regarding naturalization may contact him at the court house at this time.

Noted Girls' Team To Play Local Quintet

The popular girls' basketball team, Hazel Walker and her Arkansas Travelers, will come to Charlevoix again this season for a return engagement with a Charlevoix Independent team Tuesday, Dec. 16, John Knight, team manager, announced this week.

The girls' team which proved a great attraction here last year, will feature three new faces due to the inroads of Dan Cupid. They are Ethel LaNoue, a sensational ball handler and trick shot artist from Brooklyn, Jo Byers, the "Arkansas peach" and Martha Evans, touted as the best prospect to hit the professional ranks in many years.

Miss Walker, Pat Johnson, Frances Garroutte and Georgia "Moon" Mullins are the other team members.

The girls' team is a popular attraction throughout the country. They have been written up in Collier's magazine, Ripley's "Believe it or not" and featured in a 1951 Warner Brother short.

They will meet a team composed of Chick Gallagher, Bill Lusk, Don Meggison, John Swanson, Del Terrill and Dean Boss.

Mrs. C. Bissell, Former Resident, Dies At Age 90

Mrs. Rose I. Bissell, 90, former Charlevoix and Beaver Island resident, died Monday in Milwaukee where she had lived for four years. She had been in failing health for several years.

Funeral services will be held at the See Funeral Home at 2 p.m. Thursday with the Rev. Lloyd Schloop officiating. Burial will be in Brookside cemetery.

The former Rose I. Stephens was born in New York state where she was married to Clarence Bissell. About 1898 they went to Beaver Island where Mr. Bissell worked as a commercial fisherman for 40 years. In 1938 he retired and they came to Charlevoix to make their home. He died in 1942. In 1948 she went to Milwaukee to make her home with her daughter, Mrs. Tony Cunningham.

Besides her daughter, Mrs Cunningham, she is survived by three sons, Joseph of Charlevoix who is hospitalized at the U. S. Marine Hospital in Chicago, Vern of Milwaukee and Charles of Traverse City; 26 grandchildren and several great-grandchildren.

East Jordan Loses To Alpena Quintet

In a non-loop game played at Alpena Tuesday night, East Jordan was snowed under by Alpena Catholic Central 65-30.

Leland Ayotte dropped 24 points for the Class B squad as they led the Red Devils all the way. Warren Frank scored nine points for East Jordan.

Council Adopts Utility Plan For Hospital

The Charlevoix city council, meeting Monday night, accepted a bid of $105.00 submitted by Ray Whitley Jr. for the caretaker's cottage at the Trailer Park. Payment must be made by Jan. 1, 1953, and the building must be removed by March 1. Two other bids were submitted.

In another action, the council passed a motion confirming a letter to the Charlevoix Hospital board of directors dated Jan. 4, 1048, in which it was stated that the council felt that, due to higher operating expenses and increased financial responsibilities, the city could no longer refund the total amount of the light and water bills for the hospital and nurses home at the end of the fiscal year as had been the practice for many years.

In lieu of the refund, however, the latter offered a cash contribution of $1,500 which is approximately the amount which had been contributed in a refund.

The Council Monday night said they would pay the amount retroactive to the fiscal year of 1950 as follows: $1,500 at once; $3,000 on March 1, 1953 and $1,500 annually thereafter payable Sept. 15 upon receipt of a statement from the hospital.

At the same meeting the sign ordinance was discussed and tabled until the next meeting.

Representatives of the City Planning Commission were present to discuss the city charter and other civic programs to benefit the general welfare of the city.

Supervisors were present from four surrounding townships, including Hayes, Charlevoix, Marion and Norwood to discuss fire protection for their respective communities.

Bills totaling $9,005.29 were accepted and ordered paid.

Dial Telephone System Starts In Charlevoix This Afternoon

As we went to press this week, the Michigan Bell Telephone Company was running last-minute tests on the dial switching equipment which will serve telephone users in this community after 1 p.m. today.

Built and installed at a cost of about $340,000, the new system was to be inaugurated today at a brief luncheon ceremony at Heering's, attended by business and civic leaders and Michigan Bell officials.

Mayor John Knight was to push a button at exactly 1 p.m. which would signal telephone company workmen to cut the old manual office out of service and start dial switches buzzing in the new office on State Street.

First call over the new dial facilities was to be placed by Mayor Knight to East Jordan's Mayor Leo Summerville.

C. L. Johnson, manager here for Michigan Bell, was to act as master of ceremonies at the inaugural ceremony.

Prior to placing the dial system in service, Johnson cautioned all local users to be sure to check their new directory before placing a call to a Charlevoix number after the changeover to dial. New numbers, bearing the office name Liberty — followed by five numerals — have been assigned all Charlevoix subscribers.

Charlevoix customers will not need to dial the first two letters of the office name, LI, in calling a local number. They need only dial the five numerals following the office name, Johnson said.

Instructions on how to dial numbers in Boyne City, East Jordan, and Petoskey direct, are contained in the new directory.

Mrs. L. H. Barker Dies Following A Long Illness

Mrs. E. Myrtle Barker, 56, wife of Leland H. Barker, died at her home Wednesday afternoon following an illness of four months.

Funeral services were held at the See Funeral Home Saturday afternoon with the Rev. Carl A. Hoch officiating. Burial was in Brookside cemetery.

The former Emily Myrtle Robinson was born in Iosco county, Michigan, April 19, 1896. She graduated from Central Michigan College of Education at Mt. Pleasant and taught for nine years prior to her marriage to Mr. Barker at Pontiac in 1928.

They resided in Detroit four years and in Elkhart, Ind., for 15 years before coming to Charlevoix in 1946.

She was a member of the Christ Episcopal church and an officer in the Women's Guild; a member of the Eastern Star and the White Shrine of Jerusalem and was an officer in both organizations.

Window-Shoppers Night Postponed To December 13

The special window-shoppers night formerly scheduled for Dec. 6 has been postponed until the following Saturday, Dec. 13. Howard Stephens, chairman of the Charlevoix Retail Merchants association, announced Wednesday.

Plans for the special attraction will be completed at a meeting of the Retail Merchants Association at the city hall at 8 p.m. tonight (Thursday). Every business man is invited to attend the meeting and participate in the event.

Several Report Success As Deer Season Closes

As the 1952 deer hunting season drew to a close last week-end, several local hunters reported filling their licenses.

Frank Supernaw, hunting for the first time, brought home an 8-point buck Saturday from along Lake Michigan after being gone from home less than an hour.

Charles Fairbanks of East Lansing, got a spike-horn Sunday morning while hunting near Graves Crossing near Chestonia in Antrim county.

Dave Glassford who had hunted all season without any luck came home with a good-sized doe Saturday morning on the second day of the "any-deer" season. He had filled his license while hunting near the Birchwood ranch north of Charlevoix.

George Bergmann, who had been unsuccessful during a hunting trip to the upper peninsula, dropped a spike horn while hunting near here on the closing day of the season. Dick Fochtman hunting with Bergmann, got his at the same time

Services Held At Milford For Mrs. R. Mathews

Mrs. Mary Blanche Mathews, 81, widow of Robert Mathews, died Thursday at the Charlevoix Hospital where she had been a patient for three days. She had been in failing health for several months.

Funeral services were held at the Richardson-Bird Funeral Home at Milford Sunday afternoon. Burial was in the Highland cemetery in Oakland county.

Mrs. Mathews, the former Mary Blanche Lockwood, was born July 17, 1871, at Holly, Michigan. In 1925 she was married to Mr. Mathews who preceded her in death. She had resided in Charlevoix with her stepsons, Marvin L. and Clinton E. Mathews for the past five years.

She was a former teacher and a member of the Presbyterian church.

Surviving are three stepsons, Marvin L., Clinton E. and Vernon L. Mathews, all of Charlevoix and two step-daughters, Mrs. William Steinbaugh of Davisburg and Mrs. Stuart Walls of Milford.

Two Charlevoix Youths Injured In Accidents Over The Week-End

Two Charlevoix youths, Neil Suomela, 21, Central Michigan College junior, and Thomas Fessenden, 15, a Charlevoix high school junior and Varsity basketball guard, were admitted to the Charlevoix Hospital over the holiday week-end for treatment of injuries received in accidents.

Neil received a neck and back injury in an automobile accident near Mancelona Wednesday while enroute home from Mt. Pleasant for the Thanksgiving week-end.

Tom, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Fessenden, suffered a badly shattered lower right leg when he was accidently shot while deer hunting near Chestonia in Antrim county Sunday morning.

Tom remained in a fair condition at the Charlevoix Hospital late Wednesday, attending physicians said. The extent of the permanent injury to the leg is still in doubt at this time.

Tom was injured about 10:30 a.m. Sunday when he was struck by a shot fired by Theodore Malpass Jr., 27, of East Jordan, who was firing at a wounded deer. He told Antrim county sheriff Howard Tanner, who investigated the accident, that he was tracking the wounded animal at the time and did not see Tom and his party.

Following the accident first aid was administered and he was carried a half-mile through the woods to the Watson ambulance of East Jordan for transportation to the local hospital.

Hunting with him at the time were Jerry Albright and Jim Lewis, both high school students, and the latter's brother, Russell.

Tom had filled his license in the same area the second day of the hunting season and it is believed he was returning to the area to show his companions where he had seen other deer when the accident occurred.

Suamela's Condition Improves

Neil's condition was improved yesterday, Charlevoix Hospital attendants reported.

His injury was less severe than reported earlier. He suffered two dislocated vertabrae in his neck and was to be x-rayed late Wednesday to determine the extent of his progress.

He was one of five Central Michigan students who were passengers in a car driven by Bernard Zeitler, 24, also a student enroute home for the Thanksgiving recess. He was injured when the car went out of control when it hit an icy spot and rolled over twice. The accident happened about 3 p.m. one mile south of Mancelona on a county road.

Other passengers in the car were Mary Roberts, 20, and Ron Cunningham, 20, both of Charlevoix and Mrs. Mildred Kerridge Mueller, 23, and her sister-in-law, Margaret Mueller, 19, of Manistique.

Mrs. Mueller received severe facial lacerations and a nose injury and was treated at Gaylord Community Hospital. The others received bruises but otherwise were uninjured. Cunningham had an x-ray of his right foot at the Charlevoix Hospital.

Suomela, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Uno Suomela, was brought to the local hospital via ambulance.

The others returned to their classes at Central Michigan College Sunday.

Make Plans For District I.O.O.F. Convention Here

Plans have been completed for the I.O.O.F. district Association convention to be held at the Charlevoix high school auditorium Saturday afternoon and evening.

Russell McKenzie of East Tawas, deputy grand master, is expected to attend the sessions. The initiatory degree will be performed by either the Long Rapids or Petoskey degree teams.

Floyd Hollowpeter of Indian River, association president, will preside at the business sessions, which will be held at 3 p.m. and 7 p.m. A dinner will be served at the local I. O. O. F. hall at 5:30 p.m. for the visitors.

Sims Baker is head of the host lodge, the Round Lake lodge No. 293.

Recount Will Begin Tuesday For Governor

A gubernatorial recount will be held in Charlevoix county beginning Tuesday, Dec. 9, County Clerk Fenton R. Bulow announced Monday.

He had been notified earlier in the day to arrange for a recount of the votes from Charlevoix county's 25 precincts.

The county board of canvassers will be in charge of the recount. Annabella Cunningham is chairman of the board and will be assisted by Loton V. Wilson of Boyne City and Vern J. Whiteford of East Jordan. Mr. Bulow serves as clerk of the board. The attorney who will serve as legal advisor has not been named.

In the official canvass following the general election Nov. 4, Republican candidate Fred Alger Jr. received 3,662 votes and Democratic candidate, G. Mennen Williams, who was seeking re-election received 2,005 votes.

The ballot boxes will be guarded by the State Police during the recount, Mr. Bulow said.

JAY ADAMS, who celebrated his seventy-first birthday anniversary earlier this fall, has what he says is the oldest sleigh in town . . . He was telling us the history of it and we think you'd enjoy hearing about it . . . Seems when Jay was about six years old he went to town with his grandmother . . . She bought a 25 cent can of baking powder and for another 25 cents' purchased the sleigh on a "special" being offered by the store . . . It's a little old-fashioned sleigh and you'll see it around for he has given it to our little niece, Lindy Martin . . . as her first sleigh. . .

IN ACCIDENTS over the weekend two of our popular young people, Tom Fessenden, a high school junior and Neil Suomela, a college junior were injured . . . Both have been 'hard-luck' kids and have had more than their fair share of tough breaks in their brief lives . . . We hope this will mark the end of the misfortunes . . . Lots of luck and a speedy recovery to both of you . . . And don't give those nurses a bad time . . .

THE CHARLEVOIX Raydera will open their 1952-53 basketball season this week at Boyne City . . . We haven't seen the team in action yet but we'll tell you one thing right now . . . You fans are in for a good winter of basketball . . . We'll bet on it right now . . . Lots of luck . . . both big and little Rayders . . . and Coach Terrill . . .

IN THE MAIL recently was a grand letter filled with scads of information about Charlevoix and the Courier . . . We found it mighty interesting and would like to pass it on to you . . . Seems the newspaper was started about 1886 by Charles J. Strang, son of "King" James Strang of Mormon fame . . . and was called the Charlevoix Journal . . . In May, 1890 Strang sold the business to Charles S. Hampton who sold it to his brother, Will E. Hampton a short time later . . Charles Hampton changed the name from Journal to Democrat and the latter Mr. Hampton changed it to Courier when he supported "Teddy" Roosevelt for president . . . W. E. Hampton sold the paper to A. J. Usher and his brother-in-law in 1909 . . . And most of you know its history from that time . . .

Mr. Hampton also gave us the history of a couple of old telephone numbers . . . First was No. 1 which was held by the Charlevoix Hardware Co., first started by Morris J. Stockman on the southeast corner of Bridge and Clinton streets . . .

YOU REMEMBER a few weeks ago we had a story on the water tower and its history . . . Mr. Hampton corrected a statement we'd made about the first water works in Charlevoix . . . He said it was built in the early 1890's and not in the '80's and that when he came here the only fire protection offered was an old steam fire engine . . . No doubt the old 'Sylvia' we've heard Charlie Marshall tell about . . .

Mr. Hampton said there were many things he could tell about the water works and other things from actual knowledge . . . And we say it's a shame Mr. Hampton doesn't make a record of those things for Charlevoix . . . It's getting more and more difficult to find details of early events . . .

ALSO IN the mail was a card from Miami Beach from the Bill Matzingers who were on a vacation trip . . . And from the card we think Bill's been converted into a real Charlevoixian for he said the South was fine for a vacation but he'd take Charlevoix as a steady diet . . . Wonder what it is about the town . . .

* * *

IT'S ARRIVED . . . that first snow of the season and everyone was pretty happy because it held off for so long . . . After all, winter arrived early in November in both '50 and '51 so we really can't complain . . . The sleds in our neighborhood, as we imagine they have all over town have sure been getting a workout . . . We'll bet a lot of parents had to get the sleighs out in self-defense when the youngsters' saw all that white stuff Thanksgiving morning . . . But, you know, we were kinda lucky when it comes to snow . . . all the towns around us got a bigger snow-fall than we did . . .

ONLY 17 more shopping days 'til Christmas after today . . . Just a little warning . . . And don't forget to mail your parcels and cards early if you want them to get to their destinations . . . As a personal favor to us, will you send any serviceman you might know, no matter where he is, a Christmas card. It isn't much to ask and it will make his Christmas a little happier . . . And while you're making out that list, take a look around you and find some person who is alone and who might not receive a card and put his or her name on your list . . . It doesn't take but a minute and it might bring a lot of happiness to a lonely soul . . . Everyone, you know, doesn't have a family to celebrate the holidays with . . .

DEC. 7 will again fall on Sunday as it did that fateful day 11 years ago when bombs fell on Pearl Harbor and this country was officially thrust into World War II . . . It seems a century or so ago . . . Wonder what it would be like again not to have our boys spread around the world . . . and peace . . .

* * *

AT EXACTLY one o'clock today the Michigan Bell dial system goes into service . . . Gone for always will be the telephone operator's voice asking for your number, giving you the time, greeting you with a cheery 'hi' under her breath and wishing you the best on holidays . . . Think back over the years and recall all the little things the operators have done for you to make life a little easier or happier . . . On occasion we've cussed them but most of the time we were grateful for their little favors . . . and they've done plenty for us that wasn't a part of their duty . . . Progress is wonderful and we're all for it . . . but in this case we don't like it . . . Sure, we'll go along, we have no choice . . . But it still doesn't make us like it . . . To those operators . . . and there have been a lot of them through the years . . . we say, thanks for everything and we'll miss you . . .

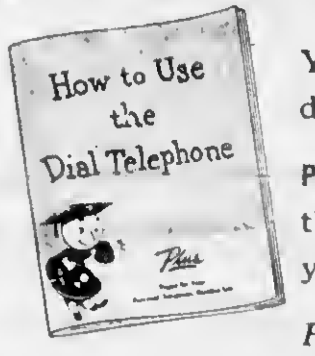
YOUR DIAL TELEPHONE SERVICE

BEGINS TODAY AT 1:00 P. M.

Your telephone service will become considerably more valuable to you when your new dial system goes into operation today (Thursday, December 4).



How to Use the Dial Telephone

You will not only dial local calls but you will also dial direct to three nearby communities.

Please review carefully your booklet, "How to Use the Dial Telephone," and keep it handy. Remember you dial only the five figures on local calls.

Please see the inside front cover of your new directory on how to dial direct to telephones in Petoskey, Boyne City and East Jordan.

WHAT TIME IS IT? YOU CAN FIND OUT FAST

Time-of-day service by fast direct dialing will be yours, too, starting at 1:00 p.m. Thursday. To get the time after that, just dial 1PE and then 112.

Along with fast and dependable dial service, another improvement will come to rural customers. They will hear the ring of only one other party on each line.

Michigan Bell has kept pace with the growth and development of Charlevoix and these three other communities in your local calling area. Together, they have 7,360 telephones, twice as many as seven years ago.

With more people having telephones, your own telephone becomes increasingly more valuable. You can call more people, more can call you—a bigger bargain than ever before.

Warner-Towns Vows Are Exchanged Thanksgiving Day

The Rev. Robert Moore of East Jordan performed the ceremony Thanksgiving evening which united in marriage Betty Louise Warner and Walter Ellsworth Towns. The double ring rites were solemnized at the Norwood Methodist church before an altar decorated with white mums, evergreens and two white roses in bud vases. Tapers in candelabra lighted the church for the candlelight service

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde W. Warner are the parents of the bride and Mr. Towns is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth Towns of Sparta.

Preceding the ceremony, Rheta Boss sang "Hold Thou My Hand" and "Because". accompanied by Saudina Liskum of East Jordan, cousin of the bride, who also played a program of traditional music and the wedding marches. At the close of the ceremony, Miss Boss sang "The Lord's Prayer".

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a gown of ivory satin styled with a net yoke, fitted bodice and long tapered sleeves. The full skirt ended in a cathedral length train. A satin cap adorned with seed pearls held her fingertip veil and she carried a bouquet of red and white roses.

Mrs. R. Samuel Hamilton of Charlevoix and Battle Creek was matron of honor and Marion Warner, cousin of the bride, was bridesmaid. Mrs. Hamilton wore a ballerina length gown of gold with a matching stole and carried a bouquet of bronze bebe mums. Miss Warner's gown was in blue and was styled similar to the honor attendant's. She carried a bouquet of yellow bebe mums.

The flower girl, Linda Thompson, wore a floor-length white gown and carried a basket of seasonal flowers. Her brother, Thomas, was ring bearer and carried the rings on a white satin pillow. They are the children of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Thompson of Grand Rapids.

Gordon F. Warner of Grand Rapids, brother-in-law of the bridegroom and cousip of the bride, was best man and ushers were LaVern Sargeant and Bernard Lewis of Grand Rapids and Paul Liskum of East Jordan.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Warner chose a plum taffeta gown, ice blue accessories and a corsage of pink roses. Mrs. Towns, mother of the bridegroom, wore a violet gown, black accessories and a corsage of red roses.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception for 200 guests was held at the Norwood Town Hall. Assisting as master and mistress of ceremonies were Mr. and Mrs. Everett Warner of Pontiac. A three-tiered wedding cake centered the refreshment table which was decorated with tapers and autumn flowers. Music for dancing was played by Warner's orchestra led by the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Charles Warner.

For traveling on their southern Michigan wedding trip the bride wore a navy tailored dress, red accessories and a corsage of red roses. After December 2, the couple will be at home at RR 1, Sparta.

The bride is a graduate of the Charlevoix high school and attended Davenport Institute in Grand Rapids. She is a member of the Barnard Grange, the State 4-H Service Club and the Alpha Beta Iota Sorority.

The bridegroom is a graduate of the Sparta high school and served with the U. S. Marine Corps in Korea. He was discharged from the service in December, 1951.

Among those from away who attended the wedding were:

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Warner of Pontiac; Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Nadeau of Detroit; Charles Warner and Jerry Warner of Dearborn; Mrs. Charles Warner of Lansing; Mr. and Mrs. Giles F. Warner, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Warner, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Thompson Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Thompson Jr. and children, of Grand Rapids; Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth Towns, Mr. and Mrs. William Devenport, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Hiler, Alvin and Bernard Lewis, LaVern Sergeant, Marilyn Sergeant and Mrs. Martha Towns of Sparta; Mrs. Audrey Maybe and Carol Ann Hayes of Cedar Springs; Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hand of Walloon Lake; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Murphy, Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Liskum, and family of East Jordan.

K. P. To Sponsor Public Speaking Contest Locally

An invitation has been issued to the students of the Charlevoix high school to participate in the eighth annual public speaking contest sponsored by the Fraternal Order Knights of Pythias, Earl Shapton, local member of the contest committee, announced this week.

$25,000 in scholarships in any university or college will be awarded winners of the contest on the topic: "Highway Safety and How to Attain It". This subject was chosen so the contest will work in harmony with the continent-wide Highway Safety and Courtesy Campaign which will be launched by the Knights of Pythias soon after the first of the year.

Local contests will be sponsored by each of the 3,200 subordinate lodges, followed by district and state events. Winners of six regional contests will participate in the finals at St. Louis beginning Aug. 9 1953.

Details concerning the contest may be learned from Mr. Shapton of the local lodge.

Theresa and Janice Zeitler of Grand Rapids visited Saturday and Sunday with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Zeitler, Sr.

Donna Louise Farmer Becomes Bride Of C. W. Cross In Double Ring Service

Donna Louise Farmer became the bride of Charles William Cross, O.M.S.N., U. S. Navy, stationed at Norfolk, Va., at a quiet ceremony solemnized at the Methodist manse late Wednesday afternoon.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard J. Farmer and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Cross of Saugatuck, formerly of Charlevoix.

The Rev. Lloyd Schloop read the double ring service in the presence of their immediate families.

For her wedding the bride chose a navy gabardine suit styled with a matching short cape, a navy velvet shell bonnet and matching accessories. Her corsage was of red roses and white pompons.

Rosanna Jeanette Gillispie, as her only attendant, wore a cotillion blue ribbed suit, navy hat and accessories. Her corsage was of pink carnations and pompons.

Ralph Cross Jr. of Saugatuck assisted his brother as best man.

Mrs. Farmer selected a wood-violet nylon crepe jacket dress and matching accessories for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Cross mother of the bridegroom, wore a royal blue suit and navy accessories. Each wore a corsage of pink roses.

A reception for 50 guests followed at the home of the bride's parents. A three-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bridal couple centered the refreshment table which was decorated with lighted tapers. Mrs. Jake W. White, aunt of the bridegroom, presided at the refreshment table, assisted by Mrs. Ilo Helms and Mrs. Don Bogart, aunts of the bride.

The couple left on a week's wedding trip to southern Michigan. The bride will remain in Charlevoix for the present. The bridegroom will return to his duties at Norfolk, Va., Dec. 11.

Both are graduates of the Charlevoix high school. The bridegroom is a veteran of 20 months service with the U. S. Navy.

Former Agents In Area Given Service Awards

Two outstanding Michigan county agricultural agents received national recognition Tuesday at the annual convention of the National Association of County Agricultural Agents in Chicago. Orville F. Walker, Kalkaska and Crawford county agricultural agent, and Burton C. Mellencamp, Isabella county agricultural agent, received Distinguished Service awards in honor of their service to Michigan people through the Michigan Co-operative Extension Service.

Both Walker and Mellencamp are native of the small town of Grass Lake in Jackson county.

Welker's outstending career began in 1936 when he joined the extension service as district 4-H Club agent in Antrim, Charlevoix, Cheboygan and Emmet counties. Under his guidance the 4-H Club enrollment in this area tripled in two years. Walker later had charge of all Upper Peninsula 4-H Club programs. He went to Antrim, Kalkaska and Crewford counties as club agent and in 1948 became county egricultural agent for Kalkeske and Crawford counties.

Walker has gained state-wide acclaim for his rotation and fertilization program employed to build up old, worn out soil. He has also been active in starting a silo building cooperative in his area.

Mellencamp's work in the extension program began in 1924 as an agricultural agent in Charlevoix county where he organized a county-wide dairy program. Through his efforts a dairy co-operative was set up in East Jordan to serve marketing needs of dairymen in the northern Michigan area. Later Mellencamp was instrumental in bringing the Rural Electrification Association to northern Michigan.

In 1945 Mellencamp transferred to Isabella county where he reorganized and managed the Isabella County Fair at Mt. Pleasant for six years. He has emphasized a soil conservation program and instigated organization of dairymen's associations while in Isabella.

Local Youth Is Winner Of Trip To Stock Fairs

Joe Martinchek, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Martinchek Sr. and a student at the Charlevoix high school, is one of 20 west Michigan farm youths who is in Chicago this week to attend the International Livestock exposition and affiliated fairs.

The young people, each a winner of county contests conducted by 4-H departments in western Michigan counties to pick outstanding 4-H club achievement, are making the trip as the guests of the Grand Rapids Press.

From their headquarters at the Congres Hotel, where they are in charge of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Dice of Grand Haven, the group will not only attend the livestock show and the hay and grain show but will also visit major markets of the city, famous museums and educational attractions.

The 29 youngsters and their chaperones arrived in Chicago Sunday via chartered bus for the three-day visit.

F.F.A. Group Make Tree Planter

Floyd Shank on the tree planter built by the East Jordan F. F. A. listening to Bob Roberts explaining how to hold the trees in order that they can be properly planted.

The East Jordan Future Farmers Club have constructed a home made tree planter in their farm shop Ed Rebman, county agricultural agent, reported today. This machine was constructed as one of the regular future farmer projects under the direction of their instructor Richard Schroeder.

Two old plows were used to make this tree planter. One had a right hand bottom and the other a left hand bottom. These two bottoms were placed on a single set of wheels so that it would through the sod both ways and open up a nice furrow in which the trees could be planted. There is a disc coulter in front of the bottoms to cut the sod and a pair of wheelbarrow wheels upon which the operator sets and which packs the dirt around the trees.

This plow was a regular farm shop project and according to instructor Richard Schroeder, it was made primarily to provide service for the members of the future farmer organization and others. They are trying to get many more trees into the ground. Last spring they planted about 12,000 trees for Clayton Healey and Clarence Smith. This fall they planted 11,000 trees for Guy Conkle Jr., Dr. Litzenburger and George Hardy. The charge is approximately $7.50 per thousand depending on the kind of soil.

The Future Farmer Club of East Jordan is run by their officers and members while their instructor acts as advisor. Lester Howard is the president of their club with Jim Shepard as Vice-president Ken Shepard is secretary, Steve Hayden is treasurer and Jack Zoulek is the report-

Program For 4-H Conservation Is Announced At MSC

Instruction and experience in conserving Michigan's natural resources will come to 150 4-H boys and girls through a new conservation program announced today at Michigan State College by A. G. Kettunen, state 4-H Club leader.

Boys and Girls who have completed at least a year-long program in the 4-H conservation project will be eligible to participate in local competition and earn a trip to a state conservation camp, Kettunen said. Previously only boys could attend such a camp.

The Michigan Bell Telephone company and Michigan Independent Telephone association are sponsoring the camp, including transportation to and from, and living expenses while there. In addition, medals will be presented to conservation project winners in each county and a boy and girl in the state will earn an expense-paid trip to the national 4-H Club Congress in Chicago.

The new program will be entirely supervised by the state 4-H Club office, Kettunen said. Michigan Bell plans to spend more than $3,000 annually on the program.

Definite plans have not been set for the annual conservation camp. At present about 75 boys attended a week of conservation camp at Chatham in the upper peninsula. An equal number of girls may earn a trip to the camp when the new program gets under way in 1953.

"State 4-H Club officials believe the conservation project to be one of the most important," Kettunen said. "The program brings economic benefits to the entire state."

Clip and Clean

Clipping the flanks and udders of dairy cows cuts the time in the milking parlor, by making udder-cleaning easier, and reduces the lice population, suggests Donald L. Murray, extension dairyman at Michigan State College.

Grub Control By Rotenone A Group Job

Now is the time for farmers to form groups and start plans for a successful control of cattle grubs—on a community-wide basis, suggests Ray L. Janes, extension entomologist at Michigan State College.

The common cattle grub, or warble, is found in backs of cattle from January to mid-March and the bomb-fly, another species, comes from mid-March to June. Flies of the grub lay eggs quietly. The bomb fly scares cattle and makes them run as it buzzes around their legs to lay eggs.

Control work for both species is the same. Farmers may obtain advice from their county agricultural agent or from Janes. Rotenone is the approved insecticide, with dust or salve — not both at one treatment — preferred for winter. Rotenone spraying in winter is not recommended by Janes but farmers may make that choice for themselves. Material like DDT is not a good control. Most heel applications fail to do the job An oil spray with pyrethrum cuts the grub population, generally as a secondary result of spraying for horn flies. Only non-odorous pyrethrum should be used and milk must be guarded against contamination.

Rotenone dust may be hand-dusted or applied over the warble area and worked in with a brush or by hand. Rotenone must enter the grub openings to do the job. Both dust and salve should be at a 1½ percent strength. Petroleum jelly can be used for a salve base and only enough for one or two treatments should be mixed.

Mrs. Way Writes Impressions Of Life In France

"Greetings from the land of France" was the salutation on a letter received last week by Mr. and Mrs. Roy Plum from Mrs. Dawson Way, the former Joan Brumm, who went to France earlier this fall to join her husband, who is stationed there with the army.

Her letter, in which she tells of France and her impressions of the country follows.

"Yes, I'm here and feel almost like a Frenchman! Had a wonderful trip over on the S. S. United States . . . a beautiful ship. Dawson met me at LeHavre.

"We are now living in a little village called Clery near Orleans. The French people are real friendly and everybody knows us already. I think, tho', that I'll have them speaking English before I'm jabbering much French at them.

"Life is surely different here than in the States. They live entirely different . . . their houses, food, travel etc. I'm afraid it can't even start to compare with the U. S. Standards.

"Instead of coffee or milk they always drink wine at meals . . . little kids two or three years old drink it like water! Their bread is long hard crust rolls three or four feet long that they carry like bundle of logs, never wrapped. Bread and wine are their chief foods for three meals a day.

"Our car is here now and we plan on doing a lot of sight-seeing. Dawson has a three-day pass this week-end and we plan to visit Paris.

"The weather is very damp but I guess they don't have much snow. They sit around almost-cold stoves with overcoats and scarves on. They don't believe in using much fuel for warmth. I could go on for pages describing the customs and how different they think and live.

We surely appreciate getting the Courier for it brings us right back to Charlevoix while we're reading it. Hello to everyone we know."

Mary Ellen McDonough, Pat Monachina Wed In Double Ring Church Ceremony

St. Philip's church in Battle Creek was the scene Saturday of the wedding of Mary Ellen McDonough and Pat C. Monachina of Elba, N. Y.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. William McDonough of St. James and her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Onafrio Monachina of Elba, N. Y.

The Rev. Gerald Owens read the double ring service before an altar decorted with white mums palms and tapers in candelabra in the presence of 400 guests.

Given in marriage by her brother, Glen McDonough, the bride chose a gown of white satin designed along imperial lines with a Chantilly lace collar and peplum and cathedral length train. A satin and lace cap held her fingertip lace-trimmed veil. She carried a white satin prayer book topped by an arrangement of white pompons.

Her sister, Charlotte McDonough, as her only attendant wore a fall green velvet gown, matching velvet headdress and carried a bouquet of bronze feathered mums.

Sam Monachina assisted his brother as best man and ushers were Phil Vignari of Elba and Ted Danaj of Detroit.

Pfc. Merlin D. (Jack) Roberts recently took part in a unique Army engineer construction project in Korea.

A member of the I Corps' 14th Engineer Combat Battalion he helped build the 943-ft. Spoonhill Bridge across the turbulent Imjin River, the only bridge of its kind across the stream.

Built on fixed piers instead of the usual floating pontoons, the widened steel treadway bridge now can handle more traffic and heavier loads because of the change. Greater protection also is offered against high water on the frequently-flooded river.

Roberts, who entered the Army in Feb, 1951, arrived in Korea in April and [illegible] serving as a combat construction specialist in Co. B of the battalion.

He has been awarded the UN and Korean service ribbons.

He is the son of Mrs. Bertha Roberts of this city and Carlyle Roberts of Lake City.

Cpl. Leonard Dubey was discharged from the army recently at Indiantown Gap, Pa., after serving three years.

He arrived here last week-end to make an extended visit with his mother, Mrs. Elner Woodard.

Cpl. Dubey enlisted in the army in Nov. 1949 and the following June was sent to Okinawa. Following the outbreak of the Koreen war he was sent to Korea where he served from July 23 until July 1951. He has been stationed at Indianotwn Gap since his return to this country in August 1951.

Bruce Barker, stationed at Bainbridge, Md., with the Navy, and his brother, William Barker of Scott Air Force Base, Ill, have returned to their respective bases after being called here last Wednesday by death of their mother, Mrs. L. H. Barker.

Pfc. Robert Russell who has been stationed in Alaska with the army arrived home Sunday, called here by the illness and death of his father, Milton S. Russell.

Through the efforts of the Charlevoix county chapter of the American Red Cross, he was granted an emergency leave and flown to the States from Alaska. Weather conditions which had grounded planes prevented him from arriving home before his father's death.

He first learned of his father's death when he called from the west coast. Because the services had already been held, he continued the trip via bus rather than by air.

He will spend a 30-day leave with his mother, before reporting at Camp McCoy, Wis. He will be discharged in May.

Argonne Will Re-Open Friday For New Season

The Argonne, popular eating place and night spot located 2½ miles north of Charlevoix, will re-open Friday night for the winter season, Bill Matzinger, owner-manager announced this week.

The Argonne has been elosed for a month while Mr. and Mrs. Matzinger were on a southern vacation trip, from which they returned Monday.

The popular 'Shrimp Night' dinners every Friday will be continued throughout the winter and a series of dinners featuring steaks, chops, chicken and spaghetti will be featured every Saturday night.

Mr. Matzinger said he is completing plans for several new pieces of kitchen equipment.

At the present time, tentative plans are being made for the annual Christmas party.

Arlene Drost Is Engaged To Wed

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Drost announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Arlene, to Edward Korthase, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Korthase of Boyne City.

The wedding will be an event of Dec. 12 at the Christ Lutheran church in Boyne City. The hour of the wedding will be 8 p.m.

Senior Class Preparing To Present Annual Play, 'Girl Shy' December 10

The Senior class of the Charlevoix high school will present the three-act comedy, "Girl-Shy", at the high school auditorium at 8 p.m. next Wednesday, Dec. 10.

Under the direction of Miss Donna Cavanaugh, the Senior class will climax several weeks of rehearsals with the presentation which promises to be one of the cleverest comedies seen in recent years.

As the story unfolds the audience meets handsome Tom Arsdale (Raymond Sanford) about to graduate from college, who has acquired a reputation as a woman-hater, when the truth of the matter is he's only girl-shy. His room-mate, Oke, (Dean Davenport) on the other hand, is a lady-killer and always has lots of girls, the latest of whom is Peaches Carter (Amy Kipke).

Babs Sanford (Debby Bergeon), who has her eye on girl-shy Tom, decides its about time she took matters into her own hands. To accomplish this she changes places with the girl who cleans the boys' room, Birdie LaVerne (Janet Krulik). This, she feels, will give her a chance to make an impression on girl-shy Tom.

And it does. The impression she makes on him is about as unnoticable as two planets crashing in mid-air. But about this time, Tom's father (Wilfred Browe) complicates matters when he comes to visit Tom accompanied by a girl from home, Sylvia (Nancy Bodley) and Tom's Aunt Caroline (Elaine Peters).

The mix-up grows and poor Tom wishes he could evaporate out of it all. The audience, however, is glad that he can't because "Girl-Shy" makes one of the best comedies one can hope to see.

Others who add their bit to the already hilarous situation are Dean Marlowe (William Mosier), Sylvia's old flame and the class poet, Alfred T. Murgatroyd (Robert Richards), Birdie's boy-friend, Chuck Mayo, (Junior Roberts) and Asma, the wash-woman, (Betty McBride).

Other class members will assist with the staging of the play, which is written by Katherine Kavanaugh.

List County Men For Induction And Physicals

Five Charlevoix county men, including three from Charlevoix will leave Monday for induction into the armed services at the Detroit Induction Center.

They are Donald F. Hardy, Timothy L. Shores and Richard D. Niswander, all of Charlevoix; Joseph L. Deschermeier of Bay Shore and Ray S. Welsh of East Jordan.

Last Monday five other draft registrants left for Detroit for pre-induction physicals. The list included three Boyne City and two East Jordan men.

Three men will be called for induction next month, the draft board has announced.

Betrothed

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Swanson announce the engagement of their daughter, Nancy, to Charles Burdick, son of Harold Burdick of Detroit.

The bride-elect is a 1952 graduate of the Charlevoix high school.

No date has been set for the wedding.

Girl Scout News

Girl Scout Troop 9 visited the Ellsworth Canning company recently. They watched while workers cleaned, steamed, canned and labeled carrots. Later they received two labels for their scrap-books.

Last week they cleaned birch bark for their scrap books.

Services Held For Mrs. J. DeGroot At Reformed Church

Ellsworth — Funeral services for Mrs. Jennie DeGroot were held Friday afternoon at the Atwood Reformed church, with Rev. J. Bekkering of the Barnard Reformed church, in charge.

Mrs. De Groot, widow of John De Groot who passed away in 1947, was born in the Netherlands in 1882 and came to this country at the age of six years. With her family they resided in southern Michigan for about six years before coming to Banks township. On the death of her husband she resided in the home of her son Harry in Muskegon.

Besides her son Harry, she is survived by her daughter, Mrs. Henry Medendorp, two grandchildren, and two sisters, Mrs. Nick Zylstra of Zeeland and Mrs. Gertie Doctor of Ellsworth and one brother, Nick De Young of Central Lake route 1.

Burial was in Atwood Cemetery.

W. P. Smiths Given Surprise Party On Wedding Anniversary

Ellsworth—Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Smith were surprised on the occasion of their fifty-seventh wedding anniversary when neighbors and friends gathered at their home Saturday night.

Mrs. Minert Veenstra and Mrs. Bud Best were hostesses who planned the party.

The Smith's were presented a lovely Mum plant and a gift from the group. Lunch was served at the close of the evening.

Members of the Senior class are planning to give two turkeys away at the homecoming, so be prepared when they approach you!

Complete Plans For Homecoming At Banks School

Ellsworth—Final plans for the first Homecoming of Banks school were announced this week. The date is Friday Dec. 12, with a luncheon at 5:00 p.m. to start the festivities.

The Junior class with sponsor Don Seifried is planning the event and will be in charge of the luncheon. They have also arranged a program paying tribute to graduates of our school, with special recognition to the 25 year class of 1928. That year the Basketball team went to the quarter finals in the State.

The crowning of the homecoming Queen, Sue Kaley will highlight the program.

Following the luncheon and program, buses will be available to transport the Alumni to East Jordan to attend the Ellsworth-Elk Rapids game.

It is hoped that everyone who possibly can, will attend and take advantage of this opportunity to greet "old Classmates.".

The Juniors have tried to contact all graduates of the school, but if you have been missed, would you please drop a card to them so your name may be added to the list/

Family Gathering Honors The Kooyers On 50th Anniversary

Ellsworth—The Wm. Kooyers will have many pleasant memories of their fiftieth wedding anniversary in spite of the bad weather and conflicting events. They enjoyed a family dinner Thursday (Thanksgiving Day) in the Christian Reformed Church dining room with their children and families as guests. They included the Andrew Kooyers and the John Kooyer family of Ellsworth; The Richard Doctor family of Muskegon and the George Kooyer family of Rudyard.

Also present were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cornwell of Rudyard, parents of Mrs. George Kooyer; Mrs. Wm Kooyer's sister, Mrs. Maggie Maring of Muskegon; Rev. and Mrs. E. Boeve and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Cooper and family.

The group was happy to have Mr and Mrs. Fred Kooyer, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Shutters, Mr. and Mrs. George Scholtens and daughter Jane of Muskegon, who came up by train and enjoyed dinner and a social hour with the family before returning to Muskegon.

Christmas Party

Power Steering on the Roadmaster and Super
Television treat — the BUICK CIRCUS HOUR — every fourth Tuesday
How would you like the fun of Christmastime to last all the year through?
That's the way it seems to be when you call this Buick beauty your own—what with the constant cheer it brings to you week after week, month after month.
The cheer of traveling in style that's bright and gay as a holiday wrapping.
The cheer of having rich and spacious comfort—plus the cheery thought that nowhere else can you get as much room for the money.
The cheer of knowing abundant and mighty able power is on call, with all the solid thrift of a Fireball 8 Engine that's valve-in-head—and also high-compression.
The cheer of riding wonderfully buoyant, level and steady—with a ride that feels like the million dollars it cost to perfect.
The cheer of taking your travel free and easy—with Dynaflow Drive* doing the chores in letter-perfect smoothness—with Power Steering assisting to make parking and slow-motion maneuvers no task at all.
Even the price is a cheerful note here—low enough, you'll find, to crowd the so-named "low-price three."
That means action is called for this very week, to make the most of this good deal while it lasts.
Why not drop in today or tomorrow and see how much cheer is to be found in a Buick showroom right now?

Charlevoix To Open Season Against Boyne

The Northern Michigan Class C defending champions, the Charlevoix Rayders, will open their basketball season against a traditional rival, Boyne City, on the latter's floor Friday night.

The Rayders, coached by Del Terrill, have better than three weeks practice behind them and are well prepared for the game.

Coach Terrill, in discussing the team and their prospects for the season, said his team this year will have a little more height than last year. His starting line-up is expected to average a little under six feet. With little height in evidence elsewhere in the league, the Rayders should have an advantage in this department.

The probable starting line-up for this week's game will include four of the five returning lettermen

Bill Bennett and Dean Davenport are expected to start at the forward spots; two juniors, up from last year's reserve squad, Dave Glassford and Mark White, are cardidates for the center position and in the guard spots will be Jim Lewis and Bill Mosier.

Bennett, however, may start at one of the guard positions and if he does, Gordon Mol, another graduate of the Reserve team, will start at forward

Bennett at 5 ft. 11 in., Davenport, 5 ft. 10 in., Glassford 6 ft., White 6 ft. ½ in., Lewis, 5 ft 11 in., and Mosier 6 ft. 2¾ in brings the average height up to about 5 ft 11⅛ inches which can always be an advantage on the hardwoods.

Tom Fessenden, who had been named to the Varsity squad as a guard and whom Coach Terrill had expected to use a lot this season, will be lost to the team for some time following a serious leg injury in a hunting accident Sunday.

Other players who are members of the Varsity squad are Carl Foster, Bill Golden and Tom LaBlance, guards, and Don Smith, Duane Walker and Gene Towsley, forwards

All Teams Except Mancelona To Meet In League Contests

Six of the seven teams in the Northern Michigan Class C Conference will open their regular loop schedules Friday.

The week-end will find Gaylord at Harbor Springs; Pellston traveling to East Jordan and Boyne City hosting Charlevoix, the defending league titleholders Mancelona does not have a game and will not open its season until Dec. 12

At this time, no one is willing to hazard a guess about any team in the league or how the season will end With the exception of Gaylord which has 11 returning lettermen, most coaches are building their squads around one or two returning regulars and possibly three or four lettermen. On paper Gaylord should have the strongest team this season after finishing in fourth place last year with five wins and seven losses, at least two of them by close scores. The other teams, with the exception of Pellston which lost its entire starting line-up, seem quite evenly matched at this time. What their respective coaches have been able to acomplish in three short weeks with available material will be shown this week-end.

Coach Sherm Martin, whose Gaylord Blue Devils have a 38-32 win over Cheboygan to their credit, plans to start Bud Jones at center, Tom Buell, Larry Northey or Bob Giffen in the forward spots and Frank Karwoski, Dick Riddle or Bob Schlang in guard positions. All but Giffen and Schlarg started against Cheboygan. Buell, who is 6 ft. 3 in., is the tallest man in the league.

At Harbor Springs, where the Rams will be hosting the Blue Devils, Coach Dick Boles has named his possible line-up which will include Stan Pifer and Frank Granstra in the forward slots, Mike DeWitt or Tom Clark at Center and at guard positions Chuck Taylor and Jim Herrick. The Rams will have planty of height in Pifer who is 5 ft. 11 inches, Granstra who is 6 ft and DeWitt who is 6 ft 2 in.

With this combination, Harbor Springs should finish the season well up in the standings and not at last place as they did last year.

The Boyne City Ramblers, who finished in fifth place last year will be out to take their traditional rivals, Charlevoix, with a team composed of Dan Arner, their only returning regular at center and Shorty Smith and Denny Pratt at the guard positions Coach Maurice Dixon has not decided on his forwards but they will be named from the following four, Roger Pouquette, Ron West, Mert Erber and Bob Fairchild Arner, who measured just six feet, will be the tallest man on the team

At East Jordan Coach Gayle Saxton hasn't settled on his starting line-up for the game with Pellston. However, he may start Warren Frank and Keith Evans at the forward positions Steve Hayden at center and Jim Shepard and Bob Danforth at guard. Dick Freeman may start at forward and if he does Evans will be shifted to guard position with Shepard. Hayden, who is 6 ft 2 in. and Freeman who is 6 ft. 1 in. will give the team its only height.

Sammy Milstein, a letterman from last year, will be lost to the team until after the holidays because of a chest condition, Coach Saxton was informed this week

Pelston Hornets with one game behind them, a 64-33 loss to Rogers City, will be starting Ron Wilson at center, John Shauffler and Ray Andrews at forwards spots and Harold Drier and Bob Rudy at Guard positions. Regular guard, Fred Ball, a 4-H member, will be lost to the team this week because of the annual 4-H trip to Chicago. Ron Wilson, who stands 5 ft 11 inches, is the tallest man on the team Coach Sam McClutchey has about the Little Rayders To Play Boyne Reserve Squad

The Charlevoix Reserves, better known as the Little Rayders, will also open their 1952-53 season this week when they meet the Boyne City Reserves in a preliminary game at 7:15 Friday night.

With 23 candidates for the team Coach Del Terrill has not named his starting line-up from the following list of prospective players: Jerry Foster, Bob Albright Tom Gildons, Charles McDonald, Roger Pischner, Jack Stelte, Dave Juilleret, John Connolly, Bill Haggard and Jack Erber, sophomores; Bob Mathews, Quinton Walker, Walter Pouquette, Guy Swanson, Charles Dennis, Kit Carson, Fred Putman, Ron Coleman, Garry Smith, Dirk Elzinga, Joe Etienne, Pete Gaskin and Gary Vandenberg

The Little Rayders serve as a feeder group for the Varsity squad and competition is great for a berth on the team.

Coach Terrill reports that there are several outstanding candidates in the group and the Reserves should have a good season

In the past, fans have enjoyed the Little Rayders games equally as much as the Varsity games and this looks like another fine season for the squad

Gaylord Defeats Cheboygan 38-32 In Non-Loop Tilt

Two teams in the Northern Michigan Class C league opened their 1952-53 basketball schedules with non-loop games.

Gaylord opened its season Tuesday by defeating Cheboygan 38-32 and Pellston bowed to Rogers City 64-33, the following night

Gaylord center Bud Jones racked up 13 points for the Blue Devils as they led 8-1 at the quarter, 24-13 at the half and 32-23 at the thrid period. Tom McGinn had nine points for the Chiefs.

Rogers City got off to a fast start against Pellston and led 18-8 at the quarter; 34-12 at the half and 48-25 at the third period, John Shauffler, Hornet forward led the scoring with 19 points while Ed Buczowski had 16 for the Hurons married with a family, was drafted for duty in the army. After completing basic training he was sent to Europe with the 106th Infantry Division in September.

Five Elzinga Brothers In Local V.F.W. Post

His days with the unit were limited, however, for on December 21 he and many others of his outfit were taken prisoners of war by the Germans during the transported to Germany where transported to Germany were they sat out the next five months in a prisoner of war camp. In April they were freed by the invading Americans and the following month he returned home. After a 60-day furlough here he reported at the hospital at Fort Custer where he was a patient until his discharge in October, 1945, after serving 19 months.

Lawrence was drafted in April, 1944, less than two months after Martin was called up. He served briefly with the army before being transferred to what was then known as the Army Air Force. He served in the Hawaiian Islands with an airforce ground crew for most of his two years in the service.

As World War II was drawing to a close, Harrison decided to cast his lot with the U. S. Marine Corps and enlisted for a four year hitch. After basic training he was sent to China in January 1946. He served there for a year before being returned to the Hawaiian Islands for a year. Early in 1949 he was returned to this country to serve out his four year enlistment.

In October 1948 Charles decided to enlist in the army for three years. After a few months training he went to Germany with the army of occupation in March, 1949. Before his hitch was up, however, the Korean War started and another nine months was added to his enlistment. He remained in Germany until June of this year when he was returned to the States. He was discharged in July after serving three years and nine months.

In November, 1950, less than five months after the start of the Korean War, Gerrit was drafted for service in the army. He went to Korea with the army in September, 1951 and in August of this year was returned to this country for discharge in September after serving 22 months.

All five have settled in or near Charlevoix since their discharges.

The three younger boys are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Elzinga. Martin and Lawrence are Mr. Ellinga's sons by a former marriage.

The Charlevoix V.F.W. post is one of the few in the state that can boast five brothers as members, Mr. Davis said.

And while the Elzinga brothers were doing their bit, Mrs. Elzinga's daughter by a former marraige, Capt. Dorothy Iris Dodd, Nurses Corps. She is now in Korea with a hospital unit. She has been serving with the Army is a veteran of five years service with the Corps.

Another daughter, Mignonette Dodd, served with the WAC's during World War II.

No Trucks--No Heat...
For Millions of Michigan Homes!

WHEN THE COLD WINDS blow and the snowflakes fly and you call on your furnace to keep your loved ones cozy and warm, remember—

If you burn coal, trucks keep your bin full—if you've an oil burner, trucks see that your fuel oil tank is never empty.

Yes, it would be a long, cold winter without motor transport—in more ways than one. Any way you look at it, you just couldn't live as you do without motor trucks, using Michigan's fine highway system to serve you night and day, to keep you and your family fed, clothed, warm and comfortable.

If you've got it, a truck brought it!

Russell's Grocery Is Purchased By The A. Essenburgs

The sale of Russell's Grocery located at 205 West Garfield ave. to Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Essenburg on Dec. 1 ras been announced by the former owners, Mr. and Mrs. Otto (Bud) Russell.

The store will now be open daily from 8 a.m. to 10 p.m. the now owners said.

They will continue to carry a full line of meats, groceries, beers and wines.

Mr. Essenburg returned to Charlevoix last May following his discharge from the army after four years, two of which were spent in Japan and Korea. Mrs. Essenburg is the former Jeanine Loop of Grand Rapids and Charlevoix.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell plan to remain in Charlevoix and live at their Boulder Park home for the present.

Set Hearing Date For Floyd Rice On Murder Charge

Floyd Rice, 61, Ferndale machinist and a former member of the Charlevoix utilities crew, charged with the murder of Clyde Hughes, 47, also of Ferndale at Boyne City Sunday night, demanded an examination after appearing before Justice H. E. Paddock here Tuesday afternoon.

Justice Paddock set the hearing for 10 a.m. Friday, Dec. 12.

Rice is being held without bond at the Charlevoix county jail.

He has engaged A. T. Washburne of Petoskey as his counsel.

Rice was picked up by state police early Monday four hours after the murder driving near Grayling. He admitted shooting Hughes, a Ferndale contractor, hunting companion and good friend but said he fired in self-defense.

Rice lived here for several years in the early 1930's.

Charlevoix's Mayor Makes First Phone Call

At a ceremony inaugurating the new dial telephone system here last Thursday, Mayor John Knight dialed his friend and fellow-mayor, Leo Sommarville of East Jordan as C. L. Johnson, area manager for the Michigan Bell Telephone company, looked on.

A group of local business and civic leaders last Thursday heard C. L. Johnson, manager here for the Michigan Bell Telephone Company, trace the history of telephone service in this community at a [illegible] officially inaugurating the city's new dial telephone system.

Starting in 1884, when the first telephone exchange was established here, Johnson cited the steady improvement of service here which culminated in the installation of the finest type of dial equipment available.

Climax of the ceremony came as Mayor John Knight pushed a button signaling telephone workmen to place the new $340,000 system in service. Mr. Knight then placed the first call over the new facilities to East Jordan's Mayor Leo Sommerville.

Immediately after the new system was cut into service, dial switches in the central office on State Street began clicking and buzzing furiously as subscribers dialed their friends to try out the new equipment.

Johnson said that virtually no mechanical trouble developed in the system and that local users apparently were having no difficulty in using the new facilities.

He pointed out, however, that rural line customers cannot reach other users who are on their own party lines by dialing the listed number of that party. In order to reach other telephones on his own party line, the subscriber must dial a special code number. These codes were listed on a card sent to all rural line customers prior to the changeover to dial. Johnson said that if this card had been misplaced, the code number could be obtained by calling the company's Repair Service, 1PE 114.

Recount For County Shows Little Change

The gubernatorial recount in Charlevoix county got underway Tuesday; F. R. Bulow county clerk, announced.

With eight of the 25 precincts re-checked at the end of the first day, Alger had lost four votes.

On a state-wide basis late Tuesday, with 217 of the state's more than 4,000 precincts counted, Williams had gained 110 votes.

Charlevoix county precincts counted include Bay, Boyne Valley, Chandlar, Charlevoix, Evangeline, Eveline, Hayes and Hudson townships.

Leo Hugh Cousins of Detroit, Lee Sneathen, J. M. Foster and Walter Henley represented the Democratic party at the recount session Tuesday, Guy C. Conkle, Jr. represented the Republican party.

C. M. Bice, Norman Ance and E. D. Ruegsegger are dividing the attorney's duties for the recount.

Area Industrial Council To Meet At East Jordan

The next meeting of the Northwest Michigan Industrial Council will be held in East Jordan Jan. 16, it was announced at a meeting of the Council at Cadillac Friday.

A $5,300 budget proposal will be discussed at that time. Two proposals for pro-rating the contributions among the 10 counties will be presented. One calls for basing the contribution on population and the other on sales tax returns for a 12 month period.

S. E. Coleman was named chairman of the nominating committee and will be assisted by John English of Cadillac and Edward Inman of Kalkaska.

John Cundiff, secretary of the Cadillac board of commerce, was named to head a committee to study the freight rate subcharge affecting the area.

Mr. Coleman represented Charlevoix at the meeting.

Expert At Ship Modeling

Captain Allie Moore Tells Of Career As Skater, Skipper

There's an adage that describes some people, jack of all trades and master of none. That might well be used to describe Capt. Allie Moore, sailor, former world roller-skating champion and ship builder, except that the last half of the adage should be changed for he has mastered not one but several trades during his 69 years.

At a time in life when most men are settling down beside a warm fire and taking things easy, Capt. Moore, one of the few sailboat men left in the Great Lakes region, is not only holding down a full-time job as skipper of a pleasure boat but finds time to build scale models, an exacting work.

The latest to be completed is the harbor scene pictured with him. (See picture on page 4). Built to scale, the larger boat is a replica of the Welcome, a boat well-known here, and a fish tug. Both are tied to a dock where there is a storage shed reels holding fish nets, tiny fish boxes and miniature sailors going about their work. And on the roof of the building can be seen the inevitable sea-gulls, always found in a fishing port.

In spite of the minute scale, every detail is carried out. For instance, the doors on the dock building swing on tiny hinges, each shingle is made of a tiny piece of wood and the boats, right down to anchors and lights, are perfect.

The boats in the picture are only two of several he has completed or has partially finished. He has a destroyer escort, complete with movable guns, sailors

Santa Claus To Visit City Again This Saturday

When Santa Claus arrives in Charlevoix Saturday for his weekly visit with the youngsters of the community he will find a large lighted Christmas tree near the special North Pole mail box in East Park.

And when he opens the mail boxes, as he does every Saturday, he will find countless letters from little girls and boys telling him of their Christmas wants.

At the same time he will visit with the small fry who come to see him, give them tickets which will win one of them a small car, and candy for all. Tickets will be given to children eight years and younger.

As is his custom, he will arrive at 2 p.m. sharp. He will again visit the business places while in town before going home to his work shop, where all the little elves are busy preparing for the BIG DAY, Christmas, only two weeks away

Draft Board To Call Three From Area In January

Three Charlevoix county men will be called for induction into the armed forces and an additional 10 men will report for pre-induction physicals in January, the county draft board has announced.

The dates the two groups must report will be announced later.

On Monday five men including three from Charlevoix left for Detroit where they were inducted into the armed services. They were Donald F. Hardy, Timothy L. Shores and Richard D. Niswander of Charlevoix; Joseph L. Deschermeier of Bay Shore and Ray S. Welsh of East Jordan.

On Dec. 1 five men were called for pre-induction physicals.

School Music Program Set For Dec. 17

The annual Charlevoix high school Christmas program will be presented at 1 p.m. next Wednesday afternoon in the high school auditorium under the direction of C. A. Odmark.

The Rev. Harold E. Kohn will be the guest speaker and will speak on "The Christmas Message."

Music will be by the high school glee club and the high school band singing and playing a varied program including several numbers appropriate to the Christmas season.

The Glee Club will open the program with a group of numbers including "Sleep and Rest" Mozart; "Singers and Songs," Eichorn; "Somewhere A Child is Singing" Dykema, featuring a flute and violin obligato played by Barhara Smith and Mr. Odmark; "By the Bend of the River", Edwards; "Coventry Carol", Riegger; "While Shepherds Watched", Bliss; "Help Us, Eternal God and Lord", Gesius.

Mrs. Leonard Burns will be the accompanist.

Following Rev. Kohn's address, the high school band will present Leroy Anderson's popular, "Sleigh Ride"; "Christmas Rhapsody", Long; "White Christmas", Berlin and the concert March, "Gypsy Baron", Strauss.

The program will be concluded with a Carol Sing by the audience, accompanied by a Brass Choir from the band.

The public is cordially invited to attend this program although the program itself is designed as a high school student meeting. No admission charge is being made.

Offer World Affairs Lectures On Continuing Education Program

A series of lectures on "World Affairs Today" will be offered here this winter under the sponsorship of the Charlevoix Continuing Education program, Supt. R. G. Bennett announced this week.

The outstanding series of lectures will be presented by the University of Michigan Extension Service if enough people are interested. Members of the University of Michigan faculty will appear in the series, which is scheduled to start Jan. 19 and continue for five weeks. At the present time, Wednesday has been the day selected as it does not clash with basketball games and other local events.

Featured in the series and their topics are: Jan. 19, Marshall Knapper, Professor of Political Science, whose topic will be "The Foreign Policy of the New Administration;" Jan. 26, Harry L. Bratton, Instructor of Political Science, "Western Europe;" Feb. 2, Ronald S. Anderson, Instructor in History, "Problems of the Far East," which will be illustrated by a 16 mm film; Feb. 16, N. Marbury Efimenco, Assistant Professor of Political Science, "Problems of the Middle East"; Feb. 23, George Kish, Associate Professor of Geography, "Problems of Southern and Central Europe."

It will be necessary to have a large enrollment for the series because of the high cost involved The fee for the course is $2.00 for the series of five lectures.

Mr. Bennett said he felt the series were superior to most travel series now available. Charlevoix will be the only small city to have the series available.

Co-Operative Shows Record Fiscal Year

The volume of business at the Charlevoix Co-operative Co. during the fiscal year ending Aug. 31, increased $40,000 over the same period the previous year, Fred W. Willis, manager of the Co-operative revealed in his annual report at the yearly meeting of stockholders and their families held at the high school Tuesday night.

Mr. Willis went on to report that the total volume of business reached the $288,000 mark this year, the largest in the company's 34 year history.

At the business session new directors were elected and several minor changes in the by-laws adopted recently were discussed. Mr. Willis announced that new copies of the by-laws as amended to date will be printed in booklet form and will be made available to all stockholders.

Four directors were named for two year terms. They were Rowley Williams, Burr Blanchard, Kenneth Sweet and Jasper Warner who were re-elected to succeed themselves.

L. E. McGhan presented the president's report on the year's activities and a financial report was given by O. W. Burcick of Farm Bureau Services of Michigan.

Fred Harger, former superintendent of the Farm Bureau Fertilizer plant at Saginaw, spoke on the co-operative, its history and need.

The Movie, "The 1952 Tournament of Roses", was enjoyed by the more than 125 members and their families. At the close of the evening door prizes were awarded and refreshments served.

Community Choir To Give Annual Vesper Concert

The Charlevoix Community Choir will present its fourth annual Christmas Vesper Concert under the direction of C. A. Odmark at the high school auditorium at 4 p.m. Sunday, Dec 21.

The 40-voice choir will present a concert of the finest Christmas music from traditional carols to selections from the Hallelujah Chorus with organ accompaniment.

The public is invited to attend this traditional holiday concert There will be no charge

Retail Merchants To Offer $500 In Gifts In First Annual Affair

Shoppers in Charlevoix Saturday are assured of a lot of fun as they visit all shops and stores in search of lucky numbers for more than $500 in free gifts given during the first annual Window Shoppers' Day sponsored by the Charlevoix Retail Merchants Association.

The Window Shoppers' Day, which will begin at 10 a.m. Saturday, promises to be a novel experience for hundreds of shoppers, nearly one hundred of whom will net themselves many wonderful and useful gifts being offered by the 50 retail merchants participating in the event.

The rules of the contest are simple and there is no charge for entering. In each copy of this week's Charlevoix Courier there appears a number at the top of the front page.

In order to win one of the nearly 100 prizes the shopper should take his number downtown and search the windows of the various stores in Charlevoix looking for the card bearing a number, placed next to the prize to be awarded by that particular store. If the shopper's number corresponds to the number on the card in the window, he wins that particular prize. There is nothing to buy and no obligation.

Norwood Youth Is Injured When Car Hits Tree

The condition of Donald Holecheck, 24, of Norwood who was injured in an auto accident Friday evening was slightly improved Wednesday, Charlevoix hospital attendants reported.

He was admitted to the hospital via ambulance at 11 p.m. Friday for treatment of severe bruises and possible internal injuries.

He was injured when his car went out of control after hitting a patch of snow seven miles south of Charlevoix on US-31, plowed along 50 feet of fence and hit a tree. The accident happened about 10 p.m. but was not discovered until almost an hour later by a passing motorist who offered assistance.

Holecheck was enroute to his Norwood home at the time of the accident

ODDS 'N ENDS

By Fran Martin

THERE'S A Christmas Vesper concert scheduled for Dec. 21 at the high school gym and you'd better make plans right now to attend . . . It's not only an opportunity to hear the Community Choir but Mr. Odinark has something special planned that we know you'll enjoy . . . It's something a little different and you'll love it . . . we promise you that . . . And what better way to get into the Christmas spirit than by hearing all the old carols.

* * *

DID YOU notice something, or rather, someone missing at the Boyne City game the other night . . . We used to call them the three musketeers but now it's a twosome . . . Rev. L. L. Lewis, one of the team's most avid followers isn't around anymore . . . He moved away, leaving the cheering duties to Klaus Anderson and Capt. William Fisher . . . But we're sure they're a very capable pair who will carry on.

HAVE YOU been downtown recently? . . Gee, we don't know when we've seen the stores looking as nice as they do . . . And gift ideas! . . . Just scads of them . . . everything from the tiniest thing to the biggest things . . . If you haven't noticed you'll have an opportunity to do just that when you participate in the window shoppers day scheduled for Saturday . . . On the top of the front page you'll find a number . . . Be sure to keep the copy of the paper with the number on it for, it might be very valuable . . . You see, the merchants are offering the nicest gifts to the holders of those numbers . . . It's going to be great fun so plan now to participate . .

HOW ARE YOU making out with the new dial system? Isn't it awful when you have to look up every number you call . . . We know a couple of people who got stranded in Petoskey, couldn't remember their own numbers and had to call the operator to ask when a new Charlevoix directory wasn't to be found . . . Embarrassing, isn't it? No doubt a lot of good stories will come out of the change-over but one we heard we thought was pretty good . . . A lady, dialing her number, kept getting another one for several times in a row . . . Finally, in apology, she said . . . "The operator in Petoskey keeps giving me the wrong number" . . And when you dial for the time, don't you catch yourself saying 'thank you' . . .

YOU THINK you're having trouble . . . We understand that the Washington, D. C. telephone system was changed from four to five digit numbers and before it was over it was quite a mess . . . more of a mess than usual, that is . . .

A NOTE to school bus drivers . . . On page 63 of last week's [illegible] is a series of pictures you might appreciate . . . captioned "U.S.S. School Bus" it portrays very well the trials and tribulations of those patient souls.

THE RAYDERS chalked up win No. 1 the other day and we understand they didn't look too bad . . . for a start . . . By the way, did you happen to see the Little Rayders when they reported to the bus for the trip . . . We understand they looked pretty sharp, what with dress shirts, ties and all decked out . . . In fact, they outdid themselves and put the Varsity squad to shame.

A LETTER in the mail last week from Jack Dollenmaier in Bay City who told us an interesting little yarn about the Rogue which won first place in the Venetian boat parade last summer . . Seems that Jack, while on a trip to Japan four years ago, bought several real honest-to-goodness Japanese lanterns just for decorating on Venetian night . . . He recently had two of the businessmen he had met in Japan in '48 call on him in Bay City . . . Both were familiar with his purchase of the lanterns for the Venetian night parade and asked about it . . . He showed them pictures of the Rogue and told them the craft had won first place . . . When they left for home they promised to send him another lantern or two for the boat . . . A letter came recently from the pair saying they are "sending a lantern for the boating on the summer night" . . . A nice gesture on the part of everyone . . . And truly a fine way to cement good relations . . .

Jack concluded his letter with "I already have a theme worked out for our next decoration of the Rogue on Venetian Night, and with this new lantern or two from Japan we hope to be up there at the top amongst the winners" . . .

FROM THE Harry Walstads a card telling us of their arrival in Phoenix, Ariz., for the winter . . . Had a wonderful trip down through California (from Klamath Falls, Ore.) Even crossed the Golden Gate bridge . . . was the message from the wanderers who are now located at 1032 North 27th st., Del Ray Court, Phoenix . . .

AND DON'T forget . . . only 11 more shopping days 'til that all-important day . . . Christmas which is just two weeks from today . . .

Sharon Ethel Butler, Dale Lyons Wed In Double Ring Church Service Here

Baskets of white mums and pink snapdragons, lighted tapers in candelabra and palms formed the background for the wedding of Sharon Ethel Butler and Dale Lyons of East Lansing at the First Congregational church Saturday evening.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Percy J. Butler and Mrs. Mary Florence Lyons of mother of the bridegroom. Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio, is the

The Rev. Harold E. Kohn read the double ring service in the presence of 40 guests.

Mrs. A. J. Stelter, organist, played a program of traditional music and the wedding marches. C. A. Odmark, violinist played "Swan Song," "At Dawning", "Because" and "O Promise Me". Joyce Butler sang "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life' and "Through the Years."

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a waltz length gown of white lace and nylon net over satin styled with an illusion neckline. A tiara of the same materials held her fingertip veil of net trimmed with lace and seed pearls For the occasion she wore a rhinestone necklace and matching earrings, a gift of the bridegroom. She carried a Colonial bouquet of gardenies, white carnations and snapdragons.

Donna Carlson of East Lansing was maid of honor and Joyce Butler of Lansing, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid. Miss Carlson wore a ballerina length gown of rose net and taffeta, a headdress of net and sweetheart roses and carried a Colonial bouquet of Red Rapture roses and sweetpeas.

Miss Butler's gown was styled similar to the honor attendant's in a deep blue shade. She wore a matching headdress of net and Red Rapture roses and carried a Colonial bouquet of pink roses and sweetpeas.

John Hicks of East Lansing assisted the bridegroom as best man and ushers were Allen Hansen of Petoskey and Lloyd McGeehan of Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church parlors. Mrs. McGeehan cut the tiered wedding cake and Mrs. Loren Larson of Frankfort presided at the coffee service. Assisting were Mrs. James Courier, Bonnie J. Cunningham and Sally King. The room was decorated in a Christmas motif for the occasion.

Following a wedding trip around Lake Michigan through Wisconsin and Illinois, the couple will be at home in Lansing after Dec. 14. For traveling the bride wore a blue wool suit, matching winter white accessories and a corsage of red sweetheart roses, gardenias and holly.

The bride is a graduate of the Charlevoix high school and the E. W. Sparrow Hospital School of Nursing in Lansing. The bridegroom is a graduate of Ohio University, is a veteran of service with the U. S. Navy and is employed by the U. S. Department of Agriculture in Lansing.

Order Two Supervisors To Levy Tax Voted By Boyne Valley Rural School

Two Charlevoix county supervisors were ordered last week by Judge Charles L. Brown in a writ of mandamus action to levy a special five-mill school tax voted by the Boyne Valley Rural Agricultural School July 14.

Earlier the supervisors, Joseph Topolinski of Boyne Valley township and Sharon Crego of Hudson township had refused to levy the tax on the grounds that there were election "irregularities."

The case was taken to the Charlevoix county circuit court by the school officials where it was heard by Judge Brown in October. The supervisors charged that the election board had originally counted an 80-80 tie vote.

In doubt about four ballots, the board had adjourned until it could get an interpretation as to the legality of the ballots. The final count was interpreted as 79 Yes and 76 no.

The supervisors also chargd election notices were improperly drawn up and that returns were not filed within e five-day period with the county clerk as specified by law.

Judge Brown pointed out that the supervisors did not cherge fraud or did they demand a recount.

He also held that notices of election were not misleading inasmuch as there was only one school in the district and witnesses teatified that they were not mislead.

Compliance with filing returns is in the intent of the law a matter nf direction, the Judge said, and not sufficient grounds to invalidete the election.

Dr. W. F. Hoffman Succeeds Dr. Young In Dental Office

Dr. Walter F. Hoffman, who came here recently from San Diego, Calif., has taken over the dental office and practice left unattended by the departure of Dr. Fred W. Young for California to make his home.

The office is located in the Young builoing at 103 Clinton st.

Dr. Hoffmann received his B.S. and D.D.S. degrees from Marquette University in Milwaukee, Wis., and his master's degree in Public Health from the University of Michigan in 1947.

Following his graduation from dental school he practiced dentistry in Wauwatosa, Wis., until joining the army during World War II. During his 5½ years service he served in Europe and was awarded four battle stars.

Upon returning from the army he joined the Michigan Department of Health, Division of Dentistry, and during this time attended the University of Michigan.

In 1949, he joined the U. S. Public Health Service, working with the Division of Industrial Hygiene in Washington, D. C., and later at the U. S. Marine Hospital at Savannah, Ga., and the U. S. Coast Guard Air Station at San Diego.

Accompanied by his wife, Virginia he came here from San Diega.

City Is Being Decorated For Holiday Season

Charlevoix is taking on a festive air as Christmas trees and street decorations make their appearance and shop windows are decorated for the coming holiday season.

On Tuesday a beautiful Christmas tree made its first appearance in East Park and by tonight should be trimmed with a myriad of colored lights. Earlier overhead street decorations were placed over Bridge st. at all downtown intersection and are lighted. The work on both projects was done by the city utilities crew.

Each day more downtown shops are being decorated in a Christmas motif and filled with countless gifts for giving this Christmas.

Rod, Gun Club Is Host To District M.U.C.C. Meeting

Sixty representatives from seven northern Michigan Conservation Clubs met Tuesday evening, Dec. 2 at the Charlevoix Rod and Gun Club for a district meeting.

Among the notables who were present and addressed the group at which chairman Henry Elzinga of Ellsworth presided were Harry Gaines of Grand Rapids, state secretary of the M.U.C.C.; Ira Bartlett who is in charge of the state's deer herds! Charles Walsh of Roscommon, education director of the Conservation Department; Al Eagle of Gaylord, law enforcement officer for eight northern Michigan counties and Otto Failing, an official of the conservation department.

In reporting the results of the "any deer" season the last three days of the regular season, Mr. Bartlett said that a car check showed an estimated 100,000 were killed during this special season. Of that number 7.8 percent were bucks, 50 percent does and 42.2 percent fawns. A few more doe fawns than buck fawns were killed. Mr. Bartlett, at that time, said it was too early to determine if the special season had accomplished the desired results.

Preceding the meeting a dinner for those assembled for the meeting was served by the Rod and Gun Club Auxiliary.

Del Clow, secretary of District 16, was in Grand Rapids over the week-end to attend a meeting of the board of directors.

Rev. W. N. Carr To Speak At First Baptist Church

The Rev. W. N. Carr, of Detroit, a candidate for the pastorate of the First Baptist church will speak at the 11 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. services of the local church Sunday, Dec. 14.

The Rev. Carr is a candidate for the pastorate left vacant by the resignation of the Rev. L. L. Lewis, who left Dec. 1 for Boon.

A native of Detroit, Rev. Carr is a graduate of Taylor University.

Injured Youths Are Improving

The general condition of Tom Fesserden, 15, and Neil Suomela, 21, who are being treated at the Charlevoix Hospital for injuries received in recent accidents, was slightly improved Wednesday.

Tom, whn suffered a severely shattered lnwer right leg in a hunting accident Nov. 31, was resting more comfortably for the first time.

Neil, who received two dislocated vertabrae in his neck in an outo accident Nov. 26, was to have a neck brace applied Wednesday afternoon.

Charlevoix Garden Club Urges Homes Have Decorations

"Christmas Traditions" was the lesson presented by Mrs. Robert Paul at the regular meeting of the Charlevoix Garden Club at the home of Mrs. Arthur Ranger Tuesday afternonn.

Holiday decnrations were discussed and it was decided to urge local residents to decorate their homes for Christmas but not to offer prizes this year.

The club suggests that everyone have their decorations displayed by December 21 so that everyone can tour the city after attending the fourth annual Community Choir Christmas Vesper concert.

District I.O.O.F. Convention Held Here Saturday

Fifty members of lodges in the northern Michigan erea which compose the I.O.O.F. district Association were here Saturday for the annual district convention.

Russell McKenzie of East Tawas, deputy grand master, addressed the gathering at the high school auditorium Saturday evening. Mearl L. Leach of Petoskey, past grand master, was also present and assisted with the ceremonies.

The initiatory degree was conferred on three candidates from elsawhere in the district.

Ernest Howe, member of the Charlevoix lodge for 40 years, was presented with a 40-year membership pin.

Others whn were elegible but who were not present to receive the pins were Nassau Burns of Zephyrhills, Fla., 50 years; Dan Swartz and D. H. Wood, 45 years; Robert Stafford, P. R. Ross and A. G. Tillotson of Bay Shore, 40 years.

A dinner for the visitors was served at the I.O.O.F. hall by the Rebekah lodge.

Elect Kit Carson New Rod And Gun Club President

Kit Carson was elected president of the Charlevoix Rod and Gun Club at the annual election of officers Thursday night. He succeeds J. C. Marshall.

Other officers are: vice-president, Frank Oleksy; secretary, Richard Fochtman; treasurer, Edward Swanson. The latter two were re-elected to their respective offices.

Two directors were named for three year terms. They were E. W. Miller and Bonnie Nickerson.

The date of the annual dinner was postponed until Jan. 11. after some discussion.

Tentative plans were made for the annual feather party at the V.F.W. hall on Dec. 22.

Local Musicians To Appear On CBS Radio-TV Program

Two Charlevoix musicians, members of the Intercollegiate Stompers will appear on Arthur Godfrey's Talent Scouts at 8:30 p.m. E.S.T., Monday, Dec. 15.

The local boys are Nick Hamilton of the Charlevoix Courier staff and Bob Shanahan, a student at the University of Michigan.

The six-piece Dixieland combo auditioned for the nation-wide television and radio show earlier this fall and were promised a holiday engagement.

News of the Monday appearance came in a telephone call frnm Bob in Ann Arbor late last night.

Nick and Bob, accompanied by a third member who is a student at the U. of M., plan to leave Friday for the New York appearance with the Talent Scouts.

on her deck, a crows nest, radio aerials and other details. There are also several older ships including a square-rigger.

He once tried making miniature ships and putting them in bottles but that didn't offer much of a challenge, ha said.

No ona is better qualified to modal boats than Cept. Moore for he sterted his career es a deck hand on ths Great Lakes at tha age of 13 yeers. His first job, he recalls, was with the Humes brothers, wal-known hara as Great Lekas sailors, who operatad boats of various tonnege in and out of every harbor on the lakes. Tha highlight of that first summer on the lakes was tha Fourth of July celebration in Milwaukeo where they tiad up for the holiday, ha recalls.

The next year he sailed aboard the O. M. Nelson with Capt. Peter Hansen of Washington Island. On their last trip of the season the ship went aground on Death's Door reef and was lost. Winter set in soon after and he had to spend the winter with Capt. Hansen and his family on Washington Island.

The next two summers were spent aboard various sailing vessels and the winters as an assistant cook in lumber camps.

The summer he was 17, he met the Busch family of St. Louis, Mo., summer residents here, when he rescued their child who had fallen from the Belvedere dock. In graditude, they invited him to St. Louis and offered him a job. He went to visit them that fall, looked the job over, and, as he says, it looked like hard work so he found his own job . . working in the Locust st. roller rink in St. Louis.

This job introduced him to a sport popular at that time which was to bring him international fame.

At work he took to skating as a duck to water and shortly was attracting the attention of older and more experienced skaters.

In 1903, whan ho was 20 years old, he onterad the roller skating races at the old St. Louis Exposition building. Hora ha met Harley Davison, intarnational roller-skating champion, and joined his loam. This Davison, Capt. Moore states, is not to be be conlused with the Davisor who later perfected the motorcycle.

He stayed with Davison's team for a season, traveling to all the major cities in the country for exhibitions.

Both Davison and Moore entered the open championship meet in Chicago that year, the first time they had raced as competitors. Davison successfully defended his title but in second place was Moore.

Six months later in 1904 they met again in St. Paul, Minn., and here Moore defeated Davison for the roller-skating championship of the world, a title he was to hold against all comers for nine years.

The pair remained friends despite their rivalry and a few years latar want to Australie for the Burns-Johnson heavy-weight title bout. Whils there thay presented roller-skating exhibitions.

After returning home from the trip, Moore found his way to London where he skated before royalty in London and on the islands of the English channel. While in Londnn, Davison challenged him and they skated in a title race which Davison won after Moore lost a roller. With each claiming the title, they parted and did not meet again until 1914. Moore successfully defended his title in Cincinnati that year but was defeated in Detroit. His last major appearance as a skater was in New York where he placed second in a 24-hour skating marathon later that year.

After losing the titla, ha returnad to his first love . . . selling, a work he had followed when not skating. Whila in Datroit in 1920, ha built his first boet, a flat-bottom square-rigger, called the Golden Rula which was his homa for aight years. During the summar months it was anchored in Laka Charlavoix and in tha winter was tiad up in Detroit. In 1928 he sold tha boat to Earl A. Young, who had it on tha beach at Bouldar Park for many yaars.

Later he built another sailing vessel, the Friendship, which was lost in a storm on Lake Huron in the fall of 1930. Moore and his wife were rescued by a passing freighter but the boat was wrecked after drifting to the Canadian shore.

About 20 years ago he took over as skipper of the late S. T. Gilbert's yacht, the Sylvia G., a job he held for nine years. For the past eight years he has skippered the sailing yacht, Panchera, owned by Judge Robert S. Marx of Cincinnati, which now calls Charlevoix its home port. Capt. Moore says that Judge Marx is becoming very proficient at the wheel of the ship and that he's apt to find himself without a job. Capt. Moore not only sails the ship, however, but cares for it, laying it up in the fall and rigging it out in the spring. During the summer he calls upon the knowledge learned in the logging camp and does the cooking aboard the boat.

At the present timo, ha and Mrs. Moore are preparing for their anrual trek to Folrida where they will spend sevaral weeks before winter breaks up and Capt. Moore hurries homo to his beloved boat.

Ageless in his appearance, his sharp blue eyes, quick wit and manner of speaking gives one the impression that he will go on forever.

In his 69 years he has probably worked a greater variety of living than most men could in a dozen life-times..

Mrs. Edna Thomas Dies Following A Long Illness

Mrs. Edna Marie Thomas, 46, died Friday at the Charlevoix Hospital where she had been a patient for one day. She had been in ill health for several years.

Funeral services were held at the See Funeral Home Monday with the Rev. Lloyd Schloop officiating. Burial was in Greensky Mission cemetery.

Born in Charlevoix March 17, 1906, Mrs. Thomas had spent her entire life in this community.

Surviving are a sister, Mrs. Florence Sitzema, of Elk Rapids and an uncle Edward Walker of Cherlevoix.

Weed seed organic matter and mixed varieties in cheap seed can undo a big part of the summer's work.

Card of Thanks

We wish to thank our many friends and neighbors for their kindness and thoughtfulness during the illness and death of our husband and father, Mr. Eugene Lewis. We thank the entire hospital staff, Dr. Grate and the pallbearers for their kindness.

Hearing Friday For Floyd Rice On Murder Charge

A hearing in the case of Floyd Rice, 61, of Ferndale, charged with the murder of Clyde Hughes, 47, also of Ferndale, at Boyne City Nov. 30, has been set for 10 a.m. Friday.

At that time Rice will appear before Justice H. E. Paddock for the examination he demanded last week.

A. T. Washburne of Petoskey has been engaged as his attorney.

Rice admits shooting his good friend and hunting companion while the pair were spending the week-end at Boyne City while on a hunting trip. However, he states he shot Hughes in self defense.

Seed that is wonderful in Ontario may not germinate well in Michigan; sed that Minnesota farmers like may not be disease-resistant in Michigan; seed that wins praise in Pennsylvania may be a low-producer in Michigan. Out-of-state seed that is proven for Michigan will be handled by reputable seed dealers.

Michigan Mirror

INTERPRETING THE NEWS

by Gene Alleman

If G Mennen Williams is reinstated as governor by the recount, there may be a truce flag in the offering.

For four years now our Democratic governor and his Republican legislature have been bumping heads over a tax program. The lawmakers won't accept Williams' corporation tax program. Republican loophole plugging Williams won't sit still for the plans of the legislature.

The result is a $65,000,000 deficit. The state is broke.

Now that Auditor General John B. Martin has announced publicly that the state will be able to meet only half of its $40,000,000 payments to local school districts in January, all hands recognize a financial crisis of the first magnitude has finally arrived.

Bickering and haggling will benefit neither side, as the last four years have determined. The hour for action is upon us. But how can the governor and the legislature compromise their opposing tax views.

As soon as the recount is over, Williams . . . if he winds up again in the gubernatorial chair . . . is expected to take the lead in suspending hostilities.

He is sure to thump again for a corporation tax as the simplest solution to the money problem. But he may offer Republicans a chance to offer a better answer, so long as it is not a personal income levy or a nuisance tax on soda pop, motels etc.

IT MUST he remembered that four years ago when the corporation tax was first proposed, many Republicans favored it. Confident of its passage the governor then began pounding the drum on Democratic achievements and expounding on what the Democrats were doing for the "common man."

The Republicans voted against the bill in a body and have continued to do so since.

The Republican plan of tightening existing tax laws and plugging a few loop-holes was stymied by the Williams veto.

But now in this great new era of enforced co-operation, Williams may well suggest a combination of the Democratic-sponsored corporation profits levy and one or two other revenue ideas suggested by the Republicans.

What happens after that appears to be up to the Republicans. Will they accept the compromise or again defy the governor?

If the governor does make a serious effort to restore harmony in our politically-split state government, Republicans might well take another look at his program. They may find him ready to meet them half-way in working out some acceptable money-raising program.

Such a compromise won't be easy. Too many harsh words have been tossed about in the last four years. But an attempt, any attempt, at compromise is encouraging.

ALTHOUGH the results of this year's three-day open season on does have not been properly tabulated and evaluated, it would appear that the conservation department had been right all along in its battle for discretionary powers to set seasons and bag limits according to the requirements of the individual areas.

When the doe season was announced a large wail went up about "those mother deer" and the large number of hunters who would be shot.

Despite good reports from Wisconsin which already had experimented with a doe season, the legislature was reluctant to give up its powers over the hunting laws.

This year 250,000 hunters took out 91,000 deer. The hunter kill was no larger than in other years despite the record number of men in the woods.

Michigan now has a larger deer herd than it had 50 years ago. For the first time in 60 years deer have been seen in northern Indiana. Yet the sobbing about shooting does and fawns has been echoing the length and breadth of the state.

For the last three years Michigan has had mild winters, with relatively little snow. The deer herd multiplies and few are killed by winter starvation. Last year only 10,000 deer died of winter kill. Year before that some 40,000 starved to death.

But remember the winter of 1947 and 48? That year 110,000 deer were counted dead in the woods.

Patronize your hometown merchants this Christmas.

Engagement Is Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Albert E. Shaw announce the engagement of their daughter, Marcella, to Marvin G. Lautner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Angus Lautner of Traverse City.

The bride-elect is a graduate of the Charlevoix high school and is employed by the Kroger Co. in Traverse City.

Mr. Lautner, a graduate of the Traverse City high school, was discharged from the army in October after serving in Korea. He is employed at the State hospital store in Traverse City.

The couple has not completed wedding plans.

State Conservation Body Will Discuss Hunting Regulation

Discussions of Michigan's first "any deer" hunting regulation and the predator control system are expected to occupy much of the conservation commission's time when it meets here December 14-15.

But numerous other items are also listed for commission consideration, among them proposed acquisition of fishing sites on Manistee River and Frenchmen's Creek, Otsego county and on Big Star Lake, Lake county. The Big Star Lake site purchase was tabled at November's meeting with further discussion planned this month.

Also, recommended purchases of 685 acres of game lands are listed for consideration. Total cost of the lands is about $29,000, with federal Pittman-Robertson funds slated to pay the lion's share.

State bear hunting policies will be reviewed. A staff committee will make recommendations on the complex problem as requested at an earlier commission meeting.

The fish division is asking continuation of the system of rewards for return of tagged lake trout. Payments totaling $24 have been made this year for 11 tag-bearing trout turned in to the department.

Other business includes sale of buildings and land at Fennville state game area, land exchanges within administered units and a boundary change at Nayanquing Point wildlife area.

Incomplete Records Say 15 Were Killed In Hunting Season

Lansing — At least 15 persons were killed and 63 wounded by gunshot during Michigan's 1952 deer season, November 15-30, according to reports received by the conservation department.

However, either of those two figures could increase during the next few weeks and department officials emphasized that field reports on all accidents would not be complete for at least a month.

Those who died in traffic accidents, by drownings and heart attacks, though often listed as hunting victims, were of course not included.

Last year, 13 persons were killed and 54 wounded during deer season. In 1950, the total was 18 killed, 55 wounded . . . highest in recent years. Since 1940, the average yearly number of persons killed by gunshot during deer seasons stands at slightly more than 13.

Farmers' Week To Be Feb. 9 To 13

Annual Event To Be Held In Charlevoix Gym

The second annual Little Farmer's Week will be held February 9-13 Ed Rebman, county agricultural agent, announced today. The programs will again be held in Charlevoix but this time they will be held in the high school auditorium.

Charlevoix county is again co-operating with the other four counties in this area, Emmet, Cheboygan, Presque Isle and Otsego, to bring the farmers this Little Farmers Week. Everyone who attended last year requested the extension office to continue the program again in 1953.

The programs will be as follows: On Monday will be Jim Hays and Don Murray on dairy. Tuesday will be barn yard economics. Wednesday, forestry and agricultural engineering will present the program, Thursday will be crops and soils day and Friday will be animal husbandry. It is also planned that there will be a program on one of these days especially for the ladies. Mrs. Emma Reinbold, home demonstration agent, is working on this part of the program.

Lawnmower Can Be Used As Wheelbarrow

Don't break your back because there's no wheelbarrow handy, counsels Alan Farrant of California.

Just turn your lawnmower over, place a box on the lower part and let it rest on the handle. Nail a couple of cleats along the bottom of the box to form a groove for the mower handle—and you're all set.

Your local merchants would like a chance to plsase you; Shop Charlevoix.

Don't Guess If Stock Is Sick

Farmers can be fooled by new turns taken by some livestock diseases. Call a veterinarian if any stock shows weight loss, fails to eat, runs a temperature or has blood in urine or milk, warns Dr. Glen W. Reed, Michigan State College veterinarian. Trace minerals in feed won't check dairy cow brucellosis either, he advises.

There have been Michigan reports of the cattle disease, leptospirosis, shifting to hogs and sheep. Later this winter dairymen can expect more ketosis. So far, Reed knows of no Michigan cases of dairy calves catching Newcastle disease from poultry, as reported in Rhode Island.

The safest way to check losses of adult and young stock, and from abortions, is to see your veterinarian for all necessary vaccinations and call him immediately if you suspect any stock disease. Antibiotics may help if you call your veterinarian in time.

Detroit Man Named Head Of MSC Fund

East Lansing — John J. Korney, Detroit, has been elected chairman of the Michigan State College Fund board of trustees for the 1953 year.

Korney, a graduate of M. S. C. in 1931, succeeds Lewis A. Smith, Grosse Pointe, as head of the Fund which is M. S. C.'s permanent fund-raising organization. Its revenues are used for research, scholarships and special projects in many areas of the college.

The now chairman is affiliated with the Commonwealth Bank of Detroit; is a past president of the Detroit chapter of the American Institute of Banking; and is a past secretary of the Michigan Junior Chamber of Commerce. He is also a graduate of the Univesity of Detroit College of Law.

Farmers Warned To Have PMA Practices Finished By Dec. 31

To be eligible for assistance under the 1952 Agricultural Conservation program approved soil and water conservation practices must be completed not later than December 31, 1052, says LeRoy Hardy, chairman of the Charlevoix County PMA committee.

Hardy said that a total of 489 farmers signed up to co-operate in the 1952 ACP. At the time they signed up they listed the conservation practices they intended to carry out this year. Assistance under the ACP was approved for those practices which were considered to be the ones most needed on the farm to check soil losses and make the land more productive.

PMA committeemen are visiting each farm in the county to enable each farmer to report the performance for 1952 as well as to help each farmer in determining the conservation needs on his farm for 1953, and then to acquaint the farmer with the assistance and services available to help meet these needs.

To illustrate, the chairman points out that under the 1953 Agricultural Conservation Program assistance is available to take care of part of the cost of carrying out the most needed conservation practice or practices on the farm. The assistance provided under ACP is being used for those practices which will continue to protect and improve the land in years to come.

Also, conservation farming is being expanded to millions of acres of land that have not been protected in the past. More acres under conservation and more permanent type practices in 1953 will mean more conservation for each dollar of funds used in assisting farmers.

The deadline for the report of 1952 performance and for the 1953 ACP sign-up is December 31, 1952. Farmers are urged to see that this date finds them with the report of their 1052 performance given to the committeeman or brought into the office and their farm plan on paper. If any farmer is not contacted by the community committeeman the chairman or the secretary will be glad to help him with both if he will come into the office.

County Man Wins Third Place In Speech Contest

Winners of the speaking contest sponsored by the State Association of Soil Conservation Districts have been announced by Herbert Van Aken of Eaton Rapids, association president. Cash awards will be given at the Association's annual meeting during Farmer's week, Jan. 26-30 at Michigan State College.

Kenneth Van Hoesen of Horton's Bay, representing the Charlevoix district placed third.

The speech subject was "The Job Ahead in My Soil Conservation District". The contest was open to soil district co-operators, directors and members of their families.

Carl R. Nelson of RR 3 Traverse City, a co-operator in the Leelanau district won first place and by winning advanced to the national contest to be held in Omaha early in February. Second place went to John Halsey, RR 2 Charlotte, now a student at Michigan State College.

Tells Of Methods To Produce Top Dairy Products

Good quality milk and cream is being produced by clean healthy cows in Charlevoix county, where farmers are aiming at more dairy profits, advises Ed Rebman, county agricultural agent. Clean equipment used in handling milk and prompt cooling and storing of milk at below 50 degrees fahrenheit also helps.

Farmers who clipped cows in November will clip them again in February to make it easier to keep them clean and cut bacteria and sediment in milk supplies. Some dairymen clip animals all over for cleanliness and lice control; others clip at least the udder and flank areas.

Dairy utensils are being washed after use and sterilized before use by careful farmers. They use chlorine solutions of 100 parts per million strength as a sterilizing agent. They have found that stronger solutions cause a milk-chlorine film that is hard to remove. Farmers find it helpful to keep inflations and milk hoses of milking machines clean by boiling them in a lye solution a few minutes each week.

Bacteria counts are lowest where milk is cooled quickly to below 50 degrees fahrenheit and stored at that temperature until it is picked up daily. The best cream producers market cream at least twice a week.

Conservation Men Report Statistics For Deer Hunting

Lansing — Conservation department personnel delivered 149 emergency messages to hunters during the November 15-30 deer season.

And six elk were shot, 338 illegal deer recovered and 1,273 arrests made for conservation law violations.

The message service is set up each pear in co-operation with the state police department. Hunters in the northern wilds are contacted in event of emergency at home.

Other sidelights to the deer season include Straits traffic; by evening of the season's final day, hunters carried 8,369 deer, 393 bear, 59 coyotes, five wolves, 27 bobcats and 17 foxes southward on Straits' ferries. And 25 deer were taken northward over the Straits during the northern lower peninsula's "any deer" season.

Old Fungus Pops To Make Trouble For Potato Growers

East Lansing—Some new findings about an old fungus that is popping up to menace potatoes in Michigan was explained Wednesday morning (December 10) at the Kellogg Center, Michigan State College. Dr. J. H. Muncie of the MSC botany department, spoke at the second day's session of the Michigan Seed Producers and Dealers conference. His topic was "New Potato Diseases and Sprays."

Verticillium wilt, which has not been active for several years, is making inroads into northern Michigan and Upper Peninsula potato fields. It is of particular interest in the potato seed-growing areas.

Carried in the soil, the fungus is closely related to peppermint wilt, which has been bothersome for a number of years. The potato form of the fungus is adapted to the cool climates of Michigan.

Soil treatments so far have not succeeded, reports Dr. Muncie, and the main attack of science on the disease is to breed varieties for resistance. Experiments are being carried on by the Michigan Agricultural Experiment Station. He expects that test plots will be established in the spring in both Northern Michigan and the Upper Peninsula.

When the stem ends of potatoes hit by verticillium wilt are cut, a brown ring shows, but this symtom may be hidden until a buyer clips some samples and the grower takes a loss. Yellowed foliage, another symptom, is confusing as it can also be caused by dry weather and frost. The disease is gaining in Michigan.

Potato growers registered with the certified seed service, headed by Henry C. Moore, MSC farm crops department, are helping in the fight. Workers hope next year to find a way to differ between wilt yellowing and natural yellowing in order to spot the disease easier and help eliminate it. Growers in Charlevoix county are urged by Ed Rebman, county agricultural agent, to aid in this fight.

Take care to use oven glassware in the oven only. Use over direct heat only glass that is definitely labeled "flameware," warn Michigan State College home economists.

Michigan assistence arrives in the birthplace of Christianity. Here is a daily scene at the Food Distribution Center in Akaba Camp, Jericho, Jordon. In addition to milk, these children also receive sustenance from beans and other produce supplied last year by Michigan farmers. The camp, which has a population of 22,000 people, is composed mainly of tattered tents which barely keep out the winter wind and cold. Thanks to Michigan farmers these people, half of whom are under 15 years of age, receive beans and milk through the Christian Rural Overseas Program. Such scenes as this will be repeated this year as a result of the 1952 CROP campaign being conducted in Michigan this fall.

Bumper Crops TAKE A LOT OUT OF YOUR SOIL

Bigger yields from improved crop varieties and hybrids take more plant food out of your soil. As organic matter disappears, soil gets harder to plow, erodes more, soaks up less rain. Prompt manure spreading puts back most of the plant food that feed crops take out, prevents loss through fermenting and leaching. The organic matter in manure makes soil easier to work, helps prevent erosion, and lets your fields soak up more rain for future use.

Tip-Off To First Victory

Dave Glassford (15) Rayder center and Don Arner (30) of the Ramblers jump for the initial tip-off in the Rayder-Boyne City game played at Boyne City Friday night.

Poised for the play were: Dean Davenport (far left) Denny Pratt of Boyne City, Bill Bernett, Rayder forward, Shorty Smith (back to camera) Bob Fairchild, Rambler forward, Bill Mosier and Roger Pouquette, of Boyne City.

Rayders Get Off To Good Season Start

The Charlevoix Rayders opened their 1952-53 basketball season Friday by defeating Boyne City 49-34 on the Ramblers' floor.

Starting for the Rayders were Bill Bennett, Dean Davenport, Dave Glassford, Jim Lewis and Bill Mosier.

Both teams got off to a slow start with Bennett scoring first on a free throw for the Rayders, Davenport dumped in the first field goal before Bennett dropped in another free shot and a field goal and Lewis scored two points and Glassford and Mosier one each on free throws as the period ended 9-8 in the Rayders favor.

Starting for Boyne City were Ron West, Roger Pouquette, Don Arner, Shorty Smith and Denny Pratt. They had scored three field goals and two free throws for their eight points.

Duane Walker, up from the Reserves, made his first appearance with the Varsity in the first period.

Charlevoix chalked up ten points in the second period to take a 19-14 half-time lead. Gordon Mol replaced Bennett and Mark White went in for Glassford to start the second period. Davenport scored five points on two field goals and one free throw and Mosier scored three points; Lewis scored one from the floor for two points as the half ended. Tom LaBlance joined the line-up in the second period.

Boyne City's scoring was limited to one field goal and four gift shots. Mert Erber, Merle Karlson and Bob Fairchild joined the Rambler ranks in this period.

Bennett returned to the game after the half and racked up eight points on three field goals and two gift shots; Davenport dropped two long ones from the floor for four points and Lewis dropped a free throw to make it another 13 points and a 32-21 lead.

Boyne City had scored two field goals and three free shots for seven points.

As the last period wore on Coach Del Terrill substituted freely. Bennett scored two long ones plus one from the key; Lewis, Glassford and Mosier tallied two each on field goals; Davenport scored one from the free throw line and LaBlance dropped five free throws in six tries for 17 points and the game.

Jack Denemy, Carl Foster and Bill Golden joined the line-up in the last quarter.

Boyne City had had their quarter with 13 points on five field goals and three gift shots.

Bennett led the scoring with 17 points; Davenport followed with 12; Lewis had seven; Mosier and LaBlance five each and Glassford three.

Arner was top scorer for the Ramblers with 14 points.

At times the Rayders looked very good but inexperience and new rules combined to slow the game.

Little Rayders Defeat Boyne Reserves 41-31

The Charlevoix Reserves opened their regular season against the Boyne City Reserves Friday night as a preliminary to the Varsity game and tallied win No. 1 by taking the Rambler Reserves 41-31.

Many new faces appeared in the line-up as well as on the bench as a large group of freshmen, playing their initial game, were listed in the line-up. In the starting line-up for instance, were four freshmen, Bob Mathews, Quint Walker, Charles Dennis and Guy Swanson, whose only experience had been in intramural games, and Gene Towsley a sophomore.

In the game, played at Boyne City, the scoring in the first period was close all the way as Towsley scored three field goals Dennis and Swanson scored two points each on gift shots and Mathews and Walker scored one each as the period ended 12-11. Boyne City had scored five field goals and one free throw.

Each team scored six points in the second period as the half ended 19-17.

Dick Elzinga, who had entered the game in the second period, scored two field goals and Walker tallied one point.

Seeing action in this period were Gerry Foster, Ron Albright, Walt Pouquette, John Connolly and Bill Haggerd.

The Charlevoix team took command of the game in the Charlevoix Rayders Will Play East Jordan On Friday Night

As the Northern Michigan Class C conference basketball season goes into its second week, Boyne City will travel to Gaylord, Pellston will play at Mancelona and Charlevoix will host East Jordan.

The Harbor Springs Rams, who played at Ellsworth Tuesday night, do not have a Friday game scheduled.

Boyne City, downed last week 49-34 by Charlevoix in its opening game, will be meeting the Gaylord quintet which is rated as one of the strongest in the league. The Blue Devils trailed Harbor Springs for three periods last week before putting on a burst of strength which gave them a 5-point win over the Rams. The Ramblers can develop into a serious threat before the season gets too far along but at the present time Gaylord should have little trouble with them.

At Mancelona the Ironmen will be playing their first game of the present season against Pellston, which was downed by East Jordan 48-25 last week.

Coach Bill Sunstrom has not named his starting line-up but is expected to open with Earl LeDere at center, Doug Wickstrom and Gary Lucas at the forward positions. Guards will probably be Yousef Jabara and Dick Derrer, who has recovered from a lower leg fracture received during the football season.

Last Week With Class "C" Teams

Six of the seven Northern Michigan Class C teams made their initial appearances in loop play Friday and basketball fans for the first time, got a look at the teams the coaches have kept in wraps until now.

In the closest game played Friday night, Gaylord defeated Harbor Springs 53-48 after the Rams had led for better than three periods. In other games East Jordan won over Pellston 47-25 and Charlevoix defeated Boyne City 49-34. Mancelona did not play.

If these games can be accepted as an indication of what to expect later in the season, the fight for the league title will be a close race all the way with Gaylord, Harbor Springs, East Jordan and Charlevoix the chief contenders. How Mancelona will fit into the picture will not be known until after their first game against Pellston this week.

Harbor Springs, which won one game last season can probably be listed as the most improved team in the league. On Friday night they showed their power by leading Gaylord, one of the top squads in the loop, for three periods before the loss of two regulars via the foul route began to weaken the team and the Blue Devils dropped 18 points in the last period for the game.

The Rams held on a one-point 13-12 quarter lead and stretched it to three at the half, 23-20. They were still ahead 39-34 as the third quarter ended and Frank Granstra left the game on fouls. Stan Pifer who scored 21 points for the Rams, was pulled out after a fifth foul midway in the last period. Frank Karwoski, Gaylord guard, poured in 14 points in the last period to put the game on ice for his team. Karwoski's total count for the game was 27 points.

East Jordan 47 Pellston 25

East Jordan got off to a slow start and held only a 9-8 lead at the end of the first period. They found their stride after that, however, and went ahead 24-12 at the half and 37-15 at the third period. Keith Evans paced the scoring for the Jordanites while Ron Wilson tallied seven for Pellston.

Lancers Defeat Bellaire 59-24 For Third Win

Ellsworth — The Ellsworth Lancers continued their winning ways as they copped their third game of the season last Friday night when they defeated the Bellaire Eagles 59-24.

Ellsworth, which has more balance than most teams of its size Coach Inman has 16 candidates out for basketball) illustrated this balance by starting with three of the highest scorers on the bench and kept there the full first half.

The reserves added No. 19 to their winning streak by a score of 43-33.

Don't forget the big Homecoming game this Friday night when Ellsworth plays Elk Rapids on the East Jordan floor, to accomodate the expected crowd of fans and former graduates of Banks School.

Lancers Defeat Harbor Springs

Ellsworth — The Ellsworth Lancers racked up another win Tuesday night by defeating Harbor Springs 48-30 on the home floor.

Henry Klooster paced the scoring for the Lancers with 14 points as his team led 6-5 at the quarter; 20-15 at the half and 37-24 at the third period.

Frank Granstra scored eight and Stan Pifer seven points for the Rams.

New Basketball Rules Adopted To Reduce Fouling

The free throw, always an important scoring weapon in high school basketball, will become even more important this season with the adoption of three major rule changes, basketball fans will find when they attend the Rayder's games.

The rules, adopted recently by the Michigan State High School Athletic association, are designed to cut down on fouling, which has been on the increase in recent years. The changes were recommended by the National basketball rules committee.

1. The first 29 minutes of play (there are 32 minutes in a game), on any one-shot personal foul, except on a field goal shooter who is successful in his try, the shooter is awarded another free throw if he misses his first one.

2. In the last three minutes of the game, and in all overtimes, all fouls except technicals, double or multiple fouls, will be considered flagrant fouls and two free shots will be awarded. Fouls against a field goal shooter successful in his try again are excepted.

3. No free throws may be waived. All must be shot.

In explaining the changes, Coach Del Terrill said it is hoped the rule changes will cut down on fouling, especially on intentional fouling in the frantic last few minutes of the game.

With the adoption of rule No. 3, all fouls must be shot and the ball cannot be taken out of bounds as in the past. Generally the team ahead has been taking the ball out of bounds when fouled in the last few minutes so the trailing team is not able to get possession.

Charlevoix To Play East Jordan Friday

Johnny Holstad, the other regular with Derrer from last year's team, who has been laid up with a cracked bone in his ankle, may see limited action as a forward and Harold Patrick may start as a guard.

The Ironmen, strengthened by the unexpected return of the two regulars, Derrer and Holstad, could be a strong team although at the present time their potential is unknown. Pellston, fresh from a trouncing by the Red Devils, could give the Ironmen, playing their first game, a tough time.

The game was scheduled to be played at Pellston but the remodeling of the Pellston gymnasium is not completed so all games are being played away from home until after the holidays.

Charlevoix, the defending champions, will take on East Jordan this week. The two teams are traditional rivals and East Jordan has always seemed to be up for the Rayder games and on occasion has taken them, so the game should be close. Charlevoix, however, with its more experience and taller team should have the edge on the visitors.

Little Rayders Defeat Boyne

third period, tallying 12 points to the Ramblers' six for a 30-23 third period lead. Towsley scored four points on one field goal and two free shots. Welker scored two field goals and Foster one two-pointer.

An additional 11 points for the Rayders to eight for Boyne City gave the local five a 10-point victory as the game ended 41-31.

Elzinga and Walker tallied four points each on field goals; Joe Etienne who entered the game in the last period accounted for another and Pouquette scored one free throw.

Others who made their initial appearance in the line-up were Tom Gibbons, Dave Juilleret, Roger Pashner and Ron Coleman.

Walker paced the scoring with 11 points; Towsley and Elzinga had 10 each; Foster, Dennis, Swanson and Etienne had two each and Mathews and Pouquette one each.

Chub Rothenberger was high point man for Boyne City with ten points.

The Little Rayders will take on the East Jordan Reserves here at 7:15 Friday.

Should Mail Packages and Cards Early

In order to insure delivery of parcels and Christmas cards before Christmas, the postoffice department recommends early mailing, Postmaster Peter H. Timmer, said this week.

In assisting patrons in their mailing schedule, Mr. Timmer has offered the following timetable to insure safe delivery in time for the holidays: Cards and packages with destinations more than a 1,000 miles, by noon Dec. 13; less than 1,000 miles but outside Michigan, Dec. 16; in Michigan but more than 200 miles, Dec. 18 and anything outside Charlevoix Dec. 20.

Cards mailed at the two cent rate are handled as parcels and are not given the preference given first class mail.

In addition to the preferred handling, three cent letters and cards also receive forwarding service without charge in case they cannot be delivered as addressed. Cards carrying two-cent postage, however, when not deliverable as addressed are consigned to waste unless addressee has guaranteed forwarding postage in which case the addressee must pay two cents postage when it is delivered to him. In view of this, the postoffice department urges patrons to send cards at the first class rate.

Those who may be interested in using the Bible or Red Cross commemorative stamp (3c) on their cards are urged to purchase them immediately as the stock is limited.

In mailing packages, and cards, the public can lend a hand by getting their mail on its way during the morning hours. During the Christmas season it requires as much as two hours to assemble the mail on hand and prepare it for dispatch to the train. Therefore it sometimes happens that mail in the office by 1:30 p.m. remains in the office until the next day.

To avoid disappointing anyone be sure your package is wrapped securely and addressed properly.

Dairy farmers who are making a success protect the fine delicate flavor of milk and cream, since the good-flavor helps make additional sales of dairy products.

Ideas Do Not Grow On Christmas Trees

"Seek and you shall find". You can get inspirational gifts and new ideas shopping at Polly Kay. Just in for Christmas are gifts, new on Fifth Avenue, new in Charlevoix at Polly Kay and moderately priced. For instance—

Scarfs — A Christmas novelty in the design of Santa's chimney and packaged in a Christmas card with envelop for mailing. It's a wonderful idea for that "more than a card less then a gift" person on your list. One scarf 1.19, two for 2.25, three or more for 1.00 each.

A large Hokus-Pokus scarf in a bright tinsel trimmed package shines brightly on a Christmas tree and is a joy to any "gal" 3.95. Other pure silk and wool scarfs are priced from 1.25.

Robes — Polly Kay has a new presented challis robe that doubles as a house coat. It's pretty and stylish and also washable and only 11.95. Other robes in silk, wool or flannel are priced from 8.95.

Gloves — A pigskin and string glove is dressy on the hand and grips the car wheel in the palm. It sells for 3.95. It's an all purpose glove, both practical and attractive. She's sure to like it.

Hosiery — One pair free! In a Christmas package you can buy three pair of hose and you get the fourth pair for nothing. Divide the package into two gifts if you like. The quartet is only 4.05. Or buy the "Three for a match" package — 3 stockings for 1.95.

Do you know our fall and winter dresses are all half price now? This is just the time to pick up a new outfit for the holidays. Or you can buy one for your girl's Christmas gift. How about a gift certificate and she can select the one she likes best? Just think, a 30.00 dress for $15.00.

Don't forget Window Day, Dec. 13th. we are giving away a fitted purse, complete with compact, comb and lipstick case. And for the kiddies there is a large stuffed animal. These are free to the holders of the lucky numbers in this week's Courier.

Famous Girls' Team To Play Here Tuesday

Hazel Walker and her Arkansas Travelers will come to Charlevoix next Tuesday for a basketball game with a Charlevoix Independent team in the high school gymnasium at 8:30 p.m.

One of the features of the game will be the free throw exhibition which Miss Walker will present between halves. Never beaten over a six year period and holding the national free-throw championship, Miss Walker will challenge all comers including anyone in the audience.

Another member of the team, Pat Johnson, who missed last year's game because of illness, should prove a great attraction. At one time she played on a team with her five brothers and held her own against all competition. In addition she held a national beauty queen title in 1949.

The Charlevoix team which will meet the Travelers is shaping up with the following slated to play at this time: Chick Gallagher, Bill Lusk, Don Meggison, John Swanson, "Big" Bergmann, Dean Boss and Lewie Brown of Petoskey. There is also a chance that Bill Carey and possibly Chuck Bennett will be here to play with the local quintet.

Ray Kapke and Keith Nickerson will officiate at the game which will start at 8:40 p.m. The doors will open at 7:15 p.m.

Rev. F. R. Brown Jr. To Hold Services

Rev. Flavy B. Brown Jr. will be the special speaker at the Community Church of God, speaking each evening except Saturday this week and next.

Rev. Brown is a graduate of Anderson College and Theological Seminary, Anderson, Ind. He has been traveling throughout the United States for the past four and a half years and recently returned from a speaking tour of Europe.

He will return to Ireland and England for speaking engagements in September, 1953.

Study Clubs To Hold A Combined Christmas Party

Charlevoix's four major study clubs, the Shakespeare club, the Dickens club, the Garden club and the Tuesday Study club, are combining their efforts this Christmas season and are planning one large Christmas tea for all club members to be held at the Congregational church Monday, Dec. 22.

Mrs J. Clark Dolliver, general chairman of the event, called a meeting of club representatives at her home Thursday to complete plans for the party.

At the business meeting she named the following committees: refreshments, Mrs. Robert Paul, chairman, Mrs. F. F. McMillan, Mrs. Glenn See, Mrs. Clarence F. Wood, Mrs. L. E. Grate, and Mrs. Floyd A. Supp; program, Mrs. Kit Carson, chairman, Mrs. E. J. Edwards, Mrs. George Haggard, and Mrs. Charles Bellinger; decorations, Mrs. Arthur Ranger, chairman, Mrs. Ralph Hamilton, Mrs. Harley Ochs and Mrs. Ross Alexander.

Mrs. Mary Trayte, Former Resident, Weds In Florida

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Mrs. Mary Trayte, former resident now living in Fort Myers, Fla., to Arthur Lesperance of Fort Myers on Nov. 15.

The Rev. J. Donaldson Jones performed the ceremony at the Presbyterian church in Fort Myers.

For her wedding the bride chose a white gabardine suit, matching hat and brown accessories and carried a bouquet of roses.

Her only attendant, Mrs Edward Cassels of Fort Myers, wore a dusty rose suit, brown accessories and a corsage of gold mums.

Mr. Cassels assisted the bridegroom as best man.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at the Northside Citizens' League building.

Mr. and Mrs. Lesperance are making their home at North Fort Myers.

Reviewing a Half Century Of Progress

E. J. Hiller, right, of the Charlevoix Lumber Co. and C. L. Johnson, manager here for the Michigan Bell Telephone Co., discuss operation of Hiller's new dial telephone and no doubt do some reminiscing about telephone and service at the turn of the century. The veteran merchant is one of Michigan Bell's oldest subscribers. He has had continuous telephone service since 1907.

Dorothy Temple, William Kane To Wed Next Month

The engagement and approaching marriage of Dorothy Temple of Oden to William Kane, son of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Kane of this city has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Temple of Oden.

The wedding will be an event of Jan. 3 at St. Mary's church in Charlevoix.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Alanson high school and is employed at the Michigan Bell Telephone Company office in Petoskey. Mr. Kane, a graduate of the Charlevoix high school, is attending the University of Alabama.

NW. M.C. Approved For Korean G.I. Bill

College officials announced today that Northwestern Michigan college has been accredited by the State Approving agency for work under Public Law 550, the so-called Korean G.I. bill.

This means that Korean G. I. benefits have been authorized for all courses in the Liberal Arts, Business, Conservation, Agriculture, and Trade and Industry programs. Evening school offerings have been similarly approved with the exception of courses in the Home and Family division.

Approval of institutions in the state for training and education under this bill is under the direction of a State-wide committee on the Approval of Institutions of Higher Education for the Training of Veterans under Public Law 550, eighty-second Congress. A special committee representing Michigan colleges and the State Department of Public Instruction recently visited the local college for approval purposes.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

They'll Do It Every Time

You know where Hammy Jackson lives—on that small dead-end street off Maple Avenue near the library? Well, about a month ago, the town finally put up a sign on the corner there saying: "No thoroughfare . . . Dead End."

Yesterday Hammy dropped by to see us. "Can't understand it," he says. "Hardly anybody drove down our street before—but, now, since they put that sign up, there's been more cars than ever turning around in my driveway."

From where I sit, these people who bother Hammy on his one-way street are the same as those who automatically ignore a Wet Paint sign and touch their finger on a freshly painted surface. But you can't change human nature. People like to find out for themselves—and then make their own decisions.

That's why I say "live and let live." You can drink your buttermilk, but let me have my glass of beer when I choose. And let's not feel we're obliged to "point the way" for the other fellow.

ANTI-RUST FUEL OIL

CONTAINS RD-119 — New Sinclair Scientific Discovery that Stops Rust.

IN ORDINARY FUEL OIL this steel rod is rusted after only a few days in prescribed laboratory test where small proportion of water is added as part of test method. The inside of your steel storage tank rusts the same way because all fuel oil contains minute quantities of water, resulting from moisture condensation.

IN NEW ANTI-RUST SINCLAIR FUEL OIL this steel rod stays clean and rust-free in laboratory test under identical conditions as test at left. That's because RD-119 in the fuel oil prevents rust from forming. RD-119 stops rust in your storage tank, tank trucks and pipe lines in the same way.

Stops Rust that clogs burner nozzles and strainers

Due to the injection of RD-119 at the refinery, Sinclair SuperFlame Fuel Oil now comes to you cleaner and purer than ever. RD-119 stops rust all the way from the refinery to your furnace —— helps prevent the rust particles that clog burner nozzles and strainers. For economical, trouble-free oil heat, phone or write us today.

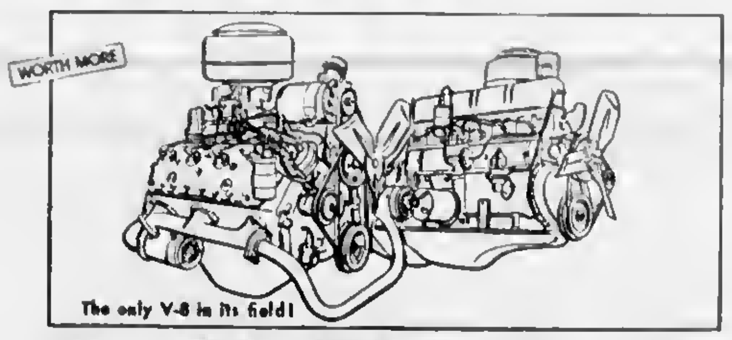
Here Friday! The '53 FORD

Fordomatic Drive, Overdrive, I-REST tinted safety glass, white sidewall tires optional at extra cost. Equipment, accessories and trim subject to change without notice.

The new Standard of the American Road

With 41 "Worth More" features, it's worth more when you buy it...worth more when you sell it!



WORTH MORE
The only V-8 in its field!

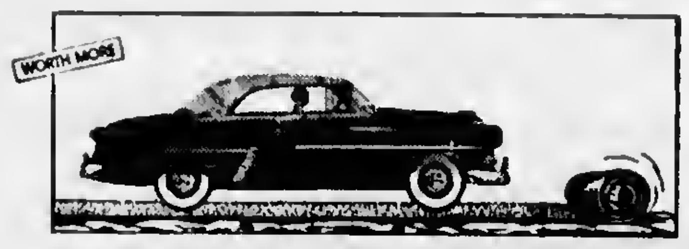
CHOICE OF V-8 OR SIX ENGINES—Ford's 110-h.p. high-compression Strato-Star V-8 has a partner for thrifty "Go" in the 101-h.p. low-friction, high-compression Mileage Maker Six—only modern Six in its field.

Search no more: the car that exceeds your every driving need is making its bow at your Ford Dealer's!

Those of you who have owned Fords in recent years have a hint of the many ways in which this new 1953 Ford sets an entirely new standard for the American Road.

In this new Ford you'll find a new Miracle Ride that sets a new standard of smooth, quiet comfort on level highways or roughest byways. You'll find the easy handling and great visibility you need for today's fast-moving traffic . . . the "Go" to master today's long-distance driving.

See this Ford . . . Value Check its 41 "Worth More" features . . . and Test Drive it. You'll see why this new standard-setting car is worth more when you buy it . . . worth more when you sell it.



New Miracle Ride brings you riding comfort at its level best! Not just softer springs and new shock absorber action, but a smoothly coordinated system of ride control elements that adjusts instantly and automatically to changing road conditions. It's a completely balanced ride . . . a ride that will give you an entirely new concept of driving comfort on level parkways or rough, rutted byways.

Shift to Fordomatic . . . and you'll never shift again. It's the finest, most versatile automatic drive ever. Ford also offers the smooth, thrifty Overdrive.

Key-Release Deck Lid opens automatically on counterbalancing hinges when you turn key. Note big trunk space! Ford's hood is counterbalanced, too!

Full-Circle Visibility gives you an unobstructed view of the road . . . and all the scenery. I-REST tinted safety glass makes driving easier on your eyes.

Center-Fill Fueling prevents hose marks on the finish of your car. No gas spill on fenders. Short gas filler pipe gives you trunk space for an extra suitcase.

Power-Pivot Pedals, suspended from above, operate more easily, eliminate dusty, drafty floor holes, make foot space of the entire floor space.

February 4, 1948

Board of Directors
Charlevoix Hospital
Charlevoix, Michigan

Gentlemen:

For some time it has been our practice to refund, following the end of our fiscal year on February 28, the amount of all lights and water used by the Charlevoix Hospital and nurse's home during that period.

We now regret that due to our higher operating expenses and increased financial responsibilities, we are unable to continue this practice on the same basis as in the past.

Instead of refunding the entire amount, we will make a cash contribution of $1,500. This is approximately the amount which we have previously contributed in the form of a refund.

We trust this arrangement will be satisfactory to you.

CITY OF CHARLEVOIX

Payments to be retroactive to the fiscal year 1950 and to be paid as follows: $1,500 immediately; $3,000 payable March 1, 1953, and $1,500 yearly thereafter payable on September 15th upon receipt of statement from the Hospital.

Motion carried by the following Yea and Nay vote: YEAS: Young, Zeitler, Bellinger, Davenport, Gebeau, and Kipke. NAYS: None. ABSENT: None.

December Should Be A Careful As Well As A Happy Month

Sgt. Harold Moore, commander of the Gaylord State Police post, is reminding motorists and pedestrians that December is not only a happy, but also an extremely hazardous holiday month.

Because of this, police agencies throughout the state are taking part in a special safety campaign emphasizing the importance of extra caution.

"A deadly combination of traffic hazards," Sgt. Moore said, "makes walking and driving especially dangerous. In fact, with the unfavorable weather, longer periods of darkness and the general holiday rush and celebrating, December is regarded as one of the deadliest months of the year. On the basis of miles traveled, it is definitely the deadliest.

"During the past five years nearly 82,000 December traffic accidents have occured in Michigan. They resulted in 752 deaths and 18,973 injuries.

"While there is nothing anyone can do to prevent unfavorable weather or darkness, everyone can avoid being careless if they really try. When walking or driving, allowances should be made for prevailing conditions. Alertness can prevent many tragedies.

"The fact that December should be the happiest, not the deadliest month of the year should cause everyone to work hard at making the holiday season safer for all."

Mrs. H. E. Paddock Gives Her Prize Winning Recipe---Pork Sukiyaki

Charlevoix is known for its good cooks. Among the most recent to receive recognition for her culinary talents is Mrs. H. E. Paddock who has been awarded a prize for a recipe sent from Japan by her son, Vane Smith, AM 3/c, who is stationed there with the U. S. Navy.

A news release from the Chicago Tribune conveyed the newa that she had been awarded a $5.00 prize by the Tribune for her Pork Sukiyaki recipe which appeared in the column conducted by Mary Meade, Tribune cooking editor, on Monday, Dec. 8.

The prize-winning recipe follows:

Pork Sukiyaki

Sukiyaki is one of the most typical dishes of Japan and is usually made of beef, chicken or pork. Other vegetables may be used in place of the ones mentioned in this recipe. For instance, sliced young turnips, carrots or celery could be used in place of radishes or chinese cabbage in place of the bamboo shoots.

3 tbsp. fat or oil.
1 lb. lean pork thinly sliced
1 tsp. kitchen bouquet or soy sauce.
½ cup sliced scallions
1 cup sliced red radishes
1-6 oz. can broiled mushrooms
1½ tsp. salt ¼ tsp. ginger
1-8 oz. can bamboo shoots, drained
½ cup young spinach chopped
3 cups hot, pre-cooked rice.

Heat fat in frying pan or large chafing dish. Add pork and cook over moderate heat until lightly browned, stirring so that meat is cooked on both sides. Stir in kitchen bouquet or soy sauce. Sprinkle scallions over meat, then sprinkle radishes over scallions. Drain mushrooms, cut mushrooms crowns in thick slices, then add sliced mushrooms and mushroom broth to pork. Let cook, uncovered until radishes are harely tender (about 10 minutes). Sprinkle with salt and ginger. Add drained bamboo shoots. Top with spinach. Continue cooking uncovered until the spinach is just steamed through, about five minutes longer. Serve immediately over hot rice.

Saturday will be a big day for the youngsters of Charlevoix and the surrounding communities as Santa returns for his last daytime trip this season.

Under the sponsorship of the Charlevoix Board of Commerce Santa will pay his last visit to the children before hurrying home to the North Pole to prepare for the biggest visit of all on Christmas Eve.

Santa will arrive from the airport at 3 p.m. Saturday afternoon and will distribute bags of candy to all children in East Park.

At the same time he will present the special pedal car to some youngster eight years old or younger for the Charlevoix Retail Merchants association. The car is now on display in the Young building on Bridge st. The winner of the pedal car must be present to receive the car.

In addition thera will be several other gifts given to the little folks.

The pedal car was purchased by the Retail Merchants association and the other gifts are given by members of the Association who did not award their designated gifts during the Window Shoppers' Day last week.

First Window Shoppers' Day Is A Success

The first Window Shoppers' Day, sponsored Saturday by the Charlevoix Retail Merchants association, was very successful, Howard Stephens, chairman of the Association reported this week.

During the one-day shopping event when shoppers matched numbers in shop windows with the number on their copy of the Charlevoix Courier more than 70 percent of the $500 in prizes offered by local merchants were given away.

A variety of prizes from services to merchandise to many gifts were given by fifty local retail merchants. In all more than 80 gifts valued at approximately $500 wara given to local shoppers.

The event drew many shoppers to the business district and offered a lot of fun for the contestants who spent the day searching the windows for the numbers.

Many of the merchants whose gifts were not taken Saturday are now donating similar gifts or cash for additional gifts for the children's drawing at 2 p.m. Saturday when Santa Claus will make his final visit here before the 'big visit' Christmas Eve when he delivers gifts via reindeer and sleigh to all good boys and girls.

Gaylord Beats Pellston 84-46 To Take Lead

Gaylord took over the lead in the Northern Michigan Class C league this week after defeating Pellston 84-46 Tuesday night for a three win-no loss record.

Mancelona by winning over Boyne City 56-50 moved into second place with Charlevoix, which did not play and East Jordan took over third place by defeating Harbor Springs 50-38.

The Blue Devils recked up a high score with Frank Kerwoski leading the way with 22 points as Geylord led 20-9 at tha first period over Pallston: 44-27 at the half and 64-41 at tha third period. John Schauffler acored 14 points for Pellston.

At Mancelona the Ironmen took a 9-7 first period lead over Boyne City but the margin was short-lived as Boyne City took over 20-21 at half-time and 40-36 at the third period. Mancelona made a fast comeback in the last quarter to tie the score and then win by five points. Dick Derrer paced tho scoring with 14 points. Ron West had 13 for the Ramblers.

At East Jordan, the Red Devils had little trouble with the Harbor Springs Rams as they led 9-7 at the first period; 22-17 at the half and 34-28 at the third period. Warren Frank dropped 21 for the victors and Stan Pifer had 11 for the Rams.

'Stompers' Take First Place On Godfrey's Show

The Intercollegiate Stompers, a Dixieland combo, won first place on Arthur Godfrey's Talent Scout show in New York Monday night.

Appearing with the band as drummer and trombone players were two Charlevoix musicians, Nick Hamilton and Bob Shanahan. The latter is a student at the University of Michigan.

As part of their first place reward, the band appeared on Godfrey's daytime show for three mornings beginning Tuesday.

Charlevoix received mention on the Wednesday morning program when Godfrey read a telegram from S. E. Coleman, Board of Commerce secretary, asking him to find out where the boys lived.

As far as is known now, the boys will be home this week-end.

"Do you want the building pictured above and the factory it will house brought to Charlevoix?" is the question the Charlevoix Development Corporation will ask a public mass meeting at the high school assembly hall at 7:30 p.m. tonight (Thursday, Dec. 18.)

The public is uregd to attend the meeting called by Ralph V. Hess, newly-elected president of the local Development Corporation to discuss what muet be done locally to bring the factory here.

The firm which is asking that Charlevoix loan them $15,000 on the $50,000 building at 1½ percent interest is a well-known and well established company with a AAA 1 Dun and Bradstreet rating.

The factory officials are asking the people of Charlevoix to participate in the construetion of the factory as a token of their good will and to prove to the officials that Charlevoix really wants the company to settle here.

The structure in which tha Development Corporation is asking local residents to invest their money by purchasing shares will be of steel, cement, brick and glass firo-proof construction and will be 50 ft. x 140 ft. in size.

As security for the loan of $15,000 on the building, the Charlevoix Development Corp. will receive a first mortgage on the new fire-proof factory building.

The land on which the building will be constructed has already been approved by the factory offiials and will be purchased by the firm at the price quoted by the city.

A subsidiary of the proposed new company already is operating in the Laka Construction building on US 31 north of Charlevoix whera 20 persons are now employed.

The company which proposes building in Charlevoix has the latest and finest in equipment

School Children Give Christmas Musical Tonight

The annual elementary school Christmas program will be presented at the high school auditorium at 8 o'clock tonight (Thursday), C. A. Odmark, director, has announced.

Participating in the spectacle will be 420 children ranging in age from the kindergarten rhythm band through the sixth grade students.

Parents and friends are invited to attend the program as guests of the school.

This year's program titled "Songs of Christmas", will be similar to previous years except that emphasis will be on tha Christmas songs. Many of the familiar carols and hymns will be presented and in additlon there will be several modern Christmas sorgs including "Silvar Bells", "Christmas Chimes" and "Christmas Lullaby".

The kindergarten band, directed by Mrs. Dorothy McRae, and accompanied by Joyce Fiedler, will open the program. Seventy kindergartners will play in the band, which annually has been the "hit of the show".

The playlet, "Songs of Christmas", will then be presented with a chorus of 300 elementary school youngsters directed by Mr. Odmark and Mrs. Bertha Shetterly and accompanied by Mrs. Leonard Burns. All elementary teachers are serving in various capacities in the production.

The playlet will tall tha story of several Christmas songs, thair

Special Yule Services In Churches To Mark Our Saviour's Birth

As the strains of the Christmas carols ring out this holiday season, the thoughts of Christians the world over will turn from everyday things to He whose birthday is celebrated December 25.

As the Star of Bethlehem and the song of the Herald angels called the shepherds and wise men to worship the Child Jesus in the manger at the Inn that first Christmas, so the bells of churches today call the faithful to pay homage to Him this Christmas season in the churches of their choice.

In most churches will be found replicas of the scene of the Nativity, reminding all of His humble birth.

Special Christmas services have been planned at all local cburches so that eacb may worship In his own way on this day.

To those who have no church home is extended an invitation by ministers of all faiths to attend services in any local church.

Methodist Cburch

The Methodist church has been using the entire Christmas season beginning Nov. 30 to sing the carols and prepare for Jesus' birthday.

At the 11 a.m. service Sunday the Rev. Lloyd M. Schloop's sermon title will be "Let Us Go Over to Bethlehem."

At 7:30 Sunday evening the children of the Church school will present a pageant "Peace to Earth". Mrs. Joseph Arvilla, assisted by Mrs. Carlton Ikens, is in charge of the preparations, A children's choir will sing the traditional carols. A white gift offering for the Children's Village and the Church School Christmas tree will follow the pageant.

For Christmas Sunday the church will be decorated with evergreen boughs and a manger at the foot of the altar.

Congregational Church

The celebration of Christmas week, the Congregational church will begin with Christmas Sunday worship service at 11 a.m. The minister, the Rev. Harold Kohn, will preach the Christmas sermon on "God's Small Beginnings". The Christmas anthems will be sung by the Junior and Senior choirs and the Little Cherub choir will also make an appearance. The congregation will sing the joyous Christmas carols.

At 6 p.m. Sunday, the Sunday school Christmas program will be presented. The tiny tots of the nursery, beginners and primary departments will sing and present their recitations of Christ-

Community Choir Concert To Be Sunday

The Charlevoix Community Choir will present its third annual Christmas Vesper Concert at 4 p.m. Sunday in the high school auditorium.

As in the past, the forty-voice choir, directed by C. A. Odmark, will sing the finest of Christmas choral literature ranging from Praetorius, Seventeeth Century, "Lo, How a Rose" to the modern Appalachian Carol, "I Wonder as I Wander". Also included are representative numbers from France, Russia, Germany, England and the United States.

The choir this year will be augmented by a Connsonata electric organ being brought here through the courtesy of Joseph Hanna of Hanna's Music Shop in Petoskey. Mr. Hanna will accompany the choir in the Christmas Carol group and in the two choruses from Handel's Messiah.

Another feature of the program will be a violin solo played by Mr. Odmark and accompanied by the pianist, Mrs. Leonard Burns, and the cheir.

Program for the third annual concert follows: "Silent Night", Gruber; "Away in a Manger", Mueller; "O Little Town of Bethlehem", Redner.

"Break Forth, O Beauteous Heavenly Light", Bach; "Lo, How a Rose E'er Blooming", Praetorious; "Ave Verum," Mozart.

"Virgin's Slumber Song", Reger; "I Wonder as I Wander", Appalachian carol; "An Legend",

County Unable To Fill Quota For Next Month

For the second month Charlevoix county will be unable to fill its draft quota, Mrs. Cornelia Barber, draft board clerk, said this week.

The draft quota for January was set for three men. However, there are no 20 year old registrants available to fill the quota.

Only five men were available to fill the 10-man December quota.

Ten men, all from the 19-year old age group, will be called for pre-induction physicals in January.

The names of the men will be announced following a meeting of the draft board this week.

Ministers Make Christmas Plans

The Charlevoix Ministerial association, at its last meeting, completed plans to prepare a store window in Charlevoix depicting the true spirit of Christmas. The idea grew from a suggestion made by the local Kiwanis club to bring Christ back into Christmas.

Special Christmas music and choir selections, compiled on a tape recording by the various local churches will be broadcast three times daily over a public address system for the three days preceding Christmas.

Laverne Heise's Condition Better

The condition of Laverne Heise 44, who was admitted to the Charlevoix hospital Monday night for medical treatment was slightly improved Wednesday, his family reported.

Michigan Mirror
INTERPRETING THE NEWS

by Gene Alleman

SOME 22 Months ago a nervous and confused young father touched a match to a pile of maps and started the $4,500,000 state building fire.

Michigan's state government is just beginning to recover from the holocaust.

In the last few weeks the Insurance, Agriculture and Public Service departments have moved into the top floor of the building, and by January the top three floors will be occupied.

The young father is in Jackson State prison, divorced from his young wife and baby. It all began Feb. 8, 1951 on a cold, quiet afternoon. Richard C. Shay, a plump, smooth-faced minor employe of the state highway department was worried about his draft status. Shay, then 19 years old, had a pretty blond wife and a seven-months old daughter.

"I was afraid to go to war," he said afterwards. "I just didn't see any reason for spending two years in training."

He planned to start a small fire where he worked on the mezzanine floor and later confess to it. "I thought if I admitted it I'd be placed on probation and wouldn't have to go in the army," he told detectives.

The young man touched off a map in one of the storage bins of the highway department. Then he went to lunch.

FIFTEEN firement were injured in the spectacular blaze and Shay's match set off a chain reaction that partially paralyized state government.

Most of the 1,300 employes were at lunch when the fire began. They returned to pick up papers, typewritters and anything else they could lay hands on and retreat from the smoking building.

The fire didn't look like much at first, just a few spirals of smoke from the mezzanine floor, which actually was a floor between floors. Before it was over fire rigs from Flint, Jackson, Battle Creek and Grand Rapids had answered emergency calls.

"We could smell the rubber burning on our coats," a fireman said. "We could stand the smoke but not the terrific heat."

Millions of gallons of water were poured into the building to cascade from the top floors to the basement causing untold damage ($250,000 alone to the state library on the ground floor). Two days later the fire was declared under control but for five days more firemen uncovered smoldering piles of rubbish.

MANY Departments of state government were in chaos. Before the fire was even out, the department of administration was renting, buying, borrowing and stealing quarters for the displaced employes. In three weeks offices were set up in all corners of Lansing and East Lansing in quarters that would make a rabbit warren look like the Taj Mahal.

State departments were operating out of vacant stores, a condemned Y.M.C.A. building, quonset huts at Michigan State College, an auditorium in which the ceiling had collapsed only a year before, an old bus station and the armory.

By spring the clean-up work at the building was largely done and it was that long before the legislature got around to approving bids for the reconstruction.

The rebuilding now is almost completed. Adrian N. Langius, director of the building division, was as good as his word, and despite the removal of the top two floors, the building will house as many workers as it previously did. This he accomplished by utilizing waste space in the basement, narrowing corridors and the like.

The new Stephens T. Mason building, now under construction is expected to provide quarters for an additional 1,500 workers when it is opened next July or August.

But the government will still have some 1,300 workers in rented space throughout Lansing. The new building and the renovation of the old will take some of the pressure off Michigan's crowded agencies, but is not yet the complete answer to the problem.

ODDS 'N ENDS

By Fran Martin

IT'S ONLY another week away . . . that all-important day, Christmas . . . The children can hardly contein themselves as they put on their good behavior to await the arrival of St. Nick . . . And grown-ups, dashing like mad doing last minute shopping, wish everyone a happy holiday . . .

It's a busy, hurried, crazy, wonderful time of the year . . . In the mail come cards from friends you haven't heard from since last Christmas and you get a warm feeling to think you've been remembered . . .

And as Christmas Eve approaches you'll look at the sky, searching for a star and trying to imagine what it must have been like that first Christmas . . . so many years ago . . . You'll listen to the carols which tell the story so beautifully and you'll be glad you're alive and loved this Christmas 1952 . . . And as you hear the words "Peace on earth, Good will toward men", you'll pray, as you have in the past, that those words will become a reality . . . That some day we might know real peace with good will toward all men . . . And perhaps, on some Christmas day to come, we might know such a day . . .

And now, mey all of us wish to all of you the happiest of holidays . . . And as we celebrate His birthday, may you know all His blessings . . .

GEE. SINCE Mondey night has there been anything to talk about but the Intercollegiate Stompers, first place winners on Arthur Godfrey's Talent Scout show . . . Two members of the six-man Dixieland combo are Charlevoix boys, Nick Hamilton, the drummer and Bob Shanahan, the Trombone player. They sure did themselves proud Monday night and will be appearing on the daytime show for three days . . . Not bad, we say . . . Nick called his family, the Ralph Hamiltons; after the show so excited he could hardly talk . . . All our best wishes to the outfit . . . But say, anybody know where the Courier can find another printer . . . just in case Nick decides to forsake the linotype for the drums . . .

IF YOU happened to see a certain Mrs. A. T. Bennett going down the street one day recently with her head in the clouds . . . don't be alarmed about her . . . She had reason to be that way . . From her son, Charles at that time in Hawaii with the Navy had come an orchid from the islands for her birthday anniversary. And with it the news that he'd soon be home on leave . . . Isn't that enough to make any mother happy.

* * *

NICHOLS ST., from now on, should be just about the safest street in town . . . you see, Rifle, the Bill Ratigan's police dog had a litter of eight pups . . . and with that many police dogs around . . . well, wouldn't you feel well guarded? . . .

* * *

THE E. J. EDWARDSES, who incidently introduced us to Michigan holly this week, were telling us about tramping through the woods in the Cross Village area a week ago Sunday and finding a lot of arbutus buds . . . if you can imagine that on Dec. 7 . . and just seads of the biggest, reddest wintergreen berries . . . too . . .

YOU'VE HEARD of the imaginary character, Little Sir Echo . . . we met a real live one last week in the form of Ricky Fochtman, the son of the Dick Fochtmans, who repeats everything you say to him . . . It's the most amazing thing to hear him . . .

The mall this week brougt a most interesting letter from the Dr. Russel Palmers, formerly of St. James, who are enroute to Mexico for the winter . . . We're sure the good Doctor won't mind if we share it with you: We are now in Louisiana where one eats pralines, drinks Hadocol and admires the magnolia . . . Went through the French quarter in New Orleans today . . . truly no care is here, nor weariness, nor pain. Narrow streets where artists are painting and selling their wares on the sidewalks. Wrought iron, lace-decorated balconies overhanging the streets, where walk people of every race and color. . .

In this quarter is also St. Louis Cathedral, built in 1794 . . . the oldest in America . . . in front of which lies Jackson Square where you will see Stonewall's statue on a horse, also a poem, banana trees and the ever-present pigeons.

This squere or park is flanked on both sides by two immense red-brick apartment buildings built by the daughter of the engineer who built the cathedral Sleve lebor was used in their construction . . .

Louisiana resembles Michigan in its pines and oaks . . . the climate here now is delightful, similar to September.

Tonight we dine at the famous Antoine's restaurant and tomorrow visit more of the sights of this picturesque and historicel city . . .

And from Mrs. Palmer a petal from a magnolia and a lovely medal from the cathedral . . . First time we ever knew that all magnolias weren't elways white.

We'll be looking forward to further news of their travels.

Now we can get the Christmas spirit . . . winter arrived over the week-end and maybe we'll have a white Christmas after all . . . But with that downright balmy weather last week it was very difficult . . . don't you think . . .

* * *

And don't forget to heed the postoffice department's warning if you want your cards and parcels to arrive at their destination in time for Christmas . . . It isn't here that they got held up but in the big terminals after they leave this postoffice . . . That Christmas jam must be something to see . . . The one in our own postoffice is bad enough. . . .

And now that winter is here don't forget to feed the birds . . . Everyone in our neighborhood does and it's lots of fun . . . For instance, we saw the biggest, fattest blue jay Sunday . . . He's sure been living high . . . but come the snow and he shares with the more lowly sparrows and starlings. . .

We've heard movies described in a lot of different ways but Barlyn Bice came out with a couple kinds the other day . . . She just wanted to know which was our favorite . . . the "kiss-kiss, hug-hug" or the other kind, "bang-bang, boom,boom."

* * *

And then there was the letter Butch (Charles) Coleman wrote to his uncle, Bob Carey, who plays pro-football with the Rams, with just a minor request for "the autograph of Jane Russell and those of any other Rams' players he could get" And at his age too . . .

A little late but the friends of Eugene Gibelyou and his son, Clair, will be happy to know that the pair, who now live in Grand Rapids, filled their deer licenses at the close of the season . . . while hunting near Baldwin.

Bill Matzingor, home from a vacation trip to Florida, was telling us recently what a good time he and Mrs. M. had at Lake Worth . . . Seems the Harry Turners, the Bill Kerns and the Bill Flynns are all there and really showed the pair the town . . . And they sent a big "hello" to all their friends here . . . And at Miami Beach they saw Pete Sharrow and the O. Gattis . . . Just like old home week where ever they stopped . . .

McClure-Wolf Wedding Vows Spoken Sunday At First Congregational Church

Baskets of white mums and evergreens decorated the First Congregational church Sunday for the wedding of Mrs. Phyllis H. McClure and Major George Wolf, U. S. A. stationed at Detroit.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Dulcie Gratton of Jackson and Mr. and Mrs. John Wolf are the parents of the bridegroom.

The Rev. Harold E. Kohn read the double ring service in the presence of their immediate families.

Mrs. Charles Bellinger, organist, played a program of traditional music and the wedding marches and accompanied the soloist, Mrs. E. D. Hawley.

For her wedding the bride chose a biege dress, toast hat, brown accessories and an orchid corsage.

Mrs. J. C. Hilligan of Portland, as matron of honor, wore a brown dress, matching accessories and a corsage of yellow and bronze mums.

Serving as junior bridesmaids ware Vicky McClure and Dulcie McClure, daughters of the bride. They wore similar dresses in shades of light blue, navy accesories and corsages of yellow and white mums.

Dr. Hilligan assisted the bridegroom as best man.

Immediately following the two o'clock ceremony, a reception for sixty guests was held at the couple's home.

After a wedding trip to southern Michigan the couple will make their home here.

Preceeding the ceremony a dinner for the wedding party and their families was held at Heering's. Places for 16 were laid at a table decorated in a holiday motif and centered with a birthday cake honoring the birthday of Mrs. John Wolf.

Coming from away for the wedding were Mrs. Gratton and Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Raley of Jackson and Dr. and Mrs. Hilligan and daughter Patti of Portland

Farewell Party Honors Sisters

Janet King and her sister, Mrs. Don Hardy, who left Sunday with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam King, for Arizona, were honored at a farewell dinner given Friday evening by B. J. Cunningham and Pat Murray at the latter's home.

The table was decorated in a Christmas motif.

Miss King and Mrs. Hardy were presented with gifts from the group.

Shirley Cunningham of Lansing was a guest at the dinner.

Van Alstine-Potter Vows Exchanged In Double Ring Ceremony In Wayne

St. John's Episcopal church in Wayne was the scene of the December sixth wedding of Shirley Rae Van Alstine and Junior Potter, Airman, third class, stationed in Germany with the U. S. Air Force.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Van Alstine of Wayne and Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Potter of this city are the parents of the bridegroom.

The Rev. Robert G. Elliot performed the double ring ceremony in the presence of 200 guests. Baskets of white chrysanthemums and lighted tapers decorated the altar for the ceremony.

Preceding the service, Nancy Aldridge, organist, played a program of traditional music and the wedding march.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a gown of white Skinner satin for her wedding. Styled with a V-neck, long sleeves and a fitted bodice featuring a fold of satin and flowers at the base of the neckline, the full skirt had two overskirts of nylon net. Her fingertip veil was secured with a satin and net band and she carried a bouquet of white mums.

Karleen Gallup of Ashley as maid of honor and Betty Gerwolls of Wayne, as bridesmaid, wore similar gowns of taffeta and net and matching headdresses. Miss Gallup's gown was pea-green and she carried yellow mums. Miss Gerwolls' gown was shell pink and she carried lavender mums.

David Potter of Charlevoix, cousin of bridegroom, was best man and James Preston of Detroit was usher.

Mrs. Van Alstine selected an aqua gown, matching accessories and a corsage of maroon-tinted pink carnations for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Potter, mother of the bridegroom, wore a slate blue gown, black accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

A reception in the Church Undercroft followed the ceremony.

After a brief wedding trip in southern Michigan, the couple is visiting here and in Wayne where they will spend the holidays. For traveling the bride chose a gray suit, black accessories and a corsage of red roses and gardenias.

The bride will make her home in southern Michigan following Mr. Potter's return to duty in Germany early in January.

The bride, who attended a Wayne high school, is employed in the aircraft division of Kaiser-Frazer. The bridegroom, a graduate of the Charlevoix high school, is a veteran of two years service in the U. S. Air Force.

Next Tuesday evening Dec. 23 is the time of the Christmas program at the Methodist church.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Matchett of Midland spent the week-end with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Matchett.

Clayton Smith has been passing cigars out, all on account of the baby daughter, Debra Lynn, who arrived on Friday, Dec. 12. Kay and baby are doing fine.

Frank Matchett spent a few days in the hospital last week.

The Reformed church Christmas program will be given on Christmas Eve.

Econ Experts Give Christmas Table Decoration Hints

Christmas table decorations should be attuned to your table, stresses Elinor Roth of the textiles, clothing and related arts department of Michigan State college. If your table is long, try to have an elongated decoration or else have several units down the center. If the table is small, be careful not to have too large a decorative piece. And remember to keep the decorations low enough so people can see over them, she said.

A traditional decoration is evergreen boughs placed dramatically on the table. Miss Roth suggests grouping pine cones on the evergreen and perking the color scheme up with small red bows placed around on the boughs. She adds a grouping of red candles of varying heights to finish the decoration. Depending on the size of your table, you may want three or four candles, but add interest by having them in graduated lengths.

Miss Roth also suggests using varying lengths of the fat, low candles available now. Use your own table color schemes for a different centerpiece, she suggests. The fat candles, placed among the evergreen branches will be a low, attractive decoration for a small table, she suggests.

Use some ingenuity and things you can find in your cupboard. Miss Roth concocts a Christmas table piece with salad bowls placed end on end and filled with glittering Christmas balls.

If you have a piece of driftwood, try arranging small Christmas balls around that, and make a background of red candles. You will have an unusual and lovely table, she says.

Don't waste space in your cupboards—racks for spices and extracts can be fastened to almost any cupboard door.

Members of the Eveline 4-H met at Keith Danforth's home on Dec. 1. Plans for the winter projects were discussed. The Christmas party is to be held Saturday, Dec. 20 at the Rock Elm Grange hall. The next monthly meeting will be held at the home of Wendy Knudsen, Jan. 5, 1953.

Dorie Nielsen and Milford Saunders have returned from Michigan State and Mary Carlson from the University of Michigan to spend the holidays with their families.

William Vanderwall returned Monday from a business trip to Florida.

Insects keep working all winter in stored grain—the label on the can of grain fumigants will tell the farmer what to do.

Check for defective wiring or connections around the Christmas tree. When selecting a place for the tree it is best to stay away from curtains or draperies that might ignite easily.

Store fertilizer loosely, in a dry place, off the floor.

Chop left-over parsley into small pieces and dry in your oven. You have the same thing as dehydrated parsley sold in spice cans.

A cow given a six to eight weeks "vacation" between lactations will produce more milk.

THE NEW STANDARD OF THE AMERICAN ROAD!

"That '53 Ford sure looks long!"
"You said it... longer and wider too!"

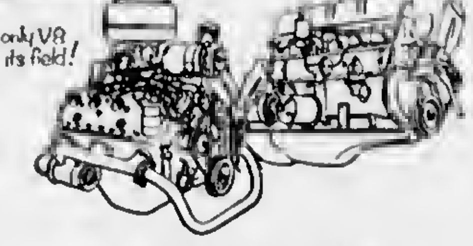
Fordomatic Drive, Overdrive, white sidewall tires optional at extra cost. Equipment, accessories and trim subject to change without notice.

With 41 "Worth More" features . . .
it's worth more when you buy it . . . worth more when you sell it!

This '53 Ford sets an entirely new standard for the American Road. For in this big new Ford you'll find 41 "Worth More" features that give you more of the things you want... more of the things you need... than ever before in low-priced car history.

You'll find the "Go" you need to handle today's long-distance driving. You'll enjoy Ford's new Miracle Ride that brings you the smooth, quiet riding comfort you need for today's level parkways or rough, rutted byways . . . plus nearly effortless steering, braking, and parking. And you'll see beauty that belongs wherever you may drive.

When you see this new Ford at your Ford Dealer's, you'll understand why it is worth more when you buy it . . . worth more when you sell it. You'll agree that here, indeed, is the New Standard of the American Road!

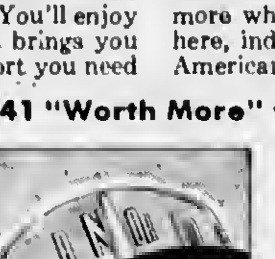


The only V8 in its field!

CHOICE OF V-8 OR SIX
Ford's famous 110-h.p. high-compression Strato-Star V-8 has a partner for thrifty "Go" in the 101-h.p. low-friction, high-compression Mileage Maker Six. Ford Automatic Power Pilot gives high-compression "Go" with regular gas.

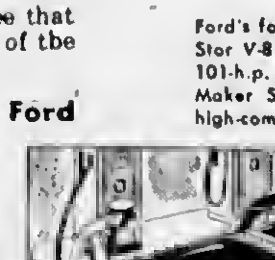
A few of the 41 "Worth More" features in the 1953 Ford

NEW MIRACLE RIDE—Not just more responsive spring and shock absorber action, not just foam rubber cushions, but a balanced ride that gives you a new concept of comfort.

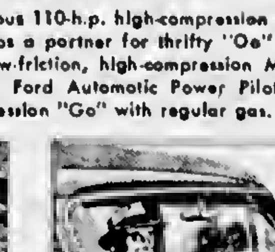


SHIFT TO FORDOMATIC—and you'll never shift again. It's the finest, most versatile automatic drive ever. And remember, Ford also offers the smooth and thrifty Overdrive.

POWER-PIVOT PEDALS — are suspended from above to eliminate dusty, drafty floor holes. They give more unobstructed floor space and provide easier pedal operation.



CENTER-FILL FUELING — prevents hose marks, and makes "filling up" easier from either side of gas pump. Shorter gas filler pipe gives you trunk space for an extra suitcase.



FULL-CIRCLE VISIBILITY—with huge, curved, one-piece windshield, a car-wide, one-piece rear window and big picture windows all around—gives you visibility unlimited.

Here now... the '53 FORD

Last Week With Class "C" Teams

Elsewhere in the Northern Michigan Class C league Friday night Gaylord defeated Boyne City 62-54 and Mancelona won over Pellston 53-40.

Gaylord 62, Boyne City 54

At Gaylord Boyne City, playing without center Don Arner, whose mother, Mrs. Nola Graves was injured in an auto accident Friday afternoon, gave the Gaylord Blue Devils a good game.

Gaylord held a 13-11 lead at the first period but Boyne City put on a drive and tied the score 25-all at half-time. The Blue Devils managed a three-point 37-33 lead as the third period ended and surged ahead with 25 points in the last period to take the game.

Gaylord's points were scored on 24 field goals and 14 free throws out of 39 tries. The Ramblers scored on 13 field goals and 28 free throws out of 43 attempts.

Shorty Smith was high point man for the game with 20 points for Boyne City and Larry Northey, Frank Karwoski, Dick Riddle and Bob Schlang scored 13 points each for the Blue Devils.

Mancelona 53, Pellston 40

The Pellston Hornets gave the Mancelona Ironmen a close game before the latter pulled away in the last four minutes to win.

The Ironmen tallied 15 points in the first period to nira for Pellston but the Hornets added 11 in the second quarter while Mancelona only managed seven for a 22-20 half-tima lead.

The Hornets scored 13 points in the third period to Mancelona's 22 to cut the Ironmen's third quarter lead to one point, 34-33.

Pellston forged ahead in the opening minutes of the last period to take a three point lead but their hopes were short-lived as Mancelona came back to score 19 points while the visitors had only seven.

Earl LaDere tallied 18 and Dick Wickstrom 17 points for the victors and Ray Andrews had 17 for the Hornets.

Harbor Springs did not play Friday night.

Rayders Come From Behind For Victory

The Charlevoix Rayders, coached by Del Terrill, came from behind in the third period Friday night to tie the visiting East Jordan quintet 25-all before going on to hand them a 48-36 defeat to chalk up their second win of the current season.

The Jordanites had lead the Rayders 14-7 at the quarter and 25-21 at the half before the local five caught fire and took a 33-28 third period lead.

A free throw by Bill Mosher and a field goal and a free throw by Dean Davenport tied the score early in the third period.

The Rayders will meet the Mancelona Ironmen on the local floor Friday night.

In the starting line-up for the Rayders this week were Bill Bennett and Dean Davenport, forewards; Mark White, center; Bill Mosier and Tom LeBlance, guards.

The Rayders scored only seven points in the initial period on a field goal and two gift shots by Benrett, a field goal by Davenport and a free throw by White. East Jordan had scored first and took a 14-7 lead as Warren Frank started connecting on long shots. Ho scored nine Red Devil points plus a field goal by Dick Freeman and three points by Kieth Evars.

Lewis joined the line-up early in the period.

Charlevoix picked up 14 points to the visitors 11 to cut the Devil's lead to four points at the half. Davenport started to hit and added four buckets while Bennett put in two more and Mosier and Lewis each added a free throw. East Jordan had only three field goals and three gift shots in the period.

Davenport opened the third period with a field goal, followby a gift shot sunk by White on his second try. A free throw by Davenport on his first try tied the score and from then on the Rayders controlled the game as the visitors seemed to tire.

Field goals by Mosier, Davenport, Lewis and Bennett pushed the local team into the lead and ended the period. East Jordan had scored only three points, a field goal and a free

Charlevoix To Meet Mancelona On Home Floor Friday Night

Northern Michigan Class C teams have a busy week as six of the teams play Tuesday, another two meet Thurdsay and five play Friday.

In games played Tuesday night, Boyne City played at Mancelona Harbor Springs journeyed to East Jordan and Gaylord entertained the Pellston Hornets.

(Game results listed elsewhere)

On Thursday Harbor Springs will host the Pellston five.

Friday will find East Jordan playing at Gaylord; Charlevoix meeting Mancelona on the local floor and Boyne City playing at Petoskey.

By the time league basketball takes a two weeks rest during the Christmas recess, the picture of league strength should be pretty clear. Games this week are crucial ones for all teams as the first half of the league schedule draws to a close.

Harbor Springs and Pellston should have a pretty good game tonight. Harbor Springs, probably the most improved team in the loop, will be hosting a Pellston quintet which has shown unusual strength despite its inexperience and the game should be close. However, the Rams should have an edge and take the game with some effort on their part.

The Gaylord-East Jordan game on Friday night should be tops as the two teams clash for the first time. Gaylord, with wins over Harbor Springs and Boyne City, could find tough going against the Jordanites, who at this time have one win and one loss. East Jordan, with most of its starting line-up back from last year, should be able to give any team a good fight and will be out to do just that as they meet the Blue Devils, touted as the strongest team in the league. This game will be a test of strength and the score can go either way.

Charlevoix, with two wins to date, will be meeting the Mancelona Ironmen in another game which should show what the latter has this season. The Rayders met their two traditional rivals in Boyne City and East Jordan and won by sizable scores so should be meeting the Ironmen on an even basis. Again this game will be a test of strength or Mancelona. The game could be close but Charlevoix should have an edge on the visitors.

Boyne City with Don Arner back in the line-up should be able to give Class B Petoskey a fair game as they meet on the latter's floor. Boyne City has the kind of a team which should improve greatly as the season progresses

Little Rayders Win Thriller Over E. Jordan

After trailing the East Jordan Reserves for 31 of the game's 32 minutes, the Charlevoix Reserves scored a basket in the closing seconds of the game to win 30-29 on the local floor Friday night.

Starting for Charlevoix in the game which had the spectators on the edge of the bleachers all the way were Bob Albright, Bill Haggard, Gerry Foster, Charles McDonald and Roger Pischner.

East Jordan took an oarly lead and held it 10-7 at the quarter. Albright, Foster and Quinton Walker each scored one field goal and Guy Swanson a free throw for the Rayder's points.

In the second quarter East Jordan scored only two points but it was enough to give them a 12-10 half-time lead. Charle-

Drost-Korthase Wedding Vows Are Exchanged In Candlelight Services

In a candlelight ceremony solemnized at the Christ Lutheran church in Boyne City Friday evening, Arlene Lucille Drost became the bride of Edward Korthase.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin E. Drost and Mr. and Mrs. William Korthase of Boyne City are the parents of the bridegroom.

The Rev. Richard Noffze of Alpena read the service in the presence of 150 guests before an altar decorated with baskets of white pompons.

Preceding the ceremony Mrs. I. Strangsted played a program of traditional music and accompanied the soloist, Fred Dekler.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was gowned in white satin styled with long sleeves and a full skirt which ended in a chapel length train. Her fingertip veil fell from a sequin and pearl tiara and she carried a white Bible topped with an arrangement of white carnations centered with a red rose.

Naomi Drost, sister of the bride, as maid of honor, wore a gown of yellow taffeta with net overskirt and a matching stole and carried a bouquet of white carnations.

Jackie Inman of East Jordan and Barbara Mathews of Harbor Springs were bridesmaids. They wore similar gowns of lilac and yellow respectively with matching jackets. Each carried a white lace-trimmed handkerchief.

Carl Hawkins Jr. of Boyne City assisted the bridegroom as best man and ushers were Wiliam Korthase and Norval Korthase, both of Boyne City, brothers of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Drost chose a light blue suit and red accessories for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Korthase wore a brown suit and beige accessories. Both had corsages of pink carnations.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the church parlors. The refreshment table was centered with a three-tiered wedding cake.

Following a wedding trip to southern Michigan, the couple will live at Walloon Lake. For traveling the bride chose a gray gabardine dress, matching accessories and a red rose corsage.

The bride, a graduate of the Charlevoix high school, is employed at the Michigan Bell Telephone Co. in Petoskey. Mr. Korthase is a graduate of the Boyne City high school.

Combined Youth Groups Of Two Churches Gather

The newly-organized United Youth Fellowship composed of junior and senior high school students from the Congregational and Methodist churches will be meeting regularly every Sunday evening beginning Dec. 28, the Rev. Lloyd Schloop and the Rev. Harold Kohn, co-director of the group have announced.

Meetings will be held at both churches each week with the senior high school age group meeting at one church and the junior group at the other.

The first combined meeting of the youth groups from both churches was held last Sunday with 39 young people present. The group enjoyed two movies, a religious film entitled "No Other Gods", and a nature film on gray squirrels.

Adult supervision is given the group by Rev. Schloop and Rev. Kohn, assisted by other adults from the two congregations.

Mrs. R. O. Bergmann Re-Elected Head Of Church Circle

W.C.T.U. Chapter Discusses Plans

Members of the W.C.T.U. met Friday at the home of Mrs. John Funk to discuss plans for 1953 and to prepare the program for printing.

Mrs. H. B. Hooker presided at the business session. Mrs. Funk had the devotions.

At the close of the business meeting the hostess served refreshments.

The Rev. Lloyd Schloop will speak at the next meeting at the home of Mrs. Floyd Bartholomew Jan. 9 at 2:30 p.m.

Girligigs

THE COMBINATION of a holiday and a wedding brought some gorgeous gals out last week-end.

Some wearing small pixie hats that winked and blinked with seed pearls and rhinestones, some rustling in stunning black taffeta . . . and one all a lovely shade of blue from the top of her head to the tip of her toes, relieved only by a smart white collar.

The fragrance of Christmas was a lovely background for a lovely bride who wore champagne faillo accented with glitter buttons.

ALL THIS fun and happiness . . . and some people have to be downright mean by smugly mentioning they have their Christmas shopping ALL DONE.

And so soon! . . . they need a spanking . . . whoever heard of being ALL done before 6 p.m. Christmas eve? Not I, said the little red hen.

Anyway, it got me to thinking that it is getting to the time of year to start doing something about it. So a slushy few days ago I started out for some ideas . . . and I learned a lot.

I DISCOVERED that moths are going to have a tough time of it for at least the next five years . . . beautiful all-wool blankets come now with a five year guarantee against the little beasts.

And robes that look quilted sometimes aren't really . . . they are made of a glazed-cotton fabric that is tubable. They come in crisp shades of yellow, blue and chartreuse . . . and you can get color-matching scuffs that are REALLY quilted.

ONE OF THE sweetest Santas I saw was actually a stick of cologne topped with a face and a real little cap that perks right up in the air with a snowball on the very end.

And there are beautifully styled gold bells that actually tinkle and have a choice vial of perfume tucked into a satin bow.

Loving dolls, especially the both cuddly ones, I found a darling that is wide awake on one side and dreaming of sugarplums on the other. It would be fun to be built like that . . . if everyone else was too, I mean.

AND FOR all little boys who would like to grow up to be like our Nick (we from the Courier are basking in a little reflected glory this week) there's a super small set of drums that make wonderful music . . . (?)

There's a lot of sentiment attached to giving candles at Christmas time. I like best the huge red ones with a nubby texture that stand all by themselves.

A new fob compact is a honey . . . for smart looks and jiffy loose powdering. It's as slim as two silver dollars and . . . well, compact I guess is the right word.

Besides having a man around the house it is also nice to have a pair of soft leather moccasins. And nicer yet to have a pair of soft leather fur-lined moccasins.

I saw a smart jewelry ensemble . . . consisting of bracelet and elegant larger-than-usual gold and amber earrings. No dangles . . . but big and beautifully sophisticated.

Like old shoes, old fireplace sets look a little seedy when put beside trim new ones of shiny brass. And mentioning brass . . . the planter lamps seem to be more popular than ever.

IF ANYTHING ever takes the place of a warm sport sweater for us gals it will be a corduroy shirt . . . just as tailored as a man's, only coming in the yummy shades that only a texture like a corduroy fabric can come in.

Who says men are sissies if they use cologne? Never . . . if they have a bottle or stick of a gorgeous imported kind. I'll bet Arthur Godfrey uses it . . . and I'll bet Santa Claus uses it!

Well, as I said, I did a lot of slushing around that day and got a lot of wonderful ideas. Now all I have to do is get my shopping done. So don't move over yet, Santa! . . . I'm not ready!

which they plan to install in the new building. They will provide jobs for about 80 people in the present and the new buildings.

The stockholders of the Charlevoix Development Corp. met last Thursday to discuss the proposed new factory for Charlevoix and announced their approval by pledging another $2,000 in stock in the corporation in addition to the $1,000 invested earlier. In fact, with the amount now on hand or pledged, only $12,000 remains to be raised locally. The shares sell for $10 each and can be purchased by anyone.

The public is urged to attend the meeting tonight and learn more about the new factory and what it will mean to Charlevoix.

Other officers named at the recent stockholders' meeting were vice president, Arthur Bergeon; secretary, John Knight; treasurer, A. L. Livingston. J. Clark Dolliver and Jack Mailhot were named as directors to fill vacancies.

Alger Concedes Governor's Race

With only half of the state's precincts counted in the gubernatorial recount, Fred M. Alger early Wednesday conceded the election to Gov. Williams after the latter had increased his lead to 10,000 votes.

In Charlevoix county where the recount was completed last Thursday, Alger gained 36 votes over the official canvass when the recount brought to light 83 Alger votes in East Jordan's third ward which had never been counted.

At the time Williams had gained 27 votes so Alger's net gain in the county was cut to 36 votes.

mas "pieces". Featured in this Sunday school program will be the moving, heart-warming drama "Why the Chimes Rang" starring Peter Coleman, David Miles, Ellen Miller and Scott Supernaw, supported by a splended cast of Sunday school scholars.

There will also be the singing of Christmas carols and jolly old Santa Claus will make his appearance at the close of the program.

The Christmas season celebration will be climaxed by the beautiful and impressive Candlelight Service at 11 p.m. Christmas Eve in the sanctuary of the church. At this lovely service of worship the best-loved carols will be sung, the familiar scriptures will be read, a brief Christmas message will be delivered by Rev. Kohn and the "Service of Lights" will be observed with only candles lighting the sanctuary.

The Congregational church is prepared for a big Christmas. A large wooden altar screen has been built with an impressively realistic nativity scene in its center, making use of clay figurines representing the infant Jesus, Mary and Joseph, the shepherds and the wise men. Christmas trees stand both at the altar and in the church parlor, while evergreen branches and candles decorate the windows and other church furnishings.

Those having no other church home will find a hearty welcome at any of the above services.

Assembly of God

The Rev. G. R. Kars, pastor of the Assembly of God, will be in charge of the Christmas services this Sunday.

His subject at the 11 a.m. service will be "Seeing, Following, Finding" and at the 7:30 p.m. service "Why I Believe in the Virgin Birth of Christ".

The Sunday school will meet at 10 a.m. Sunday.

At 8 p.m. Tuesday the Sunday school will present its annual Christmas program at the Assembly of God.

Christ Episcopal Church

Rev. Carl A. Hoch, pastor

A special Communion Service will be held at 8 p.m. Christmas Eve.

The regular Christmas party will be held at a later date.

Baptist Church

The Rev. W. M. Carr of Detroit, a candidate for the pastorate of the church, is expected to return for the annual Christmas service at 11 a.m. Sunday.

The annual Sunday School program will be presented at 7:30 p.m. Sunday with the children of the various departments participating. Rev. Carr will speak briefly.

Community Church of God

The observance of Christmas at the Community Church of God will begin at 11 a.m. Sunday when the Rev. George L. Majors delivers his Christmas message entitled "Beneath the Wrappings." Special Christmas selections will be sung by the choir.

The Christmas play, "The Stranger of Bethlehem", dramatizing in four scenes in native setting and costume the story of the birth of Jesus Christ will be presented by the Homemakers Class Sunday evening.

A program of Christmas caroling by the Youth group of the church has been planned for Tuesday evening. A Yule-Tide social at Fellowship hall will follow the caroling.

Also on Dec. 23 the church will observe as a group its part in a 14-day prayer vigil being sponsored by the International Women's Missionary Society in the interest of world mission. The women of the church will join in prayer during the hour of 8-9 a.m. and the young people during the hour of 11-12 p.m.

On Wednesday evening the Sunday school will present its Christmas program of song and recitation. A pageant, entitled "The Perfect Gift" will be presented by various members of the Sunday school. As a climax to this pageant a representative of each class and organization of the church will come forward to lay before the manger the group's Christmas World Service gift to the Savior as a birthday offering.

St. Mary's Church

Midnight Mass will be celebrated Christmas Eve at St. Mary's church by the pastor, Rev. John Grzybowski. The adult chior will sing the St. Batholomew's Mass. Beginning at 11:30 p.m. the choir will sing a program of Christmas carols.

Two High Masses will be celebrated on Christmas Day. The 8:30 a.m. Mass will be the Children's Mass. Benediction will follow the 10:30 a.m. Mass.

Christian Science Society

Services will be observed by the Christian Science Society at 11 a.m. Sunday. Special Christmas music will be featured in observance of the season.

Barnard Reformed Church

The Rev. Joe Bekkering, pastor of the church, will speak on the subject "God Sent His Son" during the Christmas worship services at 2 p.m. Sunday afternoon.

Donald Boss, a senior at Western Theological Seminary, will deliver the message at the Sunday evening service at 8 p.m.

Sunday school will be held at 1 p.m. Sunday.

On Wednesday evening, Dec. 24, the Sunday school of the church will present its annual Christmas program at 8 p.m.

Songs, recitations, exercises and pantomines will be featured by the young children and a play will be presented by the young people of the church.

Everyone is invited to attend.

Bethany Lutheran Church

A special Christmas Service will be held at the Bethany Lutheran church at 7:30 Tuesday evening.

The children of the church will participate in this service and will present a Christmas program entitled "Our Savior's Birthday."

The choir of the Zion Lutheran church of Petoskey will render Christmas anthems at this service.

All are invited to attend.

NOTICE

I will be at the Charlevoix State Savings bank, Saturday, December 13, to collect taxes for Marion Township. At home every Friday, during December.

Robert C. Ashdon Writes Of Recent Trip From Puerto Rico To Panama

Robert C. Ashdon, W.O., U.S.C.G., now stationed at San Juan, Puerto Rico, returned to the island recently from a trip to Panama. In a recent letter to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Ashdon, he wrote of his trip. Of Special interest was their stop at Kinkston, Jamaica, where he saw the Rev. and Mrs. Charles Struthers, missionaries on the islands:

The letter follows in part: "We had a very good trip to Panama last month. Got ashore on both sides of the canal to shop and look around.

"On the way back we worked three lights in the Caribbean. I caught a lot of fish . . . grouper, red snapper, trigger fish, some as big as 30 pounds. Also caught a 20 pound barracuda and a 150 pound shark and also about 12 moray eels. The latter sure are mean looking things.

On our way back we were ordered to stop at Kinkston, Jamaica which is an island under English control and populated by 90 percent blacks. Poverty is everywhere you look.

On arrival there I went ashore and called on Charles Struthers who lives only four miles from where we were tied up. He and his wife and two fine sons came down to the ship for a long visit. The next day they came down with a car and drove the officers of our ship all over the island. We had a picnic out in the mountains and saw all the landmarks. Charlie and his family have been on the island for six years and appear to be doing a very fine job.

"It is now 7:30 p.m. and the temperature is 76 degrees. It gets dark here about 6:30 p.m. this time of year.

"You asked about the fruit here. It is the same as in Florida. We shop mostly at the Navy Commissary. We can get the same food as you can at the same price. There is a local truck that comes to the door with green stuff and fruit both local and state-side. The ice cream man comes every day and the dry cleaners comes twice a week. Some things are high such as milk, which is 24 cents, and the Sunday paper, the Miami Herald, which is 40 cents but on the whole it all evens out to pretty much. the same as state-side.

"We load bouys next week for a trip to the west end of Puerto Rico the following week and then we should lay in over the holidays. In February or March we are slated to go to the yard in the States with the ship."

Mr. Ashdon left in August for his Puerto Rican assignment. He was joined in October by his wife, the former Shirley Partridge, and their two children, Tony and Andrea.

throw by Jim Shepard, and the scocre stood at 33-28.

Bennett scored three field goals and a gift shot, Davenport three points on a free throw and a field goal and White, who had started to click on gift shots, dropped five out of seven to give the Raya 48-36 win. East Jordan's scoring had been confined to three points by Frank, two points each by Evans and Shepard and one point by Jim Weisler.

Gordon Mol, Dave Glassford, Duane Walker, Carl Foster, Jack Denemy and Don Smith also saw action.

Davenport paced tha scoring for the game with 18 points on eight field goals and two out of seven frea throws, while Bennett added 17 points on seven field goals and three out of five free throws. White had seven points on seven of 11 free throw attempts and Mosier and Lewis each had three, the former scoring on one field goal and one out of five free throws and the latter on one field goal and one out of four free throw tries.

Frank lead the scoring for the visitors with 14 points.

Charlevoix's points were scored on 17 field goals and 14 out of 32 free throw attempts.

East Jordan had 14 field goals and eight out of 12 free throw attempts.

Little Rayders Win Thriller From Jordan

voix's three points had been scored on free throws by Walker.

Each team scored eight points in the third period and the visitors retained their two point lead, 20-18 as the third period drew to a close. Walker had chalked up two field goals and three gift shots and Swanson had added a free throw for the points.

In the last period the Little Rayders kept pace with the Jordanites and with less than two minutes to go pulled to within one point on a free throw by Walker. A field goal by Swanson in the last minute gave them the hard-earned victory.

Pacing the scoring was Walker with 17 points on five field goals and seven out of 16 free throws; Kit Carson had four, Albright, Gene Towsley, Foster and Charles Dennis two each and Walt Pouquette one point.

On the other line-up were Bob Mathews, John Connolly, Joe Etienne and Jack Stebe.

McGeorge scored 14 for East Jordan.

Annual Area Dairy Association Meetings To Be Next Month

The annual meetings of the dairy associations in Charlevoix and Antrim counties will be held the first week in January, Ed Rebman, county agricultural agent, stated. The first will be the annual meeting of the Boyne City A. B. A. This will be held at the agricultural room of the Boyne City high school on Monday evening, January 5 at 8:00 p.m. The main part of the program will be the showing of the new film put out by the State association. Three directors must also be elected at this meeting.

The annual meetings of the Antrim-Charlevoix A. B. A., the Charlevoix-Antrim Dairy Hard Improvement Association and tha Antrim-Charlevoix Red Dane Breedars Association will be held on Tuasday, January 6 at tha Ellsworth Community hall from 10:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. In addition to the business meetings there will ba tho new artificial breeders film and George Parsons, dairy spacialist and Karl Wright, farm management specialist, to present some discussions.

The Kewadin A. B. A. will meet the following afternoon on Wednesday, January 7 at 1;30 p.m. in the Milton Town Hall. George Parsons and Karl Wright from Michigan State College will also be the speakers at this meeting. Folks are invited to hear these speakers whether they are members of the associations or not.

Complete Mailing Of Fishing Licenses

Lansing—Distribution of nearly two million fishing licenses and trout stamps for 1953 will be completed this week, the conservation department reports.

First mailings were made in late November. The licenses are mailed each year to about 4,000 dealers.

Hold Final Sale Of State Land Leases

Gas and oil well leases on more than 27,000 state-owned acres were sold at the conservation department's final sale of 1952, held at the Capitol recently.

That hikes the total state-owned land under petroleum lease to a record high of about 955,000 acres. And the total number of wells on state land, also a record, stands at about 356 for oil and 23 for gas.

Of the total sold in the final sale, 26,996 were wildcat acres 127 were proven. Bonuses totaled $6,029 on wildcat land, $18,626 on proven land.

More than 50,000 acres were offered.

Hay Urgently Needed In The Drought Areas

The supply of hay being shipped from the Northern States to the drought area is still far behind the demand, says Le Roy Hardy, chairman of the Charlevoix County PMA Committee. Offers to ship hay to these stricken areas are being accepted at the county office of the PMA and there are ample orders at the State Office for any amounts offered.

307 tons of hay in 22 cars have already been shipped from Charlevoix County to farmers in Georgia, Louisiana, Kentucky and Mississippi. Hay is now being shipped from East Jordan and there are prospects of hay being offered for some time. Offers of at least 10 cars are now in the county-office and more expected as farmers become aware of the great need in the Southern States and determine the surplus they will be able to offer.

It is not desired to ship in quantities that will make the county short of hay but if there are surpluses of any quantities they are urgently needed to help these farmers in the South to save their breeding stock. Farmers wishing to offer hay for shipment to these drought areas may call the Charlevoix County PMA Office in Boyne City for further information.

Poultrymen who keep their tools handy to each pen will find culling easier and repairs being made quickly.

District Soils Meet To Be Held At Boyne

The fifth annual meeting of the Charlevoix Soil Conservation District was planned at the regular meeting of the board of directors last week, Ed Rebman, secretary of the district, announced today. The date of the meeting is Wednesday, January 21. It is Boyne City's turn this year to have this meeting and it will be held at the high school. In the past the meeting has always been an evening meeting but the directors thought they would like to try an afternoon meeting.

The program will start off with tha showing of soma county movies at 2:00 p.m. Tha businass meeting will be handlad by chairman Clayton Healey from 2:15 to 3:00 p.m. Durlng that time Lyla Peters, chairman of the election committee, will handla tha election for two directors. Tha tarms of Clayton Healay and Norval Korthase have expired and the names of four nomineas will be placad on tha ballot. Additional nominations will bo racaived from the floor.

The speaker for the afternoon will be Casper Blumer, county agricultural agent of Alcona and Oscoda counties. Cap Blumer has been working for a long time with legume seed production, trench silos, grass silage and an improved pasture program. He will have a nice set of slides to show at the meeting. Everyone and their wives are invited to attend.

Michigan Expected To Register Record Take Of Bear In '52

Lansing—Final totals of game carried by hunters over the Straits indicates Michigan will probably register a record take of bear in 1952.

Reports received by the conservation department show 406 bear crossed on Straits' ferries, by far the highest number taken in recent years.

Straits' figures reflect the total kill for any year. Last year, 216 bear were carried over the Straits; total kill for the year was computed at 1,110. In 1950, the total computed kill was 1,179 and 281 bear came over the Straits. In 1949, an estimated 716 were killed, 131 of these crossed the Straits. Highest previous total taken across was 314 in 1946.

Generally mild weather that prevailed during much of November's deer and bear seasons kept bears out of hibernation and was believed responsible for the high kill.

Other final totals show 8,522 deer, 56 coyotes, 27 bobcats, 17 foxes and five wolves also were carried over the Straits. Hunters received 466 permits to take deer through Wisconsin and five deer were carried south on the Ann Arbor Ferry. During the special any deer season, 28 does and fawns were taken north across the Straits.

Short Courses Are Available To Farm Youths

Northern Michigan farm youths can improve their future farm income and community leadership by making use of the slack season after the holidays, reminds Robert E. Dennis of the Michigan State college short course department.

Enrollments are open for 12 different eight-week practical short courses in agriultural, home economics and related subjects, plus leadership training, starting January 12.

This type of training, offered for many years, has been kept on a usable and practical basis, reports Ed Rebman, county agricultural agent. He has talked with Dennis and with many of the boys and girls who have taken the courses at Michigan State College. These courses offer a real opportunity to students of Charlevoix county who do not plan, or must delay, full college training. Courses will be over early in March to enable the youths to start farm work, points out Rebman. He will be happy to discuss the courses with any young person or parent who is interested.

Short course students will be housed in Wells Hall and will make many lifelong friendships in classes and dormitories. Enrollment can be arranged by writing to Short Course Department, Michigan State College, East Lansing. Full materials will be mailed. The cost of an eight week course is about $160 for room, board, tuition and books.

FERTILIZER REQUIREMENTS

Orders placed now will assure you of the analysis and the tonnage needed at planting time in the spring.

One of the big problems of the fertilizer plant as well as of the dealer, is storage of manufactured materials.

In order for the fertilizer plant to manufacture enough materials to supply the ever increasing demand for high analysis fertilizer, work on spring supplies must be started in December.

Therefore, it is requested that farmers accept delivery on their spring orders during the winter months if they have suitable storage room.

Simple treatment curbs fence pole decay

Weather and insects can cause serious damage to the fence poles on your farm, especially if you use poles from your woodlot. These poles often are full of sapwood, which decays rapidly. According to the Forestry Department of Michigan State College, farmers can treat poles against decay, using a chemical you can buy in most hardware or drug stores. Several preservative products are available. One of the newest tested and found satisfactory is "Penta" (Pentachlorophenol), the researchers say. If possible, the poles to be treated should be air seasoned first for six months. For more information call your County Agricultural Agent.

Give Report On The "Any Deer" Season For Allegan County

Allegan—Forty deer were taken by 573 hunters during the special Allegan county "any deer" season, December 1-7, the conservation department reports.

Hunters had some snow during early days of the season; rains ended all attempts at tracking during the final days. However, 19 of the deer were taken during the final two days of the season.

Last year, 497 hunters took 54 deer; in 1950, a registered 486 hunters took 49 deer; and 581 hunters took 30 deer in 1949.

This year's kill was composed of adult bucks, seven adult does, 15 fawn bucks and 14 fawn does.

Hunting on the 56,000-acre tract is by permit only, and 1,000 were issued this year. Hunters must register and report success at the Swan Creek wildlife station.

Ways Suggested To Make Holiday Suppers Easier

Holidays suppers can be fun and easy if you employ a little strategy, says Faye Kinder of the Michigan State college foods and nutrition department.

Make it simple! That is the keynote of Miss Kinder's recommendations. Plan to serve buffet style and when the guests ask to help—let them. They will feel more a part of the party and you will get less flustered. The buffet service will save dishes and linen, too.

The real secret is to plan a menu that can be prepared—at least in part — a day or so in advance. Miss Kinder suggests molded gelatine salads with either fruit or vegetables and ice box desserts such as chiffon pies or filled angel food cakes. On the day-before list you could also include cooking shrimps or fowl for casserole dishes and getting most of the items for the relish tray ready. But Miss Kinder cautions against overdoing the early preparations that might end in soggy or dried out foods.

Here is a suggested menu: Ham loaf, au gratin potatoes, jellied fruit mold, relish plate, rolls, coffee and angel food cake filled and iced with chocolate whipped cream. In the menu the salad and dessert could be prepared the day before and also a relish plate that included celery sticks, carrot sticks, radishes, cucumber fingers and green pepper sticks.

Anglers Are Busy Digging 'Wigglers' For Ice Fishing

Lansing—With the approach of the ice fishing season, Michigan anglers and commercial bait dealers are busy digging "wigglers" from mud banks for use as bait.

Wigglers, larvae of the burrowing mayfly, probably provide the important single source of bait used by Michigan ice fishermen.

Conservation department records show that commercial bait dealers have placed such emphasis on wigglers that now the insect type ranks second only to minnows in bait importance.

Generally 1½-2½ inches in length, wigglers are found during the fall and early winter in mud banks lining streams or lakes. Bait dealers dip them out with special screens.

Strychnine-treated oats or zinc-phosphide rodenticide in wheel-ruts, low spots, old stumps, brush piles and fence rows where mice travel can save a lot of girdled trees, MSC orchardists remind.

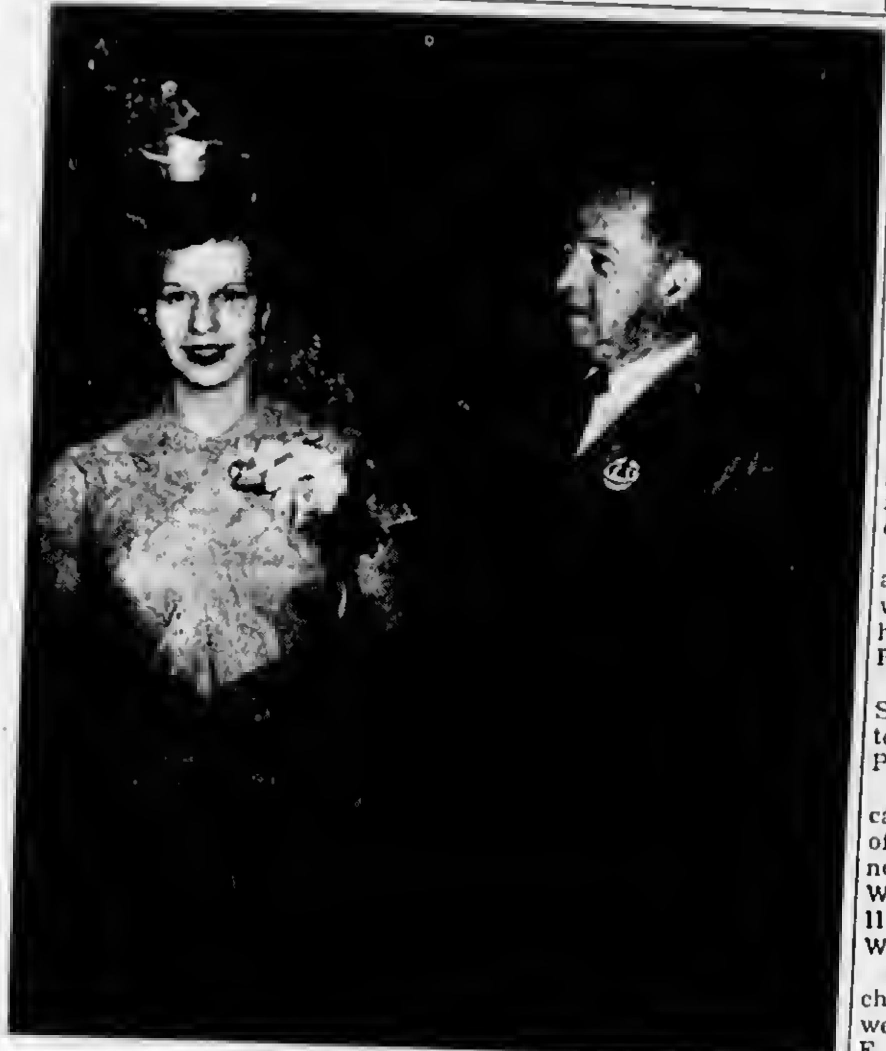
Ellsworth Homecoming Queen



Picture courtesy East Jordan News

Ellsworth 25-year homecoming festival Friday evening was highlighted with the crowning of Miss Sue Kalay as queen. Alex Sinclair of East Jordan crowned the quaan.

★ . . ★

Ellsworth — The 5 o'clock luncheon, served in the school dining room was attended by 140 guests. The dining room was decorated in keeping with the season with a large moral "Good Will Toward Men", the handiwork of Mrs. Seifried.

Graduates Henry Rius of the 1927 class, and Lloyd Rood (1928 class) spoke briefly and special recognition was given the Basketball team of '28. Those present were Everett VanderArk, Herbert Peebles, Adam Sinclair, Lloyd Rood and George Klooster and their "coach" Alex Sinclair.

After the luncheon, buses transported the alumni to East Jordan where they enjoyed the Ellsworth-Elk Rapids game.

Between the halves of the game Homecoming Queen Sue Kaley was crowned with "Coach Alex Sinclair" doing the honors.

The Queen was attended by her court, Gale Pageau, Betty Alward Leona Hopper, Francis Carpenter and Charlotte White.

Lloyd Rood of Pierceton came from the greatest distance to especially attend the event. However, Doyle Edson, home on leave, really was from the greatest distance, having come from Shepperd Air Base, Texas.

The turkeys, given away by the Senior class were given to Bruce McElroy and Mrs. Albert Tornga.

Bentley Hill Farm Bureau

Bentley Hill Farm Bureau mothers gave a party at the Bentley Hill school house Saturday afternoon for children of Farm Bureau members.

On Thursday night of this week the Farm Bureau will enjoy a potluck supper and annual Christmas party at the school house.

Ellsworth Defeats Elk Rapids 66-14 In Homecoming Game

Ellsworth — The Lancers put on quite a show for the old grads The boys were sharp for the most part while Elk Rapids had a bad night and did not play the game they usually do. The score was Ellsworth 66, Elk Rapids, 14.

Scoring honors for Ellsworth were divided between Smith and Allan Elzinga. Elzinga kept the nets whipping in the first half, Smith took over the job in the second half. For Elk Rapids Peterson and Cole were top scorers.

The reserves also showed a lot of power by swamping the Elk Rapids reserves 59 18.

Both teams went all out to show the 1928 champs (who were present) what the 1953 teams could do when they got down to business.

Ellsworth Decorated

Ellsworth business district is aglow for the Christmas season with the large lighted trees and decorations at the town hall and the stores filled with Christmas gift suggestions in festive array.

Too, have you noticed the special Manger Scene in Banks township school yard? Drive by tonight, you'll be glad you did.

The Manger Scene with life size figures and special lighting, is the handiwork of our shop instructor, Don Seifried with the artistic coloring done by Mrs. Seifried.

The Ellsworth Electric shop generously donated the lights and time switch to make the setting complete at night.

Christmas Programs Scheduled

School and church programs scheduled for the holiday include the Pilgrim Holiness Sunday school program Sunday night, Dec. 21; the Atwood Reformed and Christian Reformed church school programs Christmas night; Ellsworth Christian Reformed church program Christmas Day at 11 o'clock.

The Ebenezer school has their annual program this Friday night Dec. 19 at the Atwood church.

The Banks school program is to be Tuesday evening, December 23 at the Ellsworth Community hall with the teachers in charge of the program. This takes the place of the December P.T.A. meeting.

Farm Bureau Christmas Party

Ellsworth Farm Bureau held their annual Christmas party at the community hall Monday night with Mesdames W. L. Chellis Sr. Gerret George Drenth and James Rubingh serving on the lunch committee.

Following the regular business meeting a social hour was enjoyed with games providing the fun The usual exchange of gifts was also enjoyed.

Homecoming To Be Repeated

Those attending the First Homecoming were eager to repeat the get together another year but hope to have more time to really visit next time.

The junior class of Banks school with sponsor, Don Seifried, planned the affair held last Friday, Dec. 12.

The most important point in fish preparation is to prevent over cooking. When the fish flesh flakes easily from the bone it has reached its most moist, tender stage.

'Travelers' Win Over Local Team In Close Game

In a game marked by a close score and a lot of good basketball, Hazel Walker's Arkansas Travelers defeated the Charlevoix Independents 42-41 on the local floor Tuesday night.

The local squad took a 13-10 first period lead but the girl's team went ahead 31-19 at the half and 30-37 at the third period for the win.

Bill Carey, home from Michigan State for the holidays, paced the scoring with 14 points while Garroutte had 13 for the victors.

Playing with the Charlevoix team were Bill Lusk, Lew Brown, Johnny Swanson, Big Bergmann, Don Meggison, Dean Boss and Joe Chamberlain.

Senior Play Is Well Received By Large Audience

"Girl-Shy," a three - act comedy presented by the Senior Class of the Charlevoix high school Wednesday evening, was well received by a large audience.

The players, well cast in their respective roles gave an excellent performance as they unraveled the story of a girl-shy college student, played by Raymond Sanford, his room-mate Dean Davenport and the girl in the plot, Debby Bergeon.

Others who appeared in the cast were Janet Krulik, Amy Kipke, Wilfred Browe, Elaine Peters, Nancy Bodley, William Mosier, Robert Richards, Junior Roberts and Betty McBride.

The play was ably conducted by Miss Donna Cavanaugh of the high school faculty.

Intermission entertainment included selections by a girls trio and a saxoohone quartet.

Christmas Party Held By Teachers

The Teachers' Club held its annual Christmas party at the high school cafeteria last Thursday evening.

A turkey dinner served at tables decorated in a Christmas motif was followed by a social hour and the exchange of gifts. A lighted Christmas tree decorated the cafeteria.

Guests were the respective husbands and wives of the faculty members.

Mr. and Mrs. Keith Wagner and the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Roderick, plan to go to Lansing Thursday to attend the funeral services for Mrs. Roderick's sister, Mrs. William Sherman, who died Tuesday.

Extension Group Holds Banquet At High School

The Central Michigan College of Education extension classes, speech and sociolgy, with their instructors, Mrs. Marion Beatty and Emil Pfister, held their last formal meeting Dec. 5 at the Charlevoix high school.

On Dec. 12 the classes combined and enjoyed a banquet at the school cafeteria. The banquet was under the chairmanship of Mrs. Blanch Paul and Harold Lange of Gaylord acted as toastmaster.

The tables were decorated with pine branches, Christmas ornaments, lighted candles and individual favors. Each person had a corsage to wear, which was made of pine branches, Michigan holly and tied with Christmas ribbon. The class members responsible for this were: Charlotte Gridley, Doris Chelus, Audrey Miller and Berta Mathews.

Following the delicious turkey dinner, four travelogues were given by members of the speech class. They were all very well received. To get everyone in the Christmas spirit, Christmas carols were sung by the entire group.

Charlevoix members of the extension classes are: Grace Warner, Betty Trimble, Blanch Paul, Bessie Coleman and Helen Richards.

Those attending the classes from the Ellsworth area were Harvey Essenberg, Harold Lange, Norma Armstrong, Betty Brooks, Mrs. Anna Warner, Mrs. Judy Weisler and Mrs. Anna Bosworth.

Also Mrs. Carol Gregory, Mrs. Mary Trumble, Mrs. Edna Northrup, Mrs. Louvina Lockman and Mrs. Genevieve McKerracher.

The busy fingers of Mrs. George Parsons of Norwood township have sent her crochet hook flying these last few days as she put the finishing touches on a crocheted tablecloth she is completing as a Christmas gift.

The cloth, made in the butterfly pattern which she designed, is the fifth this remarkable 75-year-old woman has made in the last seven years. In addition she has knitted three bedspreads.

All her handiwork, which represents many hours of labor, have been given to relatives and friends by this woman who seems to live in accordance with the Golden Rule, "It is more blessed to give than to receive", for her entire life has been one of giving.

A native of Norwood township, tha former Grace Stafford first gave of herself as a teacher following her graduation from the Charlevoix high school in 1898

Alexander Home Complete Loss In Night Fire

The home of the Charles Alexander family located three miles south of Charlevoix on US 31 was completely destroyed by fire of an unknown origin early last Thursday evening while the family was attending a Christmas program at the Charlevoix school in which their two children, Charles, 11, and Lena, 10, were participating.

When the Charlevoix fire department arrived following a call from a passing motorist, it found the interior of the building in flames and were able to save only a few pieces of furniture. When

Several Churches Will Hold Special Christmas Eve Services

As the Christmas season rose to its climax this week, churches were filled for Christmas services Sunday while others were completing arrangements for services yet to be held in honor of the birthday of the Christ Child.

St. Mary's Church

Bells will ring out at midnight Wednesday as the faithful gather at St. Mary's Catholic church for the celebration of Midnight Mass by Rev. John Gryzbowski. The singing of St. Bartholomew's Mass will be preceded by a program of familiar Christmas carols by the adult choir.

On Christmas Day two High Masses will be said. The first, at 8:30 a.m. will be the Children Mass. The second at 10:30 a.m. will be followed by Benediction.

Congregational Church

A Christmas Eve Candlelight Service at the Congregational Church at 11 p.m. will conclude the observance of Christmas. The Rev. Harold E. Kohn will deliver the Christmas message and the "Service of Lights" will be observed in the candle-lit church. The familiar and best loved carols will be sung during the service.

Christ Episcopal Church

The parishioners of Christ Episcopal church will gather at the church at 8 p.m. Wednesday for a Christmas Eve Communion Service in charge of Rev. Carl A. Hoch.

Sunday School Programs

Two Sunday school programs will be held on Christmas Eve.

The pageant, "The Perfect Gift" will be presented at the Church of God at 8 p.m. The service will be climaxed by the presentation of a World Service gift by each organization of the church.

The Sunday school of the Barnard Reformed church will also present its program at the church at 8 p.m. Wednesday. A play by the young people and songs and recitations by the younger children will be featured.

All other churches held their special Christmas services on Sunday with Sunday School programs being presented later in the day or on Tuesday.

Church Bell Rings Out To Celebrate Attendance Record

The bell of the First Congregational church rang out at noon Sunday in celebration of a milestone in the church's history.

Last year at this time, the church which had been without its own pastor for some time, had an attendance of only 60 at the Christmas Sunday service.

Rev. Harold Kohn, who has been pastor of the church since mid-October, told his parishioners that the bell would ring when the attendance reached 150. It not only attained but passed the goal on Christmas Sunday as 194 gathered for the Sunday morning service.

New Industry Proposal Well Received Here

The sale of stock in the Charlevoix Development Corporation for the purpose of locating a new industry in Charlevoix is progressing well, Mayor John Knight, who also serves as secretary of the Corporation, reported Tuesday.

At noon Monday A. L. Livingston, treasurer of the Corporation, reported that approximately $7,000 had been pledged.

The $7,000 figure is 50 percent of the loan the new firm is asking toward the construction of a new $50,000 fireproof building to house a new factory. The company will pay 1½ percent interest on the loan and the corporation will also receive a first mortgage on the building. Officials of the proposed new company are asking the local residents to participate in the construction of the building as a token of their good will and to show they want the factory to locate here.

"We are determined to put this deal over," Mayor Knight continued. "Ralph Hess, chairman of tha group, and Mr. Livingston are optimistic and everyone with whom we hava discussed the project agrees that there is much at stake and we cannot afford to 'drop the ball' at this time."

The issue was well received at a meeting of 60 local residents at the high school assembly room Thursday evening.

There was to be a second meeting of stockholders Tuesday night at which time it was hoped to complete the subscription.

At that time certain details of the transaction were to be ironed out which had been discussed at an earlier meeting.

C. G. Sessions, 65 Dies Following A Long Illness

Charles C. Sessions, 65, part-time resident of Charlevoix and Eastport whose home was in Ann Arbor, died Saturday morning at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Ann Arbor where he had been a patient for several weeks. He had been in ill health for several months.

Masonic rites were held at the Staffan-Heldinger Funeral Home in Ann Arbor Monday with burial in Forest Hill cemetery.

Born at Lisbon, Mich., Sept. 10, 1887, Mr. Sessions later lived in Northville where he graduated from high school. In 1906 he moved to Ann Arbor and graduated from the University of Michigan School of Engineering in 1910. On April 5, 1935 he was married to Carrie Garten of Marysville. He was a thirty-second degree Mason.

For about ten years, the couple had spent much of their time at their cottage the Sugar Bush, on Torch Lake near Eastport and in Charlevoix. They spent the winter here last year.

Besides his wife, he is survived by an aunt, Mrs. Charles C. Freeman of Ann Arbor.

Kiwanis Club Hears Of European Trip

Robert Bridge, who returned recently from a month's trip to Norway with Capt. John Roen of Sturgeon Bay, Wis., told of his experiences at the regular meeting of the Kiwanis club Monday evening.

The pair left here in mid-November, flew to France and then on to Germany where they visited Mr. Bridge's son, Eugene, stationed there with the Army.

They spent the remainder of the time in Capt. Roen's native land, Norway.

Weather Fails To Dim Youngsters' Visit To Santa

Approximately 100 youngsters were on hand Saturday to greet Santa Claus as he made his last visit to Charlevoix before Christmas.

Despite the stormy weather children came out to see Santa and to receive bags of candy and nuts from him, which had been provided by the Charlevoix Board of Commerce.

Later Santa presented the pedal car offered by the Charlevoix Retail Merchants association to Barbara Schwab, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Cellner.

Fifteen other youngsters received a variety of prizes contributed by members of the Charlevoix Retail Merchants association following the Window Shoppers Day.

The program Saturday concluded a Christmas project under the sponsorship of the local Merchants.

Coast Guard Frees Local Stranded Tug

The 45 ft. tug, Tramp, owned by Karl Schultz of Charlevoix, which went aground early Monday four miles east of Waugoshance Point near Cross Village, was pulled free at 12:20 p.m. Tuesday by the 83 ft. Coast Guard cutter of Charlevoix with the assistance of the Mackinac Island lifeboat, Chief Warrant Officer Joseph Etienne reported Tuesday afternoon.

The tug which was not damaged, was towed to Beaver Island by the cutter which then returned to its base here.

The cutter and lifeboats from Beaver Island and Mackinac Island wera dispatched to the aid of the tug at 2 p.m. Monday following a telephone call to tha Charlevoix Lifeboat Station from Schultz who had been taken ashore in a skiff after a resident of the isolated area saw the stranded tug about noon Monday.

Schultz told Mr. Etienne that the tug was 75 yards from shore and was in no immediate danger.

The rescue boats arrived at 5 p.m. and tried to float the tug but the operation was halted at 10 p.m. when the cutter's towline broke. Schultz and Mitchell were removed from the tug and taken aboard the cutter which proceeded to Cheboygan for the night. The cutter and the Mackinac Island lifeboat returned to the scene to continue operations Monday morning and completed the work shortly after noon.

The tug was enroute from Sault Ste Marie to Charlevoix at the time.

Postmaster Reminds Aliens They Must File Their Address

Every alien who is within the United States on Jan. 1, 1953, shall, within 30 days following that date, report his address to the Commissioner, Immigration and Naturalization Service, Postmaster Peter H. Timmer reminded all aliens in the area this week.

To report, the alien can go to any U. S. Post Office or any U. S. Immigration and Naturalization Office and ask for an Annual Address Report Form I-53. He is advised to read the instructions carefully before filling out the report and return it in person to any U. S. Post Office or Immigration and Naturalization Office and hand it to a clerk. No one should mail the card himself but should hand it to the clerk who will then post it.

Any alien who willfully or inexcusably fails to report as required is liable to be taken into custody and deported. In addition, imprisonment or fines may be levied before deportation.

Hospital Paper Work Completed; Now Must Have Pledges Fulfilled

The final paper work for the Charlevoix area hospital has been completed and submitted to state and federal agencies for final approval, the Charlevoix Hospital board reported this week.

Included in the papers are part Three of the application to the Office of Hospital Survey and Construction and application for priority on material to the National Production Authority.

The final architectural plans are also nearing completion and will be thoroughly studied by the hospital board, the medical staff and others who can impart advice regarding their improvement.

Advertisement for the bids is scheduled for late January.

However, there is one obstacle which may make it impossible to advertise for bids in accordance with the January schedule. This is the delinquency in pledge payments, for it will be impossible to advertise for bids until 75 per cent of the amount pledged is available.

$8,300 from 243 local contributors is past due and this must be paid before the hospital board can advertise for bids. All summer residents and the larger contributors have paid their pledges on schedule.

All pledgees have been informed of the facts and have been told how essential it is that the pledges be paid promptly.

$203,000 must be collected in order to be 75 per cent liquid, $184,000 already has been paid.

It has been necessary to appeal to some of the very generous contributors for advance payments on the balance of their pledges. However, this would have been unnecessary had all pledges been paid as scheduled.

With more than 600 contributors paid to date, it would be a crime for the hospital to lose out or be in any way delayed because 243 honor-bound pledges were not met, a hospital spokesman said.

The proposed area hospital will cost an estimated $598,000. $329,175 or 55 percent of the total will be received as a federal grant through the Hill-Burton Act. The remainder must be raised locally. This amount has been pledged.

If the advertisement for bids can be made as scheduled construction of the new hospital is expected to start at the Trailer Park site in the spring.

Fine Hunter For Not Reporting A Fatal Accident

Henry Rowe, 54, of Hazel Park, charged with failing to report a hunting accident, was fined $40 and ordered to pay $10 costs by Justice H. E. Paddock in justice court here Saturday.

The charge was brought against him following the death of Kenneth Davis, 48, of Detroit, at Little Traverse Hospital Thursday night of injuries received in a hunting accident Nov. 29 while hunting near Springvale. Rowe admitted shooting at a deer at the time and place where Davis was hunting but he denies seeing Davis.

Davis and a hunting companion had left their car and were walking down a road when Davis was hit by a stray bullet. Rowe was found when another hunter, who had seen someone shooting at the time of the accident, reported the license number of a car near the scene of the accident to sheriff's officers.

C. L. Gibbard Dies Of Heart Attack While Driving

Charles L. (Doc) Gibbard, East Jordan livestock dealer, died about 10:30 a.m. when he suffered a heart attack while driving his truck 3½ miles south of here on the Barnard road.

The truck went off the road after a passenger in the truck grabbed the wheel as Gibbard slumped forward.

The body was brought to the See Funeral Home here and taken later in the day to the Watson Funeral Home in East Jordan where funeral services were held.

Mr. Gibbard, well known throughout the area, was also a member of the Charlevoix county Fair Association.

Local Post Office Will Remain Open For Business Friday

Despite the fact that Friday, Dec. 26, has been declared a legal holiday for all federal employees, the Charlevoix post office will be open for business as usual, Postmaster Peter H. Timmer announced this week.

Mail deliveries will be made in the city as on other days but there will be no service on the rural routes.

Mr. Timmer said that if rural patrons desire to call for Christmas packages on either Wednesday or Thursday (Christmas) afternoon, postal employees will be on duty to serve them.

All Christmas packages will be deliveries to city patrons on both Wednesday and Thursday (Christmas) afternoon.

Arrives For Holidays

Mrs. W. E. Black, Longtime City Resident, Dies

Mrs. Marie A. Black, 78, widow of William E. Black, died Monday at the Charlevoix hospital where she had been a patient since Thursday when she suffered a stroke at her home.

Funeral services will be held at the See Funeral Home at 2 p.m. Wednesday with the Rev. Lloyd Schloop officiating. Burial will be in Brookside cemetery.

Born in Uppsala, Sweden, the former Marie A. Bard came to Chicago at the age of 13 years. In 1901 she was married to Mr. Black and in 1904 they came to Charlevoix to make their home.

She was a member of the Baptist church and until recent years had been active in church work.

She is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Walker Miles of Charlevoix; four grandchildren; one sister, Mrs. Cecelia Stone of Pueblo, Colo. and a brother, Petrus Bard of Sweden.

ODDS 'N ENDS

By Fran Martin

IF YOU'RE as tired as we are preparing for Christmas you're not going to read this or anything else . . . but just in case there are a few staunch souls who got their Christmas shopping done early, had their packages and Christmas cards done weeks ago and are now sitting back and enjoying life . . . Let us ask just one thing . . . How do you do it? . . .

* * *

SOMEONE certainly co-operated in giving us the white Christmas we've been singing about for weeks . . . A wet snow literally covered everything with a blanket of snow Sunday . . . the trees the bushes . . . and it's lovely to see . . . If you can't get the Christmas spirit now you never will . . .

BOB CAREY'S been in a quandry . . . He's to be married Dec. 27 but if the Rams had won Sunday the whole thing had to be postponed . . . so a lot was riding on that game Sunday . . . But the Lions took care of that so now everything will come off as planned . . . However, everyone had been alerted . . . just in case the Rams played the Cleveland Browns for the title come Dec. 28 . . . Who knows, maybe there was a twelfth man on the field for the Rams Sunday . . . Dan Cupid, you know, has a reputation for looking out for his own interests . . . To Bob and his charming bride-to-be the same good wishes which have followed him everywhere from his friends and fans in Charlevoix . . .

THERE ARE many days in the 365 we call a year that are special days but the ones we like the most are Christmas and New Years . . And one of the things we like the best are the holiday greetings which come our way this time of the year . . . There's nothing like being remembered . . . And receiving bits of news on Christmas cards about friends we never hear from any other time in the year . . . We'd like to say thanks a million' for the many cards we received . . . We loved every one and appreciated them all . . . We'd like you to know that you've made Christmas a happier one by your thoughtfulness . . .

AND THE NEXT big holiday will be New Year's . . . "Lest auld acquaintence be forgot" . . . always comes to mind and we think of all the people we know . . . have met in past years wonder where they are and what they're doing . . . It's a sort of game we play come New Year's . . . You should try it some time.

A new year . . . and a chance to start anew . . . a time to make resolutions and a pledge that you will keep them . . . It's wonderful So to those of you who will be receiving this early next week and not before Christmas . . . A wonderful, grand New Year to you . . . May 1953 bring you all your wishes . . . But make sure of one thing . . . that your wishes are worthwhile . . .

WHAT'S MORE FUN than a party . . . especially at Christmas time . . . The Clark Dollivers entertained the Courier crew at their home Sunday night with a buffet supper with turkey and all the triminin's . . . That was wonderful but the laughs came when each person was presented with a gift and had to tell what he would do with it, all that before he opened it, although he was allowed to shake it and pinch it) . . . All the gifts were clever but there were some which were outstanding . . . For instance, Nick Hamilton just home from an appearance with the Intercollegiate Stompers on Aurthur Godfrey's program received the cutest little drum . . . Lloyd Barnett, who's always hungry, received a box lunch . . . Roy Plum who came home from Garden Island with a wonderful bag of birds last fall got a mama duck and her little ones . . . Marj Cook, looking for someone to do her laundry, got a miniature washtub, washboard, a bar of soap and an iron . . . But let us clue you . . . Joyce Totten and I each received a piggy bank . . . which we passed around and you'd be surprised at the loot we got . . . (The best idea of the year) . . . But all kidding aside, it was a wonderful party and to the boss and his wife we say . . . many thanks. we all had a wonderful time . . .

YOU'VE heard of embarassing moments and you've also heard of card showers . . . We had the two gang up on us recently when we backed into a revolving card rack in the dime store and what seemed like a million or so cards came tumbling down round our head . . . We offered to help sort them . . . but Mr. Carter said no . . . (Maybe he thought we'd do something worse next time) . . . But the girls told us it wasn't half bad . . . they had a lot of fun getting acquainted with the stock . . .

DON'T FORGET to tour the town during the next few nights and see the lovely Christmas decorations so many people have put up for your enjoyment . : . The lights on the snow are lovely and everything looks so pretty . . . Some have gone to a great deal of work . . . So do enjoy them while they're up . . . A note to the youngsters, don't forget to stop by the Jim Colemans house on Dixon ave. for whom do you think is in their yard? . . None other than Rudolph, the red nosed reindeer with the reddest nose you've ever seen, leading Santa in his sleigh drawn by the reindeer . . . just like in the song . . , you'll love it . . . There are others equally as pretty so don't forget to take our tip . . .

THE COMMUNITY Vesper concert staged by the Community Choir Sunday under the direction of C. A. Odmark was truely beautiful. The staging was lovely and everyone enjoyed a rare treat . . We hope you heard it . . . The electric organ played by Joe Hanna of Petoskey added the needed touch for a grand performance . . .

* * *

AND WE end this, as Santa in the poem, with A Merry Christmas to all and to all a good-night.

Life of Uranium

Electrical scientists report that uranium, key element in the development of atomic energy, led a dull life a decade ago in such odds and ends jobs as coloring of glass and china. They point out that it was discarded as a useless by-product of radium in World War I.

Possession Short-Lived

Mancelona forward, Gary Lucas, took the ball off the Rayder backboard Friday night but his possession was shortlived as Charlevoix recovered the ball and scored on the next play.

The Rayders trounced the Ironmen 57-36.

Rayders Score 57-36 Win Over Mancelona

The Charlevoix Rayders took over the top spot in the Northern Michigan Class C league Friday after defeating Mancelona 57-36 on the local floor and after East Jordan won over Gaylord 61-54.

The Rayders now stand as the only undefeated team in the Class C loop. East Jordan and Gaylord, now sharing second place, each have one loss in four starts and Mancelona, in third place, has one loss in three games.

The Rayders will take two weeks off during the holidays but will resume their schedule with a non-loop game at Petoskey Jan. 3.

In the game here Friday, Bill Bennett and Dean Davenport, forwards, Mark White, center and Bill Mosier and Jim Lewis, guards, were in the starting line-up.

In a game which was expected to be close, the Rayders got off to a fast start and racked up four field goals before the visitors quarter ended 14-5 after Bennett and Davenport had each scored three field goals and White had dumped in one. Mancelona's five points were scored on one field goal and three free throws.

The second period saw the Raydors running up 18 points to eight for the Ironmen. White accounted for three f.g.s.; Davenport and Tom LaBlance, a field goal and a free throw each and Bennett, Gordon Mol and Lewis one field goal each. Mancelona's eight points were made on three field goals and two gift shots.

With a 32-13 half-time lead, Coach Del Terrill started substituting and before the third period ended Duane Walker, Bill Golden, Dave Glassford along with LaBlance and Mol were in the line-up.

With Charlevoix scoring 12 points and Mancelona 10 in the third period the quarter score gave the local five a 44-23 lead.

Bennett had scored six points on two field goals and two free throws; Mosier scored one field goal; Davenport two gift shots and White and LaBlance one free throw each.

Mancelona's ten points were scored on five field goals.

Jerry Albright, Don Smith and Jack Denemy came into the game in the last period.

The Raydcrs scored 13 points on one field goal by Denemy and 11 free throws. Denamy scored three, LaBlance, Bennett and Davenport two each and White and Lewis one each. Mancelona had its best quarter with 13 points on two field goals and nine free throws. Bennett of Charlevoix and Wickstrom and Holsted of Mancelona shared scoring honors with 16 points each.

In the closing minutes of the game Mancelona lost Derrer with five fouls.

Also in the last three minutes Vernon DeWent fell and struck his head on the gym floor and Yousef Jabara, another Mancelona player, injured his knee. Both left the game and were taken to the Charlevoix Hospital for x-rays. Jabara was discharged Friday night but DeWent remained in the hospital for observation until Saturday evening.

Last Week With Class "C" Teams

Charlevoix remained the only undefeated team in the Northern Michigan Class C league after Friday's games when East Jordan toppled Gaylord from the undefeated column by a 61-54 score and the Rayders defeated Mancelona 57-36 on the local floor.

On Thursday night Harbor Springs had won its first game of the season by defeating Pellston 58-51.

In a non-league game at Petoskey Friday night, the Northmen defeated Boyne City 59-48 in an overtime after the regular game had ended 47-all.

East Jordan 61-Gaylord 54

Gaylord, which had three wins to its credit as it went into the game against East Jordan Friday night, trailed at the end of the first quarter 14-13. The Red Devils went on to run up a 28-21 half-time score and to lead 47-34 as the third period ended.

Frank Karwoski paced the scoring with 23 points for Gaylord while Warren Frank dropped 15 for East Jordan.

Petoskey 59-Boyne City 48

Boyne City took an 8-6 lead over the Petoskey five on the latter's floor Friday night and managed to stay ahead by a slim margin until the closing minutes. The Ramblers lead 22-20 at the half and 34-31 at the third period. The regular game ended in a 47-47 tie.

In the overtime Petoskey went wild and scored 12 points while Boyne City managed only one free throw.

Boyne City lost Don Arner and Ron West via the foul route as the regular game ended.

Dave Conklin was high point man for the game with 14 points. West had 10 for the Ramblers.

Harbor Springs 58-Pellston 51

On Thursday night Harbor Springs took a quick lead over Pellston and led 20-10 at the quarter; 28-18 at the half and 37-28 at the third period.

Stan Pifer had 27 and Frank Granstra 22 for Harbor Springs and Fred Ball 22 for Pellston.

Little Rayders Lose Close One To Mancelona

The Charlevoix Reserves went down to defeat before the Mancelona Reserves here Friday by a 29-28 score in a close game which saw the local five come within one point of tying the game as the final whistle blew.

It marked the Little Rayders first loss this season.

Starting for Charlevoix were Gary Bandenberg, Fred Putman, Walt Pouquette, Kit Carson and Joe Etienne.

Mancelona got off to a fast start and rolled up nine points on three field goals and three free throws while the local five scored only six points, all on free shots. Putman scored three, Carson two and Pouquette one.

As the game went into the second period the visitors scored eight points on three from the floor and two gift shots while Bob Mathews scored two field goals as the half ended 17-10.

Gene Towsley, Quinton Walker, Charlie Dennis and Guy Swanson had also gone into the line-up for the Rayders.

Charlevoix outscored the Ironmen 5-4 in the third period on field goals by Swanson and Mathews and a gift shot by Walker while the visitors had one field goal and two free throws. The quarter ended 21-15.

The game got rough as the Charlevoix Reserves put on the pressure in the last period in an effort to overcome the Ironmen's lead. They made 13 points on two field goals by Mathews, one each by Dennis and Swanson and four gift shots by Walker and one by Towsley but this was not enough as the visitors won 29-28.

Mancelona had scored two field goals and four free throws for eight points.

Charlevoix scoring had been done by Mathews, who had 12 points; Walker who had scored five of 11 free throws; Swanson who had four points; Putman who had three, Carson and Dennis who had two each and Towsley and Pouquette who had one each.

Others who had played were Gerry Foster, Bob Albright, and Bill Haggard.

Telephone Workers Celebrate 'Cut-Over' With Family Party

Michigan Bell Telephone and Western Electric employees who participated in the recent change-over to the dial system and their families, numbering 75 in all, enjoyed a "cut-over" party at the Argonne Wednesday evening.

Honored guests were Mrs. Mabel Martini and her husband, Charles Martini, Mrs. Addie Glossenger, Mrs Floss Bulock and Mrs. Violet Fisher and her husband, Bud Fisher.

Mrs. Martini, Mrs. Glossenger and Mrs. Bulock, have or soon will be retiring and Mrs. Fisher, a supervisor, has discontinued her service for the company with termination payment.

They were presented with corsages as was Mrs. Dorothy Belfy, who with her husband, Erwin Belfy, Jr., were celebrating their thirteenth wedding anniversary.

Attending the dinner and the program and social hour which followed were employees from all departments including the operators at the local Michigan Bell office.

Theodore Hubbard of Petoskey was toastmaster and introduced the honored guests and Michigan Bell and Western Electric officials who were present. As part of the program, a parody on the seasonal poem, "Twas the Night before Christmas written by Mrs. James Woodward and Mrs. Clarence Rabach, telling the story of the cut-over to the dial system was read.

Mrs. Charles Cooper New President Of Little Flower Guild

Mrs. Charles Cooper was elected president of the Little Flower Guild of St. Mary's church at a meeting held Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Don Walsh. She succeeds Mrs. John Thompson.

Other officers are: vice president, Mrs. Frank Trocchio; secretary, Mrs. Edward Hansen and treasurer, Mrs. Jean Gallagher.

Following the business session the group enjoyed a Christmas party with an exchange of gifts and refreshments.

Alexander Home Is Total Loss By Fire

it became impossible to save the building, the former McGeagh schoolhouse which had been converted into a house, efforts were made to save surrounding buildings.

It is believed the fire started in the front of the former schoolhouse.

Lost in the blaze were the family's personal belongings, household furnishings, mora than 800 quarts of canned fruits and vegetables, a winter's supply of potatoes and other vegetables and apples, all stored in the basement, and a freshly-butchered hog.

No estimate was made of the loss which was only partially covered by insurance.

At the present time the family is living at the Barnes apartments on Antrim st. but hope to find a place of their own later on.

The family needs furnishings, cooking utensils, linens and other such items so if anyone has anything they would like to give the family, they are asked to contact Mr. Alexander or may call LI 7-6633 and leave the address where it can be collected.

The Goldman Meyer fund has given the family emergency aid and the Charlevoix county chapter of the American Red Cross has offered financial assistance in purchasing other essentials.

Barnard News
Mrs. Clyde Smith

Mary Roberts is spending her vacation with her mother, Mrs. Bertha Roberts and family.

On account of blustery weather the McAllister sale was not too well attended. Mr. McAllister and Lloyd are leaving Wednesday to spend the holidays with the former's daughters in Grand Haven.

The usual fine dinner and good time was enjoyed by the Inwood group and the W.S.C.S. when they were entertained by the Fe[illegible] group of the Reformed church last Wednesday.

A good representation from Barnard enjoyed the exceptionally fine program given by the grade children of the Charlevoix schools on Thursday evening.

Marjory Allen and brother, James, of Petoskey were Sunday visitors at the Bertha Roberts home.

Mrs. Skinner and son, Robert, of Elk Rapids were supper guests at the Jasper Warner home on Thursday evening.

Kay Cunningham is spending her vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mick Cunningham. Beverly will arrive later in the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Boss went to Grand Rapids Saturday to get their car which has been being repaired since their auto accident a few weeks ago. Beth Ann stayed with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas DeYoung.

Mrs. Fred Falting of Marion Center, has been staying with her daughter, Mrs. Robert Dougherty the past few weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Boss and Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Boss spent last Wednesday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Klooster and family helping them celebrate the advent of electricity into their home after several years of waiting for the event.

Avoid Christmas Casualties, Warns MSC Safety Expert

Merry Christmas, friends, but remember—

Christmas Eve is the deadliest holiday night of the year, twice as bad as New Year's Eve for traffic casualties, and fires have put the end to many a Merry Christmas.

Your last-minute rush to complete Christmas arrangements may be your last minute to enjoy life, warns David G. Steiniske, Michigan State College Safety extension specialist. The 15 hours of darkness before Christmas are a time to be on guard. Some of us will find it a good time to be home trimming the tree.

If we follow some simple rules Steinicke suggests, our Christmas will be merier. The ordinary Christmas tree is one of the most flammable objects known—full of pitch and resin, it may take less than two minutes to burn. Firemen might be way too late.

Choose a small tree—it's just as beautiful and safer. Buy it early if you like, but don't set it up until a few days before Christmas; keep it out side or in a cold place. Cut the tree trunk diagonally one inch above the original cut; mount the tree in a container of water and keep water above the cut surface until the tree is taken down; this will make the tree less burnable and keep needles from falling. Erect the tree in a cool spot, shutting off nearby heat if necessary.

Paper and cotton decorations, wires and electric trains around trees can cause fires, as can candles or electric lights with frayed wires and loose sockets. A switch at some distance is safer than plugging and un-plugging lights beneath or behind the tree. If needles turn brown move the lights, and when needles start to fall, take the tree down or hold lighting to a half hour at a time.

Many Residents Of County Have Hearing Tests

Forty-six residents of Charlevoix visited the Michigan Association for Better Hearing mobile unit when it visited the county early in November.

While the hearing unit was in the county, 203 persons visited the unit for service. Of this number 80 received other comprehensive or screenin tests of both. The remaining 123 required comprehensive tests which were unable to be provided because of limited time. These people are on the association's waiting list and will receive the tests when the mobile unit returns to the Charlevoix county area.

The unit is equipped to provide not only a two-minute test to determine whether or not an individual has a hearing problem but also a more comprehensive tests to determine more accurately what the individual's problem is. Each comprehensive test requires at least an hour.

Services of the mobile unit are provided without charge. The entire project is supported by funds raised throughout the state in United Fund campaigns.

Christmas Greetings By Long Distance Telephone Expected To Tax Facilities

If you want to make sure that you talk to Aunt Nell back in the old home town this Christmas; take it from the Michigan Bell Telephone Company that you might do well to follow two suggestions:

1. It will help a lot if you call by number.

2. It will help even more if you call a day or so before Christmas Eve.

It's not that Michigan Bell won't give the old college-try to every call it handles, but indications are that perhaps as many as 200,000 people will be trying to call at once. Under the circumstances, telephone people are fearful of delays in putting calls through.

Planning for plenty of operators and long distance circuits to meet this busy Yule Season's rush began December 26, 1951. Last year's 175,000 call tally gave some indication of what to expect this year.

Direct dailing of long distance calls by operators to key cities throughout the nation has increased this past year. That will help the company in handling the big load but probably not enough to avoid delays in handling the inevitable rush.

Advise Farmers To Arrange Now For Spring Pigs

Most sows and gilts should be bred now for profitable early spring pigs, reminds Ed Rebman, county agricultural agent. Sows must be bred in December to farrow in April.

Early litters should cause little trouble if a heat lamp or farrowing crate is used and the early pigs—if sold at weaning time—will bring higher prices than litters farrowed in May or later. April pigs also reach market and home freezer weights at desirable times of the year.

Gilts weighing 175 to 180 pounds should be bred, advises Rebman, and the winter feeding program is important. Sows and gilts should be separated, as sows fatten more rapidly than is necesary. The ration should provide a gain of one or more pounds per head per day during the entire gestation period. Sows should receive from one to one-and one-quarter pounds of grain per day for each 100 pounds of live weight. Gilts need from one-and-one-half to two pounds of grain for each 100 pounds.

If whole grain or ear corn is fed, each sow and gilt should receive a half pound per day of protein supplement, urges Rebman. One-half of the supplement might be soybean meal, the other half mixed commercial supplement or one providing animal protein.

Alfalfa hay, in a rack, should be available at all times. An mineral mixture will complete the ration, provided plenty of liquids are available daily. The mineral should be a mixture of one-third trace mineral salt, one-third steamed bone meal and one-third ground agricultural limestone, powdered oyster shell or marl.

Proper feeding and daily exercise from now until farrowing is recommended for a good pig crop in the spring. As soon as weather and other factors permit it, farmers should move the litter to clean fresh pasture.

If you have trouble with 1952 farm income tax, see your county agricultural agent for the Michigan State College bulletin, "Farmers' 1952 Income Tax." He also can give you a book for keeping complete records in 1953.

Farm Labor Wage Good When Extras Are Considered

Farm wages may look small beside city shop pay, but, when a fulltime hired man on a modern up-to-going farm counts his 'extras' and yearlong security, the farm hand has a good deal.

The city worker has to earn $1.87 per hour, 40 hours per week 50 weeks a year, to equal a fulltime farm hired man at $200 per month, figures L. H. Brown, Michigan State College agricultural economist. This compares a farm hired man getting a free house and a gallon of milk a day with a non-farm worker who lives 10 miles from his job. Farm wages of $150 per month would equal $1.50 per hour in town on the same basis.

The farm hand works longer hours, possibly an average of 10 hours a day, or as much as 55 or 60 hours per week. But the factory worker does not get paid for the hours he spends driving to and from work.

The factory worker has unemployment . . . but the farm worker is seldom out of work. Both workers are under social security old age benefits. Paid vacations for most farm workers are about the same as for non-farm labor, and there are no forced vacations from strikes or work stoppages, the MSC farm economist explains.

Farm work is out-of-doors; varied from day to day and the hired man can set his own pace, with less close supervision. The farm employe has closer personal relations to his employer.

The farmer-employer who thinks about what will appeal to a hired man usually will think first of a good house and how a satisfied family will mean a satisfied worker. Brown quotes one farm hand: "My wife wouldn't leave this house with its bathroom furnace for an additional $50 per month if these conveniences weren't available on the new job."

Workers are attracted by well-kept surroundings and good machinery. Good workers like a "going concern" and not a "haywire" outfit. They like to be able to say, notes Brown: "We combined 22 acres of grain today," when the ordinary outfit combined eight or 10. Good machinery, big enough for the job, in good repair and ready to go, will improve worker morale. A farm worker living in a neat, well-landscaped, orderly farmstead feels that he belongs.

Most Soil Districts TO Hold Elections During January

Farmers will go to churhes, township halls, schools and other polls in 63 of Michigans 83 counties soon to express themselves on problems concerning their closest possessions, their lands. Annual meetings and director elections are scheduled in 65 of Michigan's 68 soil conservation districts for January; Otsego, Emmet and Leelanau soil districts will have sessions in March.

Soil conservation districts are locally controlled and operated points out W. S. Harrison, Michigan State College extension specialist in soil conservation. Harrison, also assistant secretary of the State Soil Conservation Committee, notes that these districts are legal units of government. They are required by law to conduct annual meetings and name one or two directors each year to serve three-year "staggered" terms on the five-man boards.

Success of the districts' conservation efforts depends on these local men, elected by their neighbors, stresses Harrison. Any district owner or farmer of three or more acres can vote. Nominating committees select candidates in most counties but others can be named on the floor.

These annual meetings . . some all day with potlucks or banquets, some afternoon, some evening . . . give directors a chance to report the year's activities and plans. In many cases, there will be speakers from industry, civic organizations and Michigan State College. Contests, movies and other activity and education programs will help bring out an estimated 10,000 people compared to more than 8,000 in 1952.

Weed seed, organic matter and mixed varieties in cheap seed can undo a big part of the summer's work, warn farm crops specialists.

ESTATE

Mr. Farmer:

It takes a large volume of livestock to attract a large number of livestock buyers.

The Traverse City Livestock Commission sells more livestock than any sale in Northern Michigan.

The bigger buyers attend the Traverse City Livestock Auction, therefore you are assured the full market value when you consign your livestock to the Traverse City Livestock Commission. Don't hesitate to spend a little extra money for trucking to the Traverse City Livestock Commission. It will be repaid many times.

Three New Members Meet With County Draft Board Here

Three new members met with the Charlevoix county draft board Wednesday night for the first time.

They are Cornelius Geiken, Dan Geneit and Clarence Murray, all of Charlevoix.

The other members are J. M. Foster of Charlevoix, who has served on the board since it was organized in 1940 and Roman Dubas of East Jordan.

The new members bring the board to its full membership. Boyne City was to be represented on the board but failed to name any candidates to the post.

Children Present Christmas Program

St. James — Friday afternoon the annual school Christmas Party for the school children was held at the Parish Hall. The program started with the Nativity scene being acted out.

This was followed by a playlet "Madonna of the Rose", a story of a Christmas legend that took place in Normandy, France.

Dicken's famous "Christmas Carol" was next on the program. The parts in these playlets were taken by the school children, Art Johnston, Walter McCauley and Glenn McDonough. Ann Heard was the director.

Following the playlets Santa Claus talked to the children and distributed gifts. Friday evening the stage performance was given again for the adults.

Girl Scout News

The Brownie Scouts of Troop 12 received their Brownie pins from their leaders, Mrs. Frank Trocchio and Barbara Crick, at their Christmas party Tuesday.

The little Brownies gathered in the kindergarten room for their Christmas party. They exchanged gifts, played games and enjoyed refreshments.

Women's Clubs Enjoy Festive Christmas Tea

Pine boughs and candles lent a festive background for the Christmas tea attended by 75 members of the Tuesday Study Club, the Garden Club, the Shakespeare and Charles Dickens clubs Monday in the Congregational Church lounge.

The program of music and fun opened with group singing of Christmas carols, after which a trio consisting of Mrs. Charles Bellinger, Mrs. Florine Stelter and Mrs. Charles Pontius gave several vocal selections.

Winners of a contest quiz were Mrs. Bellinger, Mrs. Charles Duerr, Mrs. Charles Bleha, Mrs. H. I. Ochs and Mrs. H. E. Paddock.

Mrs. Harry Stewart gave a reading of "The Littlest Stork" followed by carol selections sung by the Girls Junior Choir under the direction of Mrs. Bellinger.

Judges, who donned Santa Claus masks and caps and announced Mrs. Pontius and Mrs. Karl Erber as winners of the most unusually wrapped gifts which were brought for Santa Claus Anonymous, were Mrs. Isaac Terr, Mrs. Harry Foster, Mrs. Gordon Freedman and Mrs. Otto Kreuger.

The legend of the rare "Star of Bethlehem" floral arrangement which centered the tea table was given by Mrs. Ray Faulkner who donated the blossoms, which had been flown to her as a gift from South Africa. Presiding at the silver and white tea table were Mrs. Roy Bennett and Mrs. F. F. McMillan.

An artistic sketch depicting Boh Cratchet and Tiny Tim framed in greens and holly berries which centered the door to the lounge was executed by David Hamilton.

Committee chairmen in charge of the event were: Mrs. Kit Carson, program chairman; Mrs. Robert Paul, refreshments; Mrs. Arthur Ranger, decorations and Mrs. J. Clark Dolliver, general chairman.

A Merry Christmas To You All

May Santa Claus be good to you and the New Year bring you all good things!

Welcome to our vacationing college students. Polly Kay hopes you will come in to see us during the holidays. We are closing January 3rd and selling anything and everything at sacrifice prices. For instance dresses are half price and lower. You can pick up a few duds to take back to school — and for very little money too.

Did you get a Christmas check? This week and next week are the last for Polly Kay this season so we are really offering bargains. You can make your Christmas money go a long ways at Polly Kay. Come in and see for yourself but hurry because January 3 is the deadline.

Barber Family Has Unexpected Holiday Reunion Saturday

Christmas is a time for reunions but the Elmer Barber family celebrated an unexpected one over the week-end.

M/Sgt. and Mrs. Eugene Barber of Cleveland, William Barber RM 3/c of Norfolk and Mrs. Frederick Keie and her two children were expected for the holidays but Bruce Barber, A2/c, was at Randolph Field, San Antonio, Tex., and couldn't make it.

However, he hitched rides via air to Minnesota and back to Detroit and arrived Saturday. He left early Sunday via auto for his base but not until after the Barbers had enjoyed their first reunion in seven years.

V.F.W., Auxiliary Hold Family Party

It was Christmas at the V.F.W. hall Saturday evening as members nf the Charlevoix V.F.W. post No. 1153, their Auxiliary and friends gathered for a family Christmas party.

More than 100 were present for the dinner and entertainment which followed. Santa Claus paid a visit to the children and presented them with bags of candy and the parents exchanged gifts. Late in the evening movies were enjoyed by the group.

Rex Davis is commender of the V.F.W. post and Mrs. Leroy Plum is president of the Auxiliary.

LOCAL ITEMS

- Mrs. Lance Neff left Saturday to join Mr. Neff in Grand Rapids for the winter months. Mr. Neff had gone there earlier this month.
- Sue Miles of Detroit and Roger Sweet of Albion arrived here Monday, called home by the illness and death of the former's grandmother, Mrs. William E. Black. Miss Miles will return to her nursing duties at Grace Hospital in Detroit Friday.

and a county normal school a year later. During the next dozen years she taught in country schools around the county, attending summer sessions at Central Michigan College to earn her degreo in 1906. She also gave piano lessons.

In 1912 she left the teaching profession to accept a position as governess for a summer family here, the Herrons. In the next eight years she helped to rear their four daughters.

In 1930, following the untimely death of her sister, she returned to Norwood to help with the care of the four motherless children ranging in age from nine months to 14 years. Later she was to marry their father, George Parsons, and rear his children as her own.

Through the years since the children have growa up ehe hee continued to give, sometimee in countlese cans of home-proceesed material weys as with the spreads and tableclothes, or with the fruits and vegetablee, but more often it has been of herself . . . her time, effort, knowledge and love.

All her children are married now. Mrs. Gale Brintnall lives in Grand Haven; Mrs. Archie Murphy in East Jordan; Floyd in Philadelphia, Pa., and William in Norwood near the family home.

Ten grandcnilaren have joined the family and all have known not only the warmth of her hand-knit mittens, scarves and sweaters but also of her love.

For here truely in Mrs. Parsons is depicted the true spirit of Christmas.

Watch Night Services Planned By Churches

Following a custom of long standing, several of the local churches will observe the coming of the New Year with special Watch Night services.

Among those where special services will be held are the First Methodist church, Community church of God, Baptist church, Assembly of God and the Barnard Reformed church.

Mathedisf Church

The Watch Night service in the Methodist church will begin at 11:30 p.m.

The Covenant Service of John Wesley first used in the French church at Spitafields in England will be the service followed. It has been repeated annually for almost 200 years in all parts of the world.

The Message of the pastor; the Rev. Lloyd M. Schloop, will be entitled "A Cry at Midnight", Special music will be provided by the choir directed by Mrs. Dean Davenport. Mrs. A. C. Belding will be the organist.

On the altar for the special service will be a lighted cross and a globe symbolizing Christ as the Light of the World. The climax of the service will be a candle-lighting ceremony from the altar.

This act of worship is offered as an opportunity to those who want to begin the New Year in a beautiful and thought-provoking service of consecration to God in Christ.

The choir will meet with Mrs. Belding at 10 p.m. for a practice session and a New Year's eve lunch.

Commurlfy Church of God

New Year's Eve services at the Community Church of God will begin with the regular mid-week prayer gathering and Bible Study at 8 p.m.

A social gathering with games, fun and refreshments at 9 p.m. in Fellowship Hall will be climaxed by a candle-light Watch Night service from 11 p.m. to 12 midnight. The service will feature songs, meditations and prayers in the church auditorium.

The Rev. George L. Majors will conduct the service.

Baptist Church

The Rev. W. N. Carr will conduct a Watch Night service at the Baptist church beginning at 8 p.m.

Near Half-Way Mark In Funds For Industry

Plans are being made by the Charlevoix Development Corporation for a concerted effort to sell $15,000 worth of stock for the purpose of bringing a new factory to Charlevoix, Ralph V. Hess, chairman of the corporation has announced.

The half-way mark was almosf reached last waek on the sale of stock, which would be protected by a first mortgage on a $50,000 firaproof factory building to house a new industry for the community.

City employees interested in the project are planning to purchase stock in the Corporation on a voluntary payroll deduction plan.

Anyone interested in bringing this now industry to Charlevoix may purchase as much or as little stock as desired, at $10 per share.

The propesed structure which would heuse the new Industry will be of steel, cement, brick and glass fira-proof construction and will be 50 ft. x 140 ft. In size. The firm would employ 50 peopla in the new building.

A subsidiary of the proposed new industry already is operating in the Lake Construction building on US 31 north of Charlevoix where approximately 20 persons are now employed.

Plan To Tighten Driver License Exams Drafted

A tentative draft calling for the revision of the rules and regulations governing the issuance of drivers' licenses and a tightening up of examinations has been agreed upon by the Secretary of State and the Michigan State Police.

The revision has been under study for a considerable period of time and was discussed at a conference of Secretary of State Fred M. Alger, Jr., Secretary of State-elect Owen J. Cleary and State Police Commissioner Joseph A. Childs.

The next step will be the presentation of the proposal to a representative meeting of all interested governmental and police agencies, public safety groups and others who have a primary concern in the problem.

It is hoped to hold this meeting the latter part of January. The proposal, with such modifications as may be made at that time, will then be ready to place in effect.

The program is aimed primarily at those applying for driving permits the first time. The written examination will be expanded and the vision test made more complete. The road test also will be more thorough.

"The office of the Secretary of State and the State Police have had this under study for a long time," said Commissioner Childs, "and have prepared an examination which we think will better fit today's needs and requirements. We have not believed present procedures entirely satisfactory and therefore have endeavored to come up with something that will put much safer drivers on the road."

Tom Fessenden Is Moved To Munson

Tom Fessenden, 25, who suffered a severe leg injury in a hunting accident Nov. 30, was transferred to Munson Hospital in Traverse City Friday for further treatment.

He made the trip via ambulance.

Charlevoix Rayders To Meet Petoskey There Saturday Night

The Charlevoix Rayders will resume their 1952-53 basketball schedule this week when they travel to Petoskey to meet Ace Zagraphos' Northmen in a traditional battle Saturday night.

The Rayders, leading the Northern Michigan Class C league have a record of three wins over Boyne City, East Jordan and Mancelona. Petoskey on the other hand, has a record of one win, a 59-48 overtime win over Boyne City and losses to Manistee and Traverse City.

Last year the teams split their two game schedula with Patoskey defeating tha Rayders In their first meeting for tha first tima in several yaars. In the game played here later in the season, the Rayders teok a tough one from the Northmen by a 41-40 score.

In the game Saturday Coach Zagraphos is expected to start Ken Clark and Jim Bigelow at the forward spots, Dave Conklin at center and Bob Gregory and Dick Spitler in the guard positions.

There is also a possibility that Paul Kondziela, Jim Donnelly or Tom Behan may be in the starting line-up.

Conklin has been the top scorer for the squad this season with an average of 13 points per game.

Coach Del Terrill said Monday he was not sure who would be in his starting line-up. However, he has been starting Bill Bennatt, and Dean Davenport at the forward positions. Mark White at center and Bill Misier and Jim Lewis at the guard spots.

He may change the line-up and pick others from the 13 Varsity players available for the opening five.

The Little Rayders, playing without Kit Carson who has a broken bone in his left hand, are preparing for the game with Petoskey Reserves, another traditional battle. The Charlevoix Reserves have a two win one loss record while the Little Northmen have yet to win their first game in three starts.

The preliminary game will start at 7:15 p.m. Saturday with the Varsity game opening at approximalely 8:30 p.m.

Fire Damages Home Of Edward Potter

An over-heated chimney at the Edward Potter home in Norwood township did an estimated $200 damage Friday evening, Fire chief Jerome Whitley reported this week.

Quick work on the part of the family and the aid of the Charlevoix fire department, which responded to the call, saved the house from extensive damage which might have resulted because of the high winds.

Change Announced In Bus Schedule

A minor change in the hour of departure of the Detroit-bound bus has been announced by John Norton, local agent for the Greyhound bus line.

Effective Jan. 7 the Detroit bus will leave here at 10 a.m. daily except Wednesday, when it will leave at 10:20 a.m.

Doris Howe of Cincinnati and Cora Howe of Nashville, Tenn., are spending the holidays with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Howe.

Proclamation

WHEREAS, the year 1952 witnessed the worst nationwide epidemic of infantile paralysis in all recorded history, wherein fore than 55,000 children and adults were stricken, and,

WHEREAS, the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis assures help for all victims of this disease needing assistance and has never failed in channeling emergency equipment, personnel and monies to those areas stricken by polio's cruel force, and,

WHEREAS, the only hope for continuing epidemic service, extensive programs of patient care and scientific research is through the generous support of the March of Dimes, and,

WHEREAS, the March of Dimes is being conducted throughout January in the City of Charlevoix,

SO THEREFORE, I, John Knight, Mayor of Charlevoix, do hereby proclaim the month of January to be dedicated to our mutual fight against polio, and do call upon every resident of this city to aupport this critical fight through generous contributions to the 1953 March of Dimes.

JOHN KNIGHT, Mayor

March Of Dimes For Polio Fund To Start This Week

The 1953 March of Dimes will be opened in Charlevoix county this week, Mrs. Walter Davis of East Jordan, county chairman of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis has announced.

Mrs. Thomas Carey of Charlevoix, who is also chapter vice-chairman, will serve as this city's campaign director. She will be assisted by Louis Hamlin and Mra. S. E. Coleman.

Other city chairmen who will serve throughout the county are Henry Lee of Boyne City; Alex Sinclair of East Jordan; Ray Williams of Ironton; Mrs. Clara Rolls of Boyne Falls and Postmaster Evers Carroll of Walloon Lake.

Last year a total of $1,770.85 was contributed in the Charlavoix area and on Beavar Island. An effort will be made to better that amount this year, Mrs. Caray said this week.

1052 has seen one of the most vicious attacks of the crippling disease, she continued. Charlevoix county felt the scourge and had 10 new cases during the year. It was necessary to have two grants from the National Foundation during the year to aid in the care of Charlevoix county patients so it is important to get behind the current drive which will begin Jan. 1.

The plans for the drive within the Charlevoix area will be announced as they develop, Mrs. Carey concluded.

Supervisors To Meet Here Next Wednesday, Jan. 7

The Charlevoix county board of supervisors will meet at the court house here Wednesday, Jan. 7 for their bi-annual January meeting.

Major business will include the approval of bonds for county officials and the discussion of tax assessments.

No new names will be found among those officially taking office at that time.

Fenton R. Bulow will again resume his duties as county clerk; Lillis M. Flanders, treasurer; C. M. Bice, prosecutor; Rex Davis, register of deeds; Floyd W. Ikens, sheriff; Mary C. Feindt, county surveyor; Dr. L. E. Grate of Charlevoix and James Stackus of Boyne City, coroners.

Name Ten County Men For January Draft Physicals

The names of the ten Charlevoix county draft registrants who have been ordered to report for pre-induction physical examinations Jan. 5, have been announced by the draft board.

They are: Niley A. Louiselle of Charlevoix; Robert H. Bonner, Richard D. O'Donnell and Ronald S. O'Donnell of St. James.

Also Robert C. Kurtz and Ted W. Mason of Boyne City; Leonard G. McRoberts and William J. Addis of East Jordan; Robert W. Mackie of Walloon Lake and Dean M. Buff of Boyne Falls.

Frank R. Wellcome of Walloon Lake, now living in Eatonville, Wash., was called for induction Jan. 12. He is the only man available to fill the county's January draft quota of three men. He will be inducted on the west coast.

Mrs. Harry Sloop Is New Chairman For Demonstration Group

Mrs. Harry Sloop of East Jordan was elected chairman of the Charlevoix county Home Demonstration group at their annual election of officers in Boyne City recently.

She succeeds Mrs. Sims Baker of Charlevoix who was named secretary-treasurer.

Mrs. Henry Erber of Boyne City was elected vice chairman and Mrs. George French of East Jordan was named recreation leader.

The event was also the annual Christmas party. The group enjoyed refreshments and a social hour. In place of exchanging gifts, each member brought a quarter which was tied to a small Christmas tree and later presented to Grandvue Hospital to purchase a gift for the hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. John Bissell and children of Milwaukee are visiting their respective mothers, Mrs. Joseph Bissell and Mrs. George LaBlance, Sr.

No Contests Develop For February Primary As Incumbents File

Unless some candidate chooses to run on 'slips' or as a sticker candidate in the primary election next month, Charlevoix will have a quiet election it was learned Monday, as only incumbents filed petitions for re-election at the deadline Monday.

No new names appeared as present office holders announced their intentions to seek re-election to their respective offices by filing petitions at the office of the city clerk at 4 p.m. Monday.

Filing petitions so their names would appear as candidates on the ballot in the Feb. 16 primary election and the office each is seeking follows: John Knight, mayor, who is seeking his fourth term; Nelle A. Hammond, treasurer; Hugh Mayne, clerk.

Ward officers seeking re-election are Charles Bellinger, Harry Zeitler and Harry Gebeau, first, second and third ward incumbents respectively for the office of alderman and George O. Haggard, Arthur Bergeon and C. B. Meggison, first, second and third ward candidates for the office of supervisor.

John J. Connolly is seeking re-election to his present office of justice of the peace.

I.O.O.F., Rebekah Lodges Install Officers Jan. 6

ODDS 'N ENDS

By Fran Martin

THAT WHITE Christmas we were bragging about last week certainly disappeared in a hurry . . . The rains came, the snows went . . . Result, a green Christmas . . . Since then, however, we've had a little snow so it hasn't been too bad.

And speaking of Christmas, weren't the carollers wonderful? . . . Ken Forbes, pretty much a shut-in now, enjoved them too . . He called to tell us they were one of the nicest things about Christmas . . . We loved them too . . . Although we must admit that our cat, Suki, sat in the window and growled all the while they sang . . . But honest, they weren't that bad . . . She just didn't like the confusion . . .

WE'D LIKE to say many, many thanks to all the wonderful people who sent us Christmas cards . . . there's nothing like being remembered and we love it . . . Our Christmas cards took on an international flavor this year with a picture of the Lt. Bob Vratanina family now in Germany; a card from some people in England our brother, Jim met while serving with the Air Force during World War II; one from the Capt. Jones F. Webbs (she's the former Marie Novak) with a note telling of their son, Tommy's troubles with Santa . . . They're in Casablanca, French Morocco, you'll remember, and they took Tommy to a department store to see Santa . . . Tommy immediately started telling him what he wanted but Santa could understand only Arabic and a little French and here was Tom chattering in English . . . We sure hope Santa brought him something after being so confused . . . From Korea a card from Cpl. Dick Jolliffe serving with an infantry division; from Puerto Rico one from the Bob Ashdons whose youngsters, Tony and Andrea, were bemaoning the fact that there was no snow for Christmas and form the land where there's weather, Alaska, a card and note plenty of snow and sub-zero from Arnie Loper stationed there with the Airforce . . . Do you wonder that we enjoy our cards so much . . . It's the one time of year we hear from everyone . . .

AS YOU probably know, the Christmas Ball was held Friday night with lovely Ann Lagerman as queen . . . But here's a little side-light on the dance . . . Joan and Roger Pischner, who had dates for the ball went to Beaver Island for the Christmas holiday, and as often happens this time of year, were stranded . . which was unfortunate for their dates back here . . . but that two-some took care of that . . . They, Sue Beaudoin and Howard Pearl, went to the ball together . . . Just leave it to the kids to work things out . . .

FOR SOME 15 years the Bob Mileses have been sending out Christmas cards with the boys pictures on them . . . First there was Bob on his couple Christmases . . . Then he was joined a couple of years later by Dave . . As the years have passed we've looked forward to receiving their card and each year wonder what they're going to come up with for it seems as though they will run out of ideas . . . But they never do and this year's card we swear, is one of their cleverest . . . the two boys playing their cornets with beautiful notes coming out wishing everyone a happy holiday . . .

CAN YOU believe it? . . . . we're on the upgrade . . . the shortest day of the year for '52 has come and gone and now the days will be longer and soon it will be spring . . . Of course, there'll be about three months of winter but that won't be bad, considering the good weather we've had behind us . . . Nothing seems quite so bad when that shortest day is passed . . . A sort of a milestone . . .

HAPPY NEW YEAR . . everyone . . . May it bring you the best of everything . . . But before midnight Wednesday don't forget to look back over 1952 and make an accounting of what the year has brought you . . . Many new and dear friends, many happy experiences, many memories that no one can take from you, many accomplishments . . . Oh, there are countless things that were good . . . Sure there were sadnesses and heart-aches and losses and disappointments . . . But it's a new year, a kind new year . . . and time, the days and weeks and months that will make up that year, will have it's healing effect . . . And beginning a new year is like looking across a great plain . . . you know there are many things there that you can't see but you're looking . . . And our wish for you is that you'll find many, many good things along tho way . . .

Lynn Laue Weds Robert J. Carey In Double Ring Ceremony In Evanston

The First Congregational church of Evanston, Ill., was the scene of the wedding Saturday evening of Lynn Laue and Robert W. Carey.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph H. Laue of Evanston. The parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. T. Leo Carey of this city.

A glowing red candle and an arrangement of red poinsettia decorated the altar and evergreens and lighted white tapers the sanctuary for the candlelight service. White tapers and greens decorated the church windows.

The church pastor officiated at the double ring service in the presence of 300 guests. The church organist played a program of traditional music and the wedding march.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She was attired in a period gown of white brocaded satin fashioned with a fitted jacket which was buttoned to the waist with self-covered buttons, a high neckline and long sleeves. The skirt featured a bustle and a formal length train. Her shoulder length veil fell from a matching crown and she carried a colonial bouquet of white camellias and split carnations.

Zoa Schofield was maid of honor and Barbara Hobart, Carol Needler, Nancy Maxwell of Harbor Beach, Mrs. Joseph Geiger and Mrs. Andrian Kremm were bridesmaids.

They wore identical gowns of holly red taffeta with rhinestone trim at the yoke, tiaras of split red carnations and holly greens and carried colonial bouquets of red carnations and ivy.

William Carey, assisted his twin brother as best man and ushers were Keith Carey of Midland, Don Carey of Mason and Thomas Carey of Charlevoix, brothers of the bridegroom, Thomas Stevenson of Detroit and Joseph Geiger.

Mrs. Laue chose a gown of ice blue taffeta and silver accessories for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Carey wore a rose beige gown with dashing green velvet jacket and trim and gold accessories. Each mother had an orchid corsage.

Immediately after the service a reception was held at the North Shore Country Club.

The couple left on a northern Wisconsin wedding trip and after Jan. 1 will make their home in East Lansing where both will return to their classes at Michigan State College.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer S. Laue, uncle and aunt of the bride, were hosts at the bridal dinner on Friday evening

Attending the wedding from Charlevoix were Mr. and Mrs. T. Leo Carey, Mrs. S. E. Coleman, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Carey and Mrs. Milton Block.

The Frank Dobbs Observe Wedding Date On Christmas

Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Dobbs observed their forty-fifth wedding anniversary Christmas Day. The couple had no formal observance of the occasion.

The couple was married at Crandon, Wis., Dec. 25, 1907, and during the next ten years resided in Wisconsin and Arkansas. In 1917 they returned to Charlevoix briefly before going to Port Clinton, Ohio, where Mr. Dobbs followed his work as a ship-builder. Later they made their home in Wyandotte where they lived until returning here in 1942.

Mrs. Dobbs, the former Maude Bergman, was born in Charlevoix. Mr. Dobbs is a native of Oshkosh, Wis.

They have one daughter, Mrs. Hazel Zurn of Wyandotte; three grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Though Mrs. Dobbs has been confined to a wheel-chair for five years because of arthritis, she continues to do her housework as before. Mr. Dobbs still follows his trade as a ship builder and is employed at the Charlevoix Marine Co.

The H. R. Pischners Celebrate Golden Wedding Anniversary

St. James — Mr. and Mrs. Herman R. Pischner celebrated their Golden Wedding anniversary Christmas. The Pischners were married Dec. 25, 1902 at South Haven. On Dec. 24, 1003 they moved to Beaver Island.

Seven children were born of this union. There is Arthur of Two Rivers, Wis.; Emil of Charlevoix; Charles of Green Bay, Wis.; Mrs. Evelyn Prokop of St. Ignace and Elston and Willard of St. James. Another son, Harry, passed away last September. The Pischners have 23 grandchildren.

Those who were with Mr. and Mrs. Pischner to celebrate their anniversary were Mr. and Mrs. James H. Gallagher, Mr. and Mrs. James W. Gallagher, Mr. and Mrs. Emil Pischner, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Pischner, and Mr. and Mrs. Elston Pischner.

AMONG THE parcels in the Christmas mail last week was J. Raleigh Nelson's new book, "From Suny Pastures" . . . a lovely little book of poems written at his present home, Sunny Pastures, outside Ann Arbor . . . You'll love them, we'll bet on that . . . We liked it best because they're about things we know . . . And when you read it you'll find your very own thoughts about the everyday but very important things in life put down in beautiful words . . . You'll find lovely word pictures of the simple things . . . a garden, a plowed field, snow drifts, an apple tree, a brook . . . And then there's a serious side too . . . But please don't miss any of it . . . And even those of you who say you don't care for poetry will find yourself reading these . . . We're sure some of them were written at Mr. Nelson's Ironton cottage . . . It's a book we'll treasurer always . . . And a million thanks to you, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson . . .

J. C. MARSHALL received a Christmas and birthday gift he'll treasure for a long while . . . a telephone call from his sister, Frances (Mrs. John Van Zon) now living in Bellingham, Wash. . . . It was the first time he'd spoken with her in the 12 years she's been in the west . . . Both were thrilled by the call, as well they might be . . .

AND SPEAKING of Christmas birthdays, Christ (Pop) Drost had one . . . his 86th, we think . . . And Lon Hewitt celebrated his 30th at a Christmas birthday dinner at the Lloyd Barnetts . . . Mrs. Emma Sutton observed her 86th on Saturday and George Meggison was 86 on Friday . . .

Telephone Almanac For 1953 Available At Michigan Bell

Time again for the Telephone Almanac.

In it's 1953 guise, it is now available in all business offices of the Michigan Bell Telephone company.

The title page announces that 1053 is "until July 4, the 177th year of the Independence of the United States, and until March 10, the 77th year of Bell's Electric Speaking Telephone."

It continues to summerize the contents as "valuable information for farmers, business men, housewives, students and other telephone users. Together with a compendium of fascinating information regarding the Telephone System. Including brief Dissertations anent certain People whose alertness to the worth of seemingly Inconsequential Ideas and discoveries Inspired the development of processes and Inventions that have had profound Effect upon the Nations and Peoples of the World."

Translated from this quaintness, the gist of the booklet is that the Bell System, furnishing a home town service linking neighborhood and nation, is always looking for a better way.

The transistor is an example of the fruits of such research. It is a tiny scientific wonder, simple in design but likely to be revolutionary in some fields of electronics. The new Almanac traces some of the observations and research that went into the development of this transistor.

The Telephone Almanac also includes timetables for the sun and moon and chronicles some historical event for each day of the year, all in true almanac tradition.

Watch Night Are Services Planned

A social hour, recreation and refreshments early in the evening will be followed by a special servi e as the old year departs.

Assembly of God

Members of the Assembly of God who gather at the church at 8 p.m. for a special Watch Night service will hear the Rev. Robert Way of Cadillac deliver the New Year's Message. Special music and social hour will also be enjoyed by the group headed by their postor, the Rev. Gunnar Kars.

Barnerd Reformed Church

The Rev. Joe Bekkering will conduct special New Year's Eve services at the Barnard Reformed church beginning at 8 p.m.

The showing of a film on Mission work in Africa will be followed by a social hour and refreshments for the members.

St. Mary's Church

Masses at St. Mary's church on New Year's Day, a holy day of obligation in the Catholic church calendar will be held at 8:30 and 10:30 a.m. Rev. John Grzybowski, pastor of the church, has announced.

Benediction will follow the second Mass.

Card of Thanks

We wish to thank our friends and neighbors, Dr. Grate, Mr. Pontius and Jasper Warner for the many acts of kindness during the recent death of our father, C. L. Gibbard.

Girligigs

Santa couldn't possibly have gotten through last week without getting snagged on at least one television aerial. That alone is enough to make his missus a little mad . . . but I'll bet another cookie he had some tall explaining to do when he got home about some misletoe and somebody's mommy.

By the way, did anyone get a yellow convertible or a sable stole for Christmas . . . maybe by mistake? I think he got my list a little confused with someone's else when he left me an elegant black velvet television outfit . . . with tapered trousers and a jeweled collar.

Bless your sweet heart, Santy . . . I need that suit like I need a mink band-aid! And if you DID intend it for me, you forgot one little thing . . . the television set that goes with it!

I noted last week a stunning holiday dress with a full black taffeta skirt and a multi-colored striped taffeta separate which had vol-OOM-inous sleeves. She is a petite little thing who wears it, of course.

And a holly-red feather holiday hat was season-right to wear to a Christmas tea.

You may be happy to know, that in the mad case of women's hats anyway, Spring is never far behind even Christmas. Already they are wearing small straw hats for dressy-up occasions in the cities. There is little change in style and they are worn absoLUTEly straight in the middle and slightly forward.

I took my worn out wig to one of my fav'rite hair stylists the other day . . . Your head has no cushion, he says . . . ?

So what do I do about no cushion, I asks? . . . I can't walk around on my elbows with the hope that my padding will start slipping to the top of my head . . and I don't know of a girdle in the world that would spread it to that particular territory.

So my New Year's job is all cut out for me . . . and I hope I have warned you in time, girls, not to neglect the shape of your head . . . for I must completely re-upholster!

Happy New Year . . . EVERYONE!

F.T.D.

• Phyllis Trimble has returned to Grand Rapids after spending the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Trimble.

Voice of Our Readers . . .

I was released from the Charlevoix Hospital December 16, 1952 after spending four days recuperating from what we call a bad cold. I never realized that the Charlevoix Hospital was such a nice place to get medicament and rest. When I arrived I was assigned a room, put to bed and made as comfortable as I could expect. Not long after that the Chief Nurse arived at my room, she asked me if I was comfortable and if there was a anything that I wanted. I said no. Immediately treatment as prescribed by the Doctor started. I was in the Hospital four days and during this time I never heard an order or a command given, it looked as though everyone knew just what to do and they did it. Everything went along so smooth and quiet I really enjoyed watching things click.

I want to thank my Doctor and everyone in the Hospital for having a hand in making me well. I am unable to express in words just how much I appreciated the services I received while I was in the Hospital. I also want to thank Charlevoix Lodge No. 282, F & AM, Charlevoix, for the very beautiful potted poinsettia plant.

Yours truely

Editor's Note: — The following is a letter written by Dr. A. F. Litzenberger, District health department director to the Charlevoix county chapter of the National Infantile Paralysis foundation:

" As the time approaches for the annual polio fund drive, "The March of Dimes", we in this area should be reminded that we have just passed through the worst polio out-break we have had since 1929.

"The untiring efforts of the local chapter in being ever-ready to assist families in which polio struck, cannot be too highly commended. It is a wonderful assurance to know that we do have such an active chapter, and it is during this March of Dimes campaign that we can materially show our appreciation for their untiring work.

"With a continuance of scientific research, we can feel that progress is being made. In the recent past, the work in the use of gamma globulin for its prevention and treatment appears to have much merit. From the Public Health point of view, it is an extremely important contribution.

"It is hoped that your committee will continue your untiring work and that the public will graciously respond to your request for funds to enable your work to continue as successfully in the future as it has in the past."

A. F. Litzenberger, M. D.,
M. P. H. Director.

Mr. Farmer:

It takes a large volume of livestock to attract a large number of livestock buyers.

The Traverse City Livestock Commission sells more livestock than any sale in Northern Michigan.

The bigger buyers attend the Traverse City Livestock Auction, therefore you are assured the full market value when you consign your livestock to the Traverse City Livestock Commission. Don't hesitate to spend a little extra money for trucking to the Traverse City Livestock Commission. It will be repaid many times.

Artificial Breeding Successful In North State Dairy Herds

More and more dairymen in Northern Michigan, where scattered herds over big areas offer some problems, are finding it pays to use artificial breeding, reports Ed Rebman, county agricultural agent.

Working through artificial breeding associations, the farmers find they can breed their cows to some of the best bulls in their breed at a cost less than owning their own bulls. They can buy another cow in place of a bull. The more dairymen use the service, the better service the associations can give, Rebman notes.

Inheritance for high milk and butterfat production is the first concern in a sound breeding program. Some dairymen select a young bull on basis of records of his sire and dam, but this is a hit-or-miss procedure, since the bull's ability to transmit good character is of unknown quantity. These farmers reason that such a practice costs them little if they sell the bull for more than his original cost — but they do not count feeding costs.

Dairymen with high interest in good inheritance are turning to artificial breeding with bulls of proven ability to transmit high milk and butterfat production. With the cost saved in not buying a bull, they buy another cow, and a reasonably good cow should return at least $200 above feed cost. On the basis of a 15-cow herd, this would pay the entire breeding costs of artificial insemination and leave about $100 per year. The big gain, however, is that the heifers sired by good bulls through artificial breeding usually average higher production. This assures a steady progress through the years towards higher dairy production in the entire herd.

Program Announced For Annual Farmers Week At MSC Jan. 26

General sessions at Michigan State College's Farmers' Week, January 26 to 31, will include two outstanding speakers and several special entertainment programs. E. L. Anthony, dean of the School of Agriculture and general chairman of the mid-winter educational event for rural Michigan people, has announced the programs.

Tuesday's afternoon speaker (January 27) will be Herbert Philbrick, for nine years a counterspy for the FBI and whose testimony was highly important in the conviction of eleven Communists before Judge Harold I. Medina in New York.

Tuesday evening visitors will see the world with Irving Johnson, who will give an illustrated lecture of a year-and-a-half trip around the globe.

On Wednesday, January 28, a special afternoon program, "Meet Michigan State College Students" is being arranged. It is designed to give Farmers' Week visitors a cross-section of the college and its student affairs.

Thursday afternoon, Milton Eisenhower, president of Pennsylvania State College, will be the main speaker. A brother of U. S. President-Elect Dwight Eisenhower, he has been active in agricultural affairs.

Thursday night's program — "Accent on Youth" — will feature 4-H Club talent from throughout Michigan that has been uncovered in the talent search program.

All programs are open to the public without charge.

Announce Changes In Regulations For State Bear Hunting

Lansing — Michigan's tangled bear policies got some straightening out during the December conservation commission meeting with a new set of simplified regulations to take effect in 1953 as a result of commission action.

Previously, the commission left regulation of bear pretty much to the discretion of counties involved. But recently, the resulting checkerboard pattern of regulations has caused numerous game and enforcement problems.

Starting with 1953, however, the bear season will run October 1 -November 5 in the upper and northern lower peninsulas. Hunting will be authorized under a small game license with firearms or under an archery license with bow and arrow, and dogs will be permitted.

In the southern lower peninsula, the season will open the same day as the upland game or waterfowl season, whichever is earlier, and close November 5.

Also, hunting with firearms under a regular deer hunting license will be authorized during the regular November deer season.

Two additional hunting periods are authorized in the upper peninsula; April 1-May 31, dogs not allowed, and August 16-September 15, dogs alowed. Female bears with cubs and cubs are to be protected during the first of these aditional hunting periods.

Bobcat Bounties Will Be Removed After Jan. 31, '53

Lansing—Bounties on bobcats will be removed after January 31 as a result of action taken by the conservation commission meeting in regular session here recently.

Also, the commission passed a recommendation to the legislature that all other bounties be removed. The commission has authority only over bobcat bounties; others are regulated by the legislature.

Votes on both issues split the commission and chairman Harold Glassen had to cast the deciding opinion.

Long sought by department game men, and end to the bounty system could mean considerable saving of the fish and game protection fund. Annually in the past, the bounty system has cost in excess of $200,000.

Biologists who have studied predator control over a long period of time and on a continent-wide basis feel that the bounty system does not do the job. Rather, they say efforts should be directed against those individual predators that do most harm.

Game men point out that predator numbers in Michigan have followed general cyclic population trends, despite bounties.

Enlistments Are Main Cause For Draft Shortage

The reason for the shortage of draft age registrants for induction into the armed services by draft boards has been offered by the U. S. Army Recruiting office in Petoskey.

According to figures made available through that office 51,627 men enlisted in the armed services between June 1950 and October 1952. The majority of these men were less than 20 years old at the time of enlistment or were to be called for the draft.

During the same period 52,985 men were inducted into the armed services.

Michigan Mirror
INTERPRETING THE NEWS

By Gene Allman

IF EVERYTHING goes well, Michigan could have a bridge across the Mackinac Straits by late 1956 or early 1957. After all the hullaballoo about the controversial span, such a statement might sound like a bit of winter, wind, but progress now has reached final pre-building stage.

B. J. Van Ingen of the B. J. Van Ingen and Company of New York, largest bond banker in the country, is handling the $100,000,000 in bonds. He is optimistic. As a matter of fact he has already spent some $15,000 of his own money in his selling campaign.

The company now is working up financial, traffic and engineering information for buyers. Construction could begin next spring.

A SURPRISE to most in the capitol circle was the recent switch of Charles M. Ziegler, state highway commissioner. The commissioner, while never coming flat out and opposing the Mackinac bridge, has been a bastion of passive resistanee to the project.

There are several possible reasons for this, the principal one being the simple fact that Murray D. Van Wagoner, Ziegler's Democratic predecessor, favored a bridge.

Also when the commissioner was campaigning for office back in 1942 he repeatedly said that he was opposed to spending too much money on any one project and he would hesitate to put the state into debt . . . and so forth.

IT WAS, therefore, a bit difficult for him to do a complete turn and back a bridge. And so when the Mackinac Bridge Authority was organized and recognized by the legislature, it was the highway department which inserted a rider in the bill to prevent the Authority from obligating the state in any way. This hasn't helped the financing of the project. Bond buyers are more liable to put money into a plan which the state also backs.

But now Commissioner Ziegler has cautiously come out in favor of the bridge. He still isn't committing himself, but he says he is "confident a safe bridge can be built." The best bridge engineers in the world said that two years ago.

The general public has been in favor of such a bridge. This may have been a factor determining the commissioner's new stand. He is up for re-election next April.

A Happy New Year

To old friends and new Polly Kay extends our best wishes for 1953. Although Polly Kay closes for the winter on January 3rd we will open again in the Spring and be happy to welcome you in the shop again.

Don't forget, however, this is really bargain week. We want to close out our stock and will almost give things away. So do come in before the deadline date. This is your last chance to do some mighty thrifty shopping. The low prices will surprise you.

We wish to thank you, sincerely for the pleasure of serving you in 1952 and again wish you all of the best for 1953.

Enrollment Is Still Open For World Affairs Lecture Series

Enrollment in the World Affairs lecture series offered by the University of Michigan Extension Service through the Continuing Education program at the Charlevoix public schools is still open, Supt. R. G. Bennett said Wednesday.

The series which will open the week of Jan 19 will bring to northern Michigan several members of the faculty of the University who will speak on timely topics regarding world affairs today. The series will run for six weeks.

The first lecturer will be Marshall M. Knappen, professor of political science, whose topic, The Foreign Policy of the New Administration, will be most timely.

Others who will appear in the series and whose topics will be equally as interesting are: Jan. 28 Henry L. Bretton, instructor in political science, whose subject will be "Western Europe; Feb. 4, Ronald S. Anderson, instructor in history, "Problems of the Far East"; Feb. 18, Nicholas Marbury Efimenco, assistant professor in political science, Problems of the Middle East; Feb. 25, George Kish, associate professor of Geography, Problems of southern and central Europa.

"I feel that we are fortunate in obtaining a lecture series such as mentioned above. It is my hope that everyone will take advantage of the opportunity," Mr. Bennett said in releasing the information on the series. "Certainly no other city the size of Charlevoix can offer such an opportunity to its residents."

Registrations can be made or further information obtained by calling or visiting the Superintendent's office in the Elementary school building.

Local Youth To Perform At Music Meeting

Robert Richards, Charlevoix high school senior and percussionist with the high school band, will be among the 650 high school students, members of all-state musical organizations who will perform at the annual Midwestern Music Conference at the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor this week-end.

Bob became eligible to play with the all-state high school band after attending the National Music Camp at Interlochen last summer on a scholarship offered by local clubs.

The event, which will be held Friday and Saturday, has been sponsored for eight years by the Michigan School Band and Orchestra Association, Vocal and Music Educators Association and the U-M School of Music and

Four Continuing Education Groups Meet Next Week

Four Continuing Education Classes will start next week and others will begin as soon as enrollment goals are reached, Supt. R. G. Bennett announced this week.

The first class in shorthand and driver training will be held at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, Jan 13 and initial classes in typing and art will be held at the same hour on Thursday Jan. 15.

Shorthand will be taught by Robert Kanerva. Larry Tuomela will teach the class in driver training. A definite schedule will be arranged at the first meeting.

Mr. Kanerva will also teach the Thursday evening typing class. Mr. and Mrs. John Cook will teach three phases of art, oils, sketching and ceramics.

Enrollment in all classes mentioned above as well as others including home-making, manual arts, mathematics and others are still being accepted. As soon as there are enough enrollments to warrant a class in any subject, the class will be started, Mr. Bennett said.

Any information regarding the Continuing Education program will be available by calling the Superintendent's office or visiting the Superintendent's office in the Elementary school. Registrations are also accepted there.

Alan Macdonell Purchases Tax Service Business

Alan Macdonell has announced the purchase of the Tax and Bookkeeping Service from Archie Campbell of Gaylord. The business, located in the Sloan Building, was formerly operated by the late H. C. Heckler.

Mr. Macdonell assumed operation of the business Jan. 1.

In announcing the purchase of the business Mr. Macdonell said, "It is my purpose and desire to bring to the people of Charlevoix county an efficient and courteous service in all matters pertaining to tax and accounting problems."

The office in the Sloan Building will be open daily except Sunday from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. The telephone number is Liberty 7-2601.

Mr. Macdonell came here from Flint where he has been an auditor at the A. C. Sparkplug Co. for the last 12 years. He had previously operated an auditing service in Genesee county.

Area Hospitals Receive Oxygen Tents As Gifts

Delivery of a Thermal Oxygen tent, a gift from the Northern Auto Parts Co. of Traverse City and Petoskey, was made to the Charlevoix Hospital Friday, Miss Anne Baumgartner, superintendent of the hospital has announced.

The Charlevoix Hospital was one of 13 hospitals in the area served by the wholesale company to receive similar gifts during the past holiday season. The gifts, which were presented to the hospitals in behalf of the company's customers in the area, replaced token gifts given the customers in past years.

In letters to their customers, G. W. Arnold and H. C. Arnold, heads of the wholesale firm, wrote in part: "This year, after questioning some of our customers, in place of the token remembrance we have decided to make substantial gifts to 13 hospitals in the wholesale area we

Hold Services For Harry A. Webster, Lifelong Resident

Harry A. Webster, 57, lifelong resident of this community died unexpectedly at his home at 311 Antrim st. late Friday evening.

Funeral services were held at the Pontius Chapel Monday with the Rev. Lloyd Schloop officiating. Burial was in Brookside cemetery.

Born in Charlevoix Dec. 24, 1895, Mr. Webster was married to the former Grace Shapton in 1923. They resided in Norwood township following their marriage and for the past 10 years have lived at their present address. He was a farmer and trucker and since 1946 has been employed as a driver by the Theisen-Clemens Co.

He was a Navy veteran of World War 1 and was a former member of the I.O.O.F. and the V.F.W.

Besides his wife he is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Thomas Louiselle of Van Dyke and four sons, Allen, Albert and Richard, also of Van Dyke and Airman 3/c Harry L. stationed in Japan with the Air Force; three grandchildren and three sisters, Mrs. Archie Balch of Royal Oak, Mrs. Vern Jones of East Jordan and Mrs. George Sarasin of this city.

Mrs. J. Bugai Dies Sunday In Petoskey

Ellsworth — Friends in Ellsworth were shoked to hear of the death of Mrs. Joe Bugai in Little Traverse Hospital in Petoskey Sunday morning.

Mrs. Bugai, a resident of East Jordan was well known in Ellsworth, where she had been active in the Ellsworth Lumber company office with her husband, Mr. Bugai.

Funeral services were to be held at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning in St. Joseph's church in East Jordan.

County Board May Draft The 19-Year-Olds

Nineteen-year-olds may be called for induction into the armed services by the Charlevoix county draft board if older men are not available, the local draft board has been advised.

The direction came from State Selective Service Headquarters after the county was unable to fill its quotas for December and January.

The February draft quota has been set at two men. Seven men will be called for pre-induction physicals.

The dates for the two calls have not been received by the local board.

If it should become necessary to call up men from the 19-year age group, those men closest to their twentieth birthday anniversaries will be the first to be called, Mrs. Cornelia Berber, clerk of the draft board stated.

Ten county draft registrants left Monday via bus for Detroit for pre-induction physicals. Robert H. Bonner, Richard D. O'Donnell and Ronald S. O'Donnall of St. James; Robert C. Kurtz and Ted W. Mason of Boyne City; Leonard G. McRoberts and William J. Addis of East Jordan; Robert W. Mackie of Walloon Lake and Dean M. Duff of Boyne Falls.

Only one man, Frank R. Welcome of Walloon Lake, now living in Eatonville, Wash., was available to fill a quota of three men for January.

He will be inducted on the west coast Jan. 12.

Mrs. C. A. Duerr Is Elected Girl Scout Chairman

Mrs. Charles Duerr was elected chairman of the Charlevoix Girl Scout Council at a meeting held at the Girl Scout room of the city hall Monday night.

She succeeds Mrs. Lester Smith who was named first vice president. Mrs. Jean Gallagher is second vice president.

Other newly-elected officers are: treasurer, Mrs. Guy Scott; secretary, Mrs. T. R. Miller; registrar, Mrs. George Raff.

Committee chairmen: Camping, Mrs. Ralph Hamilton; public relations, Mrs. William Lusk; troop, Mrs. O. V. Cunningham; training, Mrs. Fay Davis; Finance, Mrs. John Knight, program, Mrs. Isaac Tert; Nomination and membership, Mrs. Bruce Heoley.

The programs for the year were also discussed and tentative plans made for several major programs to be completed during the remainder of the current school year.

John Krchak Sr. Is Injured In Fall Down Stairs

The condition of John Krchak Sr., 74, who was injured in a fall in his home Monday, was listed as fairly good at the Charlevoix Hospital Wednesday.

He suffered a severe head laceration and a dislocated knee which required an operation, Dr. L. E. Grate, attending physician, said.

He was injured Monday morning when he fell down the basement stairs in his State st. home. He was taken to the hospital via ambulance.

Complete Plans For Rod And Gun Club Dinner This Sunday

The Charlevoix Rod and Gun club has completed plans for their annual dinner at the club house, Kit Carson, club president has announced.

The event will be held at the club house north of Charlevoix Sunday evening. Families and friends of the club are invited to attend the dinner which will start at between 6:30 and 7 p.m.

Charles Welsh of Roscommon, of the educational division of the Michigan Conservation Department, will be present. He is expected to bring a speaker and conservation films to be shown for the entertainment of the guests.

Tickets can be purchased from Mr. Carson or other club members and should be purchased before noon Saturday.

Mayor Explains City's Position On Winter Taxes

In answer to a number of complaints regarding Winter taxes, Mayor John Knight Wednesday issued the following statement:

"There has been so much gripping about the Winter taxes, I would like to clarify the city's position.

"First, the city does not get a dime from the Winter taxes. It merely acts as the collection agency.

"Second, when the state came in and arbitrarily raised the valuation in the county 30%, the city to give the taxpayers a break, reduced the millage from 20 to 16. The county, however, only reduced the millage 1 mill and the school did not reduce their millage at all.

"Third, if any taxpayers have a legitimate complaint about their valuation, they should come to the Board of Review the first week in March, at the City Hall."

John Knight, Mayor

Ballot Boxes To Be Returned To Area Precincts

Ballot boxes and registration books will be returned to the respective precincts in Charlevoix county within the week County clerk F. R. Bulow announced Tuesday following receipt of a telegram from Thomas C. Henning Jr., of the sub-committee on privileges and elections, U. S. Senate, notifying him that there would not be a recount for the office of U. S. Senator.

In the recent election Charles Potter defeated incumbent Blair Moody for the post.

Earlier the ballots and boxes were collected from the township and city clerks and delivered to the court house here for the gubernatorial recount last month.

Kiwanis Holds Installation Of Officers For '53

Capt. H. E. Paddock was installed as president of the Charlevoix Kiwanis club for 1953 at the regular meeting at the high school cafeteria Monday night.

Roy G. Bennett was the installing officer.

Frank Bird, retiring president, was presented with a gift from the club by H. E. Bingham.

H. P. Spitler of Petoskey was a guest speaker and spoke on the subject "Kiwanis and what it stands for."

Other officers are, first vice president, Howard Burns; second vice president, E. K. Shanahan; secretary-treasurer, Ralph S. Hamilton.

Board of directors: Fred Bancroft, Mr. Bennett, Angus Fochtman, C. B. Meggison, Frank Oleksy, Charles Pontius and Fred Willis.

Standing and special committees for the year were also named.

Council Tables Two Engine Bids

The Charlevoix City council met Monday night for a special session to receive bids for additional Diesel generation.

Two bids were received by Mayor John Knight. One from the city of Grand Haven, was for a used DeLaVergne 1140 horsepower generator unit which would supply 800 kilowatts.

The second, submitted by the Fairbanks, Morse and Co. of Beloit, Wis., was for a new Fairbanks Morse engine generator unit, 1600 horsepower, which would generate 1136 kilowatts.

No flat figures were given for either generator. The cost would depend on alternate proposals, accessories and other items. After some discussion the issue was tabled pending a report by J. Bryan Sims, consulting engineer for the city of Charlevoix.

Knights Of Pythias To Install Monday

The Knights of Pythias Lodge will hold installation of officers Monday, Jan. 12 at 8 p.m. at the Lodge hall.

A Past Grand Chancellor will be the installing officer.

Preliminary Work On Highway Begun; Hope For July Completion

The P. VanderVeen and Sons road building firm of Grand Rapids, which was awarded the contract for the construction of 1.315 miles of highway on US 31 from the intersection of Dixon and Michigan avenues north, moved in their first heavy equipment this week to start preliminary work on the highway project.

A spokesman for the company said they hoped to complete the work by July 1.

At the present time trees and other obstacles are being removed. Later shoulder grading will be done and storm sewers laid. As the work progresses the existing curbs and sidewalks along the route will be removed in preparation for widening the highway on Michigan and Petoskey avenues.

City utility crews are transferring wires to poles placed earlier, removing old poles and moving water boxes. Telephone company crews are also transferring wires and removing old poles.

A comparatively open winter has made it possible for the construction company to start work at this time.

City officials said Tuesday they had been informed by the construction company that the latter plans to complete the work to a point where the pouring of concrete for the entire 1.315 miles can begin May 15, the earliest date permitted by the Michigan Highway Commission.

The city of Charlevoix installed the sewer along the new roadway in 1951.

The Grand Rapids company was awarded the contract for the highway early last month after Carl Goodwin and Sons whose bid had been accepted in August asked to be released from the contract when they were unable to get essential materials.

The VanderVeen and Sons Company bid was for $215,566.

Plan Special Local Events In Polio Drive

A meeting of the March of Dimes prospective chairmen has been called by Mrs. Thomas Corey, local campaign chairman to complete plans for the annual March of Dimes fund drive in Charlevoix and the surrounding area.

Several special events are being planned. Among them is the Mothers' March which has been set for Thursday, Jan. 29. This event will be climaxed by a March of Dimes Jamboree in the high school auditorium the same evening.

Following the special meeting tentatively set for Wednesday evening, Mrs. Carey will announce the names of her ward chairmen as well as special chairman.

A report on polio in Charlevoix county for the past four years was released this week by Mrs. Walter Davis of East Jordan, county chairman.

The report reveals 43 cases of the disease in the entire county from 1949 through 1952. A breakdown of the figures shows 23 cases in Charlevoix and the immediate area; 15 in East Jordan and three in Boyne City. During the same period there were two deaths from the disease, both in the Charlevoix area.

In 1952 there were ten cases in the county.

Also in 1952 three patients were treated at the Warm Springs Foundation in Warm Springs, Ga. and three received special and extensive surgery. There were also five other cases, all child-

Don Meggison To Operate Karl's Service Station

Karl's Super Service, a Sinclair gas station at the corner of Bridge st. and Belvedere ave., has been leased to Don Meggison of Meggison Auto Service, Karl Erber of Karl's Super Service announced this week.

Karl's Super Service, however, will retain the bulk plant and the fuel oil delivery service, Mr. Erber said. Hugh Mayne will continue to accept orders and payments at the gas station office as in the past.

Mr. Meggison said he would continue to operate the auto service along with the service station. L. E. McGhan and C. B. Meggison will assist him in the operation of the business.

He assumed operation of the service station this week.

Report Condition Of Tom Fessenden As Some Improved

The condition of Tom Fessenden, 15, whose right leg was amputated above the knee Dec. 31, was improved Charlevoix Hospital attendants reported Wednesday.

Tom was admitted to the hospital Nov. 30 for treatment of a severely shattered lower right leg received when he was hit by a bullet fired by Theodore Malpass Jr., 27, of East Jordan, who told authorities he was shooting at a wounded deer. The accident occurred near Chestonia in Antrim county.

Tom was taken via Pontius ambulance to Munson Hospital in Traverse City Dec. 26 for observation and returned here Dec. 29.

A junior in the Charlevoix high school, where he had earned a berth on the Varsity basketball team prior to the accident, he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Fessenden.

"For The Want Of A Nail . . ."

"For the want of a nail, the shoe was lost. For the want of a shoe the horse was lost. For the want of a horse the rider was lost. For the want of a rider the battle was lost. For the want of a battle the kingdom was lost . . . And all for the want of a horseshoe nail."

"This old quotation, used so many times in so many different ways, is especially applicable to the position in which Charlevoix finds itself today. Our community has two golden opportunities lying ahead for the bright, hopeful New Year of 1953. One of these may be lost and the other postponed, all for the want of an all-important financial "nail".

Naturally, we mean the long-awaited new Charlevoix Area hospital and the wonderful opportunity to have a new industry employing 50 people come here. In the first case it is a question of people fulfilling pledges already made in the amount necessary to go ahead with the project. In the second instance it means raising $15,000 thruugh sale of stock in the Charlevoix Development corporation to show the industry owners that we really want them here. The stock will be protected by a first mortgage on a new $50,000 fireproof building.

The full details of both worthwhile prujects have been explained in other columns of the Courier from time to time . . . NOW the question is, will one be postponed and the other lost to some other city . . . All for the want of that "horseshoe nail"?

THE Ingenious Gibbons boys have done it again . . . This time their clever idea got them home for free to spend the holidays . . . Jim, a student ot Michigan and Gerry ottending Michigan State decided to hitch-hike home . . . But how to ottract attention and some sympathy in order to get a ride? . . . That was soon solved when one appeared with a sandwich sign which read "Home" and a second came along with the word "Christmas" . . . They had no trouble at all . . .

THIS unseasonable weather we've been having so far this winter has brought many strange things . . . The latest is pussy-willows in "bloom" . . . guess that's how you'd say it . . . Charlie Bleha and his son, Tom, hunting near Oyster Bay New Year's Day couldn't believe their eyes . . . They figured no one else would either so they brought home just seads of them to prove it . . . We have some and they're lovely . . .

CHARLEVOIX received a wonderful mention in the magazine section of the Grand Rapids Herald last week when it came out with a series of pictures under the heading "Where are these scenes?" . . . . . Included were many local buildings and a harbor scene.

THE GEORGE Bergmanns, doing some remodeling at their house, came up with two copies of the Grand Rapids Press dated Judy 3 and 7, 1917 . . . 35 years old . . . But you know, it's amazing how little the headlines differ from those we've all seen in the past ten years . . . The geographic location ond the names may be a bit different but the news was much the same . .

For instance, the July 3 copy included the following headlines: Fixed coal prices suspended, Pres. Wilson fears ill effects . . . Intermingling of patriotism and profiteering not satisfactory solutions . . . And then there were: Senator decides on control of clothes, shoes and Four slain in race riots in East St. Louis . . . Russians capture Galician town in drive on Bemberg . . . At Charlotte, Mayor denies he was paid $75,000 . . In Mason county Posse makes sensational raid . . skyrockets signal authorities who decend on Bugs house (so help us that's correct), an ice cream parlor selling beer.

IN THE July 6 issue were such items as Selection of Draft Army near at hand . . . Subs take big toll of ships owned by U. S. . . . Chinese factions battle; Rule of monarch doomed . . . Strikers riot; troops patrol Bloomington.

And from northern Michigan the news that the Cross Village stage coach had capsized on o trip to Harbor Springs. No one was seriously injured . . . And from Charlevoix . . . Morris S. Rosenwald, brother of Julius Rosenwald, chairmon of the purchasing committee for the army and navy, has arrived and taken a cottage for the summer . . .

Who says history doesn't repeat itself? . . . Wouldn't ynu swear you'd seen these headlines in the past few years . . .

And don't forget the ods . . . Alaskan refrigerators $16.35 or one dollar down and a dollar a week . . . Victrola (the big kind with the manual crank on the side) $50 . . . and a clearance of Men's fancy summer suits . . . $7.98 to $24.95 . . . Those we'll odmit hove changed . . .

A CABLEGRAM Monday morning brought this happy messoge to Mrs. Bertha Roberts from her son, Jack, whn hos been serving in Koreo . . . "Happy New Yeor, Mom . . . Am in Jopao on my way home. Love and kisses, Jock." . . . A message no mother would mind receiving from a son who has been gone for nearly a year . . . And speaking of messages, the Leo Allards received a Christmas cablegram from Bill Steffens now stationed in Hawaii with the Air Force . . . And another nice thing we heard about was a Christmas corsage sent to Mrs. Fred Loper from her soo, Arnold, stationed in Alaska.

SINCE Charlevoix's gone on dial, we, and a lot of other people we know, have developed a pet peeve . . . It's this: people who dial your number, let the phone ring once or twice and before you have a chance to answer, hang up . . . When you dial a number now, the phone rings approximately once every ten seconds . . . much more often than when your former operator rang for you . . . You'll admit there are few subscribers who can break track records so for heaven's sake, be a little patient . . . It will save you time becouse you won't have to call back and it will save the temper of the person you're calling . . . And while we're voicing pet peeves, we'd like to mention another one . . . the person on a party line who picks up the phone just long enough to break the connection when you're calling someone else on the line . . . The dial system's here to stay so we think everyone should get the most out of it by doing the right thing . . .

IN THE MAIL recently a note from the Arthur Edwardses in Los Angeles . . . They mentioned the Dick Edwardses and said that young Larry was much improved since going west . . . Also that the Dick Herricks, also living in the west, had been over to spend a day with Dick's family . . The letter concluded with: the grass is real green, the poinsettia are in their full glory, the oranges and lemons are ripening and behind it all are the snow-capped mountains . . . a very beautiful sight . . .

World's newest V8 powers
BUICK'S GREATEST CARS IN 50 GREAT YEARS

Here you see pictured the Golden Anniversary Roadmaster — engineered, styled, powered and bodied to be fully worthy of its paragon role in this fiftieth year of Buick building.

A quick listing of simple facts will reveal just cause for celebration.

★ It has the world's newest V8 engine. Vertical valves; 12-volt electrical system; 180 pounds lighter; entire engine is so compact, a new, more maneuverable chassis has been built around it.

★ It has 188 Fireball horsepower. A new Buick record; engine horsepower per pound increased 40%.

★ It has a compression ratio of 8.5 to 1. Highest compression on the American scene today; bettered fuel economy.

★ It has a dynamic-flow muffler. For the first time in automotive history, a muffler with zero power loss.

★ It has a new Twin-Turbine Dynaflow Drive. Now adds far swifter, quieter, more efficient getaway to infinite smoothness at all speed ranges.

★ It has new braking power. Most powerful braking action of any Buick in fifty years; plus the new ease of Power Brakes, optional at extra cost.

★ It has a still finer ride. The softest, steadiest, most buoyantly level ride that Buick's advanced engineering has yet produced.

Television treat — the BUICK CIRCUS HOUR — every fourth Tuesday.

It has, also, wondrous handling ease, with Power Steering as standard equipment. It has superb comfort. It has sumptuous fabrics and tailoring. And its acoustics are so thornughly mastered that it may well be one uf the world's most quiet cars.

But no listing of facts can dn true justice to this phenomenal automobile, or tu its brilliant brothers, the 1953 Supers and Specials.

And no words can really tell yuu the beauty you see, the comfort you feel, the excitement you experience — when you look at and drive any one of these big, beautiful, bounteous Buicks for 1953.

Will you cume in nnd see for yourself that these are, in simple truth, Buick's greatest cars in five brilliant decades?

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice.

WHEN BETTER AUTOMOBILES ARE BUILT BUICK WILL BUILD THEM

The Angus Phillips Observe Their 50th Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Angus Phillips, former residents now living in Cheboygan, observed their golden wedding anniversary at their present home Friday. No formal observance was made of the occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. Phillips were married at St. James Episcopal church in Cheboygan Jan. 2, 1903, and for about 25 years, when Mr. Phillips was a lighthouse keeper at various lighthouses in Northern Lake Michigan, resided in Charlevoix. Following his retirement several years ago, the family returned to their former home in Cheboygan. Both are in excellent health and enjoy a variety of interests.

The couple has five children, Mrs. Marshall O'Neill of Cheboygan, Mrs. Aylwin Sangster and Mrs. Wallace Burrell of Cheboygan, Warren of Grand Rapids and Ivan of Holly Hill, Fla. They also have 14 grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Dickens Study Club Hears Book Review

Members of the Charles Dickens Study Club met at 2 p.m. Monday at the home of Mrs. Leonard Burns.

The business meeting was conducted by the president Mrs. Charles Bleha, after which a review of Catherine Marshall's book, "A Man Named Peter", was given by Mrs. E. B. Bowman.

Honor J. H. Knudsen For Service With The H. J. Heinz Co.

John H. Knudsen of Charlevoix was honored recently by the H. J. Heinz Co. when he was presented with a gold service insignia in recognition of 10 years continuous service. He is employed by the company's salting house district in Big Rapids.

The service award was presented by John D. White and A. E. Hildebrand.

Prior to joining the Heinz Co., in 1942, Mr. Knudsen was employed by the Charlevoix Pickle Co. for 12 years.

Heinz employees throughout the United States as well as at the company's locations abroad, each year are presented gold service insignia upon completion of 10 years of service.

This year a total of 288 Heinz employees throughout the country are currently receiving service awards. To date 5050 Heinz workers have been honored for long continuous services since the company's veteran award program was inaugurated.

Michigan's coast lines measure a total of 3,100 miles.

Girligigs

The tinsel and bright baubles are fun . . . but it was refreshing the other night to see a gal wearing crisp, pink camellias.

* * *

Fashion fad women in London are sporting argyle sox . . . one at a time, and worn on their hoods. But I like the little knit half-helmets worn around here better. But how anyone finds the time 'around here' to knit one, I'd like to know . . . 'specially the chick who wears the bright yallar one.

* * *

I seem to have been mistaken . . . Cedric Adams says it'll be Mamie—PINK. I won't argue with Cedric, maybe he knows Mamie better than I do.

* * *

I know one thing for sure, tho' . . . and that is, climbing into the ring for a wrastle with Gorgeous George or Ivan Rasputin would be a cinch after learning to square dance!

* * *

Actually, there isn't much difference between these two . . . er . . . things. The one being that you don't actually enter into a square dance with the idea of knocking someone out and trampling on their adam's apple . . it just turns out that way.

* * *

A similarity being, that in both contests you start by "honoring" your partner . . . well, that's a good idea too. Because when it's all over, you aren't quite in a mood to honor anyone . . . and least of all the fella who grabbed your nose by mistake when you were whirling through a "promenade to the left."

Of course . . . he could come right back at you with the idea that your nose shouldn't have been where your right hand was supposed to be in the first place.

And that's the funny thing, nothing about you is where it should be when you are square dancing . . . and nothing about you is where it oughta be when you've finished.

* * *

After a quick inventory of your teeth and toes . . . and when your little red corpuscles on the left have stopped "doesy-doe-ing" with your little white corpuscles on the right, you may get out a battered grin meaning "By golly, that was a tough fight . . . but I made it."

And it's more fun than a circus . . . HONEST!

Local Youth To Attend Music Meet

Extension Service.

C. A. Odmark, director of the Charlevoix high school band, will be among the 1,000 music teachers in elementary and high schools from throughout Michigan and the surrounding states who will hear two days of lectures and conferences in addition to the informal concerts presented by all-state students on Saturday.

The All-State high school band will appear in a concert at Hill Auditorium at 11:15 a.m. Saturday under the direction of Arthur C. Hills of Holland.

Preceding the concert at 10:15 will be a reading of the 1953 Festival Music with eight directors from throughout the state directing the All-State band in the eight numbers. Mr. Odmark is one of the eight directors who has been invited to conduct the band in these numbers.

The appearance of the All-State Orchestra will follow the All-State high school band.

The Conference will be climaxed by an appearance of the University of Michigan band with Leroy Anderson, popular young composer, as the guest director.

Members of the All-State Musical organizations will hold a reunion dinner Friday evening before gathering for their series of informal concerts on Saturday.

Area Hospital Is Given Oxygen Tent

serve. These gifts will give the hospitals much needed equipment which will benefit your whole community."

A similar letter was sent to each hospital receiving a gift from the company which made the presentation to the Charlevoix Hospital in the name of the following local dealers: Krahnke Motor Sales; Meggison Service, Karl's Super Service, Brown Motors Inc., Northern Auto of Charlevoix; Wallace Motor Sales, Copper Pontiac, Southside Service, Henry Stephan, Pioneer Auto Body, Farmers' Union Co-op, Bert Beaudoin, Ferguson Tractor, Lake Construction Co., Hamilton Boat Yard, Parsel's Garage, Freedman Artcraft, Charlevoix Oil Co., Walt Moore, Norton Standard Service, Walker Service and Williams Brothers of Ironton.

In accepting the gift in behalf of the hospital, Miss Baumgartner expressed the gratitude of the hospital but said that equally important was the thoughtfulness behind the gift. "As I have said many times in the past, gifts such as this help make the hospital what it should be, a community project. By virtue of this gift which the Northern Auto Parts Co. has made in the name of their local customers, many more people will now have a greater interest and will be closer to the hospital which serves them", Miss Baumgartner concluded.

North Shore Makes Last Beaver Island Trip Until Spring

The motorship, North Shore, made its last trip to Beaver Island Wednesday to close the current navigation season between the island and the mainland.

The boat was loaded with last minute orders for groceries and other supplies for the more than 350 island residents whose only communication with the mainland for the next three months will be by plane.

The McPhillips Flying Service, operated by Joe McPhillips already has taken over the mail contract which he will hold from Jan. 1 until navigation opens in the spring.

The North Shore is expected to dock here for the winter.

Michigan farmers should take their new 1953 calenders and circle the dates January 26 through 31. It's Farmers' Week at Michigan State College.

Charlevoix IN UNIFORM

Carl Zeltler has arrived here from Fort Custer to join his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Zeltler, Sr. following his discharge from the army. He served two years, 18 months of which were spent overseas. He served one year in Korea with the Infantry and six months in Japan prior to duty in Korea.

Airport Bar Takes First Half Of Men's Bowling Team Play

The Airport Bar was the top team in the Charlevoix Men's Bowling league as the first half of the current schedule drew to a close last week-end.

The team had a record of 41 wins and 23 losses.

In second place was Hess Furniture with 38 wins and 26 losses followed by Edwards Food Mart with 29 wins and 35 losses. Moore's Hudson and Mathews' Spuds tied for fourth place with 28½ wins and 35½ losses. Browe Electric finished in the cellar with 27 wins and 37 losses.

Single game honors went to Ted Ager who posted a single game score of 254 points and a 645 single series score.

Other top scorers were Henry Supernaw with a 211 and 619; Arthur Hellig, 234 and 581; Walt Moore, 225 and 551; Jack Mailhot 215 and 569; Chuck Wagner, 217 and 563.

Browe Electric led the team scoring with an 831 for a single team score and 2441 for a team series; Airport Bar was second with scores of 876 and 2424 and Moore's Hudson was next with 891 and 2410.

The second half of the schedule got underway Wednesday night.

Handicapped To Be Interviewed Jan. 13

A field agent for the Office of Vocational Rehabilitation will interview vocationally handicapped persons in Charlevoix, City Hall, second floor, Tuesday, Jan. 13 at 1 p.m.; Boyne City, post office, room 201, Jan. 14 at 8:30 a.m. and East Jordan Town Hall, Jan. 14 at 1 p.m.

This agency attempts to help vocationally handicapped individuals to help themselves get or keep jobs by assisting them with training to learn new skills, artificial appliances, hospitalization or surgery.

Offices In County Court House Will Close On Saturday

All offices in the Charlevoix county court house will be closed all day Saturday during January, February and March effective this week, it was announced Wednesday following action taken by the Charlevoix county board of supervisors in session here.

Claude Pearsall, chairman of the board, said the board decided on the move to cut down on the cost of heating the building during the coldest months.

Business at the court house on Saturday morning does not warrant the offices being opened for the three hour period after the heat has been turned down at 3 p.m. Friday, he said.

Beginning April 1, the offices will be open for five and a half days each week.

Change Firm Name

The name of the Charlevoix Gas and Appliance Co. has been changed to the Petgas Company.

ren, whose braces and crutches must be changed regularly. These cases are all carry-overs from previous years.

In 1952 $5,005.66 was raised for polio in Charlevoix county. Fifty percent of this amount was sent to the National Foundation. In return, however, the county received two grants from the National Foundation totalinv $3,450 to aid in the payment of its polio expenses in 1953.

During the year $6,943 was spent for the care of the county's polio potients, which, as mentioned above included not only the care of the ten new patients but the carry-overs from other years.

Last year Charlevoix county rated tenth in the state in contributions per capita. Based on a per capita basis, the average contribution was 37.5 cents per persons in the entire county, less than the cost of two packs of cigarettes.

If anyone would like to assist in the present drive in any way, he is asked to contact Mrs. Carey.

Winter Really Arrivas

Winter orrived in the Charlevoix area this week as more than 12 inches of snow fell Monday and Tuesday and temperatures dropped to zero on Wednesday morning.

Ice Rink Opened

The city-cperated ice rink at the school grounds opened Tuesday night. More than 150 youngsters and grown-ups enjoyed skating the opening night.

Soil conditioners can help some crops break through heavy soils, but it's expensive outside the greenhouse.

Eclipse Of Moon Will Take Place Late This Month

Ann Arbor—A total eclipse of the moon January 29 will be a feature of the astronomicol events for this month.

The eclipse will take place when the full moon becomes totally immersed in the cone-shaped shadow cast by the earth, which means the earth will be right between the sun and moon. Such an eclipse happens about every six months.

According to Hazel M. Losh, associate professor of astronomy at the University of Michigan, the first part of the eclipse will not be favorable for observation because the moon will first contact the shadow at 5:45 p.m., before the moon rises.

It will take more than an hour for the moon to go completely into the shadow. The middle of the eclipse is timed for 0:45 p.m., while 7:30 p.m. is when the moon will begin to leave the shadow.

The moon still will be visible throughout the event, however, for sunlight which filters through the earth's atmosphere will cause it to shine with a dull reddish light.

Miss Losh also indicates that on the evening of January 17 in the southwest sky, Venus will pass above Mars at a distance of less than one-half the apparent diameter of the moon away, and on the next night the crescent moon will pass very close above both planets

These two planeta, bright and so close together in the sky, will appear as a brilliant double ator and should attract more than usual attention.

Ice Conditions Vary

Ice conditions during early doys of the ice fishing season vary considerably with the weather, and the conservation department warns fishermen to take no chances when temperatures rise.

Thin lake ice will support a few fishermen and some shanties, but may be misleading and collapse when large numbers of fishermen, shanties and automobiles begin to use it.

Eggs that are tossed around ond jarred will crack or develop broken air cells . . . both mean lower prices, caution Michigan State College marketing specialists.

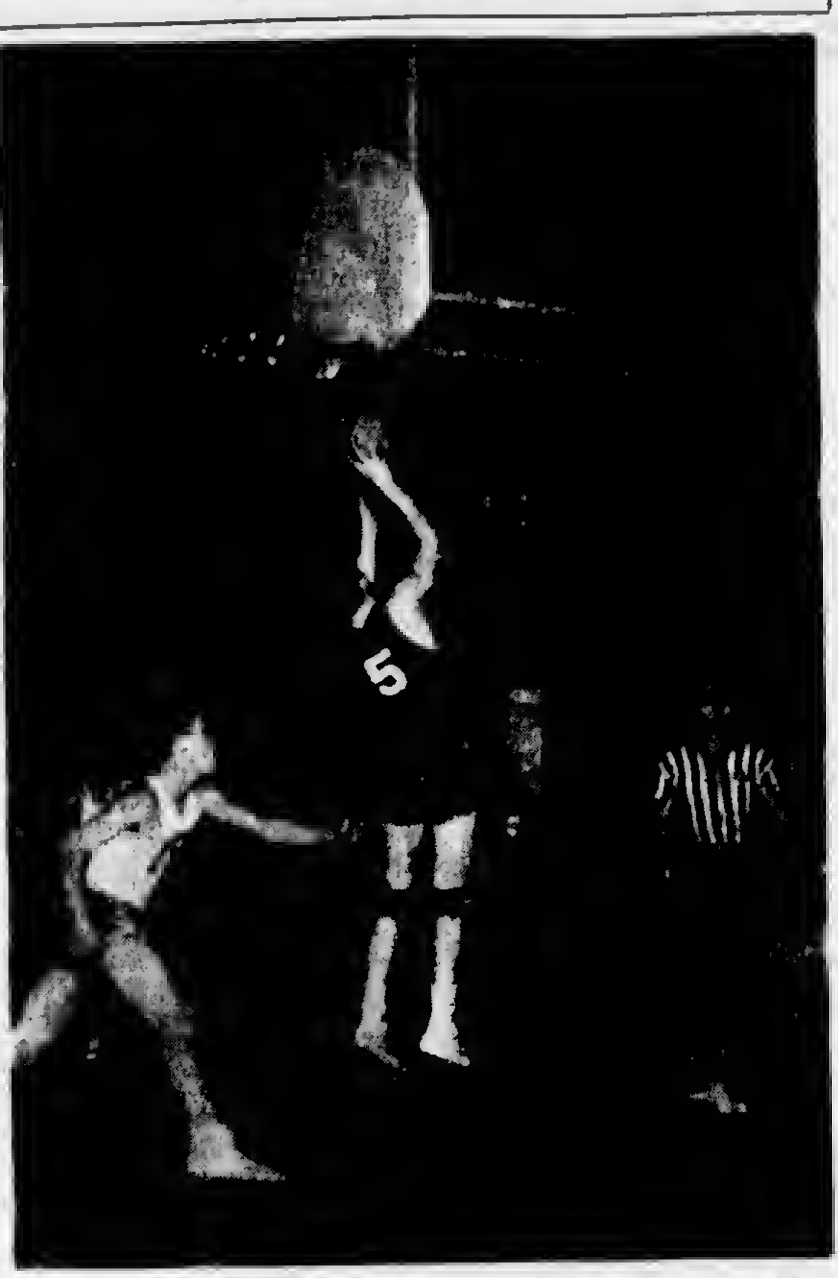
Action In A Thriller



Little Tom LaBlance, Charlevoix guard, goes up in the air to take the ball off the backboard as Bob Gregory, Northmen player, comes at him in the game played at Petoskey Saturday night.

A field goal by Bill Mosier in the closing seconds gave the Rayders a 34-32 win over the Petoskey squad coached by Ace Zagraphos.

Rayders Take Close One In Last Second

A field goal by Rayder guard, Bill Mosier, as the final whistle sounded in the game against Petoskey Saturday night gave Charlevoix a 34-32 victory over the Northmen on the latter's floor to keep the Rayders' slate clean.

The Rayders took an 8-4 first quarter lead but Petoskey started whittling the margin until, at half-time, Charlevoix held only a one point lead. Petoskey took over in the third period and retained the lead until Bill Bennett tied the game 28-all with three minutes to go. Dean Davenport with four free throws put the Rayders ahead but the Northmen came back to tie the score 32-all before Mosier's shot gave the Rayders the game.

Following the tough game Saturday, the Charlevoix squad will journey to Pellston to meet the Hornets in their newly-remodeled gymnasium Friday night.

In the starting line-up against Petoskey last week were Bennett, Davenport, Mark White, Jim Lewis and Mosier.

As the game opened free throws by Davenport and Bennett plus three field goals by Devenport gave the Rayders an 8-4 first quarter lead. Tom LaBlance joined the line-up in this period. Petoskey's four points were scored on two field goals by Dick Spitler.

As the second quarter started, Petoskey found its stride and started cutting the Rayders margin until only one point separated the two teams as the half ended 12-11. Davenport had scored one field goal and Bennett two free throws.

Petoskey racked up 14 points in the third period to give the Northmen a 25-17 third quarter lead. White had scored four points on a field goal and two free throws and Bennett had scored a free throw for Charlevoix. Joe McDermott joined the Rayder line-up in this quarter.

Petoskey scored one point on a free throw as the four period opened but Charlevoix came

This Week With Class "C" Teams

The seven teams of the Northern Michigan Class C league will go back into action this week following a two weeks lay-off during the Christmas holidays.

The Rayders, in their initial meeting with Petoskey this season, defeated the Northmen 34-32 Saturday night to resume their schedule.

On Tuesday Pellston journeyed to Onaway for a non-loop meeting.

All teams will play Friday as East Jordan travels to Mancelona, Boyne City entertains Harbor Springs and Charlevoix meets the Pellston Hornets in the remodeled and enlarged gymnasium in league games and Gaylord hosts Cheboygan in a non-loop game.

In the East Jordan-Mancelona game the two squads will be meeting on fairly even terms as far as records are concerned. East Jordan has three wins over Pellston, Harbor Springs and Gaylord while Mancelona has two victories over Boyne City and Pellston. Each team's single loss has been to Charleovix.

The Ironmen, playing on their own floor, will have a slight advantage over the visitors but the scrappy Jordanites will give the Mancelona five a battle. The results will be a toss-up.

Boyne City, pointing toward its first win of the season, will give the invading Harbor Springs Rams a good fight and with the Ramblers team once again intact, the Rams will have to battle all the way to stay in the win column. The Ramblers played two of their three league games without the services of veteran Don Arner who is expected back in the line-up. The game is expected to be close all the way.

Charlevoix, topping the league with three wins at this time, will meet the Pellston Hornets for the latter's first home game this season. Players and fans alike will find the playing floor enlarged and the seating capacity increased.

Pellston, with four loop losses at the present time is sharing the basement position with Boyne City, which has three losses.

The Hornets have had few regular practice sessions this season and this week will concentrate on their plays for the first time as they prepare for the Rayders. Despite this fact, the Hornets have looked exceptionally good at times and before the season ends are expected to develop into a real threat. The Rayders should have little trouble with the Hornets but anything can happen in basketball so the game could be close. However, the Charlevoix squad should come on the credit side of the score.

Gaylord will be hosting the Cheboygan Chiefs whom they defeated 38-42 earlier in the season. The Blue Devils should do a repeat performance on the home floor.

On the following Tuesday, Jan. 14, Gaylord will play at Grayling and Mancelona will host Kalkaska in non-league games.

Reserves Lose To Petoskey By 39-19 Score

Charlevoix's Little Rayders suffered their second loss of the current season Saturday night when they were downed by the Petoskey Reserves 39-19 on the latter's floor. The win was the Petoskey Reserves' first.

In the starting line-up for the Rayders were Fred Putman, Charles Dennis, Quint Walker, Guy Swanson and Joe Etienne.

The Petoskey squad got off to a fast start and piled up a 12-3 lead at the period ended. Etienne, Walker and Gene Towsley had scored one free throw each. Petoskey had scored five field goals and two free throws.

Gerry Foster scored the Rayders' only point in the second period while the little Northmen scored 9 for a 21-4 half-time lead.

The Rayders caught fire in the third period and scored 11 points on three field goals and two gift shots by Swanson; a field goal by Walker and a gift shot for Bob Mathews. Petoskey, however, had racked up 12 points and retained a 33-15 lead.

In the last period Gene Towsley and Charles McDonald each scored a field goal for Charlevoix's only points. Petoiskey had scored six points.

Others who had gone into the line-up for the Rayders were Gary Vandenberg, Bob Albright, Walt Pouquette, Roger Pischner, Kit Carson, Bill Haggard, Tom Erber, John Connolly and Tom Gibbons.

Swanson led the scoring for the home team with eight points; Walker and Towsley had three points each; McDonald two; Etienne, Mathews and Foster one each.

Gibbs scored 14 points for Petoskey.

The Little Rayders will meet the Pellston Reserves on the latter's floor Friday night.

Plan To Organize A Volley Ball League

A meeting of persons interested in organizing a volley ball league will be held at the high school gymnasium at 7:15 tonight (Thursday), Coach Del Terrill has announced.

All players and sponsorers are urged to attend this important organizational meeting so the program can get underway in the near future.

Michigan was one of five Midwestern states where U. S. Department of Agriculture veterinarians reported anthrax, especially among hogs, on the increase in the latter part of 1952.

Ag Agent Tells How To Make Woodlot Pay

Harvesting trees selectively . . taking the old but leaving the young usually is the best way to manage a farm woodlot, according to Ed Rebman, Charlevoix county agricultural agent. If only mature trees are cut, and young vigorous ones left to grow, the woodlot can continue to yield successive crops of timber.

Rebman lists six steps as the most important in a successful woodlot program:

Protect the woodlot from grazing animals and fire.

Cut leaning, forked, diseased or poorly formed trees.

Cut mature and over-mature trees for harvest.

Leave healthy, vigorous, young trees for harvest in the future.

Practice careful felling so young trees will not be damaged.

Leave tops and slash on the ground to rot down and enrich the soil; the fire danger will be reduced and the decaying process will be speeded if the "waste" is cut up some and kept low to the ground.

Rebman says that good woodland management is just good common sense applied to woodlands. A woodlot that is well-stocked with good young trees will yield considerable more in annual growth than a poorly-stocked scattered stand. Growth in a woodlot is like interest on an investment! If your principal is large, the total interest will be high: if you have the most favorable number of trees on an area, you can expect high growth returns.

Mr. Farmer:

It takes a large volume of livestock to attract a large number of livestock buyers.

The Traverse City Livestock Commission sells more livestock than any sale in Northern Michigan.

The bigger buyers attend the Traverse City Livestock Auction, therefore you are assured the full market value when you consign your livestock to the Traverse City Livestock Commission. Don't hesitate to spend a little extra money for trucking to the Traverse City Livestock Commission. It will be repaid many times.

Tax Bulletin Will Aid County Farmers

Every farmer who had a $600 gross income in 1952 must file an income tax return in 1953, even if he pays no tax, notes E. M. Elwood, Michigan State college agricultural economist. Gross income includes sales of farm-raised livestock or produce, profit on stock and produce bought and sold and any other income.

Farmers seeking help with income tax reports can get the Michigan State college bulletin "Farmers' 1952 Income Tax", approved by the Bureau of Internal Revenue. It is available from Ed Rebman, county agricultural Agent, without cost.

Electric Cable Will Protect Water Pipes

Farmers who have had trouble with frozen water pipes this winter might save themselves work and grief by using electric heating cable, advises Ed Rebman, county agricultural agent.

A thermostatic system can be used as an extra 'hired man' on the job, suggests the agent. Costs of installation and operation are very low, according to agricultural engineers at Michigan State college. The thermostats will help cut the costs and turn the juice in the electric cable along water pipes on just above freezing.

Suggests Pointers On Preparation Of Hot Noon Lunches

What kind of lunch did you prepare for your family today? Was it the soup-sandwich type, or was it planned around a hot main dish? Mary Lewis of the foods and nutrition department at Michigan State College asks these pointed questions to help you analyze your noon meal planning.

Miss Lewis urges mothers to prepare good "growing" meals for the hungry youngsters who come home from school at noon. A sandwich-soup lunch can be a good one, she says, if the soup is a cream soup made with milk and if the sandwich is filled with meat, fish, eggs or cheese. Growing children need generous allowances of good quality protein found in milk, meat, fish, eggs and cheese.

The hot main dishes put together for hearty wintertime lunches need to be strong in protein, too, Miss Lewis adds. If you are combining left-over vegetables, add to the white sauce a generous amount of grated cheese and put a sprinkling on the top. When using left-over gravies or soup stock to combine vegetables, add a can of chicken or meat to the mixture for that needed protein. Miss Lewis suggests that if the left-over casserole is better put together with only a white sauce, serve cold cuts, fish salad, hard-cooked eggs or cottage cheese with the main dish.

As you prepare the noon meal the menu to make sure good quality protein is included. A hearty sandwich of meat or cheese will do much better than jelly, apple butter or peanut butter, warns Miss Lewis.

Egg Quality Is Lowered By Washing

Washing eggs is a poor practice unless absolutely necessary, says J. M. Moore, extension poultryman at Michigan State College. It is better to sell a clean washed egg, he explains, than a dirty egg . . . but it is much better to sell a clean unwashed egg. Proper management of the poultry house eliminates most of the cause of dirty eggs.

Warning poultry raisers against indiscriminate egg-washing Moore refers them to a report by the U. S. Department of Agriculture on egg-washing procedures and equipment in 31 commercial plants in seven states.

They found that about 10 percent of all eggs gathered from the nest were soiled or stained and noted that washed eggs do not store as satisfactorily, as a rule, as the naturally-clean eggs. This held true with both natural and oil-sprayed eggs.

Poultrymen seeking detail of the study may obtain it by writing for "A Study of the Washing and Storage of Dirty Shell Eggs" to the Office of Information Services, PMA, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C.

Rotate Garden Crops To Avoid Diseases

Organisms that cause fruit and vegetable disease and take away gardening pleasure from some 15 to 20 million home gardeners can be kept in check, notes Edward A. Andrews, Michigan State College extension specialist in plant pathology. Don't plant fruit after fruit and vegetables after vegetables, if possible, but alternate them. Tomatoes, potatoes, pepper plants and eggplants should never follow each other in rotation . . . and, because of verticillium wilt danger, raspberries should never follow any of them.

Rabbit Hunting Has Been Ideal Recently

Roscommon — Rabbit hunting conditions have been ideal in the northern lower peninsula during recent days, the conservation department reports, with some good successes reported though few hunters have been in the woods.

Snows throughout the region have kept some roads slippery and ice fishing pressure light.

Some walleyes, pike and bluegills are being taken from Lake St. Helen and Houghton Lake. Also, pike are being taken from Fletcher Floodwater.

Ice conditions in the southern lower peninsula are still poor for fishing, though fair success is reported by fishermen taking chances on scattered lakes and ponds.

Of Michigan's total land area of nearly 36.5 million acres, 52 percent, or 19 million acres, are classified as forest land.

Dairy Farmers Need Not Worry About The Hard Water Effects

Dairy farmers with a hard water problem need not worry about its effect on milk production, reports Ed Rebman, Charlevoix county agricultural agent. Cows need plenty of water . . . their least expensive feed . . . for milk production, whether it's soft or hard.

The agricultural agent has word about the water question from extension dairymen at Michigan State college who agree with results found by scientists at Virginia Polytechnic Institute in tests on water. They picked 12 cows as near alike as possible in age, size, milk production and calving month. All received the same feed ration. Six spent 56 days on soft water; while the other six had hard well water.

Then the two groups had their hard and soft water switched for another 56 days. The VPI scientists reported that cows drank the same amount of water, ate the same amounts, made equal body gains and produced about the same amounts of milk, whether on hard or soft water.

Gives Tax Advice On Livestock Sales

Farmers may treat some livestock sales as capital asset sales—and pay 1952 income tax on only 50 percent of their net gains, reminds Everett M. Elwood, Michigan State College agricultural economist. The farmer must have owned the animals 12 months or more; the animals must have been held for draft, breeding or dairy purposes. County agricultural agents can supply farmers with the MSC bulletin, "Farmers 1952 Income Tax."

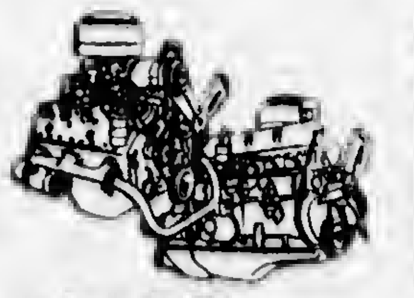
Ford steals the show with the New Standard of the American Road

WITH 41 "WORTH MORE" FEATURES, IT'S WORTH MORE WHEN YOU BUY IT... WORTH MORE WHEN YOU SELL IT
IT'S BUILT FOR KEEPS
YOU CAN PAY MORE BUT YOU CAN'T BUY BETTER
IT'S BUILT FOR GO
IT SETS THE TREND FOR '53

In this '53 Ford you will find a car that will give you more of the things you want in a car . . . more of the things that you never thought possible in a car priced so low.



V-8 OR SIX ENGINES
Only Ford, in its field, offers you a fine car V-8 engine . . . or as modern a Six. And Ford's Automatic Power Pilot gives both high-compression "Go" on regular gas.

MOST BEAUTIFUL INTERIORS
You ride in surroundings for which you'd expect to pay hundreds more. Seats are foam-rubber cushions. Upholstery fabrics are custom blended with outside colors.

NEW MIRACLE RIDE
Reduces rough roads to carpet smoothness. That's because of ride features like more responsive spring and shock absorber action . . . wide front tread.

TREND-SETTING STYLING
Inside and out Ford is more beautiful than ever before. You'll find a huge curved, one-piece windshield . . . and a new longer, lower, more massive look.

the Swing is to FORD!

Nearly all the damage was done in the upper peninsula and was particularly heavy in Marquette, Delta, Luce and Mackinac counties.

THE STATE FARM
BANK PLAN
MADE IT POSSIBLE
FOR ME TO BUY A CAR

"I looked at a new car and wanted it, but hesitated to buy because I thought the rate quoted me on financing and insurance was too high. My State Farm agent showed me I could save $70.50 on the insurance and $40.50 on the financing cost. So I bought the car through the State Farm Bank Plan at a total saving of $111.00." (One of many actual cases.)

Many People Assume Finance Rates Are Standard
THEY ARE NOT!

The Bank Plan offers you two proven money-saving methods for car buying: Low-cost financing through a nearby bank and low-cost preferred risk insurance rates. Get your own figures on the car you want and COMPARE them with Bank Plan costs FIRST! Call or see your State Farm agent BEFORE you buy.

Bumper Crops TAKE A LOT OUT OF YOUR SOIL

Bigger yields from improved crop varieties and hybrids take more plant food out of your soil. As organic matter disappears, soil gets harder to plow, erodes more, soaks up less rain. Prompt manure spreading puts back most of the plant food that feed crops rake out, prevents loss through fermenting and leaching. The organic matter in manure makes soil easier to work, helps prevent erosion, and lets your fields soak up more rain for future use.

FEED YOUR HUNGRY FIELDS
Like Your Livestock

It's so quick and easy to hitch up the Case tractor spreader that it's practical to haul whenever you get a chance. No lifting, no jack to fool with. The self-raising hitch rests right on the ground . . . lifts front of box when tractor starts . . . gives it an 18-inch running start in slick barnyards before taking up the load. Come in and see how easy it is to back up, how low to load. Ask for copy of "Handling Manure for Extra Benefits."

Fishermen To Meet At Traverse City

Treverse City—A meeting of Great Lakes comercial fishermen is slated here January 12-13, the conservation department reports.

Representatives from the department will attend and take part in discussions of fishing problems common to the Great Lakes. About 100 are expected at the meeting.

Give Reasons For Large Increase In Deer License Sales

Lansing—An estimated 450,000 resident deer licensesw ere sold in Michigan this year, an increase of 70.000 over sales for 1951. the conservation department reports.

Also, nonresident sales jumped from 7,400 last year to an estimated 10,000 this year.

Both increases were believed caused, for the most part, by the special three-dey any deer regulation. Also, the nonresident seles inerease may have been caused in part by U. S. hunters who generally hunt in Cenada but were this year barred from importing game because of an outbreak of hoof and mouth disease there earlier in 1952.

Bow and Arrow deer license sales also rose this year to an estimated 28,000. In 1951, the total was 18,000.

Each year, some normal increase in all sales is noted; during the four years prior to 1952, resident sales inereased an average of 4,000 licenses per year.

Final accurate counts of total sales will not be available for several months; returns from the 4,000 dealers must first be sorted and checked.

Kiwanis Club Installs New Officers

Frank Bird (second from right) hands over the gavel and with it the presidential duties of the Charlevoix Kiwanis club to his successor, Capt. H. E. Paddock (second from left) at a recent meeting.

Pictured with the pair are Fred Bancroft (left) past lieutenant governor of the organization who served as master of ceremonies at the meeting and H. C. Spitler of Petoskey, a member of the sponsoring Kiwanis club and speaker at the installation meeting.

Dr. Russell Palmer Writes Of Experiences On Mexican Trip

Editors Note: Dr. Russell Palmer, resident physician on Beaver Island for 29 years, before retiring last October is now on a leisurely trip to Mexico on what he terms as his first real vacation.

Accompanied by Mrs. Palmer, he has visited many interesting spots since leaving here early in December. In letters home he has written some of his observations.

The letters follow in part:

A few impressions of the Vieux Carre (French Quarter) before leaving New Orleans.

We met many artists there. One told us the only requirements of an artist were a pencil, paper and a beret. Another said his sole ambition was to live and die in Vieux Carre.

They are quite absent-minded, some forget their easels and have to sit or kneel on the curb with one knee in the gutter. They all line up samples of their pictures as bait for the poor suckers . . . some sell as low as $2.50. They are all pretty mediocre as artists and exist but do not live.

Did you ever shake hands with a monkey? There was an adorable little fellow owned by an organ-grinder in the French Quarter. The man would grind the organ and the monkey would pick up pennies. The money was falling so fast that the man forgot to wind the organ and helped the

Golden Gloves Tourney Opens On Wednesday

The Golden Gloves boxing tournament at Petoskey Jan. 21-22-24 is expected to draw more boxing fans than any show of its type in northern Michigan according to Merton Carter, general chairman of the event.

Upward of 50 amateur boxers in all classes are expected to weigh in the afternoon of Jan. 21 at the Petoskey gymnasium where the bouts will be held.

Charlevoix's only entry in the annual tournament will be Bob Morgan of the Charlevoix Lifeboat Station. The 20-year-old Morgan, who is 5 ft. 11 in. and weighs 160 pounds, is entered in the open class. Because Charlevoix does not have a team this year, he will enter the tournament with the Boyne City team trained by Pat Doughtery, former Michigan State boxing star.

Other teams entered are from Gaylord, Petoskey, Alpena, Rogers City and Cadillac. The ice cutter, Mackinaw, which enters a team every year, is also expected to have several men in the tournament.

We can promise the fans from 10 to 15 bouts each evening, Mr. Carter said, and we expect to give followers of the sport a better show than last year.

Preliminaries will be held Jan. 21 and 22 with the finals scheduled for Jan. 24. All winners in the Petoskey tourney will earn a trip to Bay City early next month.

John Bellamy of Petoskey is in charge of ticket sales.

The tournament is sponsored by the Carl O. Weaver American Legion post of Petoskey.

Local Independents To Play Mancelona Team Here Tuesday

The Charlevoix Independent basketball squad will play a team from the Mt. Clemens Manufacturing Co. in Mancelona on the local floor at 8 p.m. Tuesday, Jan. 20, Del Terrill announced today.

Playing with the local team will be Chick Gallagher, Dean Bass, Johnny Swanson, Bob Pearl, Lee Chamberlain, Lew Brown of Petoskey, Bernie Ward, Bill Lusk, Don Meggison and Del Terrill.

Council Decides Against A Used Diesel Engine

At a special meeting held at noon Wednesday the city council voted down a resolution presented by alderman Harry Gebeau and seconded by alderman Charles Bellinger to purchase a used DeLaVergne 1140 hp Diesel generator unit from the city of Grand Haven.

Mayor John Knight cast the deciding vote following a three to three deadlock of the council.

In another action regarding the purchase of additional Diesel generation, the council authorized J. Bryan Sims of Grand Haven, consulting engineer for the city, to draw up specifications for engines in three speed ranges to furnish from 1,000 to 1,500 kw. When the specifications are completed and approved, the council then plans to advertise for bids on a new Diesel engine.

Annual Meeting Of Development Group Is Tuesday

The future activities of the Charlevoix Development Corporation will be decided at the annual meeting of the organization scheduled for 8 p.m. Tuesday, Jan. 20 at the city hall, Ralph V. Hess, president of the corporation said Wednesday.

All stockholders are urged to attend the meeting at which several major issues are to be decided.

Heading the list of important matters will be the appointment of several committees to raise the remainder of the $15,000 the Corporation must have as its token share of a new $50,00 factory building to house an industry which will employ more than 50 workers.

An election of officers and directors will also be held.

School Official To Interview Veterans Here

Lloyd G. Chapman, assistant director of the Michigan Veterans' Vocational School at Pine Lake, Doster, will be in Charlevoix early in February to interview prospective students, he has notified Capt. H. E. Paddock of the Charlevoix county council of Veterans Affairs.

While here he hopes to interview all veterans, disabled or not disabled, about continuing their education at the Vocational School operated by Western Michigan College of Education at the site of a $500,000 development of the W. K. Kellogg Foundation.

It is also his desire to address as many service clubs, church groups and veterans organizations as possible while here.

The date of his visit and other information will be announced as soon as it is received Capt. Paddock said.

Purpose of his trip is to acquaint the public with the facilities and educational program offered at Michigan's unique vocational school.

Among the courses offered are general accounting, junior accounting, higher accounting, salesmanship, business machine servicing, woodworking and upholstering, woodworking, machine drafting, architectural drafting, radio-television, machine shop, watch and clock repair, printing-linotype and electrical appliance repair.

Veterans are eligible for training under Public Law 550. However, non-veterans may also attend the school.

Any organization wishing to have him address their group is asked to call Capt. Paddock for an appointment. Veterans and non-veterans are urged to watch for the date of his visit and plan to talk with him.

Mother Of Local Man Dies After A Long Illness

Mrs. Lillian French, 68, mother of George French of Marion Center, died Wednesday at the Charlevoix Hospital where she had been a patient for two weeks.

She had been in ill health since coming here from Detroit in June to make her home.

The body will be returned to Detroit for funeral services and burial.

Born in Port Huron, Mrs. French had lived in Detroit prior to coming to this community.

She is survived by two sons, George of Charlevoix and Arthur J of Detroit and a daughter, Mrs. Phyllis Weicher also of Detroit.

I.O.O.F. Wins Second Game In Tournament

The I.O.O.F won the second night of cribbage play by 113 points in the annual tournament with the Masons. There were nine and a half tables in play.

Pat Curtis was high man for the Masons with 944 points while Lee Sneathen scored 951 points to lead the Oddfellows.

Give Figures For Operating Ironton Ferry

The Ironton Ferry operated at a deficit of $9,379 during 1952 the Charlevoix county Road Commission revealed in a report made recently to the Charlevoix county board of supervisors.

The figures, however, included not only the cost of operating the ferry for the year but the cost of the first major repairs to the craft in 25 years, as well as the construction of new ramps and approaches to the ferry necessitated by the high water level in the Great Lakes.

The Ironton Ferry will discontinue operation for the current season at noon Thursday, Jan. 15, T. B. Reynolds, engineer-superintendent of the Charlevoix county road commission has announced.

Ice conditions in the South Arm of Lake Charlevoix necessitated the closing of the ferry route for the winter months.

The report also showed that the actual cost of operating the ferry which traverses the South Arm of Lake Charlevoix at Ironton was $10,696. Receipts from toll charges for the same period were $7,524.70 or $2,300.30 more than in 1951 when it earned $5,224.40.

Three major expenses totaling $6,207.18 combined to put the ferry costs further into the red although all were necessary if the ferry was to continue operation.

They were $1,316.81 for removing the engine block from the ferry and transporting it to Two Rivers, Wis., for major overhaul and repairs; $3,271.25 which was the cost of removing the ferry from the water for the first time in 25 years for welding new plates to its bottom and making other major repairs while it was on the ways; $1,619.12 for building new ramps and repairing approaches which had to be done if the ferry was to operate despite the high water level.

Julius H. Skusa Dies At Norwood Township Home

Julius H. Skusa, 66, resident of Norwood township for the past three years, died unexpectedly at his home late Wednesday evening.

Funeral services were held at the Pontius Chapel Saturday with the Rev. Lloyd M. Schloop officiating. Burial was in Brookside cemetery.

Born in Strassburg, Germany, Nov. 9, 1884, Mr. Skusa came to this country as a child and settled in southern Michigan. For many years he was employed as a metal polisher in Detroit and Grand Rapids before moving here in 1949. In 1913 he was married to Minnie Anne Wiles at Bowling Green, Ohio.

He was a veteran of World War I and was a member of the American Legeon.

Besides his wife he is survived by a step-son, Marion R Williams of Pittsburgh, Pa.; a granddaughter; two half-brothers, Edward and Paul Skusa, both of Detroit and a half-sister, Mrs. Emma Lipscomb of Grand Rapids.

Many New Cars Are Being Shown

More new model cars went on display this week and last, creating lively local interest with their new, eye-appealing styling and mechanical improvements.

The most recent ones to be displayed are: Cadillac and Oldsmobile, Krahnke Motor Sales; Chevrolet, Charlevoix Oil Co. and Buick, Perry Sales Co.

Those announced earlier were: Hudson, Walt Moore; Pontiac, Cooper Pontiac Sales; Dodge and Dodge truck, Brown Motors, Inc. and Ford and Mercury, Northern Auto Co. of Charlevoix.

Volley Ball Games To Start Tonight

Volley ball players will meet at the high school gym at 8 p.m. Thursday for 'pick up' games for the first two weeks, Del Terrill announced today.

An invitation is extended to everyone to join the class. A league will be organized in the near future.

Ward Chairmen Named, Projects Planned For Annual Polio Drive

Ward chairmen for the March of Dimes fund campaign were named and tentative plans for other March of Dimes fund-raising projects were made at a meeting held Thursday at the city hall, Mrs. Thomas Carey, city chairman, has announced.

Maurice Foster has been named to head a committee to canvass the business district while Mrs. Don Walsh and Mrs. Joseph McPhillips will serve as co-chairmen on the north side; Mrs. Charles Hamlin and Mrs. Robert Miles, valley and Mrs. Jean Gallagher and Mrs. Grace Maxfield, south side.

Mr. and Mrs. William Himebaugh will contact all granges and farm bureaus. Archie LaFreniere of St. James will serve as chairman on Beaver Island.

The above named ward chairmen will recruit residents in their respective wards to work on the Mothers' March scheduled for Jan. 29.

The first of several fund-raising projects, a buffet supper, will be held at the Airport Bar Monday, Jan. 19. A buffet supper will be served from 11:30 p.m. to 2 a.m. with all proceeds going to the March of Dimes.

Local merchants are donating the hams. Elmer Doerr, owner of the Airport Bar, and his staff will prepare and serve the supper. Last year the project raised $108, and it is hoped that figure will be topped this year. During the evening a baked ham will be given away, Mr. Doerr said. Tickets for the event are now on sale.

The Mothers March on Jan. 29 will be followed by Karnival Kapers in the high school gymnasium where a variety of entertainment will be available to all age groups.

Among the entertainment to be offered will be a fish pond for the younger age group, a game table, card games of all kinds, a white elephant table plus refreshment booths of every description.

Anyone wishing to contribute a gift for the fish pond or white elephant table may leave it at the city hall where a box will be placed in the lobby to receive the items. If fish pond gifts are wrapped, contributors are asked to mark the item for age group and if suitable for boy or girl.

The Argonne is also planning a party with proceeds to go to the March of Dimes. Further plans wil be announced later.

On Monday Mrs. Carey reported $106.52 had been contributed to date. The Barnard Grange Hall contributed $27.; the Past Noble Grand Club, $5.00; Clarence Roe, $39.52 and the remainder came from several other local donors.

Cannisters made like miniature iron lungs, are now in all local business places to receive your small change.

ODDS 'N ENDS

By Fran Martin

WITH THIS cold clear weather we've been having this past week, did you notice how clear the sky is and how filled with stars . . . more than we've seen since mid-summer . . . And if you're a star-gazer with some knowledge of the heavens tell us, what is the bright star or planet in the southwest . . . the same goes for the star almost overhead but a bit to the south and the bluish one in the southeast . . . They're awful purty and we'd just like to know . . . The only thing we recognize is the big dipper . . .

DID YOU happen to listen to the presentation of the 'coach of the year' award to Michigan State's Coach Clarence (Biggie) Munn the other night? . . . It was really something to hear . . All the big names in sports . . . coaches, sportswriters, just everyone . . . paying tribute to the work of a Michigan coach . . . A fellow whom many of you have met through the years when the Careys, Bob and Bill, were playing on his teams . . . We liked what he said to Vice President-elect Richard Nixon who made the presentation in Washington . . . "I'm going to take this (the trophy) home and show it to the players who won it for me" . . . A fine tribute to a fine team by the finest of coaches.

A NOTE in the mail recently from a former resident Mrs. Reta Shearer LeMaster, now living in the west . . . She'd received a bundle of old Couriers, 14 in all, and as she put it, set everything aside to read them . . . She wrote that 'this time of year always takes me down memory lane . . . while watching hockey on TV the other night I couldn't help but think of when the boys in Charlevoix . . . back in 1907-08 . . . played their own brand of hockey on a pond in back of the post office with a small tin can used as a puck . . . And they were good skaters too! . . . She added That's a long time ago . . . Wonder where those skaters are now.

SPEAKING of television, we've heard a couple of good stories about people from here who've been to southern Michigan . . . One local resident who'd spent the holidays in Detroit said it was just awful to come home, turn your radio on and not find pictures . . . Another one went to southern Michigan to visit relatives . . . She was having such a good time watching television she decided to stay a while longer . . . When the holidays came along she returned to Charlevoix briefly but wanted to go back so she could see the inauguration of President-elect Eisenhower on TV . . . Those, however, aren't half as bad as the little kids who come here to visit and feel sorry for all of us because we can't afford to buy TV sets . . . After all, if we could we'd have 'em wouldn't we? . . . Wonder when we will have it here? We've heard dozens of answers to that question but none that sound reasonable to us . . . so we'll just wait . . . Maybe, sooner or later . . . who knows?

* * *

IT'S OFFICIAL . . . the highway from the top of the north side Bridge st. hill to what used to be the ninth hole of the old golf course . . . How do we know? . . . The sign went up last Thursday giving the number of the project, the contractors, etc . . . making it all legal or something.

* * *

OUR CANDIDATE for the meanest person of the year . . . The person who took the March of Dimes 'iron lung' cannister from the post office lobby . . . Perhaps there wasn't much in it, but who could be so small as to take pennies, nickles and dimes which were meant for an organization which gives so generously to everyone who needs its help . .

* * *

ANGUS FOCHTMAN recently showed us a Dec. 28, 1932 issue of the Charlevoix Courier . . . We found many interesting items but the advertisement which almost slapped us in the face was Van Allsburg meat department ad which showed pork roasts at eight yes we said eight, cents per pound round steak and pork steak at three pounds for 25 cents and beef roast at seven cents per pound . . . And so help us, we've got the paper to prove it . . .

* * *

FROM ENGLAND last week a holiday greeting and note from the Byran Wrights (Colleen Reed) . . . She sends a big hello to everyone back home from Oxford, where her husband is stationed with the Air Force . . . And from Paris, that is, Paris, Tenn., a note from the Witherses, Mrs. Mont, Bette and the Bobs, who left last week for Palm Springs . . . They stopped off at Fort Campbell, Ky., to see Mrs. Bob Withers Brother-in-law and sister, the Pat Martins . . . and while there visited the camp which was quite an experience . . . They had ice and snow all the way south so were happy to be running out of the cold weather . . .

* * *

A LONG letter from the Bruce Donaldsons who are now in Miami, Fla., for the winter after a trip to Albequerque, N. M. They visited many points of interest enroute during their long trek and enjoyed every minute of it . . . And here's one for the books . . . Their son, Tom, came from Wayne U in Detroit to join them at the home of his grandparents in East Jordan for Thanksgiving . . . They spent Christmas in the west with their son-in-law and daughter, the Charles Gothros, who are stationed at Albuquerque . . . Enjoyed a visit with their son, Chuck, who was completing basic training at Lackland AFB, San Antonio, Tex., before going to Scott Field, Ill . . . And on to Miami where they joined their son and daughter-in-law, the Dick Donaldsons and her mother, Mrs. Charles Evans for a New Year's visit . . . Nothing like spending the holidays with your family . . regardless of where they are . .

Dorothy Ann Temple Becomes Bride Of W. A. Kane In Double Ring Ceremony

Mr. and Mrs. William A. Kane have gone to Tuscaloosa, Ala., to make their home following their marriage at St. Mary's church here Saturday, Jan. 3.

The bride is the former Dorothy Ann Temple, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Temple of Oden. Mr. and Mrs. Otto Kane are the parents of the bridegroom.

The Rev. John A. Grzybowski officiated at the double ring service at St. Mary's church in the presence of 50 guests.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a ballerina length gown of lace and satin designed with a lace bodice and bouffant skirt. A pearl tiara held her lace trimmed fingertip veil and she carried a bouquet of white pompons and red roses.

Mrs. George Winnick of Lynn, Mass., as matron of honor and Mrs. Fred Deschermeier as bridesmaid wore similar gowns of blue and pink satin respectively. Mrs. Winnick wore a matching blue veil held with white flowers and carried a bouquet of blue carnations. Mrs. Deschermeier wore a pink veil held with white flowers and carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

Leland H. Warner assisted the bridegroom as best man. Mr. Winnick seated the guests.

Mrs. Temple chose a charcoal gray dress, black accessories and a white pompon corsage. Mrs. Kane, mother of the bridegroom, wore a navy dress, matching accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

A bridal dinner at the home of the bride's parents was followed by an evening reception for 150 guests at the Oden Community Hall.

The couple left last Monday for Tuscaloosa where the bridegroom is a student at the University of Alabama. For traveling the bride selected a navy suit and matching accessories.

Among those from away who attended the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. George Winnick of Lynn, Mass., Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Kline of Scottville and Joanne Penabaker of Detroit.

Episcopal Church Will Hold Meeting

The annual business meeting of Christ Episcopal church will be held in the church dining room Thursday evening following a 6:30 potluck supper for all parishioners.

All members are urged to attend.

Rev. L. M. Schloop Is Speaker For W.C.T.U.

The Rev. Lloyd M. Schloop was the principal speaker at the regular meeting of the W.C.T.U. held Friday at the home of Mrs. Floyd Bartnolomew.

Plans were made for a dessert luncheon to be held Feb. 13 at the home of Mrs. Emma Sutton.

J. W. Gallagher Is Transferred By C. G.

James W. Gallagher, Chief Engineman, U.S.C.G., who has been stationed at the Charlevoix Lifeboat Station for the past 2½ years, has been transferred to the 14th Coast Guard district with headquarters in Honolulu, T. H.

He will be detached from the 9th Coast Guard district Jan. 30.

Betrothed

The betrothal of Many Alice Lagerman to Ronald J. Cunningham is announced by the bride-elect's father, Edward J. Lagerman.

Mr. Cunningham is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Orlin V. Cunningham.

A summer wedding is being planned by the couple. Miss Lagernan was graduated from the Charlevoix high school in 1950.

Mr. Cuningham, a 1951 graduate of the local high school, is attending Central Michigan college of Education in Mt. Pleasant where he is a second year student.

I See by the Courier . . .

- Suzanne Miles, Lorna Lewis and Phyllis Mason, all of Charlevoix and their guest, Patti Carroll of Howell, all senior students at Grace Hospital school of nursing who are at Traverse City for a three months affiliation at the state hospital, spent the week-end with their respective families here.
- Shirley Cunningham returned to Lansing Tuesday after spending a long week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. V. Cunningham.
- Mr. and Mrs. Larry Jenks returned to Leslie Sunday after visiting since Tuesday with the latter's mother, Mrs. Emma Bogart.
- Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Campbell and two children returned home last week from a month's vacation trip to Florida.
- Mr. and Mrs. George Peaine of Erie, Pa., visited last week with Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Skippergosh and other friends. On their return they were accompanied by the latter's mother, Mrs. Nancy Wabanimkee of St. James.
- Mrs. Fred S. Myers returned home last Wednesday from a three weeks holiday visit in Detroit and Houghton Lake.
- Mrs. Florine Krahnke left Saturday to spend some time with relatives in southern Michigan before going to Florida for the remainder of the winter.

Plan now to attend the annual Father and Son Banquet at Methodist church Feb. 5 sponsored by WSCS.

Betty Lee Cross, David R. Cederholm Exchange Vows In Ceremony At Manistee

Mr. and Mrs. David R. Cederholm are making their home in Muskegon following their wedding at the Mission Covenant Church in Manistee recently.

Mrs. Cederholm, the former Betty Lee Cross, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Cross, former residents now living in National City, Calif. Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Cederholm of Manistee are the parents of the bridegroom.

The Rev. I. T. Slaatte officiated at the ceremony Saturday afternoon, Dec. 27. Helen E. Peterson was the organist and Mrs. Harlen Sandgren the soloist.

The bride selected a colonial style gown of white slipper satin and lace for her wedding. The fitted bodice with seed pearl trim had long sleeves and the ruffled skirt featured a cathedral length train. Her fingertip veil fell from a seed-pearl tiara and she carried a colonial bouquet of white carnations.

Rogene Cederholm of Grand Rapids was maid of honor and another sister of the bridegroom, Mrs. Walter Cieslinski of Detroit and a sister-in-law, Mrs. Ray Cederholm were bridesmaids. Miss Cederholm wore pink satin and lace, Mrs. Cieslinski, gold satin and net and Mrs. Cederholm aqua satin and net. They carried colonial bouquets of pink carnations with matching ribbons.

Linda Mae Cederholm, niece of the bridegroom was flower girl. She wore a pink dotted swiss dress, matching bonnet and carried a basket of white pompons.

Charles Cross of San Diego, Calif., brother of the bride, was best man and ushers were Robert C. Cederholm, brother of the bridegroom and Harlan Bogie.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception for 75 guests was held in the church parlors.

Among those from Charlevoix who attended the wedding were Mrs. Jake W. White, aunt of the bride, Mrs. Kenneth Cellner; Barbara White, Mark White, Jack Cross and Otto Harvey.

Trucks help you balance your Family Budget!

THESE ARE TRYING TIMES for the family paycheck, and the lady of the house has a man's job when it comes to balancing her budget.

She has a friend and helper in the truck, however, for, although she may not realize it, motor transport helps keep the cost of living down by cutting transportation costs.

The average family spends more for transportation than for any other item save food. So it is clear that the ability of trucks to increase the efficiency of moving goods of all kinds results in substantial savings to the consumer.

The thing we have to guard against is allowing politicians to increase taxes on trucks beyond the more than fair share they're already paying, for, you see, every tax increase on trucks actually comes right out of the people's pocketbooks in increased prices for everything they buy.

If you've got it, a truck brought it!

monkey pick up the money. The crowd, so intent on watching that they forgot to throw the pennies and the monkey went home disgusted. Two blocks down another monkey was grinding the organ and the man was picking up the pennies. Moral: Hiro a monkey to run your business.

We left New Orleans and passed through the Evangeline country . . the land of Arcadia. This part of the state is noted for its vast production of sugar cane and the refining of sugar.

The land is very low and the dead are buried in stone burial vaults on top of the ground. The homes are built on stilts so the termites cannot reach them.

We spent the night at Beaumont, Tex., and drove from there to Corpus Christi . . . a very thrilling, interesting and picturesque drive along the Spanish trail, part of which follows the gulf coast line.

At Port Bolivar we took the ferry across Galveston Bay to the city proper. From the boat we watched the porpoise frolic in the water. The pelicans and pigeons were abundant.

From Galveston to Corpus Crrlstl stretched a vast prairle of farm land whera cattle crazed by the thousand. Wa saw many Brahma cattle, tha kind held sacred in India. Hera too were many oll and gas wells, some walls wera also out in tha Gulf waters.

Corpus Christi is a beautiful city with its bathing beaches and palm-studded streets. These southern people are so hospitable. Texas is really a great state.

In this part of Texas are also thousands of acres of rice fields. Everything in Texas is big.

Driving to McAllen, Tex., on the border we saw the King Ranch which consists of millions of acres. They have a new breed of cattle there formed by crossing the Brahma with the native cattle. These are more resistent to drought and disease.

McAllen is in the Rio Grande valley and we are staying here a week before crossing into Mexico. It is a delightful city:

I am writing this on the veranda and a few feet from me are date palms, orange, grapefruit and banana trees. I picked grapafruit and papaya for our breakfast this morning.

Our patio is literally covered with the most beautiful flowers . . . poinsetia, hibiscus, shrimp, fire-cracker and others . . . all so colorful.

There are many Spanish people here and what beautiful senoritas.

We will cross the Rio Grande at Reynosa and then on to Monterey.

Soil District Annual Meet Wednesday

Afternoon Program Will Be Staged At Boyne City School

Everyone is invited to attend the annual meeting of the Charlevoix Soil Conservation District next Wednesday afternoon, Jan. 21 at 2:00 p.m. in the dining room of the Boyne City high school, Norval Korthase, vice-chairman of the district said today. The district belongs to the people they elect directors and they decide on the program for the year, he said. The meeting will close at 4:15 p.m.

Mr. Korthase said the program will start promptly at 2:00 p.m. with some county movies by Ed Rebman, county agricultural agent and secretary of the board. This will be followed by the business meeting with Clayton Healey as chairman. The agenda will be election of two directors, annual report,, awarding of certificates and other business. This will be followed by some entertainment. A very good speaker will close the program.

For the election of two directors, nominations have been made by e nominating committee headed by Lyle Peters. The terms of Norval Korthase and Clayton Healey have expired. Robert Reidel and Wm. Kortrese, Sr. have been nominated to replace Norvel Korthase. Clayton Healey hes been nomineted to replece himself end will be opposed by Cerl Grutsch, Jr. Other nominations may be made from the floor.

Casper Blumer, county agricultural agent from Oscoda and Alcona counties will be the main speaker. His topic will be "Better Grass for Charlevoix District." He will talk on making, handling, and storing grass, peas, and oat silage in trench silos, legumes seed production; and more milk and beef from the same acres at lower cost. Mr. Blumer will also show colored slides that will present a complete picture of the better grass program.

Soils District Work In County Makes Progress

The past year's accomplishment of the co-operators of the Charlevoix Soil Conservation District have been many and varied, stated Clayton Healey, chairman of the C. S. C. D.

Co-operators are applying more and more conservation practices on their land as they progress into their conservation program. The paragraph below shows the progress in a few of the conservation practices since 1949. Other conservation practices applied by the co-operators are Woodlot management, prevention of grazing of woodlots, diversions, cover crops, orchard management, pasture improvement, construction of waterways, open and closed drains, and tiling.

For instance, contour strip cropping in 1949 was 120 acres, 1950-236 acres, 1951-625, 1952-690 acres, a totel of 1671 acres. Contour ferming in 1951 was 154 ecres, 1952-192 ecres, a totel of 336 ecres. Contour orchard in 1949-5 acres, 1951-4 acres, 1952-15 acres to total 24 ecres. Tree plan in 1951 - 44 ecres, 1952-90 ecres to total 133 acres.

In the past year, states Mr. Healey, the district received through the Federal nurseries about 102,000 trees including 6,000 scotch, 70,000 red pine, 26,000 white pine. There were also 23,000 multi-Flora rose planted for experimental purposes.

A few of the co-operators took advantage of the District's land breaker plow. This plow was used on Adam Prowdzik's farm in Boyne Falls, Ed Thompson's farm in East Jordan, and Norbert Nachazel's farm at East Jordan.

The Job Ahead In My Soil Conservation District

by Kenneth Van Hoesen
(Winner of third place in state Conservation speaking contest.)

As the title of this topic indicates you can readily understand how we, who are interested in soil conservation are faced with a tremendous task. Those very enthusiastic individuals in any endeavor can convey their ideas by thoughtful, kind and most persistant leadership. My district has not attained the accomplishments either on the farm or in the hearts of the people who inhabit them; to the degree where a conservationist has his sights set. However, the district organization has, in my opinion, far exceeded the expectation of many of us at the beginning of the district due to many factors present locally, some of these are; the lack of education, finance, bias thinking and desire to improve.

There seems to be no end to the problems which face the Charlevoix Soil Conservation District today, for the more we know the more we don't know. When we think of soil conservation, we are sometimes likely to think of the land alone and this is primarily our aim. However, there are literally hundreds of things directly related to soil conservation. To mention only a few; economic health of our nation, community and the individual occupying the land, physical ability, intelligence, co-operation in the particular locality, Christian and moral standards.

These have e tremendous bearing es to what degree of success any district may reach. Our district has the usual kinds of communities within its borders and there is very concrete evidance of bringing together the good from each of these end creating teachers end leeders who have and are showing the fruits of conservation to the local people through a better living, eye appealing pieces and increased production.

My farm is one of a thousand in the Charlevoix District. However, I am one of only 157 farmers who have asked for assistance from the district.

Since having become an active participating member, my farm has gradually increased its production to nearly twice what it produced at the start of my plan four years ago. The practices responsible for these increases are contouring, soil building, fertilizing and a livestock program. There is a great deal more to be done as we started working our plan a little at a time and in two more years will have the whole farm plan completed, which is, I believe, the right way to accomplish the task with a family supporting farm. Other farms in the district are working from tha same angle and still others must be, to attain the trusteeship of which they intrusted.

Soil conservetion, to a man who is well versed in the subject, means building a way to conserve the soil we still have left, then increasing its fertility so we will have more to conserve for a bigger and better yield. Now, gentlemen, I can produce concrete evidence of all these things and more as a participating co-operator. Also I can show you very definitely here in my own locality how the thing catches on once you as a leader can tell, show and live the benefits. Very plainly speaking, there will be no end to any educational plan for conservation, any more than there has been an end to conversion to christianity. We can thank God for our progress of forty years, so let us not be discoureged.

God has had a problem comparable to ours, but it has taken centuries to do and there is much more to be done, so when a man or group of men say to you, how [illegible] quick[illegible] an effective conclusion, [illegible] none. [illegible] who trod the road [illegible] conservation of [illegible] as He who teaches the word of righteousness. From my standpoint of view as a teacher and farmer, I firmly believe education of the young farmer is the key to the problem at hand.

Education consists of three parts. 1. Telling, which arouses interest. 2. Showing, or seeing how, why and when to do tha job. 3. Doing the actual practice on his own farm with technical help from the district's technician. The problem of education does not only lie on the farm and in the farmer, it must go much further, primarily to every citizen of these United States whether he be a small city dweller of a large city inhabitant. Conservation is to the utmost concern of every individual, thus I believe expenditure through taxation of all is the most just and far reaching of any assessments we now are asked to contribute, however, the populace must be told why.

By this I mean taxation will be used for far better training, supervision and care of the soil than is now being done.

My district has emberked on a very concentrated education, financial and publicity program designed to let all of the people in on the problems. Why not do it

Mr. Farmer:

It takes a large volume of livestock to attract a large number of livestock buyers.

The Traverse City Livestock Commission sells more livestock than any sale in Northern Michigan.

The bigger buyers attend the Traverse City Livestock Auction, therefore you are assured the full market value when you consign your livestock to the Traverse City Livestock Commission. Don't hesitate to spend a little extra money for trucking to the Traverse City Livestock Commission. It will be repaid many times.

Dear Patron:

It's not too early to begin thinking about seeding time for alfalfa and clovers. Frankly, this is the year to plant legumes and particularly alfalfa. The seed is plentiful and the price is right.

We are now receiving orders for Farm Bureau seeds, and invite you to come in and talk over your spring seeding plans and requirements.

So much, today, depends upon the success of your forage crop seeding that we know you will want to use the greatest care in selecting your seed, because there will be all kinds of quality offered. Remember, the best seed is the cheapest when you look at the quality of the crop.

We know that Farm Bureau seeds will do the job for you on your farm because

1. Farm Bureau seeds are of Known origin and adapted to the growing conditions on your farm.
2. They are thoroughly cleaned in your own co-operatively owned seed plant. Why sow weed seeds?
3. Farm Bureau seeds will really grow!

We invite you to join our fast-growing family of satisfied users of Farm Bureau products. Come in today.

Everybody's In The Act

Everybody got into the act during the second period of the Charlevoix-Pellston game Friday as three players go into the air in an affort to gain possession of tha ball.

Pictured is Rayder center, Dave Glassford (No. 7), Fred Ball (No. 42) and an unidentified player as John Schauffler (40) and Ray Andrews (41) wait for the three-soma to come down.

Charlevoix defeated the Hornets 63-51 for win No. 4 in league play this saason.

Charlevoix Wins Its Fourth League Game

The Charlevoix Rayders added win No. 4 in league play to their list last week by defeating the Pellston Hornets 63-51 on the latter's floor Friday night.

This Friday the Rayders will host the Harbor Springs Rams, who have one win in four starts.

Last Friday's game marked the opening of the Hornet's enlarged gymnasium. It was also their first home game of the current season.

The Hornets played an aggressive game in an effort to make the dedication ceremony a memorable occasion for the fans but the Rayders marred the celebration by handing them their fifth defeat of the season.

Coach Del Terrill started Bill Bennatt, Dean Davanport, Mark White, Bill Mosier and Jim Lewis against the Hornets but before the game was vary old Joe McDermott, Gordon Mol, Dave Glassford, Don Smith, Duane Walker and Gerry Albright had joined the line-up.

Davenport opened the scoring for the Rayoers with a field goal as the local five scored 14 points for a 14-8 quarter lead. Davenport, Lewis and Glassford had each connected with a two-pointer from the floor while Bennett had added a field goal and four gift shots and White two free throws.

Pellston had scored three field goals and twn free throws for eight points.

Charlevoix increased their half-time lead to 32-34 as Davenport scored five fiald goals and Mosler scored two while connecting with four out of six free throw tries.

Pellston had tallied 16 points for their best quarter of the game on six field goals and three out of 17 free throw attempts.

The Rayders lead was stretched to ten points as the third perlod ended 48-38

Bennett, Davenport, Mosier and Mol each scored a field goal while White scored two plus two free throws.

Pellston scored three field goals and six free throws for 12 points.

Five field goals end sevan free throws in the last quarter gava the Rayders 17 points and the game. McDermott scored two field goals and one out of four free throws: Mol scored three points on a field goal and a free throw and Smith matched him with three free throws: Bennett and Mosler each scored a field goal and White and Walker added one point each on free throws.

Pellston scored 15 points on four field goals and seven free throws.

The Rayders lost White and Glassford via the foul route while Pellstnn lost three regulars, Fred Ball, Glenn Aurrand and Johnny Schauffler who had led the scoring attack for the Hornets with 12 points. Center Ron Wilson had 11.

Davenport led the scoring for the Rayders with 14 points followed by Mosier with 12 and Bennett with 10 points.

The Rayders defense was down for the game with the Hornets scoring 51 points, the largest number scored against the local five this season.

Little Rayders Even Record With 47-33 Win Over Pellston

The Little Rayders, who deserted the win column for two games moved back intn the black this week by defeating the Pellston Reserves 47-33 on the latter's floor.

This week the Reserves, with a two and two record, will meet the visiting Harbor Reserves Friday night.

Starting for Charlevoix against the Hornets were Quinton Walker, Charles Dennis, Gene Towsley, Guy Swanson and Tom LaBlance.

Charlevoix took an early lead and by quarter time had tallied 12 points to Pellston's four. Swanson had accounted for five points on two field goals and a gift shot. Towsley had four on a field goal and two free throws, Walker had a field goal and Dennis a free throw.

Bob Mathews and Bob Albright entered the line-up in the first period.

In the second period the Rayders slowed down and made only four points on a field goal and two gift shots by Walker as Pellston made 12 to tie the half-time score 16-all.

Joe Etienne and Gerry Foster made an appearance in the Rayder line-up before the half ended.

Charlevoix got back into the game in the third quarter to tally 17 points for a 33-21 third period lead. Walker had seven

Rayders Play Harbor Springs Here On Friday

Attention in the Northern Michigan Class C league this week will be focused on the Mancelona-Gaylord game to be played on the Ironmen's floor and the Boyne City-East Jordan game to be played in the latter's gym.

In other games also to be played Friday night Charlevoix will host Harbor Springs and Pellston will entertain Rogers City in a non-league meeting.

Gaylord, in third piece with three wins and a loss, will be meeting a determined Mancelona five who have a two and two

Last Week With Class "C" Teams

Only the first and last place teams in the Northern Michigan Class C league retained their loop standings following Friday games.

Charlevoix's 63-51 win over Pellston left the Rayders in first place with four wins to date and the Hornets in the cellar with no wins in five starts.

East Jordan, by defeating Mancelona 55-54, took over undisputed second place with four wins and one defeat while Gaylord, which did not play slipped into third and Mancelona to fourth with a two and two record. Boyne City moved into the win column for the first time this saason by defeating Harbor Springs 53-48. The win put the two teams into a fifth place tie.

In a non-loop game Gaylord won over Cheboygan 64-39.

East Jordan 55 Mancelona 54

At Mancelona the game with East Jordan was close all the way with the Ironmen holding a 15-14 quarter lead. The game was tied 27-all at the half and East Jordan went into the lead 41-40 at the end of the third period.

Mancelona had a one point lead and possession of the ball as the game went into the final seconds but Keith Evans got two free throws when a Mancelona player fouled him and sinking both of them won the game fnr the Jordanites by one point. Evans paced the scoring with 22 points. Johnny ffolstad and Harold Patrick had 13 each for the Ironmen.

Boyna City 53, Harbor Springs 48

With Dnn Arner coming thrnugh with 19 points for Boyne City, the Ramblers finally got into the win column. The score was tied 14-all as the first period ended but from there on Boyne City controlled the game with a 31-26 half-time score and 41-34 at the third period. Stan Piper had nine points for the Rams.

Gaylord 62 Cheboyyan 39

The Gaylord-Cheboygan game played at Gaylord was knotted 12-all as the first period ended but the Blue Devils forged ahead to 36-25 half-time and 51-34 third period leads. Bob Schlang racked up 15 points for the victors and John Lewis had 12 for the Chiefs.

IT HAPPENED ON . . . . BEAVER ISLAND

Mary LaFrentara

Father Joseph Herp O.F.M., Arthur Johnston and Jewell Gillispie left Wednesday on a business trip to Bay City to see about getting a doctor for Beaver Island.

There will be a public meeting and discussion on Friday, Jan. 16 concerning the doctor.

Friday afternoon Mary LaFreniere took her sister, Isabel to Charlevoix for medical treatment. Isabel entered the hospital Saturday.

Mrs. Cora Paitt who has been on the sick list for some time is some improved.

George Ricksgers and Lawrence Malloy, Supervisors of St. James and Peaine townships returned Friday from the January session of supervisors.

Patricia and Marilyn Kinney and Roger Pankewicz returned Wednesday from Detroit where they went to visit their grandfather who is ill.

Gene Burke left for a visit to Grand Rapids. He plans to return in a week or so.

For a few days there was good skating in the harbor. Saturday night it rained and snowed on it so it will mean a rest for the children for a few days.

Last Tuesday evening the Ladies of the Altar Society elected new officers. The new officers are Loyola Malloy, president; Mrs. George Ricksgers, vice president; Mary LaFreniere, treasurer and Mrs. John A. Gallagher, secretary. The past officers were; Mrs. Vernon LaFreniere, president; Mrs. Frank O'Donnell, vice president; Mrs. Grace Cole, treasurer and Mrs. Bert McDonough, secretary.

The Ladies of the Altar Society are having a Pantry Shower for the Sisters Wednesday of this week.

Walter Wojan left Wednesday for Chicago where he plans to seek employment for the winter.

Ronald O'Donnell returned Sunday after being in Detroit for his pre-induction physical.

The school of St. James will be closed during the coming week because of measles.

Vivian Gallagher left last Friday to visit her son, James, of the U. S. Coast Guard of Charlevoix, who will be leaving soon for Hawaii.

Loyola Malloy is taking over for Mary LaFreniere for this issue.

Soil District Work Progress In County

These co-operators have established 30 acres of low land pasture, which means that 30 acres more went into production that otherwise would have been idle. The charge for the plow $.75 an hour and a minimum charge of $5.00 a day.

Harold Goabel, CSCD director and leader of 4-H conservation club, took his club through a capability tour and three meetings in farm planning. As one of their projects they planted trees for co-operators in their neighborhood. They climaxed their program by a conservation field trip to Hardwick Pines and the Higgins Lake Nursery. One of the members, Ed. Shank, of the club sponsored partly by the CSCD, attended the Conservation Camp at Kinross.

Kenneth Van Hoesen, continued Mr. Healey, participated in the Spencer Chemical Company Conservation speaking contest. The theme of the speech was "The Job Ahead in My Soil Conservation District.", Kenny won third prize in the State and has been asked to attend the Annual Meeting of the Association of Soil Conservation Districts in Michigan. January 30 and 31.

We must not forget the wonderful job in conservation being done by our teachers in our local schools, through the co-operation of Max Novak, Charlevoix, Pat Dougherty, Boyne City and Dick Schroeder, Frank Malone, and Mrs. Sadie Liskum of East Jordan. Mrs. Liskum has really done a magnificent job with her fifth grade class. Her class made a model farm showing good and bad practices in conservation, one farm called "Happy Valley" the other English compositions on conservation. Finally, Mrs. Liskum and her class received honorable mention in an article in the National publication of the "Soil Conservation" magazine.

Ed Rebman, county agricultural agent, has aided the district in many ways. His excellent job of secretary, plus the varied news articles on conservation advice deserve a big word of "thanks."

The churches, highway department, bankers and machinery dealers have co-operated and assisted us also. Asking the co-operation of other groups and agencies to act or advisory committees to the CSCD board of directors is like cutting the pie into smaller pieces in making the conservation job easier.

The real progress of the district comes when the co-operators show that conservation has been applied on the land. Action speaks louder than words, and the district's co-operators are doing a real good job. Remember Patrick Henry's famous quotation "He is the greatest patriot that saves his land from the most gullies."

points on two field goals and three gift shots: Towsley had five on two from the floor and one from the free throw line: Swanson, three, a field goal and a free throw and Mathews connected on a long one for two points.

In the last period the Rayders added another 14 points with Coach Terrili putting Walt Pouquette, Kit Carson, John Connolly, Ron Coleman, Fred Putman, Gary Vanderberg, Roger Pischner, Bill Haggard and Charles McDonald into the game.

Walker continued his scoring spree with seven points on three field goals and a free throw; Etienne had two gift shots, Haggard a field goal, Pischner and Connolly a free throw each.

Walker paced the scoring with 2 points; Towsley had nine; Swanson eight; Mathews, Etienne and Haggard two each; Dennis, Pischner, Connolly and Putman one each.

Guy had 11 for Pellston.

Rayders To Play Harbor Here Friday

record. The Ironmen, stinging from the one-point last-minute loss to East Jordan, will be out for revenge and on their home floor may have it. Gaylord's one loss was to East Jordan earlier in the season by a 61-54 score. Mancelona lost to the same team last week by a 55-54 score. On paper the Ironmen have an edge but Gaylord's team is a little taller and has more depth so the two squads should be evenly matched and the game could go either way.

A Boyne City-East Jordan game is always good and now that the Ramblers have moved into the win column they will be more determined than ever and should give the Jordanites a tough game. Two of Boyne City's losses may have been due to the absence of Don Arner from the line-up and now that he is back and the team has tasted victory they should give any opponet a good game. East Jordan, holding down second place with four wins and one loss will have an advantage over their visitors and should be given an edge, but after their one-point win over, Mancelona may not be up for the meeting with a traditional rival, so the game could go either way. However, the Red Devils must be given an edge.

Charlevoix, leading the loop with four wins, will entertain Harbor Springs which has had but one win, that over Pellston. The Rams, a tall, rangy outfit, seems to be an inconsistent team but can be depended on to give any opponent a scrap. The Rayders should keep their record clean but not without a fight.

In a non-loop game Pellston will be hosting the Rogers City Hurons who trounced the Hornets 64-33 in their initial meeting. The results of their second meeting could be equally as lop-sided

The Job Ahead In My Soil District

also from a national level as the Army, Navy and Airforce are advertising for our young people to join up and cash out their lives. It is gratifying to see so many new ways of getting soil conservation before the people with more and more printed in text books for children. These, I am sure are the grass roots of our soil saving problems. Technical and educational service alone is not enough in any soil district, we must have far better scientific experimentation applicable to the local aspects of the scene.

Financial assistance must be administered far better than it is now being done by the P.M.A. for 1953 which, as I see it, is as good as none for the small farmer, who is now and always will be the backbone of agriculture. First of all a farmer must live from his farm; second, improve it; third, he must conserve it. From an economical standpoint of today's statistics where does he end up? I can tell you, with a modest living, a very poor soils building program and no conservation. May I suggest a remedy for part of this dilemma of finance? Don't depend upon the P.M.A. or anyone else to help support your program; make your plan for your farm, whether large or small, and follow it; determination and the will to do it will win your goal.

Through a little closer co-operation of the agencies charged with the responsibility of promoting soil conservation service there can be greater progress for a better living and a better place to live. The day is here when farming is a profession not an occupation, let's have more and better men to do a better job.

Orlon is little affected by sunlight, weather and mildew, making it especially suitable for window curtains, awnings and other outdoor uses, say Michigan State college home economists.

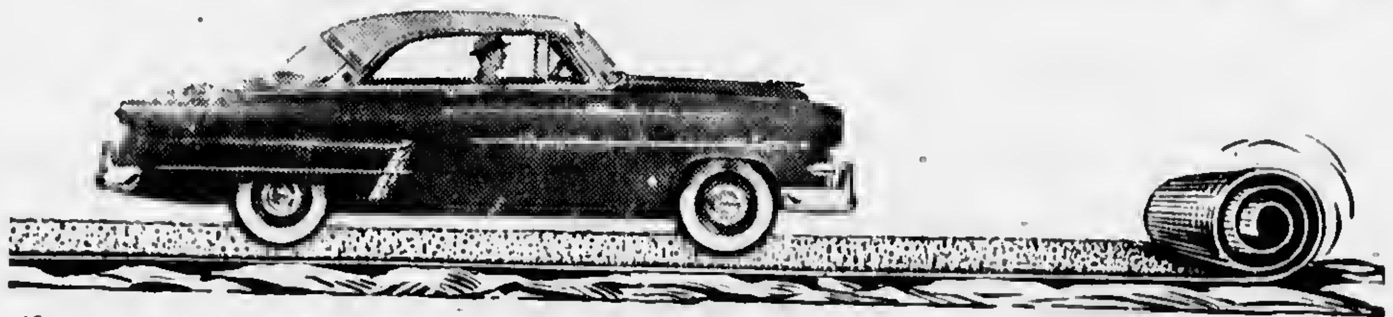
New Ford Miracle Ride

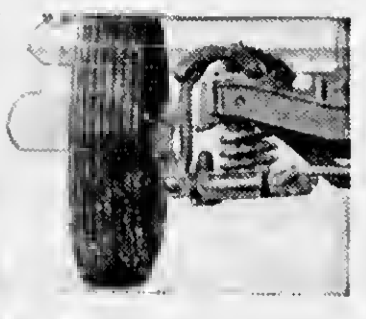
Here's new freedom from bounce, pitch and sway . . . an entirely new standard of riding comfort!



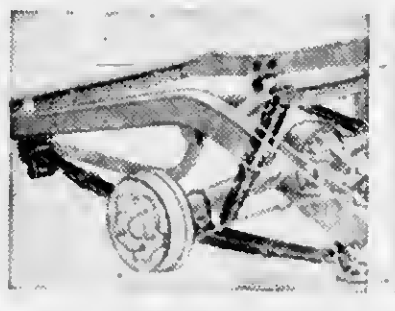
If you've thought it takes gas-eating weight and hard-to-park length to give real riding comfort you ought to try this '53 Ford. For Ford's new Miracle Ride actually seems to lay a carpet of smoothness even over the roughest roads. There's no bounce, pitch and sway to bother you, no uncomfortable roll on curves. Ford's new Miracle Ride marks a new era of riding comfort and quiet. It's another big reason why Ford is worth more when you buy it . . . worth more when you sell it!

White sidewall tires optional at extra cost. Equipment, accessories and trim subject to change without notice.

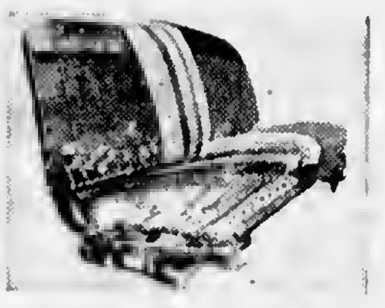
The New Standard of the American Road



80% less road shock! By increasing front wheel travel and redesigning the rubber compression bumpers, front end road shock is reduced as much as 80%. Springs are tailored-to-weight of each model, for best riding comfort, whichever model you buy.



Automatic Ride Control! Ford's Variable-Rate rear spring suspension actually makes the effective spring "stiffness" vary automatically as road and load conditions change. You get a smooth, level, comfortable ride on boulevard or roughest back road.



All day comfort! Scientifically designed contour seats, both front and rear, have thick foam rubber cushions. Non-sag spring construction is firm yet resilient. Automatic Posture Control provides the most convenient seating position for all drivers.

You've got to Value Check this new Ford's 41 "Worth More" features to know why Ford is worth more when you buy it . . . worth more when you sell it!

In this new '53 Ford you'll find not only a new concept of riding and driving comfort . . . you'll find more of the things you want and need than in any other car in the low-price field.

You'll find the "Go" you need, in Ford's high-compression V-8 and Six engines (and both thrive on regular gas). You'll find the great, all-round visibility . . . the easy handling, braking and parking you need for today's traffic. And you'll appreciate beauty that "belongs," wherever you may drive. No wonder Ford is the New Standard of the American Road.

Give Figures For Operating Ferry

Estimating the cost of the Ferry and its engine at $50,000, the above mentioned major overhaul was less than 10 per cent of the investment.

Contrary to business principles, a depreciation reserve account cannot be maintained with public funds. Setting the value of the ferry end its installations at $90,000, a two per cent depreciation reserve fund would amount to $1,800 per year. If such a fund had been possible, an estimated $45,000 or 50 per cent of the entire investment would have been built up in the past 25 years and could have been used to finance such repairs as were necessary in 1952.

In 1951 the ferry operated at a deficit of $6,966.09; in '50, $5,073.54 and in '49, the first year the road commission operated the ferry, $3,361.66.

Prior to 1949, the board of supervisors footed the entire bill for the ferry which was operated on a toll-free basis. In the last four years the board paid the bills it cost the county $7,827 in '48; $7,081 in '47; $5,661 in '46 and $4,446 in '45.

At the April meeting, the board of supervisors agreed to pay 50 per cent of all expenses of operating the ferry during 1952. The Charlevoix county road commission pays the other 50 per cent from its funds.

Pretty "Foxy" Terrier

Talking about dogs the other night—and Sandy Johnson topped everything off with a tall story about his fox terrier, "Boscum."

According to Sandy, "Comes bird season and that dog won't stir if I take down my rifle. Same if it's deer season and I go for my shotgun—he won't move, but he's scratching at the door if I so much as look at my rifle!"

One day, Sandy decided to fool him. He took down both his shotgun and his rifle — and swish, Boscum was on his way! So Sandy put the guns back and took out his fishing rod. He went outside and there was Boscum—digging like crazy for worms!

From where I sit, a dog that can outguess humans is as rare as a human that can outguess other humans. For instance, I like a glass of beer with lunch but I wouldn't think of pouring you one without first asking. Everybody has preferences—and it's finding out what they are and respecting them that keeps freedum from "going to the dogs."

Development Group Elects, Plans Drive

Ralph V. Hess was re-elected president of the Charlevoix Development Corporation at the annual meeting held Tuesday at the City hall here.

Other officers named were S. E. Coleman, vice president; John Knight, secretary and A. L. Livingston, treasurer. Knight and Livingston were re-elected to their respective positions.

Directors elected by the stockholders assembled for the meeting were Carl Kohler, Gordon Neff, Mr. Knight and Mr. Hess, who were named for three-year terms: Joseph Williams, Harold Totten, Joseph McPhillips and Mr. Livingston, two-year terms; Clarence Rabach, John Schroeder and Mr. Coleman, one-year terms.

The treasurer's report presented by Mr. Livingston revealed $7,600 paid and pledged toward the present goal of $15,000 which would be secured by a first mortgage on a $50,000 fireproof building to house a new industry for the community.

Plans were made for an intensive campaign to raise the remainder of the amount as soon as possible. Each stockholder was asked to bring in another in an effort to raise the remaining $7,400 at the earliest possible date.

William Van Raaphorst, representing the company which is interested in locating a plant here, showed motion pictures of the construction of a company plant in Detroit. The proposed Charlevoix plant would be constructed by the same method. His remarks regarding locating the plant here were well received.

Directors and all interested parties will meet at the city hall at 8 p.m. every Tuesday until the present project is completed.

Present stockholders in the Charlevoix Development Corporation are: John Knight, Fred Koehler, Mrs. H. C. Heckler, Robert Bridge, G. L. Freedman, Ralph Hess, E. D. Hawley, G. E. Bisbee, Joseph Williams, Arthur Bergeon, Ralph Washburn, Earl A. Young, Gordon Neff, Robert Neff, Charles Hamlin, Mrs. W. A. Cline, Clarence Robach, Harold Totten, Kit Carson, A. L. Livingston, Floyd Ikers, Theodore Heeres, Victor G. Spaniolo, S. E. Coleman, F. C. Davis, Donald Herrick, P. D. Campbell.

Jack Mailhot, Joe McPhillips, Alfred Brow. L. I. Replogle, E. C. Orr, G. E. Hollingsworth, Carl F. Kohler, Myron Hilton, Albert B. Crandall, E. K. Shanahan, Robert Livingston, J. Clark Dolliver, William Matzinger, Charles Filiatrault, Lawrence O. Swanson, John Mol, Frank Novotny Sr., Fred deCastro, Harley Warner, Richard A. Fochtman, Max Novak, E. A. Loop, John Schroeder, and Frank Oleksy.

Shares in the Corporation sell for $10. The corporation will receive 1½ percent interest from the new industry until the mortagage is paid ten years hence. Stockholders' investment will be returned to them at that time if they should so desire or they may leave it in a revolving fund.

Name Two County Men For February Draft Induction

The names of the men to be called for induction into the armed forces and those who will be called for pre-induction physicals in February have been announced following a meeting of the draft board last week.

Ordered to report for induction into the armed services Feb. 4 are Harvey Crozier and Edwin L. Long, both of Boyne City. They will report at the City Hall here Feb. 4 for transportation to the Detroit Induction Center.

The seven men called for pre-induction physicals Feb. 12 include Richard L. Genett of Charlevoix; Lue Andre Martin and John H. Crandell of Boyne City; Gail D. Neumann, Robert L. Huckle and Donald E. Maxwell of East Jordan.

They will report at the City Hall here Feb. 12 for transportation to the Detroit Induction Center for pre-induction physicals.

Because the two registrants called for induction next month reached their twentieth birthday anniversary a short time before Feb. 4, it was not necessary to call up 19 year olds for induction, the draft board announced.

Charles J. Pontius Is New President Of District Group

Charles J. Pontius of the Pontius Chapel here was elected president of District 10 of the Michigan Funeral Directors Association at a recent meeting held in Gaylord. He succeeds Matthew Erwin of Harbor Springs.

At the same meeting Paul Ross of Petoskey was named secretary-treasurer.

District 10 extends from Traverse City north to the Straits of Mackinaw and St. Ignace and Escanaba of the upper peninsula.

Dr. Wolfgang Rothkegel Tells Merchants' Group About Germany

The Charlevoix Retail Merchants Association assembled recently for the Round Table conducted by Howard R. Sommer of the Central Michigan College Extension Service.

Following the business session Mr. Sommer introducted Dr. Wolfgang Rothkegel of the faculty of Freie University in Berlin, Germany, who is in this country on a three months exchange program to study community counsel and leadership in four midwestern states, Illinois, Indiana, Wisconsin and Michigan. Among the things Dr. Rothkegel was interested in as part of the study were American colleges and college life and community organizations such as boards of commerce and groups which serve the community such as the Retail Merchants Association he visited here as a guest of Mr. Sommer.

He spoke of his impressions of the country and, like most foreign visitors, was impressed not only by its vastness but by the opportunities offered here. Being close to communism as he is in Berlin, he is very conscious of the 'ism' and what it stands for and said he could not understand how anyone who lives in America could be taken in by communism.

He said he liked it here very much but would be glad to return to his wife and children waiting for him in Berlin and to the University where so much remains to be done.

To understand the latter statement one must delve into the history of the Free University in Berlin. Once it was located in

Next Lecture In Series To Be Wednesday

"Western Europe" wil be the subject of the second lecture of the World Affairs lecture series to be delievered by Henry L. Bretton of the University of Michigan Extension service at the high school auditorium at 8 p.m. Wednesday, Jan. 28, Supt. R. G. Bennett announced this week.

The lecture is one of a series of five being offered by the Adult Education program in co-operation with the University of Michigan Extension Service.

The first in the series, "The Foreign Policy of the New Administration" was presented by Dr. Marshall M. Knappen Wednesday night.

Mr. Bretton, whose special interests include international affairs and comparative government, particularly in Western Europe and the Soviet Union, is well qualified to speak on the topic of his lecture, Western Europe.

Born in Berlin, Germany in 1916, he became a naturalized U. S. citizen in 1944 after serving during World War II with the Office of Strategic Services. He is now a lieutenant in the Organized Reserves. His military honors include two battle stars and bronze star.

Mr. Bretton received the degree of Bachelor of Arts in 1947 from Yale University and the degrees of Master of Arts in 1948 and Doctor of Philosophy in 1951 from the University of Michigan. He was a teaching fellow at the University from 1948 to 1950 when he became instructor.

During the summer of 1950 and 1951, he was in government service, working on the State Department's Exchange of Persons program.

He is co-author of a book, "Germany Under the Occupation", printed in 1949.

Enrollments in the lecture series are still being accepted, Mr. Bennett said. Further information may be obtained by calling or visiting the Superintendent's Office in the Elementary school building.

Luncheon To Be Given For Band Uniform Project

Mrs. L. E. Grate will open her Prospect avenue home Thursday afternoon for a bridge luncheon at 1:30 p.m. for the benefit of the Charlevoix high school band uniform fund.

She will be assisted by Mrs. Kit Carson as co-hostess and a committee composed of Mrs. Robert Miles, Mrs. John Schroeder and Mrs. Alfred Gill.

A 1:30 dessert luncheon will be followed by card games. Anyone wishing further information on the event may call Mrs. Grate or a member of her committee.

The party is one of several being held to raise funds for new uniforms for the high school band. The fund-raising project is being sponsored by the Band Parents Association.

Enrollment Still Open For Adult Education Group

Anyone wishing to enroll in any classes now being offered by the Adult Education classes at the Charlevoix public schools may do so by calling the office of the Superintendent, Supt. R. G. Bennett announced this week.

Classes opened at the high school last week and will continue each week for the next two months.

Typing classes will be held from 7-9 p.m. Tuesday and shorthand from 8-10 p.m. the same evening.

Art classes are held at the high school at 8 p.m. Thursday. Classes in sketching, oils and ceramics are offered.

Theodore S. Kibbe To Retire From Fish And Wildlife Service Soon

Theodore S. Kibbe, a former Charlevoix resident and son of Mrs. William S. Kibbe, will retire Jan. 31 as assistant regional director of the Fish and Wildlife Service's Region 3 with headquarters in Minneapolis, Minn., it has been announced by Service Director, Albert M. Day. The Service is an agency of the Department of the Interior.

Mr. Kibbe, 55, has spent all his 32 years of public service in the employ of the Fish and Wildlife Service and its predecessor, the Bureau of Fisheries.

Following a year of military service during World War I after graduating from the Charlevoix high school in 1917, he joined the Bureau of Fisheries in Jan. 1920 as an apprentice fish-car messenger. He progressed through the ranks to become assistant regional director of Region 2, headquarters in Albuquerque, N. M., on Jan. 1, 1945. He was transferred to his present post in Region 3 on Jan. 1, 1946.

As superintendent of various fish-culture stations, Mr. Kibbe contributed many valuable improvements now used generally. Among these contributions is a method of bulk transportation of green salmon eggs that saved many millions of these eggs over the years during spawn-taking activities. He also perfected studies on the use of malachite green

Wayne Roy Parsel Dies Following A Brief Illness

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Donald W. Parsel was saddened last week by the unexpected death of their only child, Wayne Roy.

The eight-year-old youngster had been ill at his home for several days before his condition became critical late Thursday. He was taken to the Charlevoix Hospital where he died a short time later.

Wayne, a popular member of the second grade of the Charlevoix public school and at the Sunday school of the Congregational church, was born in Sioux City, Iowa, Dec. 27, 1944. He came here five years ago with his parents. His father is one of the owners of Parsel's Garage.

Besides his parents, he is survived by his paternal grandmother, Mrs. Otto Parsel of Charlevoix and his maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Valentine Bing of Chicago.

The Rev. Harold Kohn officiated at the private funeral services held at the Pontius Chapel Saturday afternoon. Burial was in Brookside cemetery.

School Officials Meeting This Week

The annual conference of the Michigan Association of School Administrators will be held in Grand Rapids this week-end.

Attending will be Supt. R. G. Bennett and Mrs. Catherina C. Bergeon, Charlevoix county Superintendent of schools accompanied by Mrs. Bennett, Supt. E. E. Wade of East Jordan and Mrs. Wade.

Bill Carey New Pellston Coach For Basketball

Bill Carey, a recent graduate of Michigan State college where he played football and basketball, was signed Monday as basketball coach at the Pellston high school, Supt. S. A. McClutchey has announced.

He will complete the current school year while awaiting a call to military duty.

A 1948 graduate of the Charlevoix high school, Bill played football for the Spartans for four years and as a junior played basketball under coach Pete Newell. He completed his studies at Michigan State in December.

He assumed his coaching and teaching duties Monday.

He took over the coaching duties from Mr. McClutchey who has been serving in that capacity since the start of the present season after Bernard Wilson, who had coached the Hornets for two years accepted a teaching position in the Traverse City school system.

Pellston is a member of the northern Michigan Class C league and at the present time is in the league celler with no wins in five games.

Golden Gloves Tourney Starts

The annual Golden Gloves boxing tournament got under way in Petoskey last night with more than 50 entries from several northern Michigan towns.

Charlevoix's only entry was Bob Morgan of the Charlevoix lifeboat station who is entered in the open division. He is entered with the Boyne City team coached by Pat Doughtery.

All bouts will be held in the Petoskey high school gymnasium starting at 8 p.m. Elimination bouts are scheduled for last night and tonight (Thursday) with the finals Saturday evening, Jan. 24.

INTERPRETING THE NEWS

By Gene Alleman

DR. LEE M. Thurston, state superintendent of public instruction, leaves his post next June 30 to become dean of education at Michigan State College.

The intent listener might hear a gentle scuffling in the higher echelons of Thurston's department over who will be nominated by the G.O.P. state convention Feb. 21.

Top men on the pole are Dr. C. L. Taylor, deputy superintendent, and Dr John S. Haitema, assistant superintendent.

BUT THERE is a fly in the ointment. Both men are "available" to succeed their boss . . . and both men are state civil service employes.

The rub is that according to civil service commission ruling, no worker under its jurisdiction may become a candidate for elective office unless he resigns outright or takes a leave of absence at the time petitions are filed.

* * *

FROM HERE on it gets complicated. Since this is a spring election no petitions will be filed . . . the G.O.P. nominee will be selected at the state convention.

Taylor and Haitema figure they can keep on working until convention time, and then the chosen one will take a leave of absence until the April 6 election.

But Arthur G. Rasch, civil service chief, announces that it is his interpretation that the political candidacy rule becomes effective when an employe makes any move to win the nomination . . . and that includes the early jockeying before the convention.

THE QUESTION is are they candidates before the convention meets to select the party representative? Mr. Rasch says yes. Messrs Taylor and Haitema say no.

Two other gentlemen surely will be highly interested in the outcome. They also would like to head the department of public instruction. They are William Emerson, Oakland county school superintendent, and George Schutt, member of the field staff of Central Michigan College.

* * *

ROBERT POE, vitriolic, outspoken lobbyist for the Michigan C.I.O. council, has waxed bitter over Gov. Williams' appointment of James M. Moses, Marshall publisher to the civil service commission.

It would appear that the C.I.O. was thumping for Walter Krapohl, Flint attorney.

Mr. Poe made it clear . . . as only he can . . . that his union might easily be very busy with other things when the Democrats look for help in the spring election.

MICHIGAN now has 6,000 doctors. Not an earthshaking statement, but compared to the war years when the number of medical men dropped to 3,900, it's a comforting feeling.

The recent increase in the number of physicians may be partly due to the liberalization of basic science and medical practice requirements in 1952. The new laws permit doctors from foreign countries to practice in Michigan on one-year licenses while they are becoming U. S. citizens.

"While we still don't have a doctor for every community," says William J. Burns, executive secretary of the Michigan State Medical society, "We have gained several hundred practitioners in the last year."

MICHIGAN'S civil defense corp officially has accepted defeat to its once extensive plans for the defense of the state.

Last year the department asked for $3,000,000. It got $853,778 from economy-minded legislators. It was a blow, but Brig. Gen. Lester J. Maitland, civil defense director, with army stoicism, scrapped extensive plans and concentrated on cutting down his staff.

This year budget drafters report he is asking for only $703,782 for 1953-54 to "maintain a nucleus organization of workers.

After his elaborate plans and preparedness schedules had been scuttled, Maitland was forced to telescope his acticities into purely administrative functions.

"Another year with a sizeable budget and staff would have gotten the program rolling . . ." he said. But he says his present staff (he dropped 38 employes in the cut-back) can handle extension of the corps if disaster strikes, with the addition of a few key workers.

Tuesday Study Club Hears Book Review

The Tuesday Study Club met at the home of Mrs. Floyd Supp Tuesday evening to hear Mrs. E. B. Bowman review Catherine Marshall's book, "A Man Called Peter."

Mrs. Frank Novotny was honored at the social hour which followed. Lighted tapers decorated the refreshment table.

ODDS 'N ENDS

DESPITE the fact that the Dick Edwardses are in California for the winter, Dick is doing his bit for the Board of Commerce . . . In the Sunday edition of the Pasadena Star News, Dick got in a plug for Charlevoix and our Venetian Boat Parade . . . Seems as tho' the guy (or gal) who writes this particular column saw them at the Tournament of Roses parade on New Year's Day . . . just as big as life it had them listed from Charlevoix, a resort town . . which 'has it's parade too . . . the Venetian Boat Parade . . . late in July . . . a spectacle of lights . . ." The last a direct quote . . . We don't mind our people going elsewhere for a while as long as first: they pass the good word about Charlevoix along to others and second: that they return . . .

IF YOU'RE looking for something that's super in the way of entertainment, visit the gym after school some Tuesday night and see Coleman's Cats at practice . . . You wouldn't believe it if we told you about it so see it for yourself . . . Some, heaven knows how many kids from the first grade through the fifth grade playing basketball as you'll never see it played again . . .

DID YOU ever see such weather as we've had from Thursday 'til Sunday . . . Temperatures up to 51 Thursday with a thunder storm . . . lightning and the works . . . cold clear weather Friday and Saturday and Saturday night and Sunday our first really big snow-fall . . . The gremlins must have mixed up Mother Nature's plan for the winter . .

YOU'VE all heard about Fort Knox, where our gold reserve is stored . . We always had the idea it was stored in a real impressive looking building with everything but neon lights advertising the fact that thar's gold in th' here buildin' . . But after talking with Ted Melin just out of the army after two years service, all spent at Fort Knox, we're disillusioned . . . It isn't like that at all and unless you knew where it was you wouldn't recognize it and even if you knew all about it you wouldn't get near it . . . However, I'm not going to worry about anyone getting in the place after hearing how it's guarded . . .

KIDS . . there's nothing like them . . . you never know what they'll do or say . . . For example, the Joe Williamses had a dinner guest recently and as she was leaving, three-year-old Billy, just bubbling over with the manners his mother had taught him was heard to say "Did you thank my mother for your dinner?" . . . Seems she had but Billy had missed it . . . And one day last week we ran onto a father going through his five-year-old son's pockets looking for a dollar he'd given the youngster for a haircut . . . The youngster was even made to re-trace his steps but no money . . . With everyone offering suggestions and going through his pockets for the umpteenth time, his dad said . . . Are you sure it isn't in your cap . . . The young man was sure it wasn't but closer examination revealed one dollar carefully placed in the top of his hat . . . So Johnny Bleha made his way to the shop to pay for his haircut . .

ELSEWHERE in the Courier is a story about a German Chemistry professor in this country on an exchange program and who happened to visit Charlevoix recently . . . We had occasion to meet him and were very impressed . . . Most of all, we were struck by the urgency with which he wanted to learn about our country and the way we do things . . . He told us a little about the Free University in Berlin . . And after hearing about it, it made us a little ashamed to think we have so much and accept it all so lightly and take so much for granted . . It is a 'something' you feel in so many foreign students . . And if you don't get what we mean read the story of Berlin's Fighting University in the December issue of the Reader's Digest and you'll understand . . . That people should value education and their teaching profession so much that they would risk their very lives for it is almost beyond comprehension to us . . . But it's what they have done and when you could talk with this young professor who has lived a dozen lives in his 33 years, you treasure a little more what you have here . . .

IF YOU think it doesn't pay to advertise in the Courier ask Mrs. Joe Etienne . . . Her husband had something new in the way of an ad in the classified section last week . . . you pay for the ad and get what's advertised in it . . . A very clever and commendable idea except that he went off to his duties at the C. G. Lifeboat station and left her to answer the telephone while she was trying to bake an angle-food cake . . . Some 50 telephone calls and one not-so-good angel food cake later, he returned home to find out if he'd had results on the ad . . . Need we say more?

IN THE mail last week a letter from Dick Jolliffe serving with the 40th Division in Korea . . . He mentioned the snow and cold and that Christmas wasn't much like Christmas, but most important of all, the news that he hopes to be home in time to see a few basketball games . . .

AND FROM Bill Barker, now at Scott Field, Ill., a story that bears repeating . . . Seems Bill was returning to his barracks from a movie . . . Upon entering the second floor of the building he saw someone who looked mighty familiar lying on a nearby bunk . . . He passed the bunk and then turned around and stared . . . for here was Charlie Donaldson, just in from Lackland AFB, Tex. . . . They're living a short distance apart and will soon start radio school together . . . both are in the same squadron . . Bill concludes with the statement that not even the Air Force can keep the Class of '52 apart . . . And in a 'P.S.' the startling news meant especially for the fair sex that he has only 41 months left in the service . . .

Expert Advises On Curtain Use To Obtain Light

"Do you know that the light from a window is cut by one third when both side draperies and glass curtains are used?" asks Mary Shipley of the textiles, clothing and related arts department at Michigan State college.

Miss Shipley goes on to point out that most rooms can ill afford to lose that much light. As a solution, she suggests using draperies that extend out over the wall, which allows more light to enter and also makes the window look larger and gives a more spacious feeling to the room

A new trend today is to combine the glass curtain and drapery panels into one by using a sheer printed fabric, says Miss Shipley. The new curtain fabrics on the market today must be made into curtains full enough to provide privacy and yet sheer enough to allow light to enter. She suggests that these patterned sheer fabrics should have a fullness at least twice the width of width would be preferable. the window; three times the Valances, cascades and other decorative treatment of a window are light-stealers, too. Be sure to put such material high above the window so all the light can enter, or to the side so that only the wall is covered, not the light-giving window.

Cottage style curtains are back in style, Miss Shipley reports, and they are as attractive as many traverse type curtains. These cottage curtains will provide both privacy and light because the bottom panels can be left closed while the top portion can be pulled back to admit the light. The material for cottage type curtains suggests using non-transparent in rooms where privacy is needed.

Conservation Meet To Start Tomorrow At Higgins Lake

Roscommon — Under the theme "Wildlife and Recreation," the second annual Jack Pine Conservation Institute will be held at the conservation department's Higgins Lake training school near here January 23-25.

One hundred teachers and administrators from Antrim, Kalkaska, Crawford, Missaukee, Wexford and Roscommon counties are expected. Invitations have been extended on a "first come first served" basis to all teachers in the counties, and the first 100 mail or phone reservations before January 20 will be accepted at the school or by Wilbur Bull, conservation headquarters, Roscommon.

Lectures, discussions and panels will occupy the teachers during the week-end session.

Give Shower For Mrs. Don Brown

Mrs. Don Brown was guest of honor at a pink and blue shower given Thursday evening by Viola Andersen and Mrs. Herry Powers at the latter's home. The gift and refreshment tables were decorated in a pink and white motif end centered with miniature storks. A large pink and white cake made by Mrs. Joseph Etienne centered the refresnment table.

Games were enjoyed by the guests with Mrs. Lenn W. Fenskie of Petoskey, Carolyn Smith and Mrs. Albert Taylor winning the prizes.

Mrs. Brown received a variety of lovely gifts.

Invited guests were Mrs. Wilbur Brown and Mrs. Roman Martin of Petoskey, Mrs. Bert Pumphrey of Kalkaska, Mrs. Anna Powers of Barryton, Mrs. Melvin Plum, Mrs. Inga Smith, Mrs. William Fisher, Mrs. George LaBlance Sr., Mrs. Charles Elzinga, Mrs. Philip Lemieux, Mrs. Colin McKenzie, Mrs. John Zeitler Sr., Mrs. Jean Gallagher, Mrs. Perry Smith Jr., Mrs. Etienne, Mrs. Klaus Andersen.

Christ Episcopal Church Plans For Resident Minister

Tentative plans to receive a resident minister at Christ Episcopal church here in June were made at the annual meeting of the Congregational of the church at the parish hall Thursday evening following a potluck supper.

The Rev. Carl A. Hoch, Vicar of the Mission, presided at the meeting and reported on the progress of the church.

Election of the Bishop's Advisory Committee was held with Thomas Carey named as warden; Mrs. S. E. Coleman, secretary and Mrs. Archie Rounds, treasurer.

Committeemen named at the same time were Charles Hamlin, Mr. Rounds, Clair Stevens, Fred deCastro, Mrs. Florence Cameron, Mrs. Fred Tyler and Frank Milward.

Louis Hamlin was elected delegate and Mrs. Leo Carey alternate to the annual convention of the Diocese of Western Michigan in Grand Rapids Jan. 27-28. The convention will elect the fourth bishop for Western Michigan.

Kiwanis Members Tell Life Histories

Four members of the Charlevoix Kiwanis Club who were inducted during the past year gave their life histories as part of the club program Monday night at the regular meeting held at the high school cafeteria.

They were A. L. Livingston, Peter H. Timmer, Rev. Harold Kohn and Rev. George Majors.

The meeting marked the third time this year the club had a 100 per cent attendance.

Leonard Burns, first vice president, presided at the meeting in the absence of Capt. H. E. Paddock, president who with Cmdr. E. K. Shanahan, second vice president is attending the midwinter state meeting in Grand Rapids Jan. 18-19-20.

E. J. Edwards and Reginald Greenway were guests for the meeting.

Women's Fellowship Holds Initial Meet

Mrs. Lester Smith, newly-elected president of the Women's Fellowship of the Congregational church, presided at the initial meeting of the organization in 1953 held Wednesday in the church lounge.

Others who assumed their officials duties at the meeting were: Mrs. Versal Seymour, first vice-president; Mrs. James Coleman, second vice-president; Mrs. George Wolf, secretary and Mrs. Robert Miles, treasurer.

"Building With Love and Gratitude" is the theme of the organization's program for 1953. At the business session, the reports of the various church circles were made and tentative plans for the year were made. Mrs. [illegible] led the devotions.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. Harold Kohn on Feb. 4.

Retires After Thirty Years Service

The fancy wrappings conceal the luggage which was the farewell gift to Mrs. Flossie Bulock, left, when she retired from the Michigan Bell Telephone Company last month. A dinner party at the Dilworth Hotel, Boyne City, marked the occasion. Mrs. Marie Rebach, right, a fellow employee of Mrs. Bulock's in the Charlevoix business office, and C. L. Johnson, center, local manager for Michigan Bell, were among the 20 guests at the affair.

Mrs. Flossie Bulock is vacationing at Clearwater, Fla., having set aside her duties in the local business office of the Michigan Bell Telephone Company.

"Mrs. Telephone," as she may well be called here, retired last month after more than 30 years with Michigan Bell. She has been senior public office representative here since 1945.

In reviewing her telephone years, Mrs. Bulock recalled that she applied for work with the company just because she "had the notion" — a notion, apparently to combine marriage and a career for she had been married for five years. That was in Pontiac, in 1916, where she became a telephone operator.

She resigned three years later, but resumed her career in 1922, advancing to chief operator at Rochester, then area chief operator.

When dial telephone service was inaugurated at Rochester, she went into the business office there. That was in 1938 and she continued until 1945 when she came "north."

Her husband, Jack (John O.), her mother, Mrs. Ida M. Cummings, and she live near Bellaire.

To hear her plans for her "leisure time," one is conscious of rather a contradiction to one's idea of leisure.

Around April 1, she and her husband will return to Bellaire and she plans to concentrate on a business venture with her mother next summer. They will do home-baking for townspeople and resorters around Bellaire. Mrs. Bulock will specialize in cakes and cookies, leaving the bread and pies to Mrs. Cummings.

I See by the Courier . . .

Dr. Russell Palmer Continues Tales Of Mexican Experiences

We crossed into Mexico at Raynosa and arrived at Monterey at noon. We passed through desert land where nothing but cactus grows.

There were a few towns on the way which were quite indescribable . . . narrow streets, adobe houses of every color of the rainbow, with flat roofs. The natives are very poor and unkempt but very happy and courteous and harmless. Many are proud of their ability to speak broken English and go out of their way to help in guidance and information.

Monterey is a manufacturing town of about 300,000 nestled in a valley surrounded on two sides by mountains; to the east the Cerro de la Silla which looks like a gigantic saddle and on the south by a chain called the Sierra Madre.

From our hotel room we can almost reach out and touch them. Each time I glance through the window the panorama changes . . . sometimes they are almost obscured by clouds, sometimes by haze but always they retain their blue color. Half way up are native huts from which in early morning come men, horses or burros with two-wheeled carts laden with produce on their way to market.

Dogs bark and roosters crow throughout the night. To one this trip is worth a million. Earth has nothing to show more intriguing fantastic, spectacular and pleasing to the eye.

The only problems that dampen one's ardor are the mendicants on the streets begging for alms. These poor people prefer to live like this and retain their liberty than to be institutionalized and kept by the state. They have a point there.

This afternoon we are going sight-seeing and will leave in a few days for Mexico City. One has but to come here to expel the fears of unfit water, contaminated food, etc. This city is just like the average American one. Everything under the sun may be purchased and the food is delicious. Everything is very reasonable and the Mexicans go out on a limb to please.

Left Monterey today and passed through a fertile valley bordered on one side by a range of mountains that stretch the whole length of Mexico.

This valley has vast groves of orange trees. The trees blossom in February and the fruit ripens in November and December so they are now laden with ripened fruits.

We are spending the night in Victoria. This city of 40,000 souls was named for a Mexican patriot. Our room overlooks a park where many pecan trees grow. Thousands of birds, oracos, perched in the trees are chattering to the music played by the band. Just beyond the park is the Cathedral with a large illuminated cross. Tomorrow we drive to the city of Valles.

We passed through mountain country enroute here (to Valles) The scenery was beautiful. At one point we traversed a mountain pass. Little villages dotted the way throughout.

A few miles out of Victoria we entered the Tropic of Cancer so tonight we sleep in the tropics. Added to the previous flora is the coconut palm.

I marvel at the absence of insect life here. On our drive today we saw many buzzards flying overhead. The macaw, too, are at home here.

A common sight along the highway are Mexicans riding burros to and from work. The men seem half asleep but manage to stay astride.

Tomorrow we pass over the range of mountains and spend the night at Zimopon and then to Mexico City.

Ellsworth Defeats Kingsley By 31-23

Ellsworth Lancers won over Kingsley in a tough defensive game Saturday night with a final score 31-23. The Reserves lost by a score of 32-30, breaking a 22 game winning streak.

Tuesday night of last week, the Lancers won over Boyne Falls with a score of 74-37. The Reserves won 33-24.

The Ellsworth Girl's team may not have the great support the Lancers have but they come home with victories, too. Traveling to Bellaire Friday night of last week, they won by a 10-13 score.

However the Jr. high game was a loss for Ellsworth, score 53-30.

The girls play Mancelona Wednesday of this week at Mancelona.

Tuesday of next week, Jan. 27 the girls play the Central Lake girls team here and on Feb. 18, the local girls go to Central Lake for their return game. How about a little support for the girls?

The varsity squad plays Central Lake this Friday night, Jan. 23 on the Central Lake floor.

as prophlactic measure in treating hatchery water, and conducted a successful experiment on heating water for trout stations having too cold water supply.

In recognition of his outstanding contributions in the field of fish and wildlife conservation and administration, Mr. Kibbe recently received the highest honor of the Department of the Interior, its Distinguished Service Award, from Secretary Osrar L. Chapman.

Following his retirement, Mr. Kibbe plans to spend the winter in Mexico. He will be accompanied by his wife, the former Myrtle Guild, also of Charlevoix. They have one son, Jack, who is serving in the U. S. Air Force.

Later they plan to return to Charlevoix to make their home.

In a recent letter to friends here, he also said that he hopes to realize a life-long dream of a world cruise aboard a tramp steamer. That, however, will be something to be planned during the coming months.

Legion Service Officer Warns To Record Discharge

"Record your service discharge papers" was the warning issued this week to all veterans by Kenneth B. Forbes, American Legion service officer here.

The warning came from the Veteran's Administration to all service officers but Mr. Forbes has ample proof that veterans have been lax on this matter for in the past few months he has had ten veterans most of them from World War I, who have consulted him for information regarding benefits who did not have copies of their original discharge papers. Of the number four had been lost, others mutilated and several were original copies which had to be recorded and certified copies made to send with applications.

All this requires a lot of red-tape and slows down the processing of the veteran's application, Mr. Forbes added.

All veterans regardless of the branch of armed forces in which they served and the time they spent in the service must record their discharge papers at the court house and obtain certified copies of the discharge to be used when needed. The original discharge should not be sent with applications for benefits.

Mr. Forbes concluded by saying that no veteran knows when he might need a copy of this important record so he must protect himself by having the discharge papers recorded now. Tomorrow may be too late.

Annual Meeting Held By Congregational Church Last Week

The First Congregational church held its annual meeting at the church last week. The Rev. Harold E. Kohn, pastor of the church, presided at the meeting at which reports from the various departments were given.

Mrs. Allen Campbell was renamed church clerk; Capt. H. E. Paddock, Sunday School superintendent and E. D. Hawley, treasurer.

William Supernaw and Cmdr. E. K. Shanahan were named to the board of trustees for three year terms; A. L. Livingston and Robert Richards, deacons and Mrs. Kit Carson, Mrs. Earl A. Young and Mrs. Jeff Novotny, deaconesses for three years.

Beginning this month, the church plans to publish a monthly paper for its members and friends of the church.

N W Development Council Elects

Two western Michigan motor freight companies, Darling Freight Inc. of Grand Rapids and Parker Motor Freight of Petoskey, agreed to underwrite 10 percent of the Council's budget. Heads of the two companies will negotiate with other motor freight companies to share the commitment.

Council members adopted a resolution requesting a full-time area man from the State Department of Economic Development to work in the northwest area.

Among the accomplishments of the Council listed by Mr. Campbell in a progress review were: an active committee to urge construction of a bridge at the Straits of Mackinaw; several new industrial development corporations in the area; efforts to extend the Class A road-rating on US 131 and US 31 north from Grand Rapids; a working committee to aid in establishing the St. Lawrence Waterway project; a resolution asking for a state ferry for the west side of Michigan with the result that a legislative study committee met at Frankfort and now will make a report to the legislature.

The next meeting of the Council will be held in Mancelona in February.

Anyone wishing to help with the Karnival is asked to call Mrs. Carey. Contributions for the white elephant sale and the fish pond may be left at the City Hall.

Contributions to date total $341.90, Mrs. Carey said Wednesday. This includes $90.03 given in a blanket pitch at the Harbor Springs-Charlevoix basketball game Friday. This project was arranged by Ron Gear.

Proceeds from the buffet supper at the Airport Bar Monday night are not complete but more than $100 has already been turned over to the fund. A final figure will be announced at the close of the drive.

Glen Williams of Ironton was awarded the baked ham that was given away. He then actioned it for $12.50 and contributed the proceeds to the Ironton March of Dimes fund headed by Ray Williams.

School children are aiding in the drive by filling dime cards distributed by Mrs. Dean Davenport and by depositing their pennies and dimes in the cannisters placed in each room at all schools.

Other events to raise funds for the drive have been planned. At Ironton a games party will be held at the school tonight (Thursday) and the following Thursday, Jan. 29, a card party will be held at the same place.

The Marion Center Grange is planning a games party at the Grange hall at 8 p.m. Saturday, Jan. 31. Two thirds of the proceeds will go to the March of Dimes and the remainder to the Grange.

Charlevoix IN UNIFORM

Sgt. Jack Grubaugh returned home recently to join his wife, the former Joan Crump, after serving 18 months in Japan with the U. S. Air Force.

After a 30-day furlough here, he will go to his new assignment in Texas. Mrs. Grubaugh will accompany him.

Pvt. George Haggard has arrived from Camp Gordon, Ga., to spend a 10-day leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Haggard Sr., before reporting at his new assignment in West Point, New York.

Hold Military Services For James Zylstra

Military funeral services for James Zylstra, were held Friday afternoon, January 16 at the Hasting's Funeral home in Ellsworth with burial in East Jordan.

Mr. Zystra was born in Jamestown, 75 years ago and came to this vicinity over 50 years ago.

On July 27, 1931 he was married to Mrs. Myrtle Wood of Ellsworth, who survives, with a son, Edwin Wood of East Jordan, and a daughter, Leda Hosler of Detroit. He is also survived by one brother, Nicholas of Zeeland, three sisters, Mrs. Henry Vredeveld, Mrs. Albert Sneller both of Zeeland, and Mrs. Wesley Veenstra of Atwood, six grandchildren and ten great-grandchildren.

Mr. Zylstra a veteran of World War I was a member of Jansen-Richardson Post No. 488 and held membership in the Methodist Church of Boyne City.

Those from out of town who attended the services were Mrs. Henry Vredeveld and Albert Sneller and family all of Zeeland Robert Wood and family, Myrtle Blaha and Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Hosler of Detroit; Mr. and Mrs. Donald Pearsall of Boyne City; Mr. and Mrs Claude Pearsall of East Jordan; The Harry Pearsall family and the Maurice Kraemer family all of East Jordan and Mr. Claude Pearsall of Gaylord.

Lighted Athletic Field Is Assured In Community Soon

Ellsworth-Under sponsorship of the local Chamber of Commerce community-minded citizens of the area joined hands once again. This time to construct a lighted athletic field, which will provide greater recreation facilities for the future.

A preliminary joint meeting was held January 6th with Village Council, the Township Board, and electric power officials, when all the details and probable costs were thoroughly gone over. On January 14th another meeting was held, attended also by representatives of various service and social clubs. It indeed was a pleasant surprise when it was disclosed that about $2,500.00 was almost instantly pledged toward the total cost of approximately $3,000.

A general committee was appointed to raise the additional $500, and to proceed with the construction of the project. Representing the various groups, the following were appointed:

Superintendent Smith of the School faculty as chairman, John DeYoung, for the Chamber of Commerce; Wm. J. Goeman, Atwood young married couple club; Pete J. Drenth, School Board; Grant Hastings, Village Council; John Peebles, Banks Township Board; Walter Rood, American Legion; Marvin Elzinga, Banks P. T. A.; Henry Elzinga, Sportsmen Club; Peter Wieland, Firemen luncheon club.

Location of the Field will be adjoining the present baseball diamond, on property presently belonging to the School system.

The enthusiastic willingness to serve on the part of the committee and others not only assures completion of this project; but reflects a spirit of community co-operation that this neighborhood can justly be proud of.

Polio Drive Chairman Announced

Peter Wieland is the Polio Drive chairman for Ellsworth instead of Marvin Elzinga and Bob Smalley, as was previously announced.

Hans DeYoung is the chairman for the Atwood community.

Farm Bureau Meets

Ellsworth Farm Bureau is meeting at the Community Hall for the present so that all members will feel free to come, as most of the homes cannot accomodate the full membership.

The regular meeting was held Monday evening with a good attendance.

Burns - DeVries Vows Exchanged In Home Service

Ellsworth — Saturday afternoon, Jan. 17 was the date chosen by Fave Burns and Seblo DeVries for their wedding, which was solemnized in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Strange. Mr and Mrs. Paul DeVries are the parents of the groom. The double ring ceremony was performed at 2:30 p.m. by Rev. H. Goodyke of the Atwood Christian Reformed church in the presence of the immediate families and a few close friends.

For her wedding the bride wore a powder blue sheer wool dress featuring a sequin trimmed blouse and dolman sleeves. With it she wore a pink rosebud corsage and black accessories.

Mrs. Rink DeVries was the only attendant and she chose a powder blue faille street length dress with black velvet trim. Her corsage was of white mums.

Rink DeVries assisted his brother as best man.

Mrs. Strange wore a navy crepe street dress for her daughters wedding and the mother of the groom wore black crepe with white trim. Their corsages were of white carnations.

Following the ceremony, Mrs. Strange, assisted by Mesdames, Sam Kelly and Don Campbell, served a luncheon featuring the traditional wedding cake and ice cream.

Mr. and Mrs. DeVries are spending a month in Florida before establishing a home in Ellsworth.

WASHINGTON—Senator Homer Ferguson has a wonderful display of the products made in his home state of Michigan, but when the March of Dimes poster kids called on him at his office during their visit to the Nation's Capital all business stopped. Patricia O'Neil, 6, (left) and her sister Pamela, 5, sure went for the scale models of Michigan motor cars and just about disrupted the whole office. A true diplomat, Senator Ferguson got everything under control by giving each girl one of his prized little models. Pam, in return, pinned her big March of Dimes drive button on the senator's coat. He has long been a supporter of the fight on polio. The poster children, from Raleigh, N.C. both were stricken with polio and both have fully recovered.

Poor Electrical Wiring Can Be Very Dangerous

"Temporary wiring" may be around just long enough to blow a fuse, set fire to a building or give someone e "permanent" jolt, warns Ed Rebman county agricultural agent Slipshod repairs, tacked-on extensions, insulation neglect and use of defective supplies can endanger an entire wiring system.

All electrical wiring, extensions qualified persons, according to the National Safety Council, end temporary wiring, unnecessary extension cords and makeshift installations should be avoided.

Check your wiring systems, outside and inside, advises the county agricultural agent. Insulators break, insulations fray and swinging wires get short-circuited on trees and other objects. Defective switches, loose junction clamps and damaged appliances are set to give trouble.

Buy good quality cords and plugs made for the job, advises Rebman. Avoid plastic caps that break easily and those hard to take hold of to pull out. Use cords with asbestos insulation for heating appliances and heavy rubber-jacketed cords for motor operations. Avoid kinking or injuring cords. Watch circuit loads and fuses. Ordinary household circuits with No. 14 wire should have 15-ampere fuses; if one blows, something is wrong—an overload or a short-circuit. Remove the trouble before replecing the fuse with the proper size Don't try electrical repairs without pulling the switch to shut off the current.

Schools and communities in Michigan have been instrumental in reforestation projects. Nearly 900 such forest projects in Michigan have been started, and more than 170,000 acres have been planted.

Gives Methods For Teaching Conservation

An effective way to teach soil and water conservation is to correlate it with as many school subjects as possible, seys Mrs. R. V Liskum East Jordan teacher and veterao 4-H club leader.

For several years Mrs. Liskum has conducted a 4-H club in soil and water conservation teaching it incidentaly in school studies. Conservation is a natural. Children like it and it works in well with social science, general science, English and reeding.

Children are naturally interested in nature. A complete understanding of the simpliest fects concerning the soil, sunlight, weter end their effect on plart growth is pleced before them with the tremendous amount of litereture evailable in this field.

Although Mrs. Liskum has a rather young group, fifth graders, they never-the-less will learn about such things as soil formation, wind and water erosion, elements necessary for plant growth end the need for better management of the soil.

Last year this group made a living model of two farms. One whose soil was improperly handled aod one whose soil was handled according to today's knowledge of the best land use. Their models contained average soil, with miniature farm buildings, fences, and trees. Aetual plants grew. There were low wet areas planted to reed canary grass, there were good pastures of ladino clover, alfalfa, and there were grasses areas. Water was applied according to the growing plants needs and the same amount and methods of application was made and each farm.

The youngstors sew whet heppens, e visuel domonstration of soil manegement in e clessroom. This winter the cless will meko another model to demonstrete to themselves ond others whet they havo learned. Forth members ere ir the club.

Teachers interested in soil conservation should contact K. C. Festerling, district 4-H cluh agent at Boyne City.

A variety of 4-H conservation projects are available to 4-H members according to Mr. Festerling. They include forestry, bird study, wildflowers, wildlife study, deer yard and fur trapping. Most popular is wildlife study in whleh the members study the habits and generally acquaint themselves with local game animals and birds. Literature for these projects is available from the 4-H club office in Boyne City.

Expert Reports Good Results On Craig Oats Use

Farmers who are laying long-range plans including extensive oat seeding in 1954 will have e new Michigan-tested variety to use . . . Craig oats . . . a cross hetween Victoria, Richland and Ithacan varieties in New York state.

Dr. Kenneth Frey of Michigan State college farm crops department reports that, in three years of Michigan Agricultural Experiment Station tests, Craig oats out-yielded Clinton oats several bushels per acre. Craig oats will be grown for certification this year and seed will be ready in 1954.

Craig oats resist loose and covered smut, crown rust including Race 45 and some races of stem rust. It has a white grain color, runs medium to light test weight, matures about five days later than Clinton and has a short stalk.

Ferry Service At Mackinaw Now On Two-Hour Schedule

The Michigan State Ferry service between Mackinaw City and St. Ignaoe (across the Straits of Mackinac) is now operating on a twn-hour Winter schedule, Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler announces.

This is the first time the State Ferries have operated on a two-hour schedule during the winter season. In past years, the scheduled departures have been three hours apart. This year, however, in an effort, to give the public the best possible service, Commissioner Ziegler decided to put the two-hour schedule into effect for the winter months, lasting until sometime io April, depending on ice conditions.

Under the new Winter schedule now in effect, the Vacationland will leave St. Ignace at 6 e.m, and every two hours up to and including 10 p.m. From Mackinaw City the Vacetionland will leave at 7 a.m. and every two-hours up to and including 11 p.m. The schedule will operate on Eastern Standard time.

Charlevoix, Gaylord In Second Place Tie

The Charlevoix Rayders were toppled from the ranks of the undefeated and from the lead in the Northern Michigan Class C league Friday night by the Harbor Springs Rams who came from behind in the closing minutes to win 55-50.

The Rayders, playing without Bill Bennett who suffered a sprained ankle in a practice session earlier in the week, led the Rams all the way before losing ground in the final period with only eight points while Harbor Springs rolled up 20 to take the game.

The local five, by virtue of their loss, sacrificed the top position in the loop to East Jordan which has five wins and one loss after defeating Boyne City 45-43.

The real test of strength will come this week when the Rayders travel to Gaylord to take on the Blue Devils. The game will wind up the first half of the loop schedule for both teams. To date Geylord's only loss hes been to East Jordan. The two teams are now tied for second place. A win would put the victor into a first place tle with East Jordan which has completed its loague schedule ard will be meeting Onaway in a non-loop gamo.

Starting for the Rayders Friday night were Dean Davenport and Gordon Mol forwards, Mark White, center and Bill Mosier and Jim Lewis, guards.

The Rayders took a quick lead as Davenport connected for three field goals and Mosier added another before the Rams found the basket. The period ended 13-8 on three field goals by Davenport, one field goal and two free throws by White and a field goal and a gift shot by Mosier. Harbor's eight points had been scored on four field goals.

The half ended 25-19 after the Rayders had racked up 12 points to 11 for the visitors. Mosier and Mol had scored two field goals each and Davenport and Tom LaBlarce one field goal each. LaBlance, Duane Walker and Glassford made their first appearance in the line-up in the second quarter. Harbor Springs had scored on four field goals and three free throws.

Charlevoix had its best quarter in the third with 17 points. Harbor Springs, however, broke in for 16 points to give the Rayders a seven-point 42-35 lead.

Mosier scored three long shots White had two, Davenport and Glassford had one each while Mol had three points on a field

Rayders Will Meet Gaylord There Friday

Basketball fans will see plenty of action in the Northern Michigan Class C league this week-end as the first half of the loop schedule draws to a close. As the half-way point is reached each team will have played six conference games.

Heading, the list of games Friday will be the Charlevolx-Gaylord bout to bo played on the Blua Devils floor. The winner of this game will go into a tirst place tie with East Jordan which has already completed its league schedule and will host the Onaway tive this week.

Mancelona and Harbor Springs, tied for third place, will meet on the Rams' floor while last place Pellston will invade Boyne City in the hopes of going into a tie with the Ramblers who have one win.

The Gaylord-Rayder game will be the outstanding game of the week following the latter's defeat

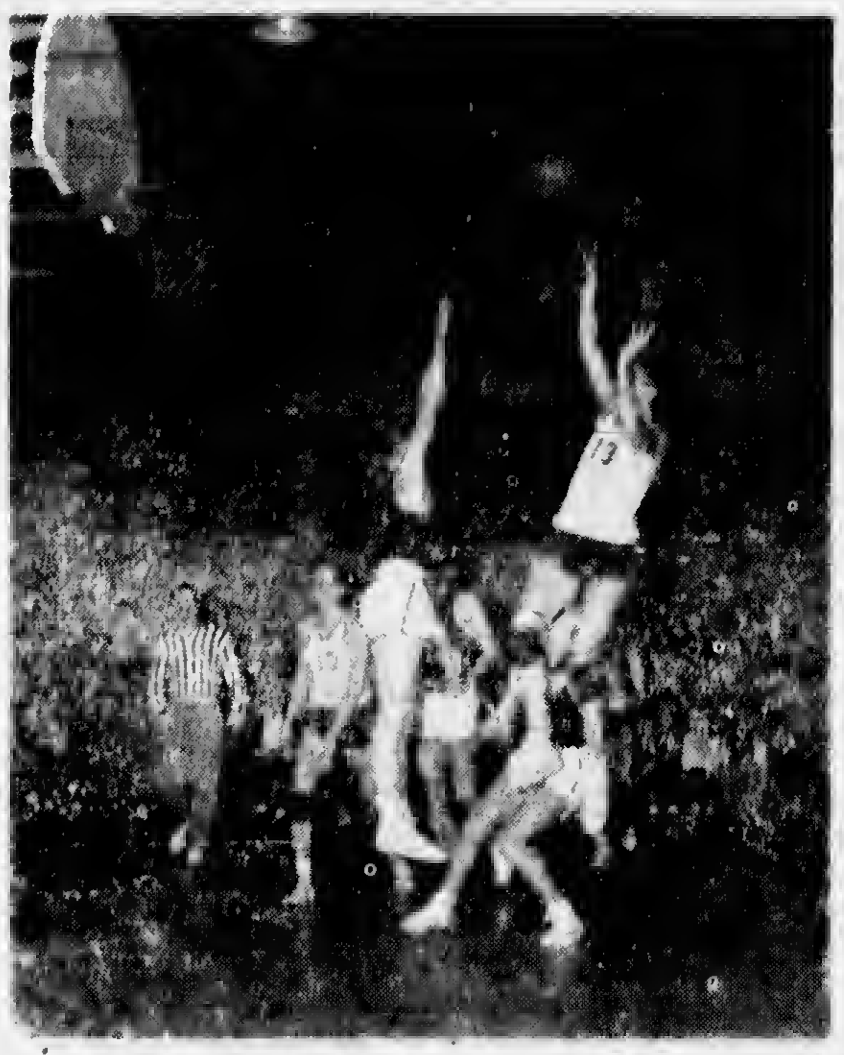
Rayder Jumps For A Shot



Gordon Mol (13), in the Rayder starting line-up for the first time this season, goos up for a shot at the baskot with Harbor Springs' Ross attempting to block it during the Charlevoix-Harbor Springs game here Friday. In the background is Rayder center, Mark White (10).

The Rayders bowed to the Rams by a 55-50 score after the visitors camo from behind in the last period to win.

Little Rayders Defeat Harbor Reserve Squad By 36-29 Score

In a game which saw the Charlevoix Reserves lead all the way the local five defeated the visiting Harbor Springs Reserves 36-29.

Starting for the Rayders were Guy Swanson, Joe Etienne, Charles Dennis, Quint Walker and Gene Towsley.

Before the game ended, however, Bob Mathews, Bob Albright, Gerry Foster, Walt Pouquette, Kit Carson, Bill Haggard, Gary Vandenberg, Fred Putman, John Connolly, and Charles McDonald were in the line-up.

The Little Raydors took e 10-8 advantage as the first period ended after Etienne had scored two field goals ar d Walker and Dennls had each added one. Swanson and Towsley had scored one point each on a free throw.

Three field goals and two gift shots had given the Little Rams eight points.

The local five dumped in 14 points in the second quarter for their best period as Swanson scored seven points on two field goals and three gift shots. Walker and Dennis added one two-pointer each and Etienne, Carson and Vandenberg added one point each.

Harbor's seven points were scored on one field goal and five free throws.

After a half-time 24-15 score, the Little Rayders ran up a 34-23 third period score on two field goals and two free throws by Walker, a field goal by Dennls and a free throw by Swanson.

Harbor Springs has scored on one field goal and five free throws.

The Rayders scoring was confined to a field goal and a free throw by Mathews in the last period as the visitors scored three field goals and a free throw.

Larsen led the scoring with 13 points for Harbor Springs.

Walker had 10 points; Swanson nine, Dennis six; Etienne five; Mathews three; Towsley, Carson and Vendenberg one each for the Rayders.

The Reserves will meet the Gaylord Reserves on the latter's floor this week-end.

Last Week With Class "C" Teams

East Jordan, completing the first half of its league schedule Friday night with a 45-43 win over Boyne City, annexed first place in the Northern Michigan Class C loop with five wins in six starts.

Gaylord by winning over Mancelona by a 74-64 score and Charlevoix who lost to Harbor Springs 55-50 went into a second place tie with four wins in five games. The tie will be broken this week when the two teams meet on the Blue Devils' floor

In the only other game, which had no bearing on league standings, Pellston was downed by Class B Rogers City 69-39.

Following Friday's games Mancelona and Harbor Springs with two wins and three losses are tied for third place; Boyne City with one win in five starts is in fourth place and Pellston is in last place with no wins in five starts.

At East Jordan where the Red Devils were hosting Boyne City the game was touch and go all the way with the score knotted at 11 all at the first quarter; Boyne City in the lead 19-18 at the half and East Jordan ahead 30-29 at the third period.

Don Arner paced the scoring with 16 points for the Ramblers. Warren Frank had 12 for East Jordan.

At Mancelona the game was equally as hectic despite the final score. Mancelona went ahead 11-10 to end the first period but Gaylord came back for a 30-29 half-time lead. The Blue Devils stretched their lead to three points as the third quarter ended 45-41. The lead changed several times in tho last period before the Blue Devils went ehead midway in the last period to win by a 10-point margin.

In the game at Pellston, Rogers City led all the way with Jake Mulka scoring 15 points. Fred Ball had 10 for Pellston

Plan Varied Program For Farmers At MSC

Agriculture is facing a growing challenge . . . turning less land and labor supply into fuller food and fibre production . . . and Michigan farmers will seek answers to many problems next week in East Lansing, Some will drive in for the day; others will stay in college or private housing.

The most complete educational yet entertaining, program for farm folks that can be covered in one week has been planned at Michigan State College for its 38th annual Farmers' Week, January 26-31. From Monday morning until Saturday afternoon, every day and evening will be filled. Parking lots are available at the stadium and on the south campus.

Macklin Field Stadium will be biggar axhibit area this yaer with the west concourse. under the stadium. also enclosed and heated. Exhibits in tha east concourse, enclosed two years ago, will include insects, soils, landscaping, farm economics, museum and art displays. farming and nursing education, short courses, crops, forast products. wildlife, soology. consarvation. plant pathology, angineering, 4-H Club, Michigan State Police and Flying Farmars. Among west concourse faatures will ba "Animel Industries" exhibits of beef end dairy eettle, hogs, shaep end poultry.

"Exhibits will be in place at noon on Monday, and will remain on display until Friday noon," announces Ernest L. Anthony, longtime MSC agriculture dean and Farmers' Week general chairman. Those rt the stadium will be open for inspection until 6 p.m. Monday and Wednesday and until 7 p.m. on Tuesday and Thursday."

Monday is "Dairy Day" with Ayrshire, Brown Swiss, Guernsey, Holstein, Jersey, Red Dane and other dairymen joining in programs and it will also feature labor-saving and life-saving programs in agricultural engineering. Visitors to the new Giltner hall, veterinary medicine headquarters, will find exhibits of parasites, diseases, tests, surgery and bacteria, from 10 a.m. until noon and from 1 to 3 p.m. all week long.

Tuesday will opan the various agricultural economics meatings, will be "Farm Machinary Day", "Horse Day", "Sheep Judging Day", "Sugar Beet Day", "Egg Marketing Day" and opaning dey for en expanded horticultura program covaring fruits, vegatables, ruts and ornamantals. Tuesday efternoon, in tha auditorium, Herbert Philbrick will report "I Was a Countar-Spy for the F.B.I." and Tuesday night Irving Johnson will show color movias on bis 18-months Yankee Clipper trip.

Wednesday afternoon, visitors will "Meet the Students of MSC." with the band, football team, glee club and other activity groups and Wednesday night there will be three major banquets, followed by conservation movies. Dr. Tennyson Guyer, humorist from Findley, Ohio, will speak to short course alumni. Dr. H. H. Kildee, dean-emeritus of Iowa State College division of agriculture, will talk to livestockmen. C. W. "Bill" Otto of Lansing Chamber of Commerce will talk to the crops-soils group. muck farming and community and labor prohlems are other items Wednesday.

One highlight Thursday will be an afternoon message by Dr. Milton S, Eisenhower, president of Pennsylvania State College. In the evening, 4-H youth will present a talent show. A farm management banquet and a fat stock sale are other Thursday features. Soil conservation and muck farmer meetings will continue Friday and Saturday. Dairy breeding will be a big Friday feature.

Farmers' Week Headliners

Outstanding speakers from Michigan and other states will appear at Michigan State College all during Farmers' Week, January 26-31. Among those on the 38th annual program will be Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower, right, and Herbert Philbrick, left. Dr. Eisenhower, who will speak Thursday afternoon in the MSC Auditorium, is president of Pennsylvania State College, chairman of the American Association of Land Grant Colleges and formerly head of information for the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Philbrick, a former Boston area advertising man, will report Tuesday afternoon in the Auditorium on "I Was a Counter-Spy for the F.B.I." Philbrick gained countrywide notice for his part in helping convict 11 Communists in New York, before Judge Harold Medina. Students will present the Wednesday afternoon program in the Auditorium, with the MSC band, football team members and coaches, Olympics athletes, glee club and other activity groups.

County Agent Tells Best Ways To Have A Farm Work Shop

In Northern Michigan, where supply houses and repair points are often far away, a farm work shop would be a big saver of time and money, advises Ed Rebman, County Agricultural agent. Setting one up need not be expensive.

All a farmer needs is a space to work, heat, light, work benches and tool cabinets. About 500 square feet is the right size usually, but a lot of work can be done in 200 square feet. Much of the work is in the winter and heat is needed to keep people in the shop. To work, a farmer needs light . . . natural or artificial. A couple of good inexpensive reflectors behind incadescent lamps make a good light. If there are places to keep tools, on benches and in handy cabinets, the tools will stay where they are needed.

Maybe there will be room in the machinery storage building, in what used to be the horse stable, or in the garage. Tractors, wagons, or cars can be moved out when farm shop work is to be done. Corn planters, combines, balers and other tools are hard to move and their storage does not double so well as a farm shop.

The farm shop needs a few power tools . . . a half-inch electric drill, an eight-inch power grinder and a farm-size gas or electric welder to fabricate metal. Most farms could have a very-well equipped shop in five years if only one percent of the total machinery investment were put into shop equipment. Many farmers have at least one percent of their total machinery investment in hand tools and power tools scattered about the farm.

Working through winter months to make labor-saving devices or repair and maintain equipment will pay off very well on the farm where "Mr. Fix-it" is far away.

Nitrogen From Air

The claim has been made that plowing down a heavy crop of legumes could supply enough nitrogen for a 100-bushel corn crop. Elmer C. Rossman, Michigan State College corn specialist, agrees. An acre of good legumes can take 150 pounds of nitrogen out of the air; when plowed under, the legumes make the nitrogen available to corn following in rotation.

Special Programs Planned For Women At Farmer's Week

Michigan women who go to Farmer's Week at Michigan State college with their husbands won't be "tag-alongs" at all. A special, lively program has been set for them on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of this 38th annual Farmer's Week in East Lansing, January 26 to 30.

Headliner on the program is the style revue slated for Thursday afternoon. Nearly 50 Michigan State College coeds will model costumes they have designed and made in their home economics classes.

All meetings for women this year will be held in the main auditorium on the MSC campus.

"Philosophy through Your Hat" is the title of a talk to be given by Mrs. Fern C. White of Kansas City, Mo. Mrs. White will speak Thursday morning about a philosophy of life dramatized and illustrated with hats.

Another important speaker will be Dr. Pauline P. Knapp, director of the Merrill-Palmer school in Detroit. Dr. Knapp will speak on the subject, "Are Family Values Changing?"

An international flavor for Women at Farmers' Week this year will come from two illustrated talks . . . one on Holland and another on Finland. Arne G. Kettunen, state 4-H Club leader who spent last summer in Europe, will talk on his native Finland. Evelyn Zwemer, a member of the MSC home economics staff, will talk about Dutch homes from her experience studying a year in the Hague.

New fabrics and blends will be talked over by Dr. Dorothy Lyle in a special program on the care of textiles.

Meeting of all farm groups should be reported for this page. Phone LI 7-2211.

Crops, Soils To Feature MSC's Farmer's Week

Cash crop tips, waya to get more out of fertilizer, new farm research and many other points of interest to farmere will be on the crops and soila programs during Farmers' Week, the last week of January at Michigan State College.

"Sugar Beet Day" will be observed Tuesday, January 27, in MSC'a Kellogg Center, with a motion picture—"Sugar U. S. A." —at 10 a.m. Milton M. Erdmann, MSC farm cropsman, who last year discussed forage mixture yields from fertilizing, will follow through this year with "The Results of a Forage Sugar Beet Sequenec Experiments." He will tell of the augar beet yields from plowing down the forage mixtures.

Demonstrations at the Fardan Farm, near Chesaning, will be discussed by Peul J. Rood, soil scientist. Legume and fertilizar experiments and rotations have been urdar way for savaral years et the Ferden Farm.

"My Expeience with Spring Mechanization," a round table discussion followed by a question and answer period, will close the Tuesday morning program. Perc A. Reeve of Saginaw, agricultural supervisor of the Farmers and Manufacturers Beet Sugar Association, will be moderator.

Another panel on "Increasing Sugar Beet fields with Nitrogen" will open the Tuesday afternoon sessions, which include a seed bed preparation report by R. L. Cook soil scientist, and "A New Look at Michigan's Best Industry" by Max C. Henderson of Saginaw, general field manager of Michigan Sugar Co.

New fertilizers, better uses of manure, a grass silage symposium and many other programs are planned during the week by the farm crops and soil science departments of Michigan State College.

Cull Flocks Now To Reduce Egg Costs

Cull your laying flock now, urges J. M. Moore, extension poultry specialist at Michigan State College.

There are two seasons of egg production, he explains; the season of acarce eggs at higher prices is passing and the season of more eggs at lower prices is starting. Your flock must be efficient to be profitable.

If a layer produces two eggs a week, it is doubtful if she pays for her board If she is laying four eggs a week, she should give a profit.

No time should be wasted over birds that are not laying, stresses the MSC poultryman. Send them to market right away. Look for the hens with the small combs and wattles and the small snake-like heads. The place for these birds is in the atew pot for the low-priced egg season.

By culling out low-producing hens you cut your feed bill without cutting egg production. The good producers that are left will increase in efficiency.

This low-priced aeason lasts for six months, cautions Moore; it's time to act on the culling job now. It's one New Year's resolution that will pay.

Writes Praise Of Children For Good Behavior

The following is part of a letter received recently by Supt. R. G. Bennett regarding the pupils of the third through the sixth grades who were in Petoskey last fall to attend the showing of the Clare Tree Major production, Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs," presented under the sponsorship of the American Association of University Women.

"In behalf of the Petoskey branch of the American Association of University Women, I would like to congratulate you upon the excellent conduct of your students while in attendance at the recent Clare Tree Major play in Petoskey.

"We especially want to thank you and your staff for your efforts in making the production such a tremendous success.

"We are already looking forward to next year's production. As soon as we have definite information we will forward it to you that you may enter the date on your school calendar.

Mrs. Max H. Smith,
Play chairman AAUW.

C. J. Fiedlers Enjoy Seeing Friends On Recent Florida Trip

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Fiedler returned home recently from a brief trip to Florida.

Mrs. Fiedler has written the following account of their trip through the south. It follows in part:

We visited for a few days in Titusville with the Andrew Millers, the Fred Kaunitz and the Henry Hammonds who send their greetings. The latter have an apartment but the others are livinf in trailers.

On Saturday the men enjoyed surf fishing in the ocean and at noon we enjoyed a picnic lunch and fish fry.

We also visited Lakeland where a dozen friends of former years in Lansing were located.

We were happy to spend one night in Bainbridge, Ga., with the Rev. and Mrs. Earl Henshaw and attend a service in their church. Mrs. Henshaw is the former Helen Hamlin of Charlevoix. It is a small congregation so they both teach school and keep house.

The cities and towns were nice and modern but the country districts were the same as 50 years ago.

The Brahma cattle in Georgia and Florida were very poor probably due to the lack of good pasture.

We sandwiched in sightseeing such as Rock City, Bok Tower, Cypres Gardens, The Great Masterpiece Reptile Gardens and Candy Shop.

I could be at home in Florida if we had a home and job there. But we came home to get warm and prepare for the southerners who will soon be looking for a cool summer resort.

Boyne Mountain Lodge Announces Winter Program

February 9, Saginaw-Bay City-Midland Tri-City Ski races.

February 14, Annual Snowbunny Ball.

March 1, Kircher Open Trophy Race. Open to all the best skiers in the mid-west.

The Lodge has just completed a $100,00 expansion program providing new dining room facilities and lodging for its winter guests.

Dr. Rothkegel Tells About Germany

the Russian sector of Berlin but there the Russians told the University what it could teach and how it could teach it. There were those who did not agree so, at the risk of losing their lives, they moved the University to the American sector of Berlin. It was re-named 'Free' University where there was freedom to teach, to learn and to experiment. This was in 1949 and since then the University has received some assistance but the way is stil difficult. Because Dr. Rothkegel feels he can help there, he will gladly return to Berlin next week to live in the shadow of danger to do his part for his country.

What is it like living in Berlin with the Russians so closa? For the Germens, like living on a powder keg, ha said. Ir the American sector there is freedom to do es one pleases, much es you have hero but ecross e few hundred feet is the Russian sactor whore there is no freedom. Ono must livo with it to understand it. It cennot ba described, he sald.

Another question in everyone's mind was also answered by the studious Dr. Rothkegel, who spoke English with a thick accent but exceptionally well, considering the fact that the only English he had studied was in high school. However, with the aid of two small pocket dictionaries, one which translated the words from German to English and the other from English to German, he managed very well.

The question? Do you think there will be another war in Europe?

His answer: Freedom in the form of democracy and dictatorship in the form of communism cannot live side by side without one or the other going down.

Dr. Rothkegel wanted it understood that tha ebove was his own personal opinion but he seid that unless e miracte happens to do away with communism end what it stends for, he sees no other wey but e wer to stop It.

He went on to say that no one in Germany believes Stalin wants peace and added that everything the Russians do contradicts their peace propaganda.

What is it like in the Russian zone? One trusts no one and the more one keeps to himself the safer he is.

The fact that many thousand refugees cross from East Berlin to West Berlin every month, leaving behind them all they own in the hope of finding new life in the Western Zone of Germany speaks for itself. Many sacrifices are necessary but the people will make them rather than live among the Russians.

All rafugees must be screenad end giver permission to go to Wastern Germany. The trip must be made by air from Berlin for the Russians control tha corridor and, of course, would not allow rafugaes from their sone to laave via the corridor. Others who ere nof permiffad fo entar tha Wesfern sona may remain in the U. S. sector of Berlin and are not sert back to the Russian secfor.

What do the Germans think of the Americans in their country? He said that no country likes an army of occupation. However, the feeling toward the Americans and other armies has changed now that they are there as NATO forces.

He said the Germans were anxious to do their part toward protecting their country against a common enemy, the Russians, and are anxious to become a part of the NATO forces:

He had many more things to say about Germany and its hopes for the future, which, he insisted, do not include plans for the militarism they have been known for in the past.

Meoting him, one could not help but feel that an exchanga progrem such es the one which brought Dr. Rothkegel to this country will do more for better understanding and relationship then any other method now boing used.

When asked what he did not like about this country, he had but one criticism . . . no "cozy" restaurants. By that he meant a place where one could sit and enjoy an afternoon's visit with one's friends if one should feel so inclined. He finds most American restaurants too formal and only a place to eat.

But that is a small thing compared to all the things he likes here and all happy memories he will carry home of his visit here, he concluded.

Girl Scout Notes

Carolyn Stoel was elected president of Girl Scout Troop 3 at a recent meeting. Other new officers are treasurer, Sharon Belding and secretary, Joan Heilig.

Following the election, the troop sang songs and enjoyed square-dancing with Mrs. Grace Maxfield playing the piano and Marylee Baker calling.

The troop leaders are Mrs. Maxfield, Mrs. Jean Gallagher and Mrs. Rodney Belding.

THE OLE FISHIN' HOLE

By John Cook

Here's a little item for the cold-foot brethern who annually sally forth when the lakes are completely frosted over. Having been raised in the traditional use of the old-fashioned wide-bladed ice spud, and having often been faced with the problem of where to get another good one after slamming my own through the hole into twenty feet of water, I now discover that I've been missing a good bet.

Earl Miller, our local steel craftsman, and a long-time ice fisherman himself, recently informed me that you really don't need one of the old type chisle blades to get down through sixteen or more inches of hard, blue ice. His own, which he showed me, and which he designed several seasons ago, is simply a slim six foot length of hard steel rod, with a smoothly tapered awl point on the end. Like an oversized ice pick. He tells me that he finds it a good deal faster than the flat bladed type, and that it will take you down in a hurry. Sounds like a hot tip for home craftsmen, so 'nuff said.

Speaking of ice fishing, and who isn't these days, reminds me of an incident of a season ago. Not so far from the outskirts of The Beautiful I had noticed a certain lake, completely frozen over, whose snow covered surface was never even marred by tracks nor decorated by assisted sizes of fishermen guarding tip-ups. Why, I wondered, should this be? A lake, in my opinion, is to be used for fishing, winter and summer. So, being nosey about such items, I inquired around among the natives in the vicinity of said lake, and heard the unanimous opinion that no one ever fished it because it was impossible to catch bluegills there in the winter.

Sounded like e vory good raason for not fishing there, buf still, a highly improbable one. Came e week-end with nothing much to do, so I dipped some live caddis cases out of the open creek that runs into tho lake and taking a few light bluagill sets and a spud I wendered out on fha Ice.

With four holes spudded and the sets rigged with the caddis grubs it wasn't long before the action started. Those big purple bellied fellows came so fast that I had to wrap up three of the sets and concentrate on one. So much for the local experts everywhere.

Well sir, speaking of cased caddis, and I just did a few lines back, I still run into someone now and again who doesn't know a caddis from a prune pit. And that's a shame, too, because the larvae of the caddis fly makes one of the finest bluegill baits you could ever imagine. So here it is.

If you want fo go fo fha troubla of poking eround under rocks and moss in some fast-moving stream thet doesn't freese over, you will discovor e small object, usually black in color, with the ganeral shape of a tiny, inch long porcupine. Thet spiny gadget will prove to ba fhe profectivo case, mada by himself, of the caddis grub.

He makes first a silky tube, and then cements a thick coat of odd bits of water-logged wood to the outside. Sometimes he uses fragments of clam shell and bright grains of gravel for the outside coat. But once you have discovered one, they're easy to locate from then on. In preparing them for the hook you just take the case apart with a thumb nail and there the little fellow is, waiting to put a good fat bluegill on your stringer.

Rayders Will Meet Gaylord There Friday

at the hands of Harbor Springs last week. Gaylord also has one loss to East Jordan by a 61-54 score. Charlevoix had defeated the Red Devils 46-36 earlier in the season.

In their five loop games fo date Gaylord has scored 327 poinfs and had 273 scored against them. On the other hand the Raydcrs have scored 267 points and allowed only 227 to bo scored by theri opponents.

Otherwise the two teams are pretty evenly matched and the game between the pair should be close.

With Bill Bennett expected back in the line-up this week after recovering from an ankle sprain, the team should be better prepared to meet Gaylord than they were against the Rams Friday.

Coach Dei Terrill is expected to have his players spending plenty of time on the free throw line this week. In an effort to get their average up for the all-important game this week.

At Harbor Springs, the Mancelona Irormen, who lost fo both Gaylord end Eest Jordan by close scores will be meeting an alated Rams team riding high following their unexpected win over the Reyders. Playing on their home floor should giva the Rams an edvantage which the Ironmen should be able to overcome to toke ovar third place in teague standing, a position thay now share with Harbor Springs.

Boyne City, in fourth place with one win, will be hosting last place Pellston eager for a chance to pull themselves out of the league cellar. The Hornets, an aggressive but inexperienced team, can be counted on to give the Ramblers a good game. The latter, however, should retain their place without too much effort.

East Jordan, now leading the league with five wins and one loss to Charlevoix, will entertain Onaway in a non-loop meeting.

The second balf of the 1952-53 basketball schedule will opan next Tuesday, Jan. 27, with Charlevoix hosting Boyne City in a return game: Harbor Springs traveling to Gaylord and East Jordan playing at Pellston.

In their first meeting the Rayders disposed of the Ramblers by a 49-34 score. The Ramblers since then, however, have come a long way and should be a tougher opponent.

The Harbor Springs Rams lost a close game to Gaylord in their opening game of the season when the Blue Devils won by a 53-48 score after the Rams had led all the way. They will be out to even old scores when they invade the Top O'Michigan gym next week.

East Jordan snowed the Hornets under by e 47-25 scoro in thoir initial meeting but the Pollston five has lot more experience behind them and will be trying for thair first win in the nawly remodelad gymnasium so could giva tho visitors a good gamo on the home floor.

The seventh team in the loop, Mancelona does not have a game scheduled.

goal and a gift shot. The Rams had scored on six field goals and four free throws.

Harbor Springs took command of the game in the last period and rolled up 20 points with the Rayders tallying only eight. Harbor Springs tied the score 45-all midway in the last quarter on a field goal by Stan Pifer. Free throws by Mosier and Lewis gave the Rayders a 47-45 advantage. Al Chingwa added a gift shot for the Rams before Bennett, who had gone into the line-up with four minutes to go, added a field goal. A free throw and a field goal by Pifer again tied the score 49-all. White sank a gift shot before Pifer scored a field goal to put the Rams in the lead for the first time in the game. Chingwa connected with two free throws and Pifer added another field goal for the game, Harbor's second win of the current season. Bennett teft the game at the two minute mark.

Pifer bad paced the scoring with 23 points for the Rams, while Mosier hed scored 15 points for the Raydors.

Each team had scored 21 field goals but the difference came on the free throw line where Harbor Springs scored 13 points on 25 attempts while Charlevoix connected with only eight in 36 tries.

Your meat cooking method should be according to the cut of meat you are preparing, remind Michigan State college home economists. Roast or broil a tender, well-fatted cut in an uncovered pan in a moderate oven. Tough meat requires long, slow cooking in a covered pan with steam or water.

Special Courses Will Be Given In Four Centers

Principles and Practices of Vocational Education (gcEd. E-100) will be offered as a field course in four communities in Northwestern Michigan for the spring semester by the University of Michigan.

The field course is scheduled to meet in Cadillac on Mondays, Traverse City on Tuesdays, Petoskey on Wednesday and Cheboygan on Thursdays. Opening session in each community will be held the week of Feb. 16.

Though this course may be elected by qualified students for graduate credit, enrollment is open to all who are interested in the topics which will be covered. Past and present practices in vocational education will be reviewed and the implications of trends as they apply to the improvement of programs in the future will be studied.

Specific topics will include the need for and the place of vocational education in an industrial democracy; identification of need; the individual's need for vocational education; the relationships of general and vocational education; and the structure of vocational education and its place in the total educational program. Other topics will be community relationships in a vocational education program; areas of vocational education and patterns in the curriculum; methods and practices of vocational education; and administrative aspects.

The course has been planned so that it should be of interest to all school personel. Administrators, secondary school teachers, and co-operative programs especially should find the course valuable. Enrollment may be made at the opening session in each community.

Dellmar Reynolds Transferred To Ohio

The transfer of Dellmar L. Reynolds, BM 1-c, from the Charlevoix Lifeboat station to the U.S.C.G. Marblehead Group, Marblehead, Ohio, is announced by Joseph Etienne, Chief Boatswain, Officer in charge of Group Charlevoix.

He will be succeeded by Robert H. Erickson, BM 1-c, who arrived Wednesday night from his former assignment at Marblehead. Erickson is a native of Frankfort. He will be joined later by his wife and family.

Reynolds left earlier for his new assignment and will return later this month for his wife and daughter.

Members of the Charles Dickens Study Club met Monday at the home of Mrs. Clarence Wood.

Following the regular business meeting Mrs. Cary Kohler read a paper on "Dickens in England." The next meeting will be the annual Dickens Birthday Tea to be held February 2 at the home of Mrs. H. E. Paddock.

HOW I SAVED $264^00 ON THE CAR I BOUGHT

"I financed a balance of $880.00 when I bought my new automobile. My State Farm agent saved me $264.00 on financing and insurance costs through the State Farm Bank Plan. This saving was larger than usual, but he tells me that savings from $70.00 to $150.00 are common." (One of many actual cases.)

FINANCE RATES ARE NOT STANDARD

The Bank Plan may save you money two ways: low-cost financing and low-cost preferred risk insurance rates. Get your own figures on the cost of the car you want and COMPARE them with Bank Plan costs FIRST. Call or see your State Farm agent BEFORE you buy.

Army Announces New Regulations

"Enlistment of men with no prior service for an Army Specialist school is now authorized under new regulations published by Department of the Army," M-Sgt. Gordon R. Wiitanen Station Commander of the Petoskey Army and Air Force Recruiting station announced today.

"Men who are interested in continuing their education through a specialist school," M-Sgt. Gordon R. Wiitanen continued, "may make application for the school of their choice before enlisting in the Army. To be eligible to apply for specialist training, an applicant must have, as a minimum, a high school education or the equivalent, he must meet existing requirements for enlistment in the Army, and must possess a letter of recommendation from a reputable citizen attesting to his good character and reputation. The enlistment period for those entering the Army for specialist training will be for three, four, five or six years."

More than 50 fields are open to those who qualify for specialized services.

For detailed information concerning Army Specialist schools, see M-Sgt. Gordon R. Wiitanen at the U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force Recruiting station 303 Howard Street in Petoskey.

Shakespeare Club Aids Uniform Fund

The Shakespeare Club at its regular meeting Monday voted to contribute $25 to the Charlevoix high school band uniform fund.

Mrs. Kit Carson gave an interesting lesson on "Lumber" at the meeting which was held at the home of Mrs. James Coleman.

Mrs. Emerson Hull Honored At Party

Mrs. Emerson Hull was honored Tuesday evening at a surprise party at her home.

Several friends gathered for a social hour and refreshments.

Among those present were Mrs. Keith Wagner, Mrs. Kenneth Forbes, Mrs. Robert Albright, Mrs. Leo Allard, Mrs. Wesley Wells, Mrs. Robert Miller and Mrs. Agnes Engstrom.

Rev. H. E. Kohns Hold Open House

Rev. and Mrs. Harold E. Kohn were hosts to approximately one hundred and fifty members and friends of the First Congregational church at an open house held Sunday from three to five at the church parsonage.

The guests were served from a tea table centered with a lovely floral arrangement of pink and white roses and snap-dragons, flanked by deep pink tapers. Mrs. Lester Smith and Mrs. Kit Carson presided at the tea table.

Michigan Bell Pays Large Tax For School Fund

The Michigan Bell Telephone Company again in 1952 was the largest single contributor to the state Primary School Fund with a payment totaling $7,178,184.

According to figures released today by C. L. Johnson, manager here for Michigan Bell, $4,393 of the total was allocated to the public school system of Charlevoix.

Schools throughout Charlevoix County, including the city of Charlevoix, received a total of $18,636 from the company's tax payment.

Johnson said the payments were based on a school census of 930 in Charlevoix and 3,943 in Charlevoix County, as compiled by the State Department of Public Instruction.

The company's tax payment this year, largest in its history, amounted to $4.72 for each of the 1,519,514 youngsters in the state between the ages of 5 and 19 who are on the census rolls.

Michigan Bell, in common with railroads, Pullman, railway express, telegraph, and other telephone companies, pays a state property tax earmarked for the Primary Fund in lieu of other property taxes.

Homemakers' Class Enjoys Sleigh Ride

The Homemakers' Class of the Church of God enjoyed an old-evening when the sleigh packed fashioned sleigh ride Monday with young maried people, made its way along the Ellsworth road to the Harold Clark residence. After serenading the family, the group returned to Fellowship hall.

A brief business meeting in charge of Mrs. Archie Ward with Mrs. George Majors leading the devotions was held before the fireplace before the group adjourned for a social hour and refreshments.

East Jordan Wins In Overtime, 55-53

In an overtime game played at East Jordan Tuesday night the Red Devils defeated Reed City 55-53.

East Jordan led 13-10 at the first period but the visitors took the lead in the second period and held it 29-22 at the half and 39-37 at the third period before the Jordanites knotted the score 51-all as the regular game ended.

Mothers March For Polio Fund Tonight

Industry Fund Hits The Two-Thirds Mark

The Charlevoix Development Corporation has cash and pledges totaling in excess of $10,000 on hand, A. L. Livingston, treasurer of the organization, reported at a weekly meeting of directors and other interested parties at the city hall Tuesday night.

The amount is two thirds of the goal of $15,000 which the Corporation is raising as a first mortgage on a $50,000 fireproof building to house a new industry for Charlevoix.

In reporting on the meeting Ralph V. Hess, chairman of the corporation said that officers and directors all feel the goal is now in sight and if everyone who can will come in by purchasing one or more shares, it should only be a matter of weeks before the goal is reached.

Mayor John Knight, who is also secretary of the Corporation, added that "The spirit is terrific. With very few exceptions, the little guy is putting up the dough. With the rank and file solidly behind the project, it cannot fail".

Anyone interested in purchasing Corporation stock at $10 per share may obtain pledge cards at Hess Furniture, Williams Newsstand, Schroeder and Hovey Drug Nett Brothers' Grocery, Charlevoix Courier and Bergeons, in addition to the Charlevoix State Savings and the Charlevoix County S . .. if other merchants care to help, they may obtain pledge cards from Mr. Livingston.

For those who do not have the money at this time, the fund pledge redemption date has been set for April 15, Mr. Hess said. Persons wishing to pay cash for shares should contact Mr. Livingston who will issue shares.

It was again pointed out that at the time the mortgage is retired, some time within 10 years, those so desiring will receive their money back on a pro rata basis, or they may leave it in a revolving fund.

The names of new stockholders and those who have increased their original holdings follow: Arthur Nettleton, George Golke, Edward Hansen, Charles Pontius, Harley Ochs, Otto Kane, Robert Bridge, Fay Davis, Erwin Belfy Sr., Don Swinton, Rudy Korth, Gordon Neff, Robert Neff, Emerald Chew, Gregory A. Shadko, Mrs. Russell Dundas, Leslie Everts, J. C. Marshall, Ray Shearer, L. H. Barker, E. W. Miller, C. B. Meggison and Marjorie Webster.

Assembly Of God Church Will Hold Missionary Series

The Assembly of God church has completed plans for a Missionary Convention to open at the church Tuesday evening and continue through Friday, the Rev. G. R. Kars, pastor of the church announced this week.

Appearing during the four-day period will be several missionaries who have returned from their respective fields.

Hugh Jeter, who spent 10 years in Cuba will open the convention Tuesday night when he reports on the great revival and shows colored slides; on Wednesday, D. D. Roehl a missionary to Europe, will speak on his work there and show slides of Germany; Thursday will find Mrs. Jean Wagner, home from Burma and Southwest Asia reporting on the Communist threats to the gospel; Lawrence Olsen will speak on Brazil and show pictures of the work there on Friday to conclude the convention.

All meetings will open at 7:30 p.m. Everyone is invited to attend.

County Democratic Convention Tonight

The Charlevoix county Democratic convention will be held at the court house here Thursday, Jan. 29. Lee Sneathen, county chairman, has announced.

The meeting has been called for 8 p.m. tonight. Delegates to the state convention will be named at this meeting.

Band Parents To Present A Show To Raise Funds

Tentative plans for the Band Parents Minstrel show were made at a meeting held at the city hall Sunday afternoon, C. A. Odmark, director of the Charlevoix high school band announced this week.

March 27-28 have been set as the date for the all-male production.

Proceeds will go to the Band Uniform fund to purchase new uniforms for the Charlevoix high school band.

Dr. Walter F Hoffman will direct the show. Mr. Odmark will be in charge of the music.

A second meeting has been called for 8 p.m. Friday at the city hall. Anyone interested in joining the show may obtain details from Mr. Odmask or Dr. Hoffman.

Next Lecture To Deal With The Far East

"The Problems of the Far East" will be the subject of a lecture to be delivered by Ronald S. Anderson, instructor of history at the University of Michigan, at the Charlevoix high school Auditorium at 8 p.m. Wednesday, Feb. 4.

The lecture is one of five in a series on World Affairs being offered by the Charlevoix high school Continuing Education program through the co-operation of the University of Michigan Extension Service.

Marshall M. Knappen, professor of political science at the University, opened the series Jan. 21 when he spoke on the foreign policy of the new administration.

More than 55 of the 80 persons registered for the series heard Prof. Knappen say that the foreign policy of the Republican administration which took office last week probably will not differ greatly in general outline from that of the late Democratic administration. He went on to say that the reason for this was that the basic problem, in this case Russia and Communism, remains the same. However, he continued, the tactics will differ greatly from those used in the past.

Last night Harry L. Bretton of the political sience department at the University, spoke on Western

Rayders Defeat Boyne 46-40 And Take Over First Place

The Charlevoix Rayders played a hard-fighting Boyne City team to a 46-40 victory Tuesday after the latter had tried stubbornly to stop the local five in a traditional battle.

The Rayders took over undisputed first place in the loop Tuesday night after East Jordan was defeated 43-41 by a determined Pellston five who chalked up their first win of the season. The Gaylord Blue Devils who defeated Harbor Springs 65-49 are now in a second place tie with the Jordanites.

The Rayders took a slim first period lead against Boyne City before forging to a 26-17 halftime lead. The Ramblers, however, fought back and cut the lead to six points as the game ended.

Starting for the Rayders were Duane Walker, Dean Davenport, Mark White, Bill Mosier and Bill Bennett. Jim Lewis, Tom LaBlance and Gordan Mol were also in the line-up.

Boyne City scored four points before the Rayders got started with a field goal by Bennett. The latter added another field goal for four points, Davenport scored a field goal and one gift shot and Mosier two free throws for a quarter 9-6 lead. Boyne City had scored on one field goal and four free throws.

Lewis replaced Walker to start the second period as the Rayders racked up their best quarter with 17 points for a 26-17 halftime lead. Davenport scored four field goals and one free throw, Bennett had three field goals and one free throw and White added one on a charity shot. Boyne City had four field goals and three free throws.

LaBlance had played briefly in the first period and Mol replaced Mosier in the second quarter.

Boyne City outscored the Rayders 12-11 in the third period as they scored four field goals and four free throws to cut the Rayders lead to 37-29. Bennett had tallied eight points on three free throws and two gift shots. Walker scored two on a field goal and Mosier added one on a free throw.

The Ramblers again outscored the Rayders 11-9 in the last period but the burst was not enough to overcome the Rayders lead. Boyne City scored their 11 points on two field goals and seven free throws.

Davenport had tallied one field goal and three free throws; Bennett added three points on a field goal and a gift shot and Mol added one.

Bennet paced the scoring for the Rayders with 22 points on nine field goals and four out of six free throws. Davenport was second with 17 points; Walker, Mosier and Lewis had two each and Mol one.

Don Arner tallied 10 for the Ramblers.

Board Announces Two Changes In February Draft

The Charlevoix county draft board has announced two changes on the list of men being called for induction Feb. 4 and for pre-induction physicals Feb. 12.

The name of Donald E. Cutler of East Jordan, who played on the Michigan State football team last fall, replaces that of Harvey Crozier of Boyne City. Cutler was called after he left College for employment in a southern Michigan plant. Edwin L. Long of Boyne City is the second man called to fill the county's February draft quota of two men.

Norman Clements of Boyne City replaces Gail D. Neumann of East Jordan on the list of those called for pre-induction physicals.

Others called on the same date for transportation to the Detroit Induction Station for examinations are: Donald E. Maxwell and Robert L. Huckle of East Jordan; Lue A. Martin and John H. Crandall of Boyne City and Richard L. Gennett of Charlevoix.

Those called for induction into the armed forces will leave at 10 a.m. next Wednesday. Those leaving for pre-induction physicals Feb. 12 will report at the city hall here at 8:30 a.m.

I.O.O.F. Wins Fourth Game In Tournament

The I.O.O.F. won the fourth night of cribbage tournament play by 182 points to cut the Mason's lead to 420 points. Nine and a half tables were in play.

Guy Stutzman was high man for the I.O.O.F. with 966 points and J. K. Moore lead the Masons with 935 points. A collection of $10.00 was taken for the March of Dimes.

Will Lay Sewer Tile For Future City Development

The Charlevoix city council, meeting Monday night authorized the firm of P. VanderVeen and Sons, contractors for 1.315 miles of highway north on US 31, to lay the necessary sewer tile across Petoskey ave. and Mercer Blvd. for future development of the northeast section of Charlevoix.

The tile will be laid at the following rates: $2.60 per lineal foot for 8-inch tile and $2.90 per lineal foot for 10-inch tile.

The council also approved the Michigan Liquor Control Commission granting an SDD license to Andrew Essenberg doing business as Andy's Market and a Class C permit for an eight months liquor license to Zach Whyte, 204 Ferry ave. Certified copies of the resolutions will be forwarded to the Commission.

Bills amounting to $13,478.11 were approved and ordered paid.

Gaylord Player Leads League In Scoring

In a game where height is a prime requisite, 5 ft. 7 in. Frank Karwoski of Gaylord has shattered all tradition by taking over the midseason N.M.C.C. League scoring leadership with a total of 125 points in six games, league records revealed this week.

A versatile player who makes the most of a fast break in the guard position, Karwoski has scored 46 goals and in a year when free throws are of major importance has scored 33 out of 49 in league play.

He has an average of 21 points per game and until the Charlevoix Rayders held him to 13 points last week, had averaged approximately 23 in five games. The smallest player to top the list of high scorers in recent years, Karwoski is a junior and played in the backfield for the Blue Devils. His basketball team now rates second in the league.

In second place in the scoring department with a total of 104 points is Stan Pifer whose Harbor Springs' team rates third in

Pellston Wins Over Jordan By 43-41 Score

The Pellston Hornets with a record of six losses and no wins broke into the win column Tuesday night at the expense of East Jordan whom they defeated by a 43-41 score.

Charlevoix defeated Boyne City 46-40 and Gaylord won over Harbor Springs 65-49 in other loop games.

Charlevoix's win and East Jordan's loss leaves the Rayders in solo possession of first place while the Red Devils dropped to a second place tie with the Blue Devils.

Despite their loss Harbor Springs remains in third place, Mancelona, which did not have a game moved into fourth place with two wins and four losses; Boyne City dropped to fifth and Pellston remained in the cellar even though they won. By winning, however, they served notice that they would be a threat to any and all opponents.

East Jordan will have a chance Friday to go back into a first place tie with Charlevoix when they entertain the Rayders there. In other games Pellston will host Mancelona and Gaylord will play at Boyne City.

At Pellston, a scrappy Hornet team played the visiting East Jordan squad to a 10-10 first quarter tie and went ahead 19-17 at the half and 31-28 at the third period. The lead changed often throughout the game before Pellston went ahead by two points on free throws as the game ended. John Schauffler had scored 15 for Pellston and Warren Frank had 14 for the Jordanites.

Stan Pifer scored 22 points for Harbor Springs in their game with Gaylord but it was not

Amy Lou Kipke Selected For D.A.R. Award

Amy Lou Kipke, 17, Charlevoix high school senior, has been selected to receive the D. A. R. Good Citizenship Award for 1953 Mrs. Earl A. Young, local member of the Pe-To-se-ga chapter, D. A. R. of Petoskey, announced this week. The Pe-to-se-ga chapter sponsored the selection.

The award is made annually on the basis of dependability, service, leadership and patriotism. The choice was made by teachers and classmates from among three candidates for the award.

Amy Kipke

The award carries with it the presentation of a D. A. R. Good Citizenship pin and the privilege of becoming a candidate for the state award of a $100.00 U. S. Government Bond.

Amy has been invited to attend a luncheon meeting in Saginaw early in March. The state winner will be chosen at this meeting.

Amy is popular with her fellow students as well as an excellent student. She has been a member of the high school band for four years, during which time the band was awarded three first division ratings in state competition; a member of the Pep Club and during the 1951-52 school year served as president of the club; has been a reporter for the high school publication, the Crimson Flash and is a staff member of the high school annual, Charlevoix Rayder; has had prominent roles in the Junior and Senior class plays and has served as a member of the J-Hop and Christmas ball committee.

She plans to attend Michigan State College and enter the teaching profession.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray L. Kipke.

This is the second year Charlevoix has entered the contest. Leona Scott was named to receive the award in 1952.

Little Rayders Lose To Boyne Reserves 31-27

The Little Rayders, opposed by a much taller Boyne City Reserve team, lost to the visitors Tuesday night by a 31-27 score.

Starting for Charlevoix were Guy Swanson, Bob Mathews, Gene Towsley, Quint Walker and Kit Carson. Joe Etienne, Charlie Dennis, Gary Vandenberg and Gerry Foster were also in the line-up.

Boyne City got off to a fast start and ran up a 12-5 first quarter score on five field goals and two gift shots while Charlevoix scored four free throws by Swanson and one by Towsley.

The local five cut the half-time lead to three points as they racked up four points on two field goals by Towsley, two points on a field goal by Vanderberg and one on a gift shot by Walker Boyne City had been held to one field goal and one free throw.

The scoring was fairly even in the third quarter as Charlevoix scored nine and Boyne City ten points for a 25-21 lead. Swanson and Walker had three points each, Foster two and Vandenberg one.

Both teams scored six points in the last period as Boyne City won 31-27. Mathews scored three points; Swanson two and Dennis one.

Karnival Kapers At High School Will Climax Annual Drive

A knock on your door or the ring of your doorbell tonight will mark the opening of the Mothers' March on Polio, Mrs. Thomas Carey, local March of Dimes chairman, has announced.

From 7 until 8 p.m. more than 600 mothers will visit every home in Charlevoix to collect contributions to the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. The Mothers' March will conclude a month long drive to raise funds to combat the greatest crippler of all . . . infantile paralysis.

Karnival Kapers in the high school gymnasium at 8 p.m. will climax the Mothers' Drive.

The gym will take on a carnival spirit as young and old alike gather for various types of amusement planned to entertain all age groups. There will be square dancing, a games table, a cake walk, food booths where you can purchase a sandwich, a dozen cookies or a cake, a white elephant table for the adults The youngsters will enjoy a fish pond and several games planned for their entertainment.

Everyone is invited and urged to attend the Karnival which will furnish lots of fun and an opportunity to meet friends over a cup of hot coffee or a bottle of pop.

To date $445 has been contributed to the March of Dimes. This includes $70 netted in a blanket pitch at the Boyne City-Charlevoix game Tuesday night.

Several other events are being planned with the proceeds going to the March of Dimes. Residents of Ironton will meet at the school tonight for a card party for the benefit of the campaign. The Marion Center Grange is holding a games party Saturday night and the Maple Grove Grange is planning a March of Dimes dance at the Grange hall beginning at 9 p.m. Saturday night. Quinton White, Robert Straw and George Smith are on the dance committee. Both square and round dancing will be featured.

Local Students Rate High At Music Festival

The Northern Michigan Solo and Ensemble Festival of District 2 held here Saturday was highly successful, C. A. Odmark, director of the Charlevoix high school band and festival host, reported Monday.

The school was a beehive of activity with a group appearing before the judges every eight minutes. The event brought approximately 200 young musicians from nine northern Michigan schools to Charlevoix for the day.

Charlevoix with 12 ensembles and five soloists participating, received five first division ratings, nine second and two third division ratings. One soloist played for criticism only.

Charlevoix's entries receiving first division ratings were: senior high horn quintet composed of Jean Swanson, Elaine Poole, Donna Ikens, Janet Crump and Vicky McClure; saxophone quartet composed of Amy Kipke, Betty Berg, Carolyn VanderWall and Betty Blissett; junior high brass duet composed of Brenda Brown and Susan Crump, flute and piccolo solos both played by Barbara Smith. Both received top ratings.

Traverse City, which provided more than half the events in the festival, was the big winner with 30 first division ratings, 12 of which were in the string classification. East Jordan received two top ratings and Central Lake, Gaylord and Cheboygan one each.

Keith Stein and Don Jackson of the Michigan State College Music Department, adjudicators for the event, were high in their praise of the calibre of musicianship evident in the young musicians in northern Michigan.

Mr. Odmark, festival chairman, was assisted by other band directors in the area who assumed various jobs to keep the festival moving smoothly.

Also to be commended are the several Charlevoix students who assisted in the festival by serving as messengers.

Winners of first division ratings are eligible to participate in the State Solo and Ensemble Festival in Ann Arbor in March.

Phone Office To Close On Feb. 1

The Michigan Bell Telephone company is now in the process of notifying its customers in this area of the closing of its Business Office here on Feb. 1. Careful study of all factors involved has resulted in the decision to transfer to Petoskey all commercial records formerly maintained here. The letters provide necessary information as to payment of bills and transacting any other business with the company.

Company officials emphasize that the move is necessary to meet changing operating conditions in this area, and that a faster, more reliable service to customers will result, with no loss of convenience or local payroll.

Payments may be made by mail to any company office, or in person to the Schroeder & Hovey Drug Store. Any other matters of business may be handled in person at 514 East Mitchell street, Petoskey, or by telephone during regular office business hours. Present Charlevoix office personnel will transfer to the Petoskey office, but will continue to live in Charlevoix.

THE CHARLES CELLNERS arrived home in the snowstorm Friday from a 4,000 mile vacation trip that took them east and then south . . . And in four days they came from the land of sunshine (we understand, the sun and good weather has decided to come to Florida) into the snow . . And with them all sorts of citrus fruit they had picked from the trees before leaving . . . which was mighty good . . . Wouldn't it be grand if we could get the tree-ripened fruit in the store . . Now if someone would just come home with a watermelon, that we'd like . . .

IN THE MAIL the other day a big envelope marked "Official Inauguration program" . . . . . . Couldn't imagine who was sending that 'cause we didn't know anyone attending the event but on opening the envelope found a note from Frank Left and Dave Irons, former residents now living in Jacksonville Beach, Fla., who had four of the state's 42 official tickets to the Inaugural Ball so went up for the festivities . . Being good Republicans from Michigan they were very active in the Eisenhower movement in Florida last summer and fall and thus received tickets to the event the Inaugural Ball . . . and what . . Oh yes, and a program from a party . . . It's the first programs we'd seen and they're really something . . . Wonderful momento of a memorable occasion . .

DO PRESCRIPTIONS COST TOO MUCH?

People who believe prescription prices are a burdensome addition to the cost of illness should know that the reverse of this is true! New drugs act swiftly to reduce illness and absenteeism from work—thus sparing the patient this added expense. Although in their introductory phase these drugs are costly, increased productory soon lowers their price. Sulfa drugs, penicillin and others, for example, are but a fraction of their original cost. And when these drugs are dispensed at CENTRAL DRUG STORE, illness costs you less because our prices are based only upon the cost of the ingredients plus a nominal fee for professional service.

Mrs. Vander Ark Dies Following A Long Illness

Ellsworth — Mrs. Flora VanderArk, 82, passed away Monday morning in Holland Home in Grand Rapids where she had made her home for about 2½ years. She had been in failing health for several months.

Mrs. Vander Ark was born Flora Postmus in the Neitherlands Feb. 9, 1870 and came to this country as a young girl. Her husband Henry preceeded her in death eight years ago.

She leaves to mourn her passing a son, Clarence of Central Lake, Rt. 1; two daughters, Mrs. John Veldkamp of Central Lake Rt. 1; and Mrs. Fred Reamsma of Grand Rapids; two brothers, Tate Postmus of Grand Rapids and David Postmus of Holland; two sisters, Mrs. Kate Shooks of Ellsworth and Mrs. Tory Shooks of Grand Rapids; 10 grandchildren and nine great grandchildren.

She was a charter member of the Ellsworth Christian Reformed church where the funeral will be held Thursday afternoon at 2 p.m. with Rev. E. Boeve in charge.

Burial will be in Ellsworth cemetery.

Banks Athletic Group Organized

Ellsworth — Representatives from different groups in the community met at the Banks school Thursday evening, Jan. 22 and organized the new Banks Athletic Association. This group was selected to serve as a committee to investigate and further the plans for the lighted Athletic Field for this community.

The Association has elected Henry Smith for chairman, John DeYoung for vice-chairman, Grant Hastings, secretary and Peter John Drenth, treasurer.

Several local groups have pledged financial help and other organizations will have an opportunity to do so.

At the January meeting of Banks P.T.A. last week Tuesday it was decided that the P. T. A. could serve as a collecting agency for funds for the field from members who wished to contribute. Marvin Elzinga, Walter Rood or John DeYoung wil accept these donations.

The next meeting will be held Feb. 5 and you can watch your paper for further details.

Literature Class Presents Program At P.T.A. Meeting

Pupils in Miss Norma Armstrong's tenth grade American Literature Class presented the program at the January meeting of Banks P. T. A. held at the school Tuesday evening, January 20.

The first number on the program was the singing of an old American Ballad, "Old Black Joe."

The class read in unison, James Russell Lowell's well-known poem, "The Courtin' and Henry Wadsworth Longfellow's famous work "The Psalm of Life."

A reading "Baker's Blue-Jay Yarn" written by Mark Twain was given by Pete Oosterbaan.

The audience joined the class in singing another American Ballad, "Dixie Land."

Pupils participating were Myrna Veenstra, Frances Carpenter, Betty Alward, Eleanor Vander Ark, Bob Drenth, Nate Broek, Nelson Spoelman, Glen Bradford, Alvin Lamoreau, Emily Bradford, Virginia Kuiper, Mary Ann Riddell, Leona Hopper, Glen Tay[illegible], Bill Kooyer, Ivan Byard, Don Heeres, Jack Donaldson and Pete Oosterbaan.

During the business meeting, the school board was extended a unanimous vote of confidence for the excellent work they are doing in the financial problems confronting the school.

Honored At Surprise Party For Birthdays

Ellsworth — Rev. E. Boeve and Mrs. Boeve, who celebrated their birthday anniversaries this month were surprised Wednesday evening of last week, when Junior Ladies Aid members and guests gathered in the church parlors for a party. The party was planned to follow the regular Aid meeting.

An enjoyable program, including a humorous skit, several readings and vocal musical numbers was presented by members and guests.

Rev. and Mrs. Boeve were presented a generous purse as a token of appreciation from the Aid and guests.

Lunch was served later.

Mrs. Winfred Karsten and Mrs. Allen Klooster were program chairmen.

Engagement Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Levi Donaldson announce the engagement of their daughter, Donna to William Stevens, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stevens of Benton Harbor.

No wedding date has been set.

IT HAPPENED ON .... BEAVER ISLAND

Mary LaFreniere

Mrs. James H. Gallagher is spending a few days in Charlevoix.

Mrs. Marian Rice, county nurse spent a few days on the island this week giving shots for measles and visiting the sick.

School was closed again last week due to the large amount of sickness on the island.

Friday night Jack Cull showed his movies of the island at the Shamrock. Jack has taken movies of all the important events of the past few years and it was very interesting to see it all again.

Mrs. Cecil Kinney returned to the island this week after spending the past month in Detroit. Mrs. Kinney's father passed away recently

Patsy "Doney" Gallagher is up and around again after his seige of illness.

Mrs. H. B. Johnston of Ludington visited at the Beaver Lodge this week.

Dr. Isaac Terr of Charlevoix flew to the island Sunday to see Elmer Dudley, who is on the sick list. Dr. Terr also visited several others who are down with either the measles or influenza.

The coyote hunters were very successful this week with their hunts. A snow fall at the beginning of the week assured them of good tracking so Tuesday they went out with their dogs. In the forenoon three coyotes were shot. The lucky hunters were Rogers Carlisle, Archie LaFreniere and Karl Keubler. Thursday Chief Wright of the Coast Guard brought one in the most unusual way. The dogs chased one deep into its den and then Chuck Kleinhenz, Karl Keubler and Chief Wright got busy with shovels to dig him out. When they were deep enough to view him Kleinhenz shot him.

Carly Anne Cull, baby daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Cull was very ill this week but Mrs. Rice during her stay here nursed her back to health.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Surprise Ending!

That raffle for our Volunteer Fire Department went over fine. We're going to have money to get a new engine—and then some.

Our local merchants really donated some wonderful prizes. Like Buzz Ellis, the radio-TV dealer, giving that big television set . . . and the Superior Motors putting up a brand-new car.

There was a humorous note, too. The prize of a year's supply of coal—donated by Baker Coal Yard—was won by Mrs. Thayer, whose husband is the biggest fuel-oil dealer in the county! What did Mrs. Thayer do with the coal? She gave it to a church she's not even a member of. (Her Church uses her husband's fuel oil.)

From where I sit, that's real generosity. But then, Mrs. Thayer never did believe in dividing people into groups. She's "for" everybody — whatever church they go to, whether they like TV or radio, people who enjoy temperate beer, people who don't. A really warm-hearted person.

Defeat Gaylord 45-38 In Strong Comeback

The Charlevoix Rayders climbed back into a first place tie with East Jordan Friday after chalking up a 45-38 win over the Gaylord Blue Devils who, until game time, had shared a second place berth with the Rayders.

Friday's games concluded the first half of the Northern Michigan Class C 1952-53 schedule.

Determined to get back into the win column after last week's loss to Harbor Springs, the Rayders were in command of the game all the way as they went into an early lead and held it for the entire game.

The Blue Devils, a high scoring team all season, were held to 38 points, the fewest points they have scored in one game this season. High-scoring Frank Karwoski, who had averaged 23 points per game in league play, was held to 12 points.

In the starting line-up for the Rayders were Bill Bennett, Dean Davenport, Mark White, Bill Mosier and Jim Lewis. Gordon Mol was the only other Rayder to see action in the decisive game.

The Charlevoix Rayders got off to a smooth-working start on three baskets by Davenport and two field goals and a free throw each by Bennett and White for 16 points as the first period ended. Gaylord had scored eight points on three field goals and two gift shots.

Charlevoix added another eight points in the second period for a 24-16 half-time lead after White and Davenport had each scored a field goal and a gift shot and Bennett had added two points on a field goal. The Blue Devils scored seven points.

Gaylord snapped back in the third period with 15 points to cut the Rayders lead to six points with the score 38-30.

White had scored two field goals and a gift shot for five points; Bennett had four points on a field goal and two charity shots; Davenport scored on a field goal and Mol added a free throw.

Gaylord's Dick Riddle started to connect and scored five field goals for 10 of the Blue Devils 15 points.

Davenport added four points on a field goal and two free throws in the last period to give him 15 points for the game; Bennet added two points on free throws and Mosier got into the scoring column with a field goal. White added a free throw. Gaylord had scored eight points.

The Rayders scored 45 points on 16 field goals and showed a great improvement in the free throw department by scoring 13 of 26 free throws. The scoring was well scattered with Davenport scoring 15 points; White, 14; Bennett, 13; Mosier, two and Mol one.

Gaylord had 14 field goals and 10 out of 22 free throws paced by Riddle with 17 points.

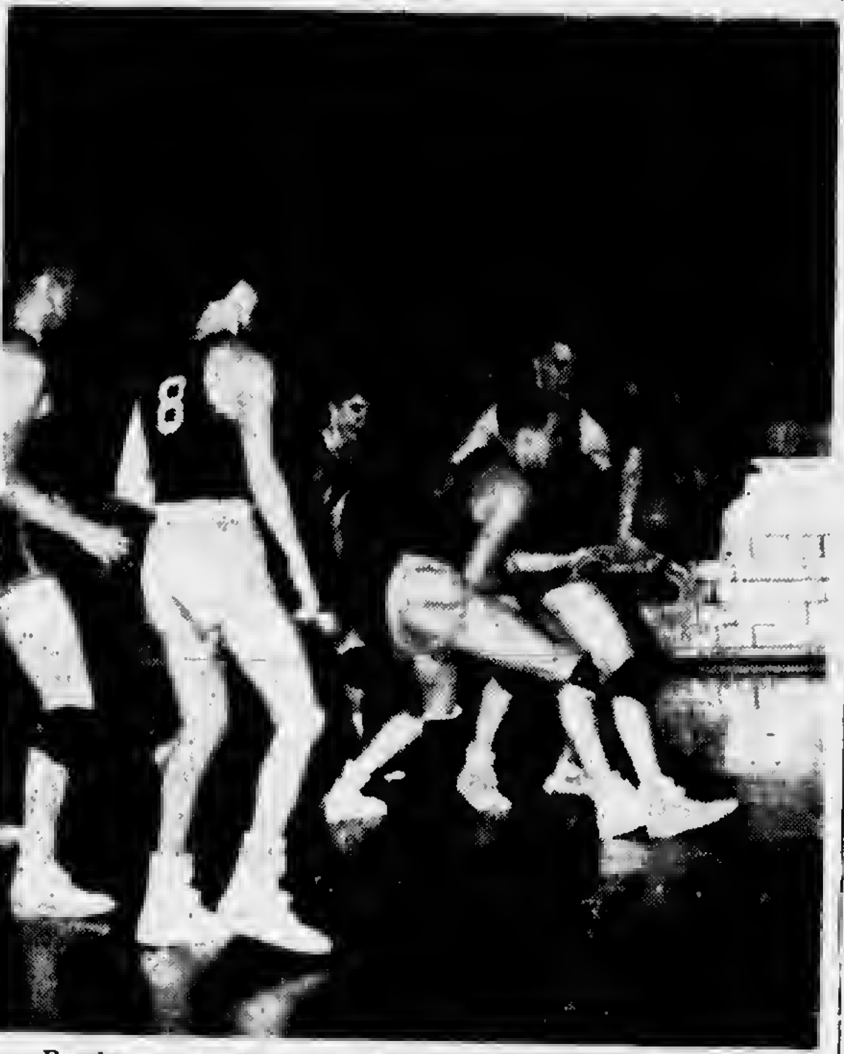
Players Scramble For Ball



Rayder center, Mark White, who accounted for 14 of Charlevoix's 45 points in their recent win over Gaylord, keeps possession of the ball despite the efforts of Gaylord's George Middleditch (No. 9).

Also in the picture are (l to r) Bill Mosier, Dick Riddle of Gaylord (No. 8), Charlevoix's Bill Bennett (No. 4) and an unidentified player.

The Rayders defeated the Blue Devils 45-38 to move into a first place tie with East Jordan as the first half of the 1952-53 schedule drew to a close.

Gaylord Reserves Take Close One From Little Rayders, 35-34

The Little Rayders took it on the chin Friday night when they bowed to the Gaylord Reserves 35-34 on the latter's floor.

Starting for Charlevoix were Guy Swanson, Joe Etienne, Quint Walker, Gene Towsley and Gary Vandenberg with Charles Dennis, Bob Mathews, Gerry Foster, Kit Carson and Earl Putman joining the line-up before the game ended.

Gaylord got off to a 9-7 first period lead on three field goals and an equal number of free shots while the Rayders' scoring was confined to two field goals by Vandenberg, two free throws by Etienne and one by Towsley.

The Little Rayders, however, came back in the second quarter to score 14 points and tie the score 21-all at the halfway mark. Etienne accounted for two field goals, Walker for three points on a field goal and a gift shot, Mathews and Carson for two points each on field goals, Swanson for two points on gift shots and Dennis for one point on a free throw.

Gaylord had sunk five field goals and two free throws for 12 points.

Charlevoix's only points in the third quarter were scored by Swanson on a field goal and two free throws as Gaylord scored nine for a 30-25 lead as the period ended.

The Charlevoix Reserves made a comeback in the last period with nine points to five for Gaylord but the final whistle gave the host team a one-point margin and the game.

Swanson scored three points in the last period on a field goal and a free throw and Mathews, Walker and Towsley had two joints each.

Gaylord had scored two field goals and a free throw.

Charlevoix had scored 34 points on 11 field goals and 12 out of 18 free throws while Gaylord had made 35 points on 14 field goals and seven out of 28 free throw attempts.

Swanson racked up nine points, Etienne six, Walker five, Mathews and Vandenberg four each, Towsley three, Carson two, and Dennis one for Charlevoix. Coon and Talman shared scoring honors for Gaylord with nine points each.

The Little Rayders were to meet Boyne City here Tuesday night and will meet the East Jordan Reserves on the latter's floor Friday night.

Last Week With Class "C" Teams

As the first half of the Northern Michigan Class C schedule drew to a close, Charlevoix and East Jordan were in first place with five wins and one loss. The Rayders went into a first place tie with East Jordan after defeating Gaylord 45-38 on the latter's floor Friday night.

Gaylord took over sole possession of second place.

By winning over Mancelona 62-50, the Harbor Springs Rams annexed third place with three wins and three losses. Mancelona dropped to a fourth place tie with the Boyne City Ramblers who defeated Pellston 58-53. The latter remained in the league cellar with no wins in six starts.

In a non-loop game, East Jordan, which went into the league lead last week, edged past Onaway 42-38.

Harbor Springs 62, Mancelona 50

At Harbor Springs the visiting Mancelona Ironmen went into a 14-12 first period lead before the Rams took command of the game and led 29-21 at the half and 49-32 at third quarter mark. Frank Granstra tallied 17 for Harbor Springs while Dick Derrer had 11 for the Ironmen.

Boyne City 58, Pellston 53

The Pellston Hornets, making their first appearance since Coach Bill Carey assumed his duties, held the Boyne Ramblers to a 10-9 first period lead and went ahead 23-22 at the half before Boyne City pulled away for a 42-33 third period lead and the game.

Don Arner took high scoring honors with 20 points for the Ramblers while Johnny Schauffler had 18 for the Hornets.

East Jordan 42, Onaway 38

At East Jordan the Red Devils led Onaway 13-11 at the first period and 22-17 at the half before the visitors came from behind for a 33-27 third period lead. East Jordan had to rack up 15 points in the last quarter to win the game. Keith Evans tallied 13 points and Warren Frank 12 points for the victors. Larry Kelly had 11 for Onaway.

Announce Speakers For Little Farmers Week Program

Added Program For Women TO Cover Home Treatment Of Sick

Final plans for the second annual Little Farmers' Week have been made, Ed Rebman, county agricultural agent, announced today. The five days of afternoon programs this year will be held in the Charlevoix high school auditorium beginning at 1:00 o'clock Monday, Feb. 9 and closing with the final program Friday, Feb. 13.

Problems pertinent to farmers in Charlevoix county and the adjacent area will be discussed by extension specialists from Michigan State college. Subjects to be covered will include dairying, barnyard economics, building and machinery, forest management, and animal husbandry.

A special feature for farm women has been added to the Little Farmers' Week this year. This program for the ladies will be held at the county court house Friday afternoon. Dr. A. F. Litzenbarger, director of District Health Department No. 3. will discuss home treatments for sickness and injuries.

Plans are being formulated by the business people of Charlevoix to add a touch of entertainment to the program as an expression of appreciation from the host city.

Ten extension specialists have been booked to conduct the programs in their respective fields of agriculture. Monday will bring Don Murray and Jim Hayes with a discussion of milking and care of milk. Tuesday's program will cover barnyard economics with Everette Elwood and Jim Nielsen speaking. Wednesday, Art Bell will discuss the latest in farm buildings and machinery and Lester Bell will talk on forest management in this area. Crops and soils will be covered Thursday by Ed Longnecker and Dennis Clanahan.

The Friday program will be divided into two sections. The one for men will be at the high school auditorium where Firley and Morley will discuss animal husbandry. Ladies will meet at the court house to hear Dr. Litsanbergar offer suggestions for home treatment of sickness and injuries.

By bringing Little Farmers' Week to Charlevoix county farmers of this area may get a first hand resume of important problems discussed at the Michigan State college Farmers Week, said Rebman. He believes every farmer and his wife will benefit materially by attending all of the programs offered. The response accorded the Little Farmers Week last years indicates the plan can be very beneficial to the area as an annual event.

Seed Directory Ready For 1953

The 1953 Michigan Certified Seed Directory, published by the Michigan Crop Improvement Association at Michigan State college, is now available from county agricultural agents.

This directory of "grown-in-Michigan" seed sources covers barley, beans, corn, oats and soybeans. Certified seeds are of varieties recommended by the Michigan Agricultural Experiment Station after Michigan tests.

Mr. Farmer:

It takes a large volume of livestock to attract a large number of livestock buyers.

The Traverse City Livestock Commission sells more livestock than any sale in Northern Michigan.

The bigger buyers attend the Traverse City Livestock Auction, therefore you are assured the full market value when you consign your livestock to the Traverse City Livestock Commission. Don't hesitate to spend a little extra money for trucking to the Traverse City Livestock Commission. It will be repaid many times.

Streamlined Poultry Give Better Meat

Today's chickens, just like today's automobiles, are lower, heavier and, most important, more efficient.

The reason? According to Philip J. Schaible, poultry specialist at Michigan State college, it's all because of new developments that this "streamlined" chicken has come about.

Schaible, speaking to a Farmers' Week audience at M.S.C. Wednesday on "New Development in Poultry Feeding", said some of the recent discoveries have been high energy feeds, new vitamins, antibiotics and hormones.

One of the most important factors in making the poultry business more efficient has been production of poultry meat, not as a side line, but as a regular part of the business. Heavier, meatier and tenderer birds, with bigger drumsticks and more flesh around the breastbone, have allowed poultryman to expect meat as well as egg production, Shaibla said.

Developments which have brought about these changes include the discovery of vitamin B-12 and the production of low-cost protein rations which followed, use of antibiotics in feeds for more rapid growth, and the use of hormones which "chemically caponize" broilers.

"To sum up," Schaible said, "great strides have been made in recent years in the more efficient production of poultry meat. Today's scientifically bred and fed chickens costs less to produce and tastes better. Now it is possible for the housewife to buy a large bird that's tender. Age rather than size determines tenderness and meat birds are grown rapidly." The result, he concluded, is a better deal for both producer and consumer.

Foundation Seed Guarded In State

Michigan growers of certified seed are required to buy Foundation seed every year, reports George F. Wenner, who works with the Michigan State College farm crops department as manager of Michigan Foundation Seed Association. This is a practice not followed by similar organizations in many states, he said.

This practice helps keep pure seed supplies of varieties entrusted to the association. Preserving varietal purity and building up seed stocks is the association's job. Seed is turned over to the association after tests by the Michigan Agricultural Experiment Station prove the variety value, whether it is originally developed in Michigan or some other state.

Michigan has an estimated 120 wood products mills, other than sawmills, that produce veneer, shingles, excelsior and rustic products from raw forest timber.

Annual Charlevoix District Soils Meeting Draws Good Audience

The fifth annual meeting of the Charlevoix Soil Conservation District was well attended, Clayton Healey, chairman of the board, reported today. This meeting was held in the dining room of the Boyne City high school Wednesday afternoon, Jan. 21. Ed. Rebman, county agricultural agent and secretary of the board started the meeting with some local county movies. These movies included pictures of Sadie Liskum's conservation project, soil conservation strips, and work on reforestation.

During the business meeting, chairman Healey introduced the other board members and out-of-county guests. Everyone received an annual report at the door. Healey also stated that anyone can have a copy of this report by asking for it. During the election, which was in charge of Lyle Peters, Clayton Healey was re-elected and Bob Reidel was elected to replace Norval Korthase.

Mr. Korthase passed out certificates to three farmers who had in the eyes of a committee, done the most toward establishing conservation on their farms in 1952. The farmers who received these certificates were Carl Grutsch, Jr., Norbert Nachazel, and Charles and Bob Reidel. Sadie Liskum also received a certificate for her work in teaching conservation and Ed Rebman received a certificate for his educational work in the district.

The speaker for the program was Casper Blumer, county agricultural agent for Alcona and Oscoda counties. He discussed pasture improvement, grass silage and trench silos. Mr. Blumer had very beautiful slides to illustrate his talk.

ORDINANCE NUMBER 250

AN ORDINANCE TO AMEND SECTION SEVEN OF ORDINANCE NUMBER 237 OF THE ORDINANCES OF THE CITY OF CHARLEVOIX, MICHIGAN, KNOWN AS THE "SIGN ORDINANCE OF THE CITY OF CHARLEVOIX" TO PERMIT ILLUMINATED SIGNS ON PROPERTY FRONTING ON HIGHWAYS U. S. 31 AND M-66.

THE CITY OF CHARLEVOIX ORDAINS:

Section 1. Section 7 of Ordinance Number 237 of the City of Charlevoix, known as the "Sign Ordinance of the City of Charlevoix" is hereby amended to read as follows:

"Section 7. ILLUMINATION. No illuminated signs shall be allowed in the districts set forth in Section 6 of this ordinance except in the following instances:

A. Signs illuminated by indirect lighting shall be allowed in Residential District II and Residential District III and that part of Residential District I abutting on, and extending to a depth of 100 feet south from, the South side of Belvedere Avenue between Alice Street and the Belvedere Club Grounds.

B. Hotels of over 50 rooms in any district may have illuminated signs.

C. Illuminated signs shall be allowed in the Districts set forth in Section 6 of this ordinance upon properties in said districts abutting upon U. S. Highway 31 or Highway M-66, provided that said illuminated signs, in addition to the other requirements in said districts, shall not be located further from said highways than the front building lines thereon and shall not be located within 15 feet from the adjoining property line and provided further that not more than one projecting sign and one flush sign shall be allowed on any lot in said area.

No flashing signs shall he allowed in said districts and no illuminated sign in any district shall be placed or illuminated in such a way so as to constitute a traffic hazard. All electrical work on signs shall comply with standards that shall from time to time be established by the Common Council."

Section 2. This ordinance shall take effect 20 days from and after the date of it's adoption.

Ordinance adopted by the following Yea and Nay vote. YEAS: Davenport, Gebeau, Kipke, Young, Zeitler and Bellinger. NAYS: None. ABSENT: None.

Alderman Kipke offered the following resolution and moved it's adoption supported by Alderman Zeitler.

RESOLUTION

BE IT RESOLVED that in the event the delinquent electric account of Harold W Miller, d/b/a Miller Boat Company of Charlevoix, Michigan, is not paid by January 15, 1953, the Mayor and City Attorney be authorized and directed to take necessary steps for collection of the same.

Resolution adopted by the following Yea and Nay vote. YEAS: Davenport, Gebeau, Kipke, Young, Zeitler, and Bellinger. NAYS: None. ABSENT: None.

The Finance Committee having examined bills totalling $ 9,522.22 find them correct and recommend they be allowed.

loop standings. He averages 17.3 points per game on 44 field goals and 10 out of 36 free throws.

Don Arner of Boyne City who has played in only four games thus far because of illness, has averaged 17 points per game on 22 field goals and 25 out of 30 free throws.

Doug Wickstrom of Mancelona with 32 field goals and 29 out of 35 free throws is next with 93 points in six games for an average of 15.5 points per game.

Players from Charlevoix and East Jordan, who are tied for first place in the league, hold down the next three spots on the scoring list.

Charlevoix's Dean Davenport and Keith Evans of East Jordan have tallied 82 points each. Davenport leads in the field goal department with 35 while scoring 12 out of 23 free throws. Evans has 27 field goals but has an unusually high average in the free throw department with 28 out of 33.

Evans' team-mate, Warren Frank is next with 76 points with Bill Bennett following with 75 points. John Schauffler of Pellston has 74 points.

Next Lecture To Deal With East

Europe.

Next Wednesday, Feb. 4, Mr. Anderson will speak on the problems of the Far East.

He is well qualified to speak on this subject for before coming to the University, he was a teacher in Japan in government colleges for six years before World War II. After the war, he was civil education officer in the military government of occupation for four years in southern Japan.

At the University, he is a visiting instructor, taking the place of Prof. John Hall who is now in Japan.

Enrollments still are being accepted for the lecture series, Supt. R. G. Bennett said this week. For those who find they are unable to attend the entire series, single lecture tickets are now on sale. Anyone wishing to hear the series but who cannot do so on Wednesday evening, may hear the same lectures at East Jordan on Monday and Bellaire on Thursday, Mr. Bennett added.

enough to stop the Blue Devils as they led 22-12 at the quarter; 30-22 at the half and 50-41 at the third period. Frank Karwoski had 26 points for the victors.

Traditional rivals, East Jordan and Charlevoix, will battle it out Friday night in a game which should be close all the way. Stinging from their defeat by Pellston, the Jordanites are expected to be up for the game and anything can happen. The final results will be a toss up.

Gaylord will be meeting Boyne City Ramblers in a return game. The Ramblers have shown great improvement since early in the season and will give any team a good fight. The game should be a close one but Gaylord with its five-win two loss record should have the edge.

Now that Pellston has gotten into the win column, they will be fighting hard to stay there and can give the visiting Mancelona Ironmen a tough game. Playing on their home floor they might even have an advantage over the Ironmen who have two wins in six starts.

Charlevoix Prepares To Welcome Farmers

Industry Fund Passes $12,000 Mark

* * *

Seek Large Turnout For Meeting Tuesday

At the weekly meeting of the directors and stockholders of the Charlevoix Development Corporation Tuesday night, A. L. Livingston, treasurer of the organization, disclosed there was cash and pledges on hand totaling over $12,000

This leaves approximately $3,000 of a goal of $15,000 still to be raised to bring a new industry to Charlevoix. The Charlevoix Development Corporation is aiming toward the $15,000 figure as a first mortgage on a new $50,000 fireproof building to house a new industry.

There was one discouraging note regarding the Tuesday meeting, however, and that was the poor attendance. It was necessary to call two directors on the telephone to assemble a quorum and nnly one other stockholder was present.

In commenting on the meeting Mayor John Knight, secretary of the Cnrporation said that "Either the people think the project is in the bag or they are losing interest. If we want to put this acrnss we've got to stay in there and pitch until the final goal is reached. The last $3,000 is going to be the hardest to get and it will mean that everyone in town will have to get behind the drive."

He urged evary director, stockholder and interested party to attend tha naxt meeting at the City hall at 7:30 Tuesday night when plans will be made to canvass the city.

The list of new stockholders and those who have increased their holdings follow: Mrs. Doro-

Lecture Series To Be Resumed On February 18

The World Affairs lecture series will be resumed Wednesday, Feb. 18, after a lapse of one week, Supt. R. G. Bennett announced Wednesday.

At that time Nicholas Marbury Efumenco, assistant professor of political science, will speak on the Problems of the Middle East.

The break in the series is due to the opening of a new term at the University of Michigan, when all instructors must be present, Mr. Bennett explained.

The serias is being presented as a part of the Continuing Education program through the cooparation of tha University of Michigan Extension Service.

Last night Robert S. Anderson, instructor in history at the University, spoke on the problems of the Far East. His lecture was the third in a series of five.

Last week Henry L. Bretton, instructor in political science, said in his lecture that "the United States has the power of life and death as far as Europe is concerned. Without continued and active leadership on our part, without firm guarantees of prompt and effective assistance in the event of an attack and without a liberal American trading and tariff policy, Europe is doomed to fall into the orbit of Communism."

The hour long lecture was followed by an interesting question and answer period.

Harbor Springs Defeats Lancers By 51-44 Score

Harbor Springs of the Northern Michigan Class C league Tuesday night avenged an earlier loss to Ellsworth by defeating the Lancers 51-44 on the Rams floor.

Harbor Springs had no trouble with the visitors as they led 14-11 at the quarter; 29-15 at the half and 42-22 at the third period. Stan Pifer dropped 34 for the Rams and Jim Smith hed 18 for Ellsworth.

In other non-loop games played Tuesday Boyne City defeated Choboygan 51-44 and Mancelona upset undefeated Kalkaska by a 47-45 score.

Democrats Name State Delegates

Two delegates to the state Democratic convention to be held in Grand Rapids Feb 7 were named at the county Democratic convention at the court house here Thursday.

Elmer Lyons and J. M. Foster, both of Charlevoix, were elected to attend the state meeting. They will attend as uninstructed delegates.

Lee Sneathen, county chairman, presided at the county convention.

Careys To Play Opposite Each Other In Cadillac

Two familiar eagers will return to northern Michigan this week when the Michigan State All Stars meet the Cadillac Red Horses at the Cadillac high school gymnasium Saturday night.

Featured with the All-Stars will be the great Spartan All-American end, Bob Carey, star rookie of the Los Angeles professional football team. His twin brother, Bill, also of Spartan football and basketball fame who recently accepted a coaching post at Pellston will be playing with the opposing Cadillac squad.

In addition to Bob Carey, the All Stars will present Leo VanderKuy, University nf Michigan All Big Ten center of last season plus Sonny Means, Bill Bowers, Leof Carlson, Ray Steffen and Rny Middleton, high scoring center from Western Michigan college.

The Red Horses will bank on the slants of former Valparaiso All American and Boston Celtic pro, John Janisch; Ed Katlarczyk, University of Vermont and Madison Square All Eastern player plus other outstanding basketball players now serving as coaches in the immediate area around Cadillac.

The Red Hnrse JVs will play a preliminary game at 7:30 p.m.

Kiwanis Enjoys A 4-H Program

The Charlevoix Kiwanis Club enjoyed a 4-H Club program presented at the regular meeting at the high school cafeteria Monday night.

Henry Methner and Cmdr. E. K. Shanahan, of the February program committee, were assisted by Leonard Burns and C. B. Meggison who explained the 4-H and F.F.A. programs, how they fit into the school program and how they benefit the young people of the community.

Thirteen-year-old Sharon Johnston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs Sam Johnston of Harbor Springs, who started in the youth talent program at the age of nine, presented several entertaining songs and dances.

Guests were O. J. Grossman of Billwood, Ill., and Alan Macdonell.

Bruce Barker Appointed To Naval Academy

Bruce L. Barker, now serving as a seaman with the U. S. Navy, has received an appointment to the U. S. Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md., his father, Leland H. Barker, was notified in a letter this week from Victor A. Knox (R), Congressional Representative from the 11th district.

After qualifying through an examination in March, Bruce will be discharged from the Navy and in July enter Annapolis as a midshipman

In his letter announcing his appointment of Bruce to the Naval Academy, Md. Mr. Knox said "After reviewing the letters of recommendation for Bruce, and his completion of the questionaire, I feel that he is well qualified and is very desirous of becoming a student at the Naval Academy and having a career in the Navy.

"Since Bruce is in the Navy I feel his background will be of great help to him and he well deserves this recognition. It is my hope that he will qualify through his examination in March and become a midshipman, then earn his commission which will undoubtedly lead him to his goal in life."

Bruce, now 20 years old, graduated from the Charlevoix high school in 1950. He enrolled at the Soo Branch of Michigan College of Mining and Technology the following fall and in April, 1951, left school to enlist in the U. S. Navy

In April, 1952 he was assigned to the U. S. Naval Training Command School at Bainbridge, Md.

Lewis Allards Observe Their Sixty-Second Wedding Date

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Allard, pioneer residents of this community, celebrated their sixty-second wedding anniversary at their home at 105 East Lincoln ave. Wednesday.

The couple observed the occasion quietly with friends calling during the day.

The couple was married at St. Francis church in Petoskey Feb. 4, 1891, and except for time spent at various lighthouses along Lake Michigan, have resided here. The couple made the trip from Charlevoix to Petoskey via horse and cutter for the ceremony. On their return they were halted at Greensky hill by supply sleighs which were stuck in the snow drifts following a blizzard.

Mr. Allard, a sailor and fisherman, worked as a wheelsmen on a Great Lakes steamer and operated a fishtug out of here before joining the lighthouse service during World War I. For seven years he served as master of the Grey's Reef lightship before the ship was taken to Milwaukee, Wis. He later served at Point Au Sable, Squaw Island, Frank and Beaver Head lighthouse on Beaver Island. He ratired from the lighthouse service at the ege of 65 years.

Mr. Allard will be 90 years old

Six Class "C" Teams To Play This Friday

Six of the seven teams in the Northern Michigan Class C league have scheduled games this week as the third games of the second half of the current schedule are played Friday.

Boyne City will host Mancelona; East Jordan will journey to Harbor Springs and Pellston will entertain Gaylord in return games while Charlevoix has an open date and will not play.

Mancelona, tied with Harbor Springs for fourth place in the league, will invade Boyne City this week wilh another win in mind. The Ironmen won by six points in their first meeting and will be out to duplicate their performance. The Boyne City squad can be a threat as was evidant in their geme with Charlavoix and in the first half of the Gaylord geme last waek but whan the going get tough they seem to fall apart. Mancelona, on the other hand, has three wins in seven starts plus closa gamas with East Jordan and Gaylord so they should have an edge on the Ramblers.

East Jordan snowed under Harbor Springs by a 50-38 score in their first meeting but since then the Rams have upset Charlevoix and defeated Mancelona by 12 points to prove that they are an improved team. If Harbor Springs is up for the visitors they could upset them, but that does not seem likely, although East Jordan has dropped games to Pellston and Charlevoix in the past ten days.

In their initial meeting this year Gaylord racked up 84 points to Pellston's 44 to set what is believed to be a new league scoring record. The game between the two teams this week will give the Hornets an opportunity to avenge the earlier trouncing and even though they probably will not win, they can be depended on to hold the score down and not let the Blue Devils walk away with the game. A scrappy, aggressive team, the Hornets upset East Jordan and could do the same to Gaylord although the latter presents a greater scoring threat than did the Jordanites.

Regardless of the outcome, last place Pellston will be in there trying all the way to even scores with second place Gaylord.

Girl Scouts To Start Sale Of Cookies Friday

The annual Girl Scout cookie sale will begin Friday, Feb. 6, and continue through Feb. 11, Mrs. John Knight, Girl Scout cookie chairman announced this week.

During the six day period the Girl Scouts from five troops will participate in the sale of cookies to earn funds for their camping program.

The orders will be taken for the cookies which will be delivered later in the month.

The members of three Brownie Scout troops will each have two boxes of cookies to sell to their families.

Resume Beaver Island Classes

Classes at the St. James Township school on Beaver Island were resumed last week following a two weeks forced recess due to a measle epidemic, Mrs. Catherina C. Bergeon, county superintendent of schools, has announced.

Mrs. Marian Rice of the District Health Department, who went to the island to administer to the ills of the children under the direction of their respective doctors on the mainland, said that approximately 75 percent of the island's juvenile population had been downed by the childhood disease.

While there 28 pre-school age children were given measle serum and others were given other treatments.

Top MSC Specialists To Head Program For Five-Day Meetings

Charlevoix will be host to the second annual Little Farmers' week Feb. 9 through Feb. 13 as farmers from Charlevoix county and the adjacent areas gather at the Charlevoix high school auditorium to hear recognized authorities on agricultural subjects discuss problems pertinent to farmers in Northern Michigan.

The meetings will be held daily beginning at 1:30 p.m. Monday through Friday.

The Little Farmers week is being held here through the cooperation of the Michigan State College Extension Service and Ed Rebman, Charlevoix county agricultural agent. The series of lectures, films and discussions will bring to the farmers of the area a resume of the important subjects discussed at the recent Michigan State College Farmers' week from which the local series derives its name.

During the week a variety of topics related to every phase of farming will be discussed by authorities from Michigan State College.

The series will open Monday with a discussion on milk and milk markets by Donald L. Murrey followed by a telk on 'Washday in Milking Cows" by J. G. Hayes: Tuesday the business of ferming and practical farm man-

Announce Total Raised In Polio Drive To Date

The March of Dimes in the Charlevoix area has netted $1,882.71 to date, Mrs. Thomas Carey local chairman announced Wednesday.

The amount includes $141.45 raised on Beaver Island. Archie LaFreniere was island chairman.

The Mothers March in Charlevoix on Thursday evening brought in $577.83 as compared to $255.92 in East Jordan and $216.65 in Boyne City. The Karnival Kapers at the high school gym following the Mothers March netted approximately $200. The buffet supper given Jan. 20 at the Airport Jar raised $139.

Cannisters and cards in the elementary school contained $114.11.

Several other groups are still to be heard from Mrs. Carey said. It is hoped the area's total will reach the $2,000 mark before the drive is concluded.

Absentee Voters Are Reminded Of Primary Feb. 16

Voters registered in the Charlevoix area who vote by absent voter's ballot are reminded of the Feb. 16 Primary election.

Of major interest is the non-partisan ballot which carries the names of the three candidates for nomination to the office of circuit court judge in the 13th Judicial district which includes Antrim, Charlevoix, Leelanau and Grand Traverse counties.

They are incumbent Charles L. Brown of Traverse City who has served in the office for the past five years; William E. Myers of Traverse City and Harry T. Cook of Bellaire.

Two of the candidates will be nominated for the General election in April.

There are no contests for city offices in the coming election.

ODDS 'N ENDS

By Fran Martin

A BELATED birthday greeting to one of our favorite people around town, Delbert Ingalls, now hospitalized at the Northern Michigan Sanitorium in Gaylord . . . Our intentions were good and we meant to mention it before but you know how 'tis . . . Anyhow you can enjoy a second one . . . Mr. Ingalls observed his eighty-fifth birthday anniversary Jan 28 . . . And if you happen to be over Gaylord-way, drop in and see him . . . he'd love it . . . And hurry and get better soon, Mr. Ingalls, it won't be spring without you around . . .

CAN'T QUITE make up our mind what to do about certain things we get in the mail . . . Whether to ignore 'em or look at the purty pictures and drool . . . It's those picture postcards that those lucky people who go south and bask in the sun send us . . . 'Having a wonderful time. Wish you were here' . . . The sentiment is fine but it's too cold here to appreciate 'em . . . Among the latest to arrive is one from Mrs. Edward Heise, Sr. who is at Dania not far from Hollywood and Miami . . . She'd had a visit from Mrs. Milton Block and Mrs. George Priest who went on to St. Pete . . . She had also seen Mrs. Swain Smith in Miami . . . And from Daytona Beach a card from the William Heerings with a beach scene and scads of people) saying they were enjoying the sunshine down there. Maybe we should make a request from our friends in the south (and it looks as tho' a lot of them will soon be there at the rate they're leaving town) . . Send a bit of that Florida sunshine north . . . We'd love it . . We've got a bit of a tan but it's from the wind in weather that's been hovering around zero for several days . . .

And also in the mail a card from Mrs. Clair Webster who has some super special job at Adrain College where she was lucky enough to hear last week none other than Hazel Scott . . .

MRS JOHN FUNK stopped by the other day to show us something you would love . . . A scrap book of old Valentines . . . Never saw such lovely, elaborate Valentines in all our life . . . . Some dated back about 60 years and others were newer . . . say only about 40 years old . . . It was quite a treat seeing them. She also had a book of old calling cards . . . We'd never seen anything like 'em and never knew there were such things . . . Some were real showy, others very reserved . . . Most of those were very, very old . . . And all, in our book, were not only keepsakes but heirlooms . . .

* * *

OUR OWN Roy Ranger broke out in print recently . . . in the Lakeland Yachting magazine with a story on him and the models of Mackinaw boats he made for the Smithsonian Institute.

* * *

REMEMBER Gene Corey who spent the summer at the Argonne several years ago . . . He could play the organ like an angel (at least we think they play the organ as well as harps) . . . Anyway in a recent music publication there was an item about him . . . He's now playing with a trio at a night spot in Las Vegas . . . So if you happen by that way, stop by and see him . . .

* * *

AS YOU ALL know by now, the Charlevoix Rayders racked up a win over East Jordan Friday . . . their first on the Red Devils floor since '49 . . . We knew there must be some very special motive behind the win and we think we know what it was . . . It was the first game Tom Fessenden, just out of the hospital after two months behind the eight-ball, had attended this season . . . His team-mates, bless their little-hearts, wanted to make it something special and they did . . . Of course, Coach Terrill doesn't know all this but we're sure he won't mind . . . And it's sure good to see Tom out again . . . He's supposed to start to school this week . . . only a half-day at first . . . (He's used to sleeping in the morning) . . . After a two months vacation they don't dare expose him to too much aducation at one time, we understand . . . We also hear he had a very wonderful letter from Bill Veeck, manager of the St. Louis Browns and himself an amputee . . . who wrote all kinds of encouraging things . . . And next time you see Tom, take a real good look for he's something most people don't expect to see among our teen-agers today . . . a very brave guy who can take it on the chin and come up grinning . . .

Dickens Characters Portrayed At Club's Annual Birthday Tea

Humorous portrayals of characters taken from Charles Dickens' "Old Curiosity Shop", "David Copperfield" and "A Christmas Carol" were dramatized and brought up to date in a series of skits produced by the executive committee of the Charles Dickens Study Club at their annual Birthday Tea held at the home of Mrs. H. E. Paddock Monday.

Costumed members who participated in the program were Mrs. Charles Bleha, Mrs. Robert Miles, Mrs. Ross Alexander and Mrs. Paddock. They were assisted by Mrs. Charles Duerr, Mrs. Carl Kohler, Mrs. Robert Anderson and Mrs. Ralph Hamilton.

Another feature of the program which followed a brief business meeting, was the showing of a colored film which was taken at last year's tea by Clarence Wood.

Refreshments were served from a uniquely appointed tea table covered with a checked cloth. A red geranium plant centered the table, flanked by a brass sconce with a single white taper. Mrs. Ray Faulkner and Mrs. Allen Campbell presided.

The next regular meeting will be held February 16 at the home of Mrs. Harley Ochs.

on April 15. He was born on South Fox Island, then a fishing colony, and came to Charlevoix as a young man.

Mrs. Allard is the former Pauline Cheney. She was born at Breckenridge, Ont., May 16, 1873, and came to Charlevoix with her widowed mother and five brothers and sisters as a child.

The couple live alone and during the months when the weather is warm, visit about the neighborhood and enjoy walks. During the winter, however, their activities are limited and they spand their time reading and listening to the radio.

They have one grandchild, Mrs. Edward Heise Jr., of this city who is spending the winter at Dania, Fla. They also have three great-grandsons, Joel and Robert Herrington who are in the south with their mother and Michael Herrington, a student at Holy Rosary School in Bay City.

Their only son, Lee, a veteran of World War I, died in January, 1951.

Albert Kuiper Dies Following A Long Illness

Ellsworth — Funeral services for Albert Kuiper Sr., were held Monday Feb. 2 at 2 p.m. at the Ellsworth Christian Reformed church with Rev. E. Boeve in charge. Burial was in Ellsworth cemetery.

Mr. Kuiper, was born in the Netherlands, May 1, 1866 and came to the United States at the age of 17 years. He came to this vicinity in 1913 and lived on a farm in the Lakeview district until the home burned in 1945. Since that time he had resided in Ellsworth the greater part of the time. Mrs. Kuiper passed away in July, 1947.

Mr. Kuiper, who had been ill for several months had been cared for in the home of his son, Jay, where he passed away late Thursday.

Surviving Mr. Kuiper are four sons, Tony and Jay of Ellsworth Rt. 1, Albert and George of Grand Rapids; two daughter, Mrs. Effie Weidenaar of Grand Rapids and Mrs. Cornelius VanAndel of Battle Creek; one sister, Mrs. A. Hemkes of Grand Rapids, also 26 grandchildren and 19 great-grandchildren.

Commerce Group To Meet Feb. 17

Ellsworth — The annual meeting of the Ellsworth Community Chamber of Commerce will be held Tuesday evening, Feb. 17 at the Ellsworth Community Hall.

Annual dues may be paid at this meeting. Also new directors are to be elected to replace Elmer Rood, Jake Klooster and Andrew Kooyer, whose terms expire.

The Chamber of Commerce has had an active profitable year under the leadership of Elmer Rood, president and Joe Bugai, secretary.

Feb. 17 is also the Banks P.T.A. Open House at the school but if you plan carefully you can attend both meetings, for your support is an important factor in the progress of both groups and the clash dates was unavoidable.

Girls' Quartet Wins Annual Talent Show

Ellsworth — A girl's quartet composed of Joan Edson, Sue Kaley, Roselynn Carpenter and Betty Lou James took first prize in the Talent Show at the Community Hall Saturday night. This annual talent show followed by the Penny Fair was sponsored by the Junior Class of Banks school, Dorf Seifried, sponsor.

Second prize went to John Elzinga who played a piano solo and third prize went to Clarence Drain, instrumental number.

Others who participated were Mrs Martin Elzinga, accordian number; Bill Kooyer and Don Heeres, vocal duet, and Peggy Doctor and Marilyn Sitzema, piano duet.

Janice Campeau, seventh grader, was elected queen and Jackie Donaldson, freshman was elected king.

Lunch was sold during the evening and the class will clear approximately $55 from the evenings project.

Waistline Party A Success

Those who missed the P. T. A. waistline party last Thursday night missed a lot of fun! You'll be happy to know that at least $85 was cleared, thanks to the many members and friends who did attend or sent in contributions. The waistline fund totaled $65 and lunch $28.

Mrs. Henry Ruis and her Ways and Means committee sponosred the affair and Mrs. George Koster and her committee were in charge of the lunch.

Henry Smith, Superintendent of Schools, had the most ample waistline, receiving a bunch of celery as consolation prize. Mrs. Lynn Carpenter, with the smallest waistline, received a prize of candy, each prize accompanied by an original verse composed by Mrs. Julius Essenberg.

Girls Win Over C. L.

Score 58-41 Victory Over The Red Devils

The Charlevoix Rayders strengthened their grip on first place in the Northern Michigan Class C league Friday night by handing the threatening East Jordan Red Devils a 58-41 defeat on the latter's floor.

The loss dropped East Jordan to third place after Gaylord defeated Boyne City 64-52. Gaylord, who had been tied with the Jordanites in loop standings, remained in second place.

The Rayders got off to a 14-8 first quarter lead and although the Red Devils closed the gap to five points in the third period, the Rayders stretched their lead to seven points as the period ended 41-34.

East Jordan's scoring threat was weakened in the last period as Keith Evans, who paced his team's scoring with 18 points, Warren Frank and Sam Milstein, who had six points each, left the game via the foul route.

The win for the Rayders marked the first time they had won on the Jordanites floor since 1949.

Coach Del Terrill started Bill Bennett, Dean Davenport, Mark White, Bill Mosier and Jim Lewis with Gordon Mol, Tom LaBlance, Duane Walker, Dave Glassford, Joe McDermott and Jerry Albright seeing action before the game was over.

The Rayders went into a 14-8 first period lead on two field goals and a gift shot by Davenport; two field goals by Bennett, a field goal and a gift shot by Mosier and a field goal by White. East Jordan had scored on four field goals.

The Charlevoix quintet moved ahead 29-20 at halftime on three field goals by Davenport, a field goal and a gift shot by Bennatt and Lewis, two gift shots by Mosier and one by Whita.

Evans had scored 10 of the Red Devils 12 points in the second period.

East Jordan scored 14 points on seven field goals in the third period for their best quarter while the Rayders scored 12 points on two field goals and three free throws by Bennett, a field goal by White and free throws by Davenport, Mosier and Lewis.

Seventeen points were added in the last period for a 58-41 victory for the Rayders. The local five had scored on two field goals and two free throws by Davenport, a field goal and three gift shots by Bennett, two free throws each by Mosier and Albright and one each by White and Lewis.

The Jordanites' scoring was confined to seven points as three regulars went to the showers.

The Rayders played a tight defensive game and allowed the Jordanites only two lay-up shots. The others were long shots made from far out on the floor. However, the Red Devils outscored the Rayders 19-17 in the field goal department.

On the free throw line the Rayders scored 24 times on 41 attempts while East Jordan connected only three times in 15 tries.

East Jordan had 24 personal fouls while the Rayders had only eight.

Bennett topped the list of scorers for the Rayders with 19 points while Davenport followed closely with 18 points. Mosier tallied eight; White, six; Lewis, five and Albright, two.

The Rayders will have a ten-day gap in their current schedule before they meet the Mancelona Ironmen on the latters' floor Feb. 10.

Rayders Break Jordan Jinx

Jinxed since 1949 from winning on the East Jordan floor, the Charlevoix Rayders Friday night broke the hex and handed the Red Devils their second defeat in less than a week. On Tuesday Pellston upset the Jordanites 43-42.

Pictured is Rayder forward Bill Bennatt scoring two of the 19 points he made in the game as East Jordan player Jim Shepard (17) tries to break up the play and Kleth Evans (10) and an unidentified player look on.

Little Rayders Defeat Jordan Reserve Squad By 45-43 Score

Charlevoix's Little Rayders got back into the win column Friday night for the first time in three games by defeating the East Jordan Reserves 45-43 in a closely contested game on the latter's floor.

The Charlevoix five trailed until the last period when they came from behind to win in a photo-finish.

Guy Swanson, Joe Etienne, Charles Dennis, Gary Vandenberg and Quint Walker, all freshmen, started for the Rayders with Bob Mathews, Kit Carson, Tom Gibbons, Bob Albright, Gene Towsley, John Connolly and Joe Powell, a transfer who became eligible with the start of the second term, entering the game later.

East Jordan got off to a good start and held an 8-7 quarter lead as Charlevoix's scoring was confined to field goals by Vandenberg, Walker and Carson and a free throw by Swanson.

The local team managed only seven points in the second period as the Jordanites stretched their lead to 20-14 at half-time. Powell had connected for the Rayders' only field goal in the period plus a free throw for three points. Swanson, added two gift shots and Walker and Etienne had one each.

Charlevoix got rolling in the third period and tallied 18 points to cut the Red Devils lead to 34-32. Powell scored five points on a field goal and three singles; Carson and Swanson accounted for eight points with two field goals each; Walker scored three free throws and Vandanberg a field goal.

Charlevoix continued to outscore the Jordanites in the last period for 13 points and the game by a two-point margin.

Mathews and Towsley scored two field goals each; Walker had a field goal and a free throw and Carson scored on two free throws.

East Jordan had scored nine points.

Walker led the scoring for the Little Rayders with nine points; Carson and Powell had eight each Swanson, seven; Mathews, Vandenberg and Towsley, four each and Etienne, one.

Sommerville had 18 for East Jordan.

Last Week With Class "C" Teams

East Jordan, the only immediate threat to Charlevoix's first place standing in the Northern Michigan Class C league, was dropped to third place in loop ratings Friday night following their 58-41 defeat by the Rayders while Gaylord, with a 64-52 win over Boyne City, remained in possession of second place. Mancelona with a 49-45 victory over Pellston moved into a fourth place tie with the Harbor Springs Rams, who did not play last week.

In the game at Boyne City, the Ramblers took a 17-12 first period lead over Gaylord and with less than a minute to go at halftime held a 14 point lead but the determined Blue Devils cut the spread to a one-point 33-32 halftime score.

In the third period Gaylord connected for 16 points for a third quarter 48-40 lead and the game. Frank Karwoski continued his scoring spree for Gaylord with 25 points. Don Arner had 19 for the Ramblers.

At Pellston the Hornets were unable to make it two wins in a row as they trailed the Mancelona Ironmen 12-10 at the quarter; 28-25 at the half and 38-28 at the third period. Harold Patrick scored 15 for the Ironmen and John Schauffler and Ray Andrews shared scoring honors for Pellston with 13 points each. Mancelona was playing without regular John Holstad, who was out of the line-up with a shoulder injury.

Harbor Springs did not have a scheduled game.

IT HAPPENED ON . . . . BEAVER ISLAND

Mary LaFreniere

[illegible] Mallay spent a day in Charlevoix this week.

Gene Burke spent three days here this week with his parents Mr and Mrs. Edward Burke.

School re-opened this week after being closed two weeks due to the amount of illness on the island.

Ann Heard flew to Charlevoix Thursday to see a dentist.

Rogers Carlisle and Jewell Gillespie were in Charlevoix on Beaver Island Transit Company business.

The annual Beaver Island Transit Company Banquet was held Monday, Feb. 2 at the Beaver Lodge.

The harbor was frozen over enough most of the week to allow some very good ice skating. Saturday a good strong wind came up and most of the ice drifted out.

Dr. R. Vail of Bay City plans on spending a few days on the island this coming week. Wednesday a general meeting will be held at the Parish Hall so as to enable Dr. Vail to speak to the entire community. The prospects of having Dr. Vail as our resident physician look very promising.

The annual March of Dimes Party was held Friday night at the Shamrock Bar. There was a large turn out and a good time was had by all. Prior to the party some funds had been raised by the school children, a card party at Stanley Floyd's and canisters that had been placed in the business establishments. The total amount raised this year was $141.45.

Alan Macdonell of Charlevoix spent two days here this week in the interest of doing income tax work for the business men.

Due to a lack of fresh snow falls this week the coyote hunters were unable to do any hunting. Over the week-end some snow fell so the hunts will probably start again.

Because of the lack of ice this winter it is impossible to travel from one island to the other. For this reason the hunters believe that the coyotes on the other islands will probably die of starvation. Unless more ice makes the coyotes are unable to migrate to this island and at this time of the year it is doubtful whether there would be any food there for them.

New Flower Shop Will Open Soon

A new flower shop and greenhouse, to be known as Frank's Flowers, will open for Valentine's Day, its owner Frank Novotny announced this week.

The shop will feature seasonal cut flowers, a variety of plants and novelties.

The new business is located on US 31 a mile north of the business district. It will be housed in a new 34x48 ft. cement block building which has a flower shop, make-up room and loading station. A greenhouse will be built in the spring. A full line of nursery stock will be added in the spring.

The owner, Mr. Novotny, is well known in the flower business. Prior to last fall he had been associated with Edwards' Florists for many years.

Assembly Of God Church To Conclude Missionary Series

Missionaries of the Assembly of God representing Brazil, Burma and Southwest China will speak and show pictures of their respective lands in the two remaining services of the four-day missionary convention being conducted at the Assembly of God church this week, Rev. G. R. Kars, pastor of the church reports.

Tonight Mrs. Jean Wagner will give a first hand report on conditions in Asia, showing the progress of Christian work and the threat of Communism to all missionary works. She returned recently from Southwest China and Burma.

On Friday evening Rev. Lawrence Olsen of Brazil will report on the great progress of evangelism in the various parts of the country and of the efforts made in the city of Lavros. He will also tell the story of starting the publishing house in Rio deJaneiro which will provide Pentecostal literature for the 150,000 believers in Brazil.

In the closing service Rev. Olsen will tell of his experiences in mob demonstrations, stonings and persecutions incited by the hostile forces of Protestant missions. Mr. Olsen returned five weeks ago from Brazil where he has served as a missionary since 1938.

Services will begin at 7:30 p.m.

Tell Plans For Spring Wedding

The engagement of Mary Louise Gennett to Edward J. Stahulak, Fireman, U. S. Coast Guard, has been announced by the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Gennett.

The future bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Stahulak of Chicago. During the summer months he is attached at White Shoals Light Station of Group Charlevoix and to Group Chicago during the winter months.

A spring wedding is being planned by the couple.

Robert S. Wilson, Summer Resident Speaks At Traverse

An Ironton summer resident and one of America's most widely known sales executives, Robert S. Wilson, vice-president and sales manager of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co. of Akron, was in Traverse City Wednesday to deliver the third of a series of lectures on "Out of Doors in Northwestern Michigan".

His talk, "Land . . . Our Life", was sponsored by the Grand Traverse-Kalkaska Soil Conservation districts. It will be presented at the Traverse City high school auditorium at 8 p.m. Tuesday.

Mr. Wilson has for years owned a large dairy farm near Ironton and takes special pride in his herd of Holstein cattle. He spends his vacations and as many weekends as possible here. He has taken more than an active interest in agriculture and was one of the first to put into effect the plans and principles of Soil Conservation.

Masons Increase Lead In Cribbage

The Masons won the fifth night of cribbage tournament play against the I.O.O.F. by 544 points to increase their lead to 964 points. Eleven and a half tables were in play.

Fred Christerson lead the I.O.O.F. with 959 points while Glenn Rose and Robert Richards tied for high score for the Masons with 959 points.

Church Of God Is Sponsoring Fish Fry

The Brotherhood of the Community Church of God is sponsoring a Fish Fry dinner Feb. 12 to raise funds for a new automatic heating plant for the church building. The men are committed to all of the cooking and serving, except for the baking of the pies, which the ladies will donate.

The ticket prices are 85c for adults and 50c for children. The meal will be served in the Fellowship Hall.

County Officials Gather In Lansing

The annual winter meeting of the Michigan Association of Supervisors was held in Lansing last week.

Attending from Charlevoix were Fenton R. Bulow, county clerk, Rudy Korth Charlevoix township supervisor and George O. Haggard, first ward supervisor.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Brown announce the birth of a daughter, Marcia Lynn, at the Charlevoix Hospital Feb. 4. Mrs. Brown is the former LoAnne Andersen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Klaus Andersen.

Will Show Movies At Barnard Grange

Ed Rebman will be at the Barnard Grange Hall on Saturday evening, Feb. 21, to show a film to Grangers. Farm Bureau members, and all interested 4-H members, on the 4-H club Congress in Chicago, which features the annual amateur show.

He will also show one or two other good films to make it an evening of good entertainment. After which a potluck lunch will be served by the Farm Bureau women.

Hens with lice usually are "lousy" layers, Michigan State College poultrymen say.

Name Scoutmasters For Newly Formed Local Scout Troop

The newly-organized Boy Scout Troop 11 met at the city hall Wednesday night to name new officers and to form patrols.

Edward O'Neill was elected Senior Patrol Leader and Kenneth Case was named scribe. Four patrols with approximately six boys in each patrol were formed. As new members join they will be assigned to patrols.

Frank Case Jr. and Joseph Arvilla are co-scoutmasters for the troop.

Fisherman Catches Large Muskellunge

A muskellunge, said to be one of the hardest fresh water fish to land, was caught by Clyde Newland of Bellaire, father of Mrs. Coryell Sevrey.

The fish measured 56 inches in length, 26¼ inches in girth and weighed 44 pounds.

The 67-year-old fisherman speared the fish through the ice three miles north of Bellaire on Intermediate Lake.

Farmers' Week Supplement — CHARLEVOIX COURIER, CHARLEVOIX, MICHIGAN — Thursday, February 5, 1953

Annual Farmers' Week Opens Here Monday

Special Program For Women To Be Friday

Little Farmer's Week in Charlevoix county is for the women too, reports Emma Fero Reinbold, district Home Demonstration agent.

On Friday, Feb. 13 while the men meet, women will hear a discussion on "Family Health" conducted by Dr. A. F. Litzenberger, director of the District Health Department; Mrs. Margaret Davenport, Community nurse and Mrs. Marian Rice, County nurse.

The meeting will open at 1:30 p.m. in the Court room in the Charlevoix county court house. All Charlevoix county women are invited to attend this meeting.

The program will get underway with a movie depicting the services available through the District Health organization. This will be followed by a discussion of the following subjects: recent advances in Polio and other diseases; caring for emergencies in the home; the first aid kit and a question and answer session in which the women will participate.

James Scott, District Sanitarian, will also be present to speak briefly on Pasteurization of milk and to answer any questions.

Talk On Animal Husbandry To Be On Program

Animal husbandry will come into the spotlight on Friday of Little Farmers' Week in Charlevoix county when Wilton L. Finley speaks on the subject.

W. L. FINLEY

Finley, former Iosco county agricultural agent, has been a member of the MSC staff since 1947. He has emphasized livestock production and nutrition, especially with beef cattle, during his tenure at the college.

A graduate of MSC, in 1932, Finley worked as office assistant in the animal husbandry department immediately after graduation. Later he served as manager of the Fabins Farms near Three Rivers.

Plan Recreation Study For Leaders

All 4-H leaders are invited to participate in a recreation Training session Thursday, Feb. 12, at the Bellaire Community Hall from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Director of the session will be Arden Peterson, who is the State 4-H Club recreation director.

Leaders will attend from Antrim, Kalkaska, Crawford, Otsego and Charlevoix counties, and the new location was chosen in order to make it easier for some of the leaders to attend. The meetings of the last two years have been held in Petoskey.

The leaders as a group have come to believe that recreation as a project is important, and the program will cover a study of small group games, mixers and folk games.

Cite Advances By Cucumber Growers

The possibilities of losing cucumber crops from spot rot and mosaic have been practically eliminated by the development and use of resistant seed, according to Leroy Plum, growers service man in this area for the H. J. Heinz Co. This is considered the first big advance in cucumber growing since the crop was introduced to Michigan.

Mr. Plum returned from Holland last week where he attended a school for field men conducted by the company. Reports for the last growing season revealed a 25% increase in the average yield. This increase was attained, he said, by better rotation, usage of proper fertilizers and planting of disease resistant seed.

Emphasis for the coming season will be placed on increasing yields and adoption of better methods to obtain the results. The field men were assured there would be ample disease resistant seed available for growers this year and recommend its use where yields have been affected by disease.

D. L. Murray To Discuss Dairy Market Ideas

Donald L. Murray

Donald L. Murray will be one of the featured speakers Monday, Feb. 9 during Little Farmers' Week in Charlevoix county, according to Ed Rebman, county agricultural agent. He is a noted dairyman and member of the Cooperative Extension Service staff of Michigan State college. In his talk Murray will give information on market requirements and how to meet them. He will also discuss realizing the greatest return for labor and feed marketed through the dairy herd from sale of milk or cream.

Murray was an extension dairyman at North Dakota Agricultural college, Fargo, before joining the MSC staff in 1946.

He has his bachelor of science degree from North Dakota Agricultural college and his masters of science degree from Kansas State college. His wide experience includes operation of creameries for colleges and commercial firms.

A member of several national organizations, Murray has served as secretary of the North Dakota Dairy Products Association and as secretary-treasurer of the State Dairyman's association of North Dakota.

Clean, uncrowded feed lots and clean feeding and watering equipment are among the best safeguards against coccidiosis in feeder calves, Michigan State college specialists remind.

Start New Dorms For Men At State

East Lansing — Michigan State college has started construction on new men's dormitories which will house 1,350 men.

The project will cost about eight million dollars, including equipment, furnishings, sitework and utilities. It is expected that the first units will be ready for occupancy in early 1954, college officials said.

The residence halls will be constructed on a self-liquidating basis and at no expense to the public, officials pointed out.

Why Mr. Harting has Trouble Starting

GUM RUINED THIS PISTON. Gum in gasoline formed hard, varnish-like deposit on this piston. (See dark areas.) When motor is idle, gummy piston surface may become "glued" or "frozen" to cylinder wall, causing hard starting and heavy strain on battery and starter motor. Gum deposit also results in damage by scuffing. (See white scratches on piston above.)

Gum in Gasoline "FREEZES" Pistons, Ruins Performance

Beware of GUM in gasoline. GUM coats pistons, cylinder walls, valves and other parts—causes hard starting, poor performance and leads to costly repairs. High octane gasoline must be specially protected against gum and, unless protected, high octane may also mean high gum.

POWER-PACKED Sinclair Gasolines Stop Gum Two Ways

To prevent gum trouble and costly damage to your car, Sinclair Gasolines stop gum 2 ways. First, by careful and expert refining, Sinclair produces gasolines with minimum gum-forming characteristics. Second, as an extra safeguard, two different types of anti-gum chemicals are added to prevent gum formation during storage and use.

Sinclair gasolines also contain RD-119, new miracle chemical that stops rust and corrosion in your gas tank and fuel system.

Without co-operation. That is a point that is well remembered in any community.

That is why we are glad to see that the people of our community have taken steps to get together during Farmers' Week.

It is through the co-operation of the county agent's office, the Michigan State College staff, and the people, that this fine program is made possible.

Our congratulations to all of them, and our wish that the FARMERS' WEEK will become an annual affair, bringing added benefits to all our neighbors.

"Wash-Day" In Milking Cows" J. G. Hays' Topic For Monday

"Wash-day in Milking Cows" is the topic that J. G. Hays, Michigan State college extension dairyman, will present Monday, Feb. 9, of Little Farmers' Week here in Charlevoix.

J. G. HAYS

Hays' talk begins at 1:30 p.m. in Charlevoix high school auditorium. All the Little Farmers' Week meetings are scheduled there, according to Ed Rebman, county agricultural agent. He is co-operating with the Michigan Co-operative Extension Service in presenting this five-day program of instruction for local farmers.

Five fumbles in feeding dairy cows . . . particularly in the winter season . . . will be under fire by Hays, long-time member of the MSC staff. Hays is going to "do battle" during his talk with poor milking practices.

Hays is well known to farm groups as toastmaster for agricultural programs.

Can Save Proteins By Terramycin Use

Four Michigan State College scientists have offered proof that pigs fed a proper ration, including fortifying vitamins, can gain as well on lower protein diets than are usually recommended. This growth depends considerably, however, on the addition of terramycin to the feed ration.

Tests were made on 80 crossbred, 25 pound pigs by J. A. Hoefer of animal husbandry, R. W. Luecke of agricultural chemistry and Frank Thorp, Jr. and R. L. Johnston of animal pathology, at Michigan State college. Both the high-protein and low-protein groups received 5 milligrams of terramycin for each pound of food. At the end of 105 days, the low-protein group averaged 198 pounds, or two pounds heavier than the high-protein group.

Set In Our Ways?

Yes, most of us probably are, to some extent. But we who are in the food processing business know very well that we have to change our ideas from time to time. Change our methods and change our equipment. Otherwise we wouldn't be able to stay in business.

And we know, too, that the success of the farmers in our community is closely tied in with our own success. If the farmers prosper, we, in turn can prosper.

That is the reason why we are so enthusiastic about the continuation of the plan to hold an annual Farmers' Week in Charlevoix County.

Most farmers are interested in improving their own livelihood. They can achieve such improvements by supporting the county agent and the Michigan State College experts with their Farmers Week program.

Last year's program was observably successful . . . In saving time for our growers, improving the quality of their crops, and in higher profits from better equipped farms.

We wish for even greater success for this year's

An American Plan

We're 100% in favor of the Charlevoix County Farmer's Week because we think it is entirely an American idea. Nothing could be more typically American than for a community group, interested in bringing to others in the community a higher standard of living, to seek out the help and advice of specialists who can bring such benefits to the community.

Certainly no farmer today would dream of trying to run his farm with the same tools and methods used by his grandfather. New and proven ways of treating the soil have multiplied the productivity of our soils. But we are not done yet, in our search for better production and higher profits. We will eventually adopt many new ideas to attain them. And this, too, is typically American.

In deciding to change over facilities for dairy processing we listened to experts' opinion from many areas, as well as the opinions of producers right here at home. Then we prepared to handle fluid milk as well as butter fat, and the result was added benefits to all of our members. The same principle works on a farm wide scale, and we are convinced that the Farmer's Week program is an effective way to accomplish the same thing. More benefits for more people in our community.

Farm Business Practices To Be Told Tuesday By J. M. Nielson

The business of farming . . . with emphasis on business . . . will be the topic of a discussion for Charlevoix county farmers during Little Farmers' Week, February 9-13 at the Charlevoix high school auditorium.

J. M. Nielson

James M. Nielsen, Michigan State college extension specialist, will talk about the business of farming at 1:30 on Tuesday, Feb. 10.

Nielson will take an actual northern Michigan farm, which has 100 acres of cropland, plus a herd of five dairy cows, five young stock. Nielson will show the possibilities of increasing the size of the dairy herd, building up productiveity of the cows and cutting grain and protien supplement costs by producing good quality legume roughage.

The effect of these three important changes on the cropping program, investments, labor requirements, gross income, expenses, and net farm income will be examined. The very latest research results of the agricultural economics department of Michigan State college will be used.

Management Of Farms Will Be Program Topic

Suggestions for practical farm management in 1953 will be one of the featured topics at the Little Farmers' Week program, scheduled for Tuesday afternoon.

EVERETT M. ELWOOD

E. M. Elwood, Michigan State college agricultural economist, will present his views on "Barnyard Economics" during the program. Featured in the talk will be facts and figures on an actual Northern Michigan farm which has five dairy cows, five head of young stock, and 100 acres of cropland. Elwood will describe possible changes in the organization of such a farm and the resulting effects on expense and farm income.

Among his suggestions will be possibilities of increasing the size of the dairy herd, cutting grain and protein supplement costs by producing good quality legumes, and building up the productivity of the dairy herd. How such changes affect the farm cropping program, labor requirements, investments, and income and expenses will be discussed.

Elwood is well-known to farmers in the area for his work in farm management extension. His suggestions have aided many farmers to make their farming operations more effecient and profitable.

County agent Ed Rebman believes that farmers of Charlevoix county will be well repaid for the time they spend at the Little Farmers' Week program.

Boltwood Market Of Interest To County Farmers

Do you have a woods with trees at least eight inches in diameter? Are the trees growing so densely they need to be thinned? Do you want income from these woods while they grow into sawtimber? If so, you are interested in the boltwood market, advises Ed Rebman, county agricultural agent.

Michigan has joined forces with Minnestota and Wisconsin to gather, check and publish information on producing boltwood usually sold to mills in cords of 100 inch length or less. A bulletin, "Producing Boltwood", has been prepared and published at the University of Wisconsin by F. B. Trenk. Trenk's manuscript was approved by the Michigan State college forestry department. The bulletin is available at MSC's Bulletin Office, Department of Information Services, as Extension Bulletin 311.

The county agent points out that boltwood can be used for paper pulp, box boards, excelsior, roofing felt barrel headings, bowling pins, mine props and other items, depending on the species and lengths. By harvesting out some boltwood, farm woodlot and other forest owners can give trees room to grow into lumber.

MICHIGAN BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY

"It happened 40 years ago..."

Hal W. Cobb, Central Division safety supervisor for Michigan Bell, talking to Field Engineer Warren A. Pickering outside the telephone building in Saginaw, recalls that the Benefit-Pension Plan started the same year he began his telephone career.

"I'll always remember my first day with the Telephone Company back in January, 1913. It was 12 below zero the day I started as a lineman.

"That same month the Company's Benefit-Pension Plan was established. The Company put up the money in 1913 to get it started and has paid all the costs ever since.

"The Telephone Company's Plan not only provides retirement pensions. It also gives financial help to employees of all ages in meeting emergencies that may come with sickness, injury or death.

"For instance, there were the times when I was sick in a hospital for weeks and got my pay checks just the same, thanks to the Benefit Plan.

"One of these days I'll be retiring and, believe me, it's mighty comforting to know that I can count on a good pension when that day rolls around.

"Having our Benefit-Pension Plan with me all these forty years has meant a lot to me in peace of mind. It was a good, sound plan to begin with. And it's been kept up to date to meet the needs of changing times. I'll stack our Plan against any of them."

AN IMPORTANT KEY TO GOOD TELEPHONE SERVICE

Michigan Bell's Benefit-Pension Plan is one of the oldest of its kind in industry.

It is one of the things that makes the Telephone Company a good place to work.

Telephone men and women have the protection and security of a complete benefit and pension program with all costs paid by the Company. This includes liberal benefit payments for sickness and accident disability, death and retirement.

Folks do a better job when they have a feeling of security. The Plan contributes to that feeling among telephone people. So it's a good thing for your telephone service, too.

The Benefit Plan is an important part of what we mean when we say . . . "Our policy is to furnish the best telephone service at the least cost to the public, consistent with financial safety and fair treatment of employees."

Plentiful Is Our Land

The Farmer Makes It So

There is no finer type of plenty than that enjoyed by a farming community.

And as an institution that must keep its finger on the pulse of affairs in the community, your bank must of necessity be intensely interested in any project that will be beneficial to any part of our community.

That is why we are enthusiastic about the continuation of the annual Charlevoix County Farmer's Week program.

The farmers of Charelvoix County are an important part of our community, and any effort on the part of the County Agent's office and the Michigan State College staff of experts to improve the welfare of our farmers deserves, we think, every encouragement.

We greet the farmers who will assemble here for Farmer's week with sincere best wishes and a cordial invitation to consult with us on any problem connected with the financial well-being of their farms.

Extension Specialist Talks On Crop Production Thursday

Dennis L. Clanahan, extension specialist in farm crops at Michigan State college, will be one of the speakers at the Little Farmers' Week program next week in Charlevoix.

Ed Rebman, reports that the crops authority will speak and answer questions of farmers on Thursday, at a meeting beginning at 1:30 p.m. in the Charlevoix high school auditorium.

D. L. CLANAHAN

The crops specialist will cover general crop production with special emphasis on problems in this area.

The Michigan State college speaker is familiar with crops and soils problems in northern Michigan. He served 20 years as crops specialist in the upper peninsula and for two years in the northern part of the lower peninsula.

Clanahan has considerable information in the areas of small grains, corn and alfalfa suitable for this area.

The speaker earned his bachelor of scienec degree at Virginia Polytechnic Institute and later his master of science degree from Michigan State college. He is a native of Edinburg, Va.

Farm Forestry Program To Be Told By Bell

"A Program of Farm Forestry for Northern Michigan" will be the subject of Lester E. Bell on Wednesday of Little Farmers' Week slated for Charlevoix county farmers.

LESTER BELL

Bell, project leader in forestry for the Michigan Co-operative Extension Service, will discuss specific lands available for forests, how forestry resources are being managed and what needs to be done in forestry in Northern Michigan.

Farmers also will be given pointers on forest management, nursery projects, tree planting, Christmas tree production and use of home sawed lumber.

A native of Michigan, Bell has been a member of the Michigan State college staff since 1942. He earned a bachelor's degree from MSC in 1937.

Soil Science Expert Speaks On Thursday

Edward Longnecker, extension specialist and project leader in soil science at Michigan State college will be a Little Farmers' Week speaker on Thursday, Feb. 12 at 1:30 p.m.

E. D. LONGNECKER

Longnecker has been active in soil science work for many years and will bring to farmers of Charlevoix county a discussion of stable maure which he calls "Michigan's most neglected resource."

In 1942 Longnecker was granted a leave of absence from Michigan State college to act as agricultural advisor to the director of Selective Service in Lansing. He is a graduate of MSC.

His experience includes being plant pathologist for the U. S. Department of Agriculture and compliance supervisor for the Agricultural Adjustment Administration in Michigan. He also taught vocational agriculture in Vassar, Michigan.

ARE YOU PROTECTED?

ONE IN EVERY THREE FAMILIES FACES A HOSPITAL BILL WITHIN THE YEAR!

SICKNESS AND ACCIDENTS are never welcome visitors. Recovery is often a slow process. In many cases, recovery from expenses due to hospitalization and medical care is even slower!

Hospital costs are up!

Modern medical science is making tremendous strides in easing pain and speeding recovery. Many wonderful drugs and medical techniques have been introduced in just the last few years.

But, new drugs and new techniques are expensive. Inflation, too, has pushed hospital costs up. In the last 10 years, these costs have almost tripled. That's why Blue Cross - Blue Shield protection is more important than ever before!

In the 14 years since Michigan hospitals and doctors started these non-profit plans, Michigan Blue Cross-Blue Shield have paid out over 280 million dollars—in subscriber benefits. With over 2¼-million members Blue Cross - Blue Shield is Michigan's most widely used health-care protection.

Blue Cross covers hospital bills!

Blue Cross Comprehensive Group Hospital Plan covers a wide range of hospital services, for up to 120 days, at any one of over 95% of the general hospitals in Michigan (excepting Government hospitals).

Blue Shield covers doctor bills!

Blue Shield Medical-Surgical Plan pays generous amounts to your doctor for over 480 listed medical-surgical procedures. It pays toward your doctor's hospital visits in non-surgical cases.

Protection without problems!

There's no red tape with Blue Cross - Blue Shield. Simply show your identification card to your doctor and hospital admitting clerk. Benefits are taken care of automatically!

How to get Blue Cross - Blue Shield:

No physical examination is necessary. Ask your employer. Check your Farm Bureau or Grange! Write or call your nearest Blue Cross - Blue Shield office.

A Good Thing . .

Yes, last year's Farmer's Week program was a good thing, well done. And we hope that the program, as planned by the County Agent and Michigan State College's Staff of experts, will be just as interesting and beneficial this year.

Our part in the program is an active one. We will provide the materials and formula's for scientific feeding and fertilizing as your new schedules may develop.

We think that every farmer will be eager to attend the meetings of the Charlevoix County Farmer's Week . . .

Harry F. Moxley To Discuss Beef Production On Friday

Problems of beef production will come into the Charlevoix county limelight on Friday, Feb. 13 of Little Farmers' Week, when Harry F. Moxley, Michigan State college extension livestock specialist, will speak.

H. F. MOXLEY

Little Farmers' Week will open in the Charlevoix high school auditorium at 1:30 p.m. each day during the week of February 9-13. Farmers and their wives in Charlevoix county are urged to attend these free meetings featuring MSC specialists. Each day's program will be different.

Commercial beef production in a cow-calf program will get attention when Moxley speaks. He will also discuss making the maximum use of roughage and pasture in caring for the cow herd, and marketing the calf crop each fall as a cash crop.

Moxley will also go into pasturing yearlings on cutover pastures and marketing fall feeders.

A recognized authority on sheep production, Moxley also will devote part of his talk to where the sheep flocks fits into the Northern Michigan farming program.

Sheepmen Should Check For Scab

Appearance of "sheep scab" in one Michigan area has caused Graydon Blank, Michigan college sheep specialist, to remind sheepmen of urgent need to be on the lookout for further cases. Due to vigilance by sheep raisers and officials, Michigan has been kept scabfree since 1946.

Scab, not to be confused with the virus disease "scrapie" which caused a fedreal quarantine in California, has similar symptoms. Both cause sheep to be restless and have an itchy condition, but scab comes from a parasite. The yellowish-white eight-legged mites can be barely be seen with unaided eyes and they cause scabbiness and loose patches of wool.

Sheepmen should check scab indications with their local veterinarian, who will report these conditions to Dr. Lee Lavisson, state veterinarian. Aid will be given owners in dipping infested sheep. Buyers of out-state sheep should insist on a clean health certificate.

Bee-Men's Report

Pennsylvania bee-keeping practices were reported Tuesday, Jan. 27, at Farmers' Week by Bert C. Martin, Michigan State college bee specialist. He gave a "Review of 1952 Season" to the Michigan Bee-Keepers association, in annual meeting on the M.S.C. campus. Martin had just returned from giving two talks at the Pennsylvania Farm Show.

New pigs may be saved from starving and hypoglycemia by checking the sow's milk supply; brooders will ward off winter and early spring chills, advise Michigan State college specialists.

Use Caution When Feeding Urea To Cattle, Agent Says

"Take it easy with urea," advises Ed Rebman, county agricultural agent, explaining that urea . . . sold now as "Two Sixty two" should be fed to dairy cows with caution.

Urea may be wasted, he explains, as rumen bacteria may not be able to convert the nitrogen from urea into protein fast enough to use it all. Over-feeding of urea can cause death of cows. The safest source of urea for dairymen is in commercial concentrates with not more than 5 percent urea and they should suspect higher urea percentage where crude protein is 50 percent or more of the concentrates.

Money is wasted feeding high-protein concentrates . . . urea or not . . . to cows that have a liberal feeding of hay that is at least one-fourth legumes, notes the agricultural agent. Good legume hay and farm cereals usually are adequate feed.

YOUR HELPFUL NEIGHBOR

That's the way most farmers in our community feel about us and they have good reasons for it.

They know by now that they have only to come to us for help in finding the very best and the most economical feeds for their particular feeding program.

They know that from us they can obtain seeds and fertilizers that are as dependable as scientific testing can provide.

It's no wonder that they consider us their most helpful neighbor.

As your neighbor we urge you to attend the meetings of your Charlevoix County Farmers' Week.

OUR PROPHECY . . .

last year, was that the Farmers Week Program in Charlevoix County would prove to be of such benefit to the farmers of our community that they would be eager to hold one every year.

Now our prophecy is coming true, and we are happy to congratulate the men who have been responsible for the success of the fine program, Ed Rebman and his assistants, as well as the experts from Michigan State College.

We know that there will be times during the year when we, too, will be able to have a part in helping improve farming methods in our area.

Perhaps through planned feeding schedules or planned crop fertilizing programs which we are always ready to provide to any of our patrons.

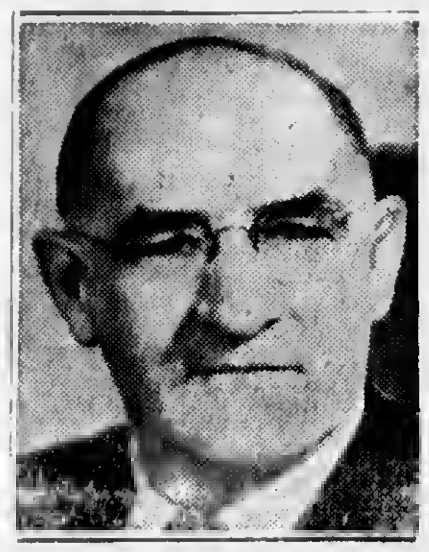
A. J. Bell To Discuss Use Of Homegrown Timber Wednesday

Arthur J. Bell, extension agricultural engineer at Michigan State college will bring his know-how in farm structures and machinery to farmers of Charlevoix county during the Little Farmers' Week program being held here next week.



A. J. BELL
Michigan State College

Bell is slated to talk on Wednesday, at 1:30 p.m. His discussion will be on use of homegrown timber for farm building purposes, roofing, and horizontal silos.

He has a bachelor of science degree from Michigan State college and joined the extension service of the institution in 1927.

Bell has made a major contribution to Michigan agriculture through development and popularization of laminated rafter construction for farm buildings.

The speaker is author of numerous bulletins on farm machinery and has also written magazine articles on farm drainage and water systems on farms.

Sugar Bush Owners Urged To Be Ready For 'Sap Weather'

Spring may seem a long way off but the maple syrup season may sneak up on the "sugar bush" owner who is having too long a winter nap, cautions Lester E. Bell, extension forester at Michigan State college.

"Sap weather" could start the last week of February and it's not too soon now to get ready—to order the needed supplies. Be ready for the first sap run, because it is higher in sugar content and makes the top-quality syrup, urges Bell. U. S. weather men will be combing their Michigan and national networks in East Lansing to shoot the "sap weather" information out over the college radio station, WKAR, as soon as possible.

Honor Director Of MS College Bands

East Lansing — Prof. Leonard V. Falcone was honored recently for his 25 years as director of bands at Michigan State college.

More than 150 professional musicians, friends and former band members gathered Jan. 17 in the college Union to commemorate his silver anniversary.

It is estimated that 1,000 Spartan students have performed under Falcone since 1927, when he came to M.S.C. to take over the direction of the marching and concert bands.

One of the most important uses of state forest lands is for recreation, including camping, picnicking, hunting, fishing and touring. No record can be made of the number of people each of these activities brings to the forests annually, but the total would be several million.

An Institution Is Born!

Yes, that's what we hope the Charlevoix Farmer's Week will become . . . An institution of value to every farmer in the area.

And so we urge every farm neighbor of ours to plan to attend the meetings of this years' Farmers Week program. In doing so they will just be helping Ed. Rebman's office and the College experts to bring them a better livelihood through proven successful methods.

The farmers in this area can be assured that we will make every effort to assist them in realizing their aims in connection with the program, whether it be planning tested feeding schedules or obtaining scientifically proven seeds and fertilizer.

Let us make sure of a continuing Farmers' Week in the years to come.

Not A Contribution

You can buy stock in the Charlevoix Development Corp. for $10 a share. The corporation has an opportunity to loan this money to a new industry to be located in Charlevoix and get a 10 year first mortgage on a new $50,000 factory building.

Stock Is Redeemable

When the mortgage is repaid you have two options:

1. Turn in your stock and get your money on a pro rata basis.
2. You may hold your stock and your money will remain in a revolving fund of the corporation to be used for future industrial development.

What YOU Can Do

Subscribe for stock in the Charlevoix Development Corp., an organization of home town people who want to help Charlevoix.

Republicans In County Choose State Delegates

The Charlevoix county Republican delegates in convention at the court house here Monday, adopted a resolution to support the candidacy of Arthur K. Rouse of Boyne City to the state board of agriculture. The delegates were also instructed to support Rouse until released by him at the state Republican convention in Detroit Feb. 21.

In the same resolution the convention voted to support the candidacy of Charles M. Zeigler to the office of state highway commissioner and Clair L. Taylor to the office of superintendent of public instruction.

Delegates named to the convention were Guy C. Conkle of Boyne City, Barney Milstein of East Jordan, John Knight and Mrs. Catherina C. Bergeon.

Alternates elected at the same meeting were E. D. Hawley, Fenton R. Bulow, Floyd Ikens, Lillis Flanders and Frank F. Bird of Charlevoix; Mr. Rouse, Harry Jennings, Mrs. Mabel Jennings, and Mrs. Wanda Hill of Boyne City and Howard P. Porter of East Jordan.

The re-districting of several northern Michigan counties was also discussed. Charlevoix, Benzie and Leelanau counties now compose the Charlevoix district which is allowed one representative in the state legislature. Because the population of three counties and several others do not warrant a representative, plans are being made to form several new districts with a larger population in each for proper representation.

Four Generations At Father-Son Banquet

For the first time in the 25 year history of the Father and Son Banquet in Charlevoix four generations of one family were present at the annual event at the Methodist church.

This year George Meggison, retired Marion township farmer, his son, Clarence B. Meggison, Friend of the Court for several northern Michigan counties, his grandson, Donald B. Meggison, local garageman and his great-grandson, Jerry Meggison, were honored at the dinner which was attended by 150 fathers and sons Thursday evening.

Mr. Meggison, who observed his eighty-sixth birthday anniversary Dec. 26, was the oldest father present. His great-grandson will be five years old March 1.

William Stowe of Petoskey who substituted as the speaker of the evening because of the illness of Rev. Harold Kohn spoke on the subject "What fathers and sons can do for each other." Larry Burns delivered the toast to the fathers and his dad, Leonard Burns, responded with a toast to the sons.

The Rev. Lloyd Schloop was toastmaster and Dr. C. O. Whitten directed group singing. Fred Bancroft was program chairman.

Little Farmers Week Meetings End Friday

More than 150 farmers from throughout Charlevoix county and the adjacent areas daily attended the first three days of the second annual Little Farmers Week here, Ed Rebman, Charlevoix county agricultural agent, announced late Wednesday.

He went on to say that equally as many are expected to attend the last two conferences at the Charlevoix high school auditorium today and Friday.

In these meetings the farmers will hear Dennis L. Clanahan speak on crops and E. D. Longnecker discuss soils on Thursday. Friday will bring W. L. Finley and Harry Moxley here to speak on animal husbandry.

The farmers' wives will attend a special one-day conference planned for them by Mrs. Emma Fero Reinbold, district Home Demonstration agent, at the court house here at 1:30 p.m. Friday.

"Family Health" will be the theme of the meeting at which Dr. A. F. Litzenberger, director of the district health department No. 3, Mrs. Margaret Davenport, community nurse, Mrs. Marian Rice, district health department nurse, and James Scott, sanitarian, will discuss various phases of the topic. A movie, made in the four counties served by District Health Department No. 3, and portraying the work of the department will open the afternoon meeting at which Mrs. Reinbold will preside as chairman.

Earlier in the week the farm-

Local Bands Will Present Concert Feb. 19

Charlevoix's bands, the junior and senior high school bands and the city band, will join forces to present a concert at the high school auditorium Thursday, Feb. 19, C. A. Odmark, director of the three bands, announced today.

Proceeds from the concert will be used for the Band Uniforms fund, he said.

In appearing in a winter concert, the Charlevoix City band, noted for its series of summer concerts, will prove that it does not hibernate during the winter months but continues its weekly band rehearsals the year 'round. Most of its activities are now devoted to reading new music and preparing for the summer ahead when more than 125 different numbers are scheduled each year. With a nucleus of adult players, this band invites several high school musicians to play with it, thus giving those students the advantage of reading materials they would not normally play in a high school group.

The Junior band, composed of eighth graders, will be making its first concert appearance when it opens the concert with several selections. This is a feeder group for the senior band but has a complete instrumentation in its own right and will present several numbers of a difficulty that can be mastered by young musicians.

The Charlevoix high school band composed of 62 pieces is the third band to appear in the concert. This group will present among other things the music to be played at the District Qualifying Festival in Petoskey Feb. 28.

This band is building a statewide reputation as a musical organiation having won top ratings for the past three years in the state festival It is the only band holding this record.

Tickets for the concert which will begin at 8 p.m., Thursday, Feb. 19, are being sold by members of the Junior and Senior bands. Adult tickets are 50c; students, 25c and grade students free if accompanied by their parents.

The groups are urging everyone to support the Band Uniform Drive by buying a concert ticket.

Plan To Organize Local Chapter Of Artists Association

A move is underway to organize a Charlevoix Chapter of the Amateur Artists association of America. The organizational meeting is to take place Friday, Feb. 13 in the high school art room at 7:30 p.m.

Considerable interest is being shown in the proposed Art club by local amateurs who believe that the formation of a Charlevoix Chapter of the "AAAA" is a desirable project for the advancement of the considerable talent displayed by artists in this locality.

A cordial invitation is extended to all amateurs to participate in the formation of the "Charlevoix Artists club".

As Charles Hampton pointed out to the art class last Thursday evening, "Charlevoix The Beautiful" is coming into its own as an art center. The local amateur stated that our city is rapidly developing into an artists' haven, what with some 40 amateurs now enjoying themselves with brush and pallette.

County and city offices and the banks will be closed today (Thursday) in observance of Lincoln's Birthday.

Council Names Officials For Feb. 16 Primary

The Charlevoix city Council, with mayor pro-tem Harry Gebeau presiding, Monday night named election inspectors and commissioners for the Feb. 16 primary election in Charlevoix.

Appointed election inspectors for the Feb. 16 election were Marjorie Webster, Mrs. Anna Scott, Mrs. Vivian Trimble, Mrs. June Heise, Mrs. Edna Miller, Mrs. Irene Seymour, Mrs. Henrietta Gill, Mrs. LaRue Gill, Mrs. Alma Kullander and Drew Young.

Mrs. Nelle A. Hammond, Norman D. Ance and Hugh Mayne were appointed election commissioners.

Jone Durance was named gatekeeper.

Bills amounting to $10,415.26 were approved and ordered paid.

Next Lecture In Series To Be Wednesday

"Problems of the Middle East" will be discussed by Dr. Nicholas Marbury Efimenco, assistant professor in Political Science at the University of Michigan Wednesday, Feb. 18, as the World Affairs lecture series is resumed after a lapse of one week.

Dr. N. M. Efimenco

The series is being presented at the high school auditorium each Wednesday at 8 p.m. through the co-operation of the University of Michigan Extension Service and the Continuing Education program of the Charlevoix high school.

Dr. George Kish, associate professor of Geography at the University, wil conclude the series Feb. 25 when he speaks on the "Problems of South and Central Europe."

When Dr. Efimenco speaks on the Middle East he will be discussing countries in which he traveled extensively in 1951. As

Band Parents Plan Projects For Uniforms

The Charlevoix Band Parents Association are stepping up activities this week with a definite goal in mind . . . new uniform coats and caps for the Charlevoix high school band, Mrs. Gerald Left, president of the Association, announced this week.

The style for the new coats has been selected, measurements taken and delivery of the new suits promised for April 10 in time for the many activities planned for the band this spring, Mrs. Left continued.

Several fund-raising projects are now underway. The first is the serving of a dinner to the Charlevoix county M.E.A. members meeting at the high school cafeteria tonight (Thursday). The Association members are donating all food and proceeds are expected to add more than $100 to the new uniform fund.

Other projects include a band concert to be presented jointly by the Junior and Senior high school bands and Charlevoix City Band Feb. 10; a bake sale scheduled for a later date and finally, as the climax to all activities, a gala Minstrel Show scheduled for two performances March 27 and 28.

The uniform fund has grown to more than $800 principally due to the more than $400 raised by the Band Parents Harvest dinner in October and by contributions by all the Charlevoix clubs and organizations in recent weeks.

The Band Parents Association will appreciate any contributions. If you wish to make a contribution to the fund, please address your letter to Mrs. Robert Miles, treasurer of the Band Parents Association.

Kiwanis Club To Sponsor Joan Hess For Sports Queen

The announcement that the Charlevoix Kiwanis Club would sponsor Joan Hess, Michigan State sophomore, as a candidate for Michigan Winter Sports Queen at Petoskey later this month was made by Cmdr. E. K. Shanahan at the regular meeting of the club at the high school cafeteria Monday night.

Joan will vie for the honor with candidates from through out Michigan.

Following the dinner the Kiwanians saw a conservation film, furnished by the Charlevoix Oil Co.

William Myers of Traverse City attended as a guest of the club.

Plan Concerted Drive For Industry Fund As Total Reaches $13,900

The Charlevoix Development Corporation is nearing its goal of $15,000, A. L. Livingston, Corporation treasurer said Tuesday night at the regular meeting of stockholders and directors at the city hall.

He reported that a total of $13,900 had been raised to date in pledges and cash leaving only $1,100 to be subscribed.

Courier readers will find a subscription blank on page 2 for their convenience in purchasing stock in the Charlevoix Development Corporation. Fill out the blank and mail it to A. L. Livingston, % Charlevoix Development Corp., Charlevoix State Savings bank. Purchasers will have until April 15 to pay for their stock.

The $15,000 will be loaned as a first mortgage on a new $50,000 fireproof building to house a new industry for the community. A subsidiary of the same company is already operating here and with the establishment of the new company an estimated 80 men and women will be employed.

With only $1,100 yet to be raised, directors and stockholders plan to make a concerted effort to complete the drive this week, Ralph V. Hess, Corporation president, said Wednesday.

Those wishing to aid in the effort to bring the new industry to the community are urged to join forces to bring the drive to a successful conclusion this week.

The company proposing to locate here has asked the loan of $15,000 at the usual rate of interest as a token of the community's goodwill, Mayor John Knight, Corporation secretary, said at the meeting Tuesday night. "The entire community stands to benefit by the establishment of the new industry so I urge everyone to show his goodwill by purchasing at least one share of stock in the Charlevoix Development Corporation."

The list of new stockholders and those who have increased their holdings in the past week follows: Fred Willis, Charlevoix Co-operative, Howard Struthers, David Hamilton, J. M. Foster, Maurice Foster, H. A. Craig, Glenn Pemberton, Clayton Trimble, Ronald Swanson, Dewitt Peters, Joe Vratanina, Ermnine Matzinger, J. Clark Dolliver.

Dr. Harry Vail To Practice On Beaver Island

St. James — Dr. Harry F. Vail of Bay City told residents of Beaver Island at a general meeting at the Parish Hall Wednesday evening that he would come to Beaver Island within a few weeks to establish a practice.

Dr. Vail is a graduate of the University of Illinois with five years of army service. He has been a general practitioner for 10 years according to Dr. Albert Heustis, state health commissioner, who announced last week that Dr. Vail had stated his intention of settling on Beaver Island.

The northern Michigan island has been without a resident physician since October when Dr. Russell E. Palmer retired after caring for the island's ills for 29 years.

In an effort to secure a physician for the island, the local residents organized a temporary committee which has now become a permanent organization and been given the name of the Beaver Island Civic Club.

Nine persons were named to the board of the organization which will assist Dr. Vail in establishing his practice by securing a location and fulfilling other requests he has made. The board members are Mrs. John A. Gallagher, Mrs. Frank O'Donnell, Mrs. George Ricksgers, Roger Carlisle, Art Johnston, Rev. Joseph Herp, Jewell Gillispie, Frank Nackerman and Lloyd McDonough.

Voters To Name Circuit Court Nominees In Primary Monday

Voters in the city of Charlevoix and the adjacent townships will visit the polls Monday, Feb. 16, to vote in the annual Primary Election.

Polls in all precincts will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Of major interest to the voters in this community, where there are no local contests, will be the nomination of candidates for the office of circuit court Judge in the 13th Judicial district which includes Antrim, Charlevoix and Grand Traverse counties. The names of the candidates will appear on a non-partisan ballot and voters will cast their ballot for one of the three candidates.

The candidates are Charles L. Brown of Traverse City, incumbent who has served in the office for the past five years; Harry T. Cook of Bellaire, Antrim county prosecuting attorney and William E. Myers of Traverse City, Grand Traverse county prosecuting attorney.

The names of the two candidates who receive the nomination will appear on the non-partisan ballot in the General Election April 6.

In the city of Charlevoix where there are no contests the names of the following incumbents will appear on the ballot: John Knight mayor; Nelle A. Hammond, treasurer; Hugh Mayne, clerk.

Charles Bellinger, first ward aldermen; Harry Zeitler, second ward alderman; Harry Gebeau, third ward alderman.

George G. Haggard, first ward supervisor; Arthur Bergeon, second ward supervisor; Clarence B. Meggison, third ward supervisor.

John Connolly, who is seeking nomination as justice of the peace to succeed himself.

Several adjacent townships are planning annual caucuses in conjunction with the Primary Election.

The Charlevoix township caucus has been called for 1 p.m. and the Norwood and Marion township caucuses for 1:30 p.m. Monday, Feb. 16.

Eveline township has already set March 2 as the date for its caucus and Hayes township will announce its date later.

The polls in both townships will be open Monday.

Local Athletes, Coach, Gaylord Banquet Guests

Coach Del Terrill and five members of his 1952 football squad were in Gaylord Monday night to attend the Father and Son banquet sponsored by the Gaylord Youth Activity committee.

Athletes from the Northern Michigan Class C Conference and their coaches were invited to attend.

Attending with Coach Terrill were Bill Bennett, Dean Davenport, Jim Lewis, Stan Whitley and Fred Jolliffe.

More than 300 guests heard Coach Clarence (Biggie) Munn of Michigan State college and Coach of the Year address many of his remarks to the parents and their sons. He also attacked the recent decision of the NCAA rules committee to do away with the two platoon system in football.

ODDS 'N ENDS

By Fran Martin

HAVE YOU noticed the many flocks of unusual birds spending the winter with us . . . We did too but didn't have the vaguest idea what they were until Mrs. F. J. Fessenden came up with the answer . . . They're Bohemian Waxwings, Pine Grosbeaks and Evening Grosbeaks . . . We won't attempt to tell you which is which, but now that you know what they are it will be easy to find them in the bird book . . . Seems their visit is quite unusual . . . But we know that everyone has enjoyed having them about . . . Everyone here is pretty generous with the birds so maybe they heard about and decided to spend the winter where little effort is needed to find food at all the wonderful feeding stations about town . . .

* * *

AND MRS. Glenn Ingalls reports the return of Tommy, the pet squirrel which lives in the valley . . . He will come up and take a nut from your hand now . . . And without a doubt is the best fed squirrel in town for he's real plump and his coat is slick . . . And if he doesn't get the attention he feels is due him, he'll climb right up the screen chattering every inch of the way . . .

BY THE way, have you noticed the cute new outfits our cute cheerleaders are wearing these days . . . Very trim, say we . . .

The next two weeks are going to be mighty busy ones for the Rayders and their Coach, Del Terrill . . . After a grand week-end at Central Michigan college where they were treated royally, they're back and working hard for the four tough games still to be played . . . Who says playing basketball isn't hard work . . .

* * *

OUR HUMBLEST apologies for a glaring error made last week regarding baseball . . . The mistake was brought to our attention by a most rabid baseball fan, one Ray Sanford . . . How were we to know Bill Veeck was owner of the St. Louis Browns . . . not manager as we said . . . Seems Marty Marion is manager . . .

* * *

AND SPEAKING of baseball, did you know that Don Whiteford has signed with the Chicago Cubs? You all remember him as the football and basketball star from East Jordan who also played softball with the Charlevoix teams . . . What with Bill Denemy trying out with the White Sox, we'll really have an interest in baseball . . . Maybe we'll even learn to like it . . .

IN THE mail this week a card from the E. J. Edwardses who are making Ormond their headquarters while traipsing through Florida . . . Have been spending some time with 'home-town folks' so they must be doing alright . . . The postcard fascinated us . . . a picture of the Lightner Museum of Hobbies at St. Augustine . . . We'll bet you could find some mighty peculiar things there 'cause some people have awfully funny hobbies . . .

And from Cat Cay off the Coast of Florida, a note from the Cliff Palmers who flew from temperatures of 21 in Chicago to those around 76 in a matter of six hours . . . Whatta life . . . The manager at the island this season is a man by the name of Risley who comes from Northport and who is related to Mrs. W. A. Cline through the Wilburs . . . And, as Mr. Palmer says, small world, isn't it?

AND IN CASE you've wonderer where our pert little WAVE Jon Henry is, she's been transferred to Norfolk, Va. . . . She spent a 15-day leave at Clearwater with her folks, the Dal Henry's and now is back on the job . . . Enclosed was a big hello and love to everyone . . .

Letters supply a fine way of hearing from one's friends but Kay Fitch told us about one that we think is pretty super . . . . Seems the Fred Youngs, recently of Charlevoix and now of California have a tape recording outfit . . . So they have everyone in who ever heard of Charlevoix . . . Everyone sends a little greeting, tells about himself and asks the usual questions . . . Recently young Ralph Hess and his bride, The Lou Sees (she is the former Marge Weaver), the Don Stelles who summer here, Jack Erber who went west last month and Charles Cross made a reel and sent it to the Hesses here . . . They had a group of people who were interested in those on the recording in to hear it . . . Then that group makes one with little messages, news of home and family etc, and back it goes to San Clemente . . . Quite an idea we think you will agree . . .

DON'T FORGET that Saturday is Valentine's Day . . . Don't forget to mail that little heart to someone dear and to get an extra special little something for someone you love . . . We're not much good with making with the hearts and flowers but just the same . . . Will you be our Valentine?

* * *

WE'VE SEEN many baskets of flowers but none lovelier than the one we received last week from Mrs. Jeannette Novotny's third grade . . . The grown basket, in the form of a little duck, held countless flowers of every description each bearing a little birthday wish and signed by the child who made it . . . It is the dearest thing you'll ever see and we love it . . . And also all the other grand birthday remembrances we received . . . It's amazing what good memories people have . . . We can never remember birthdays . . . But we love to be remembered, so many thanks.

* * *

MRS. ALLEN Campbell was telling us she'd been out of her house at Norwood and had a grand time . . . looking at a lot of old newspapers and magazines she has tucked away there . . . Among them is a magazine, the Fireside Friend published in Chicago and dated June 14, 1873 and another newspaper of June, 1902 vintage with a story about the new railroad through northern Michigan . . . plus several other magazines which have the most amazing styles in them . . . It's hard to believe they once were fashionable . . .

Voice of Our Readers . . .

Dear Sir:

Enclosed please find my personal check for $5.00 for the Charlevoix high school band uniform fund. It gives me great pleasure to be able to donate to this fund as I have always been a booster for Charlevoix. I hope some day I'll be able to make my home once again in Charlevoix, as there has never been any place like it to me.

I have missed Charlevoix many, many times since I left there as a young boy. I'm sure if everyone could realize what good the high school band does, they would not hesitate to send a little donation and in no time at all the band members would have new uniforms, and there would be ample funds left over for other things that are needed by such a grand group of Children who play in the band and live in Charlevoix.

I am sending my check to you as you will know who to give it to.

Very truly yours,
John J. Woods
Chicago, Ill.

I.O.O.F. And Rebekah Community Service Program Provides Aids For The Sick

A Community Service program adopted 10 years ago by the I.O.O.F. and Rebekah lodges of Charlevoix now furnishes seven hospital-type beds and two wheels-chairs for use in the homes of the community, a report by the Bed Committee of the two groups revealed this week.

During 1952 the seven beds were in use a total of 2,350 days in 20 different homes. If all the beds had been in use during the entire year the total would have been 2,555 bed days so the service offered the community by the project can readily be appreciated.

The Bed Program was undertaken by the two lodges 10 years ago with the purchase of one bed. Funds for a second were donated by the Charlevoix Service organization with the understanding that veterans would have priority if they needed it.

Since then the number of beds has increased with the growing demand. Some were purchased by the lodges and others from funds donated by grateful families of persons who had borrowed the beds.

Any family may obtain the loan of a bed for bed-ridden patients in the home if one is available merely by contacting Joe Williams or Sims Baker of the Bed Committee.

The only requirements are that the bed be returned in good condition and that the borrower pay transportation charges from the I.O.O.F. hall and return.

Garden Club Hears Lesson On Drying Bouquet Flowers

The Charlevoix Garden Club met last week at the home of the club president, Mrs. George Wolf.

Mrs. Karl Erber gave an interesting lesson on Drying Flowers for Winter Bouquets.

The discussion of winter feeding stations for birds started at a recent meeting at the home of Mrs. E. J. Edwards was continued and completed.

The Club voted to contribute $25 to the Band Uniform fund.

Betrothed

Mr. and Mrs. Rupert Hillyard of Wayne have announced the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Elizabeth Ann, to Thomas Hamlin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Hamlin of this city.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Wayne high school and is now a sophomore at the University of Michigan.

Mr. Hamlin, a graduate of the Charlevoix high school, is a junior at the University of Notre Dame.

An April wedding has been planned.

Dan Swartz To Observe His 90th Birthday Today

Dan Swartz, retired fisherman and caretaker, will observe his ninetieth birthday anniversary Thursday at his home at 306 Petoskey ave.

A native of the Netherlands, he has lived in Charlevoix since 1894.

No formal observance is planned for the occasion but members of his family and friends plan to call for a brief visit.

Mr. Swartz, who was born at Groneon in the Netherlands on Feb. 12, 1863, came to this country with his parents at the age of five years. The family settled at Grand Haven, a fishing village on Lake Michigan, and when he reached maturity he became a fisherman. In 1894 he brought his wife, the former Mary Noanthy, and his three daughters to Charlevoix. For several years he fished the waters of northern Lake Michigan until he became a caretaker for the Wilson family on the Chicago Club. He cared for their boats and grounds for 40 years, retiring in 1945.

He now lives at his north side home with the second Mrs. Swartz, the former Mrs. Nora Etcher, whom he married in January, 1931. He is in fair health and enjoys visits from his three daughters, Mrs. Grace Gereit and Mrs. Alfred Gill Sr., who live nearby and a third daughter, Mrs. Harry Mohrmann of Plymouth, who comes often to see him. He also has 13 grandchildren; 36 great grandchildren and one great-great grandchild.

The first Mrs. Swartz died in 1929.

I See By the Courier . . .

- Mrs. Fred S. Myers had as her guests last week her son-in-law and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph MacMullan and daughter, Sally of Houghton Lake and Mrs. Norman Broderick of Detroit.
- Ann Gill and her guest, Fritz Puffpaff, have returned to Grand Rapids after spending the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Gill.
- Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Feindt were in Traverse City Thursday and Friday to attend the annual state convention of surveyors held at the Park Place Hotel. They were accompanied by their son, Larry, and Mr. Feindt's aunt, Mrs. Erwin Bolfy Sr. who visited relatives.
- Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Poole and son, Louis, have returned home from a visit in Muskegon with their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Poole Jr. They were accompanied by Mrs. Poole Jr's mother, Mrs. Julia Rude of East Jordan and her daughter, Elaine, a student at Ferris Institute in Big Rapids.
- Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stevens and son, Bruce, who moved recently from Benton Harbor to Newaygo, spent the week-end with relatives here.
- Staff Sgt. Don Bambach stationed at Bergstrom Airforce Base, Austin, Tex., accompanied by Mrs. Bambach, arrived Monday having been called here by the death of the former's mother, Mrs. Winnifred Bambach.
- Mrs. Harry Widdifield left Friday for Eutis, Fla., for an extended vacation trip.
- Miss F. L. Edson left last week for a three weeks visit with relatives in Minneapolis, Minn., before going to Stillwater, Okla., for a longer visit.
- Mrs. Gilbert Ferris left recently for a three weeks visit with relatives in Brunswick, Ga.
- Mrs. Eva Smith returned home recently from an extended visit in Traverse City. She and her sister, Mrs. Harry Lense, also spent two weeks in Rochester, Minn., last month.
- William Stevens who is employed at Benton Harbor spent the week-end with relatives here. He was accompanied by Abe VerWys who spent the week-end with his family here.
- Mr. and Mrs. Will Ripley of Cheboygan visited Sunday with the former's sister and aunt, Mrs. Harry Glossenger and Mrs. L. C. Compton.
- Mrs. Grant Crandall and daughters, Mrs. Leo Friend of Harbor Springs and Mrs. Wesley Smith of Detroit visited last Wednesday with relatives and friends here while Mrs. Smith was spending a week in northern Michigan.

Bob, Bill Carey Entertained At Family Gathering

Bob Carey, who has returned to Michigan State college to resume his studies, and his twin brother, Bill, now coaching at Pellston, spent the week-end with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Carey, and celebrated their birthday anniversaries at a family gathering Sunday. They were 23 years old.

Mrs. Robert Carey and Clair Dand, also students at Michigan State, accompanied the twins here for the occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Carey and family and Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Coleman and family joined the group for dessert Sunday following the birthday dinner at the Leo Carey home.

Alfred "Bud" Gill Accepts Position With Local Store

Alfred (Bud) Gill has announced his resignation as chief operator of the Ironton Ferry for the Charlevoix county Road Commission.

He had been an operator since 1942 and chief operator since 1946.

He has accepted a position as manager of the Hess Furniture Co. warehouse.

Charles Hampton To Head Marine Club

Charles Hampton was elected Commodore of the Charlevoix Marine Club at a recent meeting. He succeeds Lyle Miles in the postion.

Will Bellinger and Joseph F. Howard were re-named secretary and treasurer respectively.
